

War of words threatens summit hopes perpowers on the crucial nuclear test ban issue grew more strained yesterday when Moscow dismissed the US rejection of the latest Kremlin initiative for an emergency European summit on the sub-ject as "unconstructive" and a challenge to world public opinion".

President Reagan, in rejecting the Soviet call, said a moderate level of nuclear testing was needed to ensure the continued reliability, safety, and effectiveness of America's nuclear deterrent.
In a statement issued from

Santa Barbara, California, where he is on holiday at his ranch, Mr Reagan also rejected the proposal by Mr Mikhail Gorbachov, the Soviet leader, for a meeting on the nuclear testing issue. He insisted that a superpower summit should deal with the entire range of US-Soviet relations.

The President's statement pointed out that Mr Gorhachov had accepted an invitation to meet in the US this year, but the Soviet Union had not responded to US proposals concerning a date.

American officials say they believe the Soviet Union is trying to pressure the US into concessions on arms control issues in return for setting a date for the summit. But the US is willing to forego the summit rather than make concessions.

The Soviet Union's quick response which matched the speed of that from a White House spokesman a few hours earlier was contained in dis patches from Tass, the official news agency. It followed the dramatic 20-minute live broadcast made here by Mr Gorbachov on Saturday night.

The speed of the Soviet rejoinder and the tone of weekend remarks being exchanged between Moscow and Washington convinced senior diplomats in Moscow that the chances of a scheduled 1986 Washington summit between Mr Gorbachov and President Reagan have become dimmer. It is getting harder by the minute to see when and how it is going to take place," said

Gorbachov to India, Italy and

Unlike the Kremlin leader's previous sweeping disarma-ment initiative announced on January 15 and read on television by an announcer Saturday's proposal was delivered by the Soviet leader in person, looking grave and

A key passage announced definitely that the Soviet Union will resume its own nuclear testing programme if the US carries out another explosion after tonight's moratorium deadline, an event

both US and Soviet officials are certain will happen in the torium. I can say that it is as before in effect until March 31, 1986, but even after that date as it was announced we will not conduct nuclear explosions if the United States acts likewise. We are again giving the US Administration a chance to take the responsible decision to end nuclear explosions," Mr Gorbachov

"Failing which, the Soviet Union will resume testing. This must be absolutely clear.

We regret it, but we will be forced to do so since we cannot forego our own securi-

Although Western security experts here claim that the resumption of the Soviet ex-

ing on verification, and to end

Gorbachov will give the Soviet Union a powerful propaganda boost and will risk humiliating him and hardening the atti-tude encouraged by the Rus-

The former Foreign Secretary said President Reagan was wrong to dismiss Mr Gorbachov's latest offer of go np in smoke.

sian military.

Dr Owen said: "The danger said, reading from notes.

"As to our unilateral mora-

The report by Tass on both the US and international response to Mr Gorbachov's latest initiative is regarded by Western observers as a carefully planned propaganda ex-ercise designed to coincide with the Easter weekend. It emphasized that President Reagan's rebuff had run into immediate criticism from influential figures within the

Pressure on Moscow

"The White House statement cannot be regarded as a straight answer to the proposal involving the major question of our time," Tass stated. "Nations all over the world demand that the ban on nuclear explosions become a fact, an immutable form of inter-state relations."

The tone of the Tass report reinforced the conviction of cannot forego our own sediplomats that Mr ty and that of our allies."

Gorbachov's broadcast was Although Western sec diplomats deliberately aimed at increasing international pressure on the US President to change his stand on the test ban question.

This will be pursued in a series of measures planned by the Kremlin to drive home the point in Western Europe and, further afield. This includes a indefinately without military scheduled visit in 1986 by Mr loss to the Kremlin.

Family focuses on a future princess

Miss Sarah Ferguson, Prince Andrew's fiancée, was the centre of attention esterday at the Royal Family's Easter Sunday service at Windsor. Miss Ferguson shook hands with the Dean of

By Richard Ford

A British soldier was seri-nusly ill last night after Re-publican terrorists shot him at the end of a ceremony marking the seventieth anniversary of the Duhlin Easter Rising. A single shot hit him in the face

in the Gohnascale estate in Later, rioting broke out in the city cemetery when the police and soldiers tried tn arrest masked men who had fired a volley over the grave of an IRA man. Women shielded

the men and the security forces were attacked with stones and bottles. They replied with

The shot soldier, serving with the Royal Anglian regiment, had been on duty at a ceremoay during which a plaque commemorating Republican volanteers was

The ceremony, attended by about 150 people, had passed peacefully until the gunman opened fire in an incident which is bound to be hailed as an act of defiance on a day when the Provisional IRA and Sinn Fein tell supporters that the war will go on until Britain

In speeches at the higgest ceremony, in west Belfast, the nervousness of the Republican movement over the Anglo-

Irish agreement was evident.

leading Sinn Fein member from Londonderry, gave the oration and said that the agreement was designed to

He appealed to the

"loyalist" working class to preserve the status quo.

Mr Mitchell McLaaghlin, a withdraws.

plastic bullets.

watched by the Queen Mother and, left to right, Princess Margaret, Prince Edward, Miss Sarah Armstrong Jones, the Princess and Prince of Wales and Viscount Linley. (Photographs: Julian

Archbishop's Easter message

Runcie applauds forgiving vicar

By Clifford Longley, Religious Affairs Correspondent

The Archbishop of Canter- quake." Christians must be bury, Dr Robert Runcie, yesterday bestowed an Easter absolution on the perpetrators of the recent horrific incident in a west London vicarage

The theme of his Easter original unilateral Soviet ban sermon in Canterbury Cathewas possible only because the dral was forgiveness in gener-Soviet military has just comal - "we ask to love and pleted an important cycle of forgive our enemies" - hut he tests, they also believe that a identified with the forgiveness displayed by the vicar and plosions cannot be postponed congregation after the alleged assault on the vicar and another man, and the alleged rape of the vicar's develor.

Several people have been charged in connection with the incident.

"We have seen a fine and impressive example of this quiet Easter faith shining children," he said. "Easter is nrough dersonal tragedy Christian congregation," he said. "Such heroic healing power could hardly fail to move the most determined Cynic.

is that if nothing is done to bridge the gap betyween Gorbachov and Reagan the Runcie said, "we are confront-ed by the dark demonic spirit of the fireside chat will dimension of human nature A total rehnff to which can cause the most resilient spirit to quiver and

Cagney, who won an Oscar as the song and dance man of earned his place in film histoassault, callous cruelty, persecution, poverty and powerlessness, he said. "As we watch or read the news we are constantly sicken-

the sworn foes of vicious

ed by the sights or first-hand accounts of violence against women and children, against whole groups of people who are labelled and despised." In very similar terms to those used by the Pope in his

Easter message in Rome yes-terday, Dr Runcie went on to and that has provocation could icstify "violent acts or words" of retaliation, which did not the Good Shepherd coming back to seek and save what is lost." Easter was about being sound, healed, restored, forgiven. Though Christianity had to

At home and abroad. Dr be concerned with opposing social injustices, its main message was this forgiveness, offered through Christ, Dr

Pope photograph, page 5

Soldier is Police hunt death shot at ceremony

Oxford and London are offered themselves as suicide squads to Colonel Muammar Gadaffi, the Lihyan leader, ready to sacrifice themselves in attacks on American bases in Britain.

The police inquiries started after a statement made by a former trainee pilot at Oxford airport flying school to a Radio Tripoli phone-in programme.

The man, identified by The Sunday Times yesterday as Adil Masood, claimed to speak on behalf of a group of trainee pilots based at CSE Oxford, calling itself the Oxford Revolutionary Force.

Mr Ken Meenan, the school's chief instructor, said yesterday that Mr Masood ago, and is no longer with us". Detectives have checked former Oxford addresses, but believe Mr Masood is now living in London. "We do not know if he is necessarily the Tripoli caller, but we must at least eliminate him from our inquiries," a derective at Oxford airport said yesterday.

The caller told Tripoli radio:"We will hit with an iron fist anyone like diray Reagan, who contemplates 2ggression. We, the revolutionary force, are prepared to become suicide squads against

Of the five Libyans training neither were found to be three, however, are away for Easter, and have yet to be Masood had returned to Libya when he qualified, but we cannot be sure." Most known Libyan and lar surveillance Any tuence plicts from Oxford airport who were intent on suicide attacks on American and Nato airbases could easily overfly critical centres such as Upper Heyford in Oxfordshire, or Upper Heyford is six miles from Oxford airport's flying school, which has trainee Libyan pilots regularly flying solo. Greenham is 23 miles away, and the European Communications Centre at Croughton is nine miles away. In trainer aircraft, which fly

Tomorrow

Streetwise to violence

1 44 24 222

· - . 151.32

-1, pr 1227

A 100 500

- W.

1 id . mun 9 2

4.14:28

ند پیس .

40.0 MA

A report from the British city where the taxi drivers operate a mutual protection scheme and even the police admit that going out at night is unsafe

Twin-sets and match Togetherness and the new knitwear Portfolio

The Times Portfolio competition will resume tomorrow with the daily prize of £2,000.

Double op

Martin Guy, aged 18, made British medical history by undergoing consecutive heart and kidney transplant operations at Papworth Hospital, Cambridge Page 3 Cambridge

Chepstow off The Chepstow race meeting scheduled for today has been cancelled because the course it waterlogged. However, 15 other Bank Holiday cards are published in detail inside Pages 27,28,29

Waldheim role

Was Dr Kurt Waldheim, the former UN Secretary-General a Nazi interrogator or was he just an interpreter? What was his war record? Tom Bower sifts the documentary evidence from Washington, Belgrade Page 12 and Athens

Home News 2-5 Coverseas 5-9 Appts 14 Arts 15 Births.deaths, marriages 14 Bridge 14 Court 14 Crosswards 10,16 Diary 12 Features 10 12,17-21 Law Report 9		_
	Overseas 5-9 Appts 14 Arts 15 Buths deaths, marriages 14 Bridge 14 Court 14 Crosswards 10,16 Diary 12 Features 10-	Letters Night sky Obituary Parliament Prem Bonds Religion Science Sport 27- Theatres, etc. TV & Rudio Weather

* * * *

Honest broker' plea to Thatcher

Mrs Thatcher should act as an honest broker between the Soviet Union and the United States in an attempt to get agreemeat on a comprehensive nuclear test ban treaty, Dr David Owen, leader of the Social Democratic Party, said yesterday. After President Reagan's outright rejection of Mr Mikhail Gorbachov's weekend proposal to meet in any European capital to negotiate such a ban, Dr Owen said the Prime Minister should write privately to the two world leaders suggesting a resumption or trilateral talks.

"After all, a comprehensive test ban treaty is the only negotiation where Britain is directly involved with the United States and the Soviet

" Mrs Thatcher ought to be using British diplomacy to get back round the table on n comprehensive test ban, to clarify those very small number of points that are outstand-

Parade off as search for girl continues

A Salvation Army Easter parade at Morley, near Leeds, where Sarah Harper, aged 10, disappeared last Wednesday on a shopping trip, was cancelled yesterday as congregation members joined the search for the girl.

Det Supt John Stainthorpe said the hunt would continue. must now accept that there is a

Gooch threat to pull out of final Test Graham Gooch, the England opening batsman, has threatened not to return to Antigua, the venue for the fifth Test match in April, unless remarks made by the island's deputy prime minister are withdrawn.

Mr Lester Birdsaid that said the hunt would continue Gooch, who captained a metal the police were satisfied she was not in the area. "We toured South Africa in 1982, was "contemptuous of the chance she is no longer alive." Caribbean public". Page 32 talks and he said the prospects for a June-July summit were now "very gloomy." He would be surprised and npset if the summit did not take place in late November or the age of 85. early December. "But I think Mr Gorbachov is not prepared to go to the United States and just have a fireside chat like he had in Geneva. He wants substantive talks and he is Newquay.

irace of Mr Richard Moorehouse, aged 24, of Coventry, and the coastguard said later his chances of survival were virtually nil.

The weekend casualties included two young women, Miss Louise Holmes, of Thornley Road, and Miss Staveley, Derbyshire, a head-Trudy Mitchell, of Constable Road. Felixstowe, Suffolk, killed Mr John Bowdler, aged of 9C (48F).

"Yankee Doodle Dandy" hut tory ailment. Marge Zimmerman, his ry as a classic pugnacious manager and confidante, said hoodlum, died yesterday at then that he was returning to his farm to be among the Hospital last week, where he had been treated for a circula-

James Cagney dead

New York (AP) - James from New York's Lenox Hill

join the nationalist working class to bring revolutionary Cagney, who suffered from diabetes, had been in declinsurroundings he loved. ing health. He was released Report, photographs, page 16 Continued on page 2, col 3

At least nine people were killed in road accidents yesterday as freezing winds, sleet and rain marked the arrival of British Summer Time.

fading for a young man washed out to sea by a giant wave on Saturday night while walking down a cliff path near in collision with a goods train on an unmanned level crossing at Trimley St Martin near Ipswich on Saturday. The worst accident was in Sution Coldfield, West Mid-woman were killed and three people injured when their ear struck a tree early yesterday. In west Wales, two men died and three were injured when their car overturned on the A485 at Lianliwni near Lampeter, Dyfed. Police said the two who died were aged 22 and 23 and came from the Llanybydder area of Dyfed. In Bollingwood, near and Mrs Mary Andrews, aged 57, of Haddon Place, Middlecroft, Stavely. Two other people were taken to hospital after the accident.

In Castle Vale. Birmingham, two police officers and four youths were slightly in-jured in a collision between a police patrol car and a stolen vehicle. One of the youths was detained in hospital for observation.

court as part of the defence By a cruel irony, the trial of Mr Abra — a specialist on military radar — coincided with the American attack on n Soviet-made Libyan radar system near the town of Sirte. The incident had nothing to de with the charges against Mr Abra, and Mr Dunnachie confidently says he does not believe the Libyan-US confrontation will in any way affect the outcome of Mr Abra's case. The test of this assumption will come, of course, when the court gives its verdict next squad Libyans Special Branch detectives in America and its arrogance."

searching for trainee Libyan at Oxford for civil pilot lipilots who are alleged to have cences, two have been interviewed by Thames Valley police. Mr Mechan said that connected with the velephone call to Tripoli. The other traced.
We understood that

Arab militants are under regu-

snire, both store nuclear weapons

at up to 140 moh, all the bases could be reached within minutes by Libyans determined to crash their trainer aircraft. The Arah pilots at Oxford Continued on page 2, col 3

STATEMENT

STORE ACCOUNT

TOTAL 6 56 96

Credit Card A

Nine killed as weather bites

In Cornwall, hopes were

A naval helicopter found no

who died when their car was lands, where two men and a

A Weather Centre spokesman said the Arctic winds should drop today, but the forecast was for more rain everywhere, with sleet and snow north of the Midlands on collision between two cars and maximum temperatures

with UK Figure ONE PAYMENT SALY and have just one easy monthly repayment Settle your Credit Cards H.P. Bank Loans and YOUR 1st NOTHING TO REPAY MONTHS PAYMENT + FREE LIFE INSURANCE PAY OUT LESS FOR THE BEST Immediate decision given Written Quotations Mofees charged LOANS UP TO £20,000 any purpose Jane's Weapons Systems, which was submitted to the REPAYUENTS A P.R. 21 7% VARIABLE 140F1E (30 mprars 90 mprars 60 mprats 13000 59.50 66.37 81.79 OTHER AMOUNTS AND PLANS AVAILABLE SORRY NO TENANTS A.P.R. 21.7% VARIABLE £8000 | 158.66 176 97 | 218 09 The Inial amount repayable will be greatly reduced in the event of early settlement FOR FAST FRIENDLY SERVIGE

OPEN TILL 8.00p.m. TONIGHT

Accused Briton awaits Libyan spy charge fate From Robert Fisk, Tripoli, Libyn

Mr James Leonard Abra spent a joyless Easter yester-day in the noisy confines of Jdeide prison awaiting his fate on spying charges in just 12 days' time at the hands of Libya's Central Criminal

He is forbidden to meet the other two Britons in the gaunt jail outside Tripoli - both are convicted prisoners — and has had no visitors since the British Consul, Mr Hugh Dunnachie, turned up to see him three weeks ago with a his life in a Libyan prison.
fruit cake, chocolate, toffees, cheese and n jar of Bovril to Abra was outlined for the first give judgement in his case on April 12, a date which British officials and Mr Abra's coileagues in the Plessey electronics company are anticipating with a mixture of optimism and deep anxiety. If he is freed by the court, Mr Abra — a sandy-haired and bespectacled radar engineer aged 57 — will be back with his family in Hertfordshire by mid-April.

If he is found guilty, he could spend much of the rest of supplement his meagre prison: time in open court this month food supply.

The president of the court the case before the Tripoli The president of the court the case has told Mr Abra that he will tribunal.

Piessey had been asked to bid for military radar con-tracts in Libya and Mr Abra was accused after arriving in Tripoli of writing a memoran-dum to eight officials in Plessey giving secret informa-tion about Libyan radar defences and personnel, details which - according to the his company.

The prosecutor has now lawyer told the court presument claimed that Plessey is part of that Plessey was an "independent that Plessey was an "independent and public company" whose only relationship with fore passing secrets to the the Government was that of British Government.

to get the Americans to buy British have therefore now Libyans - were not needed by

To support this contention, the prosecution drew the the information contained in court's attention to Mrs Mr Abra's report could be Thatcher's recent efforts to found - published openly - in persuade President Reagan to huy Plessey's Ptarmigan com-munication system for the US military in preference to French equipment.

Mrs Thatcher's vain efforts

been portrayed here as evi-dence that Plessey is a British government organization.

The court was told that all doll in tild

NUT at Blackpool

Teachers back leadership on wage talks but sanctions stay

Members of the National Union of Teachers yesterday backed their leadership's decision to take part in talks on long-term pay and conditions them nothing for their under the Advisory Concilia- comfort." tion and Arhitration Service

But Mr Fred Jarvis, the union's general secretary, warned the local authority employers and the smaller teacher associations that the NUT would offer Ihem "no comfort" and would confinue to press for a restoration of 1974 salary levels, which would entail a 30 per cent rise, and improved conditions ol

The annual conference of the NUT, in Blackpool, overwhelmingly approved an executive resolution endorsing participation in the talks while maintaining classroom sanctions, threatening a return to "sustained strike action", and mounting a publicity drive to increase support from parents. Delegates, however, rejected other means of promoting their pay campaign, which includes the demand for an immediate £800 flat-rate rise. pending the outcome of the Acas talks. The other means could have included a national one-day strike and a ban on

'£5.1m less' spent on between 1984 and 1985, and is taken from Department of now drastically below what is Education and Science stat-spent in the independent istics. chools, according to Mr John Davies, director of the Educational Publishers Council.

Speaking at the National Union of Teachers conference in Blackpool yesterday, he said that annual spending on books for each primary school child had declined from £7.25 to £7.24, and for each secondary school child from £10.17 to £10,09 in England and Wales.

The total cash spend on books in primary schools bad shrunk from £28.4 million to £28 million, and in secondary schools from £39.8 million to £38.2 million, a total loss of

Mr Jarvis told the conference: "When we go to the talks the other parties will not like what we say. We are bringing

The NUT's objectives of restoring 1974 salary levels, restructuring pay scales and securing widespread improvements in conditions of service remain unchanged.

"We are not only attempting to benefit the teaching profession. We are doing what is essential if the children ol this country are to enjoy the high quality of education to which they are entitled and on which the future of Britain depends," Mr Jarvis said.

The union's former president, Mr Gordon Green, accused the five smaller unions of being prepared to "sell out" their members and emphasized the importance of not

"We require parents' support if we are to change public opinion and increase public

"The Government thought we would be a pushover after the miners—hut you cannot import Polish education. NUT means No-U-Turn."

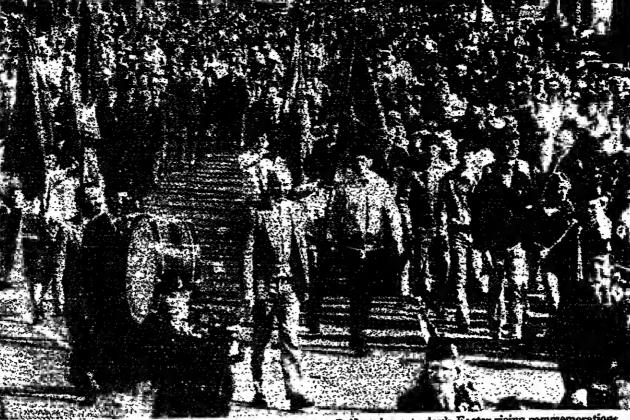

books in State schools

By Lucy Hodges, Education Correspondent

Spending on books in State into account, the cut was schools fell again in real terms £3.6 million. The figures are Comparing the figures for books and equipment with the independent sector. Mr Davies said that in 1983-84 preparatory boarding schools spent £59.10 on each pupil, and preparatory day schools £35.40. That compared with spending in State primaries of £25.40 in that year.

Senior independent schools spent £98.40 on each pupil compared with £43.10 on State secondary pupils. Mr Davies acknowledged that the Government was giving an extra £20 million to secondary schools for materials for the Allowing for inflation, the loss was £5.1 million. Taking the decline in pupil numbers 1987-88.

Marchers walking down the Falls Road to Militown cemetery, Belfast, in yesterday's Easter rising commemorations.

Ex-officer may rule Belfast Soldier is By Richard Ford shot at A former British Army offi- fast have been warned by Mr ceremony Continued from page 1

change. They had more in common with Provisional Sinn Fein, which was committed to socialism and equality rather than a Unionist ascendancy. The British had ditched the Unionists because their own long-term interests now involved an open alliance constitutional

At the headquarters of the Royal Ulster Constabulary yesterday senior officers met for the third day running to discuss today's parade hy the loyalist Apprentice Boys in Portadown, co Armagh. Tensions in the town are high since the loyalists informed the police of a route which will take them near Roman Catholic housing estates.

It is feared that some elements want a confrontation similar to those last summer, when Portadown was the scene of some of the worst loyalist rioting for many years.

airport, near Kidlington, are mostly on a one year civil pilot's licence courses, but others study for three years for instrument flight, and regularly fly solo with few restrictions on their movement in both

due to come in force shortly would force pilots to contact

cer has been approached by Cecil Ward, the town clerk, of the Government to act as a commissioner in the event of services in Northern Ireland breaking down because of Unionist protests over the projects by the adjournment

Anglo-Irish agreement.
The Government is under mounting pressure to send a commissioner to Belfast City Council which has adjourned its meetings for six months and whose annual contracts for fuel supplies expire tomor-

Mr John Gorman, aged 63. who retired last year as chief executive of the Housing Executive, has been approached hy senior officials and he said yesterday that if he was invited to act as a commissioner. "I will certainly not be unpre-pared to do that".

Mr Gorman, who was an officer in the Irish Guards and served with the Royal Ulster Constabulary, has aiready advised the Government on the situation over the setting of district rates in the 18 councils that are adjourned as part of the Unionist protest. Unionist councillors in Bel- last week to hold no meetings animals at Belfast Zoo.

tower before eotering its

The Civil Aviation Authority said vesterday that the restrictions over Upper Heyford were introduced after a number of near misses

American F1 11 fighters flying

But a member of the Na-single and twin engine aircraft. between civilian gliders and for Upper Heyford, which out of Upper Heyford.

A restricted flying regime is military aircraft, mostly the wide range of services that could run down within a matter of weeks as well as the delays caused to building

The Roman Catholic Pri-mate of All Ireland expressed disappointment yesterday at the lack of progress in the North since the signing of the Anglo-Irish agreeme

Cardinal Tomas O Finich said: "It has a lot in potential and therefore I think it deserves a chance. I think the Anglo-Irish agreement will have to prove itself over the years. The agreement simply proves itself in action".

However, he said the agreement had enhanced the position of Roman Catholics more symbolically than any

Members of the Official Unionist and Democratic Unionist parties ignored a 16page report outlining the difficulties ahead when they voted

Civil Aviation Authority

body, said yesterday: "Clearly people have been influenced imity to sensitive installabetween commercial and se-

in April and refused to see delegation from community groups threatened with closure because a grant of £250,000 had been frozen.

Their refusal to suspend the adjournment policy to vote grants for the groups, including mother and toddler clubs citizens' advice bureaux and a resource centre, threatens to close 25 groups with the loss of 54 jobs and 100 community posts. Mr Rainer Paget, chairman of a steering committee of community groups, accused Unionist councillors of abdicating their responsibilities in a way which proved they were non-caring, hard-hearted, small-minded ncompetent

Ministers will not suspend councils and send in a commissioner unless statutory services such as burving the dead and refuse collection cease to be carried out. Instead. they will make an interim decision to appoint someone to take ad hoc decisions to maintain services such as heating leisure centres and feeding the Police hunt for suicide squad Libyans the base air traffic control tional Air Traffic Service pansuicide missions. "They could enter Upper Heyford's air-space before anyone had a el, a joint Royal Air Force and > tion them. by the knowledge of these Although the chances of Libyan's training in close proxbitting nuclear weapons stores are minimal, suicide pilots tions. It is the old conflict could damage buildings and operations, as well as kill or He emphasized that the new injure American and British restrictions could not prevent chance to intercept or ques-

Fulham by-election

Alliance exploits Militant division

By Richard Evans, Lobby Reporter

The Miltitant Tendency factor looks likely to dominate the Fulham by-election this week, with the the SDP-Liberal Alliance increasingly hopeful of using it to snatch victory from Labour on April 10. The Alliance bombarded don constituency at the week-end with a leaslet highlighting last week's failure by Mr Neil Kinnock and Labour's national executive to expel 12 Merseyside Militants. Mr Roger Liddle, SDP candidate, said last night: "I believe last week's events at the Labour party were a turning point."

He claimed that the Militant issue was a key talking point on council estates. "It was very encouraging from our point of view. People were going on about Labour's splits and divisions and how they were not a strong party but were divided." Dr David Owen, the SDP leader, will make his third byelection visit to the constituency this morning. He is expected to resume the attack on Labour's inability to deal with extremists.

Alliance officials are hopeful that the latest canvassing returns, now being fed into a computer, will confirm that their support is rising at the expense of both the Conserva-tive and Labour candidates.

The SDP's determination to voters in the south-west Lon- milk the Militant issue for all it is worth will pose the first real test for Mr Nick Raynsford, the moderate and highly competent Labour can-didate, who holds a comfortable lead in the opinion polls.

Labour officials are contident that a clear distinction has been made in voters' minds between the Kinnockled party, seen as sound, reasonable and decent, and the tiny minority of left-wing extremists, whose expulsion from the party has been delayed only temporarily.

Senior party sources last night firmly rejected reports that Mr Kinnock intends to withdraw the party whip from Mr Terry Fields and Mr David Nellist, Labour's two Militant-supporting MPs. General Election: M. Stevens (C) 18:204: A Powell (Lab) 13:18: D Rendel (L. All) 7:194: Miss J Grimes (ECO) 277: R Pearte 047) 229: J Keals (Ind L) 102. C mai: 4,789

Maxwell accuses unions of conspiracy

Mr Robert Maxwell, the ablisher of Mirror Group Newspapers, yesterday ac-cused the print union Sogat 82 and the National Union of Journalists of conspiracy to prevent his Scottish titles heing published. In the case of Sogat, he said, it was being done in deliberate deliance of court orders.

"Enough is enough", Mr Maxwell said on the BBC Radio 4 programme, The World This Weeekend. "I have done everything in my power to negotiate fairly and reasonably. I have bent over backwards. Their excuses are just a

Mr Maxwell has dismissed ,500 workers in Scotland and told them that they must reapply for jobs with new companies that he intends to print his titles.

He said that the workers concerned were among the best paid in Britain, receiving £450 a week for a four-day 35 or 36 hour week. He had offered a 10 per cent pay increase of £45 a week in return for a 36-hour five day week, which was required to meet competition.

"All they had to do was agree to work a five day week. Now it is too late for them-They must accept new terms of employment and do so by midday on April 3 or that is an end of that, and of their jobs with us."

Mr Maxwell said that union leaders were using "muscle and madness to bring about was contemplated or necessary". Their only success would be in destroying the jobs of hundreds of their members.

Mr Maxwell said that the unions were "greedy and pow-er hungry". He dismissed accessions that he was trying to set up a non-union shop, but said that he had to put an end to a situation in which workers were being intimidated and threatened by fear that their trade union ticket would be withdrawn. There would be no closed shop in his new companies. Mr Maxwell said that the National Unionist of Journal-ists claims that he was trying to destroy the "Scottishness" of the titles were stapid. He added: "It is just another of their sham excuses. These people have got to understand that we do not owe them a living. They have got to stop all this nonsense. It is time for management to show what

Foot joins protest at Wapping

Mr Michael Foot, the former leader of the Labour Party, was among 4,000 people who demonstrated outside News International's Wapping plant in east London on Saturday night in protest against the dismissal of 5,500 print

The demonstration was smaller than on preceding weekends, and for the most part orderly. Mr Foot said: "It must be obvious to anyone who has studied the matter what efforts the organizers have put into ensuring that there is a well-behaved demonstration without violence".

Nonetheless there were 13 arrests, and 11 people were charged with public order offences. Four people were accused of using threatening behaviour, three with obstruct-ing the police, two with being drunk and disorderly, one with assault on the police, and one with causing a breach of the peace. One of those arrested was released after being cau-tioned, and another bailed to return to police custody.

News International said full print orders for both The Sunday Times and the News of the World had been achieved and although the departure of some lorries had been delayed by the demonstrators distribution had been "completed comfortably".

When the main convoy of lorries left the plant, the police diverted it from the main body

Scargill warning of a war on workers

Mr Arthur Scargill, the miners' leader, said yesterday that the Government was forcing down working people's standard of living using mass unemployment and anti-trade union legislation.

Mr Scargill, president of the National Union of Mineworkers, told the Labour Party Young Socialists' national conference in Bourne-mouth: "Let there be no mistake, we are involved in a class war. Our liberoes and democracy itself are being taken from us, and harassment is being deployed without pretence.

Referring to the miners' strike. Mr Scargill said his union's members would continue to fight for their jobs. "I am sick and tired of people within the movement who talk about setback and

He said: "If the councils of Lambeth and Liverpool are guilty of trying to preserve the fabric of society, trying to keep down costs and wanting to keep intact services for the elderly and underprivileged, then we should not be conthen we should not be con-demning them, but applauding them."

Invitation for the Prince

Prince Michael of Kent has been invited to compete against the Duke of Edinburgh in the three-day carriage driving trials to be held at Sandringham starting on July 11.

It is the final selection event for drivers hoping to make the British Carriage Driving team for the world championships at Ascot in August.

Narrow house goes on sale

A two-bedroom wedge shaped house with the narrowshaped Bonse with the harrow-est fromage in Britain, just 58 inches according to the Guinnest Book of Records, is for sale for £36,500.

Mrs Beverley Baker, who has owned the house, built in 1880 in Manor Road, Ports-month, Hampshire, for eight years, said she is "looking for years, said she is "looking for something a bit bigger".

Death remand

Brian Williamson, unemployed, aged 27, of Seven Sisters Road, north London, accused of murdering Richard Mercy, a dentist who was found battered to death in his London flat six years ago, was remanded in custody until next Monday at Horseferry Road court on Saturday.

Broads tests

Tests are to be carried out by the Norfolk Broads Au-thority on 21 types of boar to find a hull which least erodes the waterway banks through waves from the wash.

Mail remand

George Davis, aged 44, of Popiar, east London, was re-fused bail when he appeared before Horseferry Road magistrates on Saturday, accused of stealing mailbags from a London-Brighton train.

Scruton sues

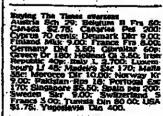

Dr Roger Scruton, editor of the right-wing Salisbury Re-view and Reader in Philosophy at Birkbeck College, London University, is suing The Observer for libel.

Forest jobs

A Dutch firm's £30 million holiday village in Sherwood Forest, Nottinghamshire, will provide up to 500 jobs during construction, beginning this week, and full-time employ-ment for 200 when it is operating next year.

School arson

Arsonists badly damaged a primary school yesterday in Llandudno, Gwynedd, where there have been more than a dozen deliberate fires, two involving other schools, since

OFFER FOR YOUR IMPERIAL SHARES, HANSON TRUST'S BEST AND FINAL OFFER IS NOW BETTER BY:

Latest price:

COMPARED TO THE UNITED

BISCUITS' BEST AND FINAL

NEXT CLOSING DATE: APRIL 1 AT 3PM.

ACCEPT HANSON'S OFFER NOW. FILL IN THE GREEN FORM.

H

CONTINUING GROWTH FROM BASIC BUSINESSES.

Privatization Seven in ten think that 'could double Sellafield is unsafe water rates'

Water rates could double in some regions if the Government starts selling off the 10 water authorities in England and Wales as planned, it was claimed yesterday. .

Mr John Edmonds, general secretary of the General and Municipal. Boilermakers and Allied Trades Union, which represents 20,000 industry workers, said the move would be environmentally and economically disastrous.

"If privatization goes ahead in some regions, there woulld have to be increases in water rates of up to 100 per cent in the first two years because new private owners, seeking increased profits, would still need to meet the costs of maintaining an expensive wa-ter system", he said.

Nearly 70 per cent of the those interviewed in the na-population think the nuclear tional sample, believed the waste reprocessing plant at Sellafield, Cumbria, is unsafe, according to a NOP market research survey published

A national survey of more than 1,000 people on March 21 and 22 this year found that 72 per cent believed it was unsafe to live within 10 miles of the nuclear plant. Only 5 per cent said they would feel "very safe" living near by. Nearly 80 per cent believed Sellaffeld should deal only with waste from Britain, or stop reprocessing altogether. Only 14 per cent said Sellafield should continue its reprocessing present Altogether, 69 per cent of tional sample, believed the plant was unsafe. The survey, carried out for the Association of Market

Survey Organizations, which represents 31 leading research agencies, found that almost three in five people believed Britain would have to rely on nuclear power in the future.

But the majority, 71 percent, preferred government research into alternative forms of energy, such as wind or wave power. Only 11 per cent supported more nuclear power stations, and 8 per cent saw a combination of nuclear and other energy forms as the best choice for the future.

An AMSO Report on Nuclear Waste (NOP Market Research.

لعلدًا من المنصل

Joy of 'Jim'll Fix It' boy after first heart and kidney transplant

Mannell

Martin Guy leaving for his double transplant.

A youth who made medical donor organs are working well history by having a heart and and he is breathing on his own bed yesterday and told his father: "It's great to be alive". Martin Guy, aged 18, from Glen Masson, near Dunoon, Strathclyde, is the first person in Britain, possibly in the world, to be given consecutive heart and kidney transplants. Within five-and-a-half hours two teams of surgeons performed the two operations on Carnellan.

Saturday.

Martin appeared two weeks ago on the BBC television programme Jim'll Fix It after appealing for help. The RAF arranged to fly him to Papworth Hospital, Cambridge, for tests to see if he was suitable for transplants.
His mother, Mrs Jenny Guy, said at the family bome in Argylishire yesterday: "The whole family is overjoyed at the progress Martin has made so far. He is feeling great considering what he has been through,'

On Saturday morning the hospital telephoned to say that donor was available and Martin, accompanied by his father and a nurse, went by sea, land and air ambulance to the hospital and was on the operating table by 5.25pm. About three and a half hours later the heart transplant was completed and 20 minutes later he was back in the theatre for the two-hour kidney

Mr John Edwards, a hospital spokesman, said last night:
"Martin is fully conscious and his condition is satisfactory and improving. Both operations were successful and both tion was planned over Easter.

said the management was watching the situation closely and would implement contingency plans if necessary.

Our message to the public is not to be alarmed. Anyone nothing to declare over the limits should have no problems. If abnormal delays develop at red channels we will inconvenience."

A customark

that he was maintaining con

regarding drugs trafficking.
... "We're just working according to the rules laid down. My main concern is drugs and am keeping a sharp eye out as usual. To suggest our action will open the door to drugs

Debrett leads with royal wedding book

Publishers of the peerage book, Debrett, have been working flat ont over the Bank holiday to get the first royal wedding book into the shops.

Prince Andrew's choice as fiancée four months before he proposed, and have had genealogists researching Miss Sa-rah Ferguson's family.

The company is trying to get the wedding on July 23.

Mr Robert Jarman, the managing director, said: "We took a gamble on Sarah Ferguson back in December and thankfully it has paid off". The firm did the same at the last royal wedding, and soldmore than 200,000 copies of its book then. Among the revelations in the new book is

The publishers gambled on runners is nonsense."

A customs officer working plans to

The Customs and Excise

without a ventilator.

"He came down here for assessment a couple of weeks ago and after that his doctors were clear in their own minds that both transplants were the only treatment possible for him to save him. But we needed a suitable donor.

The operations were carried out with precision to make sure that both of the replacement organs were in exactly the right condition."
He added: "We were not just saving o life but giving this young man a better quality of life so that he could rejoin his community and live life to the Several advances in transplant surgery made it possible for Martin to undergo the multiple organ transplant (Pearce Wright writes).

One is the rapid method of tissue typing, which allows donor organs to be matched to ossible recipients very quickly. Through the use of com-puter analysis, donor organs can be matched instantly to o list of patients waiting for

Furthermore, without the refinement of drugs to overcome rejection of transplants, it would not have been possihle to have conducted the double surgery.

There was the need to carry out a dual operation because Martin's illness put a strain on both organs. Treating one by replacement would have only been a temporary measure because the untreated organ would have led to a failure of the one replaced.

The Lazy Bee float, with its own honeycomb and stripy occupants, joining Youngsters enjoying the tongue-out-of-cheek fun.

Reprieve for Easter Parade

The annual Easter Parade in Battersea Park, London, yesterday, which seemed likely to disappear with the Greater London Council, has been

Yesterday, Mr Edward Lister, a Conservative councillor and chairman of Wandsworth leisure amenities and services committee, promised to continue the tradition.

He said: "This is one of the park's most popular events and we have made a commitment to carry it on when we take over responsibility on Tuesday."

But he said many events staged by the GLC, such as last July's Jobs for a Change, would end. "That was an absolute disaster with 15 muggings in an afternoon," he complained. local people were not interested."

Bishop pulls out of Iran charity

A bishop yesterday withdrew sponsorship for a charity set up to help refugees from the Iranian regime of Ayatollah Khomeini because its fund-raising was aggressive".

The Bishop of Manchester, the Rt Rev Stanley Booth-Clibborn, made his decision after learning that Iranian students acting for Iran-aid, had been stopping pedestrians in Sheffield with demands for minimum docations of $75. minimum donations of £75.

The students have been collecting on Sheffield University campus for some time, and are believed to have raised a considerable sum. But there were complaints they had pursued students who promised to make a donation. Mr Paul Blonfield, deputy manager of the university students union, said: "I can confirm that a complaint has been made about Iran-Aid." Collectors have now moved into the city centre and have spent some days stopping passers-by. Their technique is to ask: "Who do you think is the most hated man in the Potential donors are then shown a colour brochure of alleged atrocities under the Khomeini regime, including a photograph of a dissident being hanged from a crane.

They say it cos1s £300 a month to rehouse a refugee ranian family of three in Pakistan, and ask for a dona-tion to keep the family going for "a short time". The minimum they accept is £75.

The bishop, whose name is shown as a sponsor on leaflets produced by collectors, said:
"I have told them that I cannot go on sponsoring

"I have no doubt it is a good humanitarian charity, some of the methods used by their collectors

Laster promise in Customs dispute promised to minimize the delays to travellers at Britain's air and sea ports today as a spread delays.

He said: "Contrary to the is not to be alarmed. Anyone report, our aim is not to coming through the green disrupt Easter holiday traffic. channels at Heathrow with airports and maritime ports at Heathrow said yesterday should not be affected."

400 400 03

Giro ghost tenants face purge

ants in Glasgow could be collection multiple Giro cheques under a variety of aliases. They do not live in the houses, using the addresses as "Giro drops".

The houses are rarely forished, although grants for furniture have been made Now the city's housing department is to lead a crackdown on its bogus tenants.

Where the house is not being properly occupied the tenancy will be ended and the house re-let. Mr James McLean, the housing convener, said: "It is a massive problem nation-wide, but particularly bad in Glasgow. What we are seem is only a tip of this iceberg." The ghost tenants, normally single, accept tenancies of estates where letting is difficult. The address enables them to qualify for higher rate supplementary benefits and to receive special payments from the Department of Health and Social Security to furnish their new home.

Mr McLean said: "It doe not take the neighbours long to realize that no one lives in the house. The tenant only appears to meet the postman on Giro day.

"When housing officials inestigate they usually find the property vandalized All kinds of operations and rackets are being worked at the council's expense. Some of these addresses are used as a local hase for drug trafficking."

Brides get gift of experience

Two brides will each receive £200 from a dowry fund left by Mrs Annie Sibthorp, who was married four times and died at Sleaford, Lincolnshire in the early 1900s.

Miss Toni Atterbury, aged 24, a typist, and Miss Mary Watson, aged 23, a husiness analyst, were chosen by a panel for the awards, finances from the interest on £4,000 left by Mrs Sibthorp for annual gifts to "two deserving

If you're in the market for a mobile cellular telephone, be warned

While there's no shortage of companies willing to sell you equipment, there's a distinct shortage able to provide a quality service to go with it.

And although you may pick up your new telephone at a 'bargain' price, it can look a lot less of a bargain from that moment on - because most companies aren't geared up to do much more than sell you the hardware.

We've more expertise than any other company.

service. And we're able to do so for two very good reasons.

First, we're able to draw upon the resources of AT & T, the pioneers of cellular communication, who've extensive experience in the designing, manufacturing and installing of cellular systems.

Secondly, we're able to draw upon the automotive engineering expertise of Unipart, to ensure that the workings of your car are totally unaffected by the telephone installation.

It's this unique combination of resources that put us way ahead of everyone else.

We won't fit your phone and forget you.

To start with, we offer you a comprehensive range of equipment to choose from.

All are at least as good as the competition, all can be attached to Celinet or Racal Vodaphone networks and all are available at highlycompetitive prices. (We even provide a 2-Year Warranty on our Class 1 Mobile Equipment at no extra charge.)

Once you've chosen your equipment, we'll then make ourselves responsible for installation, maintenance and airtime billing.

No other single company is in a position to do so much for you.

We even have our own Customer Service Centre.

This is at the very heart of our operation.

our competitors.

Through this special Centre, we're able to arrange for fully-trained, automotive electrics fitters to install and maintain our equipment at any of the installation centres we have spread across the country. And we've more of them than anybody else.

> Through the Centre we're also able to deal with any of your queries personally.

We've the most versatile billing service of all Our Customer Service Centre is also equipped to provide a billing service that's the envy of

Because of the advanced system we employ, we're able to offer a monthly billing format tailored to each customer's individual needs, with every call fully itemised, so you can keep track of your costs. All this is included as a standard part of our monthly charge.

There's not even a minimum call charge. We're manufacturer-approved by Jaguar, MG, Austin Rover and Lamborghini.

If you ever needed a guarantee of the quality of our service, this is it: the ultimate stamp of approval by some of the most respected names in the motor car industry.

Not that this high standard of expertise is available to these makes alone: it's available to all

To find out just how much better off you'd be with Unique-Air, call our Customer Service Centre on 0865 716768.

Of one thing you can be sure with Unique-Air: you'll be smitten, not bitten. UNIQUEAIR

ON THE CUSTOMERS' WAVELENGTH

Customs officers have At Dover, Mr Keith Turner, organizing secretary of the nnion at the main channel ports, confirmed that no ac-result of a union work-to-rule. Mr Ken Rignall, a branch secretary of the Society of Civil and Public Servants, denied a report in The Mail on Sunday that forecast wide-

We have not called for walk-outs, only a work-to-fule which is likely to delay incom-ing passengers at Heathrow form to about half an hour on Monday. While we have had Monday. While we have had messages of support from colleagues elsewhere, other

Mr Rignall said that the trols as usual, particularly society may call nationwide action in the dispute over new shift rotas for Terminal Four at Heathrow airport before the terminal opens on April 12, but there were no such plans for disruption of the holiday

Tougher eggs hope in shells breakthrough

A poultry feed that will improve the quality of eggs for consumers and boost farmers' incomes by millions of pounds a year has been developed by British scientists.

BOCM-Silcock, one of the country's largest animal feed suppliers, has developed a feed which produces a large egg with a tough shell, packed with vitamins.

The thinness of many shells the hardback book into shops by mid-May, well in time for is the largest single cause of complaints from consumers. The feed contains no drugs, antibiotics or hormones Poultry farmers will benefit because the feed provides large eggs which command high prices, and they have strong shells which will reduce breakages. The average Briton eats 250 eggs a year. Egg sales last year were worth almost £900 million and more than 11,124 million eggs were produced.

that the future princess is distantly related to the brewer Samuel Whitbread.

Survival hope for rare plant

Bridleway find

A chance discovery by a retired secretary has trans-formed the survival hopes of one of Britain's least-known one or stream's least-known rare plants, Miss Jo Dunn, who found the plants on the edge of a grassy bridleway, said: "I do not think anything so exciting botanically will happen to me again".

The downy woundwort is not nearly an amountainly again.

nearly so spectacular as the threatened orchids and other rarities that are guarded day and night in their flowering seasons. The woundwort, so named for the supposed bealing abilities of some of its near otanical relatives, is similar to the lambs' tengues plants of cottage gardens and herba-

It once grew in several parts of the South and Midlands, sive farming. Until Miss Dunn time for at least 40 years.

made her discovery last year it was thought to survive in Britain only in two places in

Miss Dunn has been quietly looking after the plants she found on the public bridleway elsewhere in the county. Her discovery came to light only after she had been given a grant of £25 by the British Ecological Society to meet the costs of petrol needed to reach the plants, telephone calls to landowners and wire to protect the growing plants against rabbits.

When the Nature Conservancy Council learnt of the discovery it gave Miss Dunn a further £100 for writing a full account of her monitoring of the plants. She believes that of the South and Midlands, they appeared because the but has gradually dwindled in hedge near which they grow was cut in 1982 for the first

She would not name the site because so many rare wild plants have been dug up-illegally by collectors. The plant looks rather like o tall nettle with small pinkish flow-ers in the summer. It has a habit of disappearing for a few years and then starting to grow

two years ago, and 1984 was my first year of going back to my love of botany". She spotted a lovely stand of musk thistle, and there was this plant not in flower with its whole stem covered in white hairs". She identified it as downy woundwort from a 100-year-old flower book. "I thought: I must go back when the flowers are out", she add-ed. "By the end of the summer had counted 56 flowering

6

tt

1/0

Traders whose shops and businesses were fire-bombed and looted during the ... Handsworth riots in Birming--- ham last September have said the area is in danger of becoming a shost town.

The Lozells Road Traders' formed to represent the shop owners who lost their property, said that none of the claims for compensation, totalling more than £5 million, havebeen paid, delaying plans to redevelop the area.

Seven months after the rioting, during which an Asian postmasier and his brother died in their burning post office, three former traders were claiming unemployment benefit, according to the association.

Five more had left the area and others were struggling 10 survive in a temporary market set up in the road where the violence reached its peak.

Mr Basil Clarke, chairman of the association, whose electrical business was destroyed. vesterday that _traders were desperate to press ahead with a £3 million shopping shopping redevelopment in development to replace the Lozells Road.

destroyed properties. Loss adjusters appointed by the West Midlands Police Authority, against whom compensation claims were made, are still working to produce figures on which payments can be made. Birming-Association, which was ham City Council is formed to represent the shop examaning the plans for about thirty-two new shops.

Mr Clarke said: "There is a real danger that the area could become a ghost town unless we get some action quickly.

"If the money starts to come through and all the red tape is removed, there is no reason why we should not start rebuilding in three months to produce a modern shopping area for the whole communi-

The association hopes that once the plans for redevelopment go ahead, the Prince of Wales may visit the area as a demonstration of his interest in the regeneration of the

The association hopes that its members will meet about 60 per cent of the cost of the Man stabbed as soccer fans rampage in pub

A football fan was recovering in hospital yesterday after being stahbed in the back when supporters clashed before a local derby game.

Mr Andrew Greenwood, aged 23, of Elsie Street, Farnworth, Greater Manchester, was having a drink in the Market Tavern in Wigan town centre when youths started a pitched battle a few minutes before the kick-off in the third division match between Bolton and Wigan. His condition was described

Mr Alan Mason, yesterday was sifting through damage caused by the youths who hurled bricks, chairs and tables through windows.

He said: "The whole incident was very frightening. Myself and the rest of the staff had to take cover in the back". Twenty arrests were made before the match for alleged public order offences.

Heritage groups seek to save church's glory By Charles Knevitt, Architecture Correspondent grandest Victorian churches, which lies "vandalized and forlorn", have been submitted by Save Britain's Heritage and the Victorian Society. Built on the scale of a cathedral to designs by William Niven, the architect, in 1887, St Alban's was declared redundant in 1977 and the Diocese of London last year applied for its demolition. It has since produced its

Plans to save St Alban's own scheme to create flars.
Church, Teddington, west within the body of the church, London, one of the capital's which Save Britain's Heritage. says would destroy its principal glory.

An alternative scheme, by the architects Purcell, Miller, Tritton & Partners, would preserve the interior of the church for exhibitions, con-certs and occasional services, and provide a close of houses at the western end. An unnamed developer is understood to be keen to. undertake the scheme.

Falkland penguins in danger'

By Patricia Clough

Thousands of penguins are dying of starvation is the Falkland Islands because of over-fishing in the area by Soviet and other fishing fleets, a European MP says.

Mr Robert Battersby, the Conservative member for Humberside, has tabled a motion for resolution in the European Parliament calling on the EEC to start talks immediately with the United Nations on a workable fishery management control system in the south-west Atlantic.

Mr Battersby accuses the Russian, Polish and Japanese fleets of decimating fish stocks, particularly squid, by uncontrolled fishing, endangering wildlife.

The side effect of this excessive and irresponsible fishing policy is that the whole ecological balance is being seriously damaged", he said. and the seals depend heavily. on squid for their survival and we are now finding that thousands of penguin corpses, underweight and showing signs of starvation, are being washed up. "It is expected that there will be a serious decline in the population of both species before long, due to widespread the startation."

starvation."

He blames over-fishing on the world price for squid, which is about £1,000 a tonne.

Standards of accompany writing and presentation are operated by high in British schools, according to Mr Charles Wilson, editor of The Thors. So high that judges found it impossible to limit themselves to six winners in The Times Junior Journalist last summer as part of The

Praise for journalism standards

in schools By a Staff Reporter

OU

M

Times bicentenary celebra-tions, invited popils to submit examples of their class newspapers or to take part in one of pack. The entries were judg produced by the children of Brooklield School, Sarisbury shire. It featured topical end stories on animal welfaanemployment and the teachers' strike.

prepared by the 15 to 17-year-olds was The Manifest, from St. Joseph's High School at Widnes in Cheshire. Its principal stories dealt with local politics and aparthoid.

"We were particularly in ressed with the wi sitries' grasp of news issue coverage and enterprising layout", Mr Wilson said. Both papers were addition-

Two winners were selected in each age group from indihighly topical letter on the teachers' strike, and Antonia Logue, of the European School prize for her report on a series of terrorist attacks in the Belgian capital.

In the senior class, the s selected Bruce Pullen. of the King's School, Canterbary, who wrote about safety standards in school ragby, and Lesley Stone, of the School of Community Studies in Nor-wich, who submitted a highly original account of a pharmacy exhibit at the local museum.

All the winners will receive of The Times, a copy of The Times souvenir bicentenary magazine, a Collins dictionary and a selection of other books published by Collins. They have also won for their schools a year's subscription and starter pack for The Times Network for Schools. The two winning newspapers win a year's subscription to The

In view of the exceptionally School, north Louden, who had devoted enormous effort to Outlook poor on talks to cut food mountain an Commission to sell large quantities of surplus food at reduced prices to the Soviet.

Union, Eastern Europe and Arah states, including Libya, as reported in The Times on But the talks are not made any more acceptable by the knowledge that the situation may continue indefinitely. EEC farm ministers appear incapable of doing anything about the colossal waste entailed in hnying, storing and subsidizing the disposal of unwanted food, by far the biggest drain on the Community's budget.

M François Guillaume, the French farm minister, has in the past openly endorsed milithe past openly encoised inni-tant protests, including the blocking of lorries carrying meat from Britain, and wine and fruit from Italy and Spain, and has led a mass demonstration in Brussels.

The commodities, apart from wine, which are causing the biggest headaches include grain, where the British Government is advocating pro-gressive price cuts to enable EEC wheat and barley to be traded competitively at world market levels.

The National Farmers' Union maintains that that will ruin many small farmers on marginal land: It would prefer quotas, coupled with out of business and land left setaside payments to farm derelict. How to reconcile that ers to leave land fallow. However, the French and the pressing need to restrain German governments are opproduction presents an apparposed to any price cuts and are ently insoluble dilemma.

Negotiations by the Europe- advocating a further increase The Commission broadly agrees with Britain and could cut intervention costs simply by raising the acceptable quality standards.

The introduction of dairy quotas two years ago has been more successful than most people had hoped, but milk and dairy supplies still exceed demand. In Britain, the main bone of contention is whether the quota belongs to the landlord or to the tenant.

The French claim that British quotas are too generous, farms are bigger and that the United Kingdom is a big importer of butter and cheese. At certain times of the year.

The continued, although di-minishing quota for New Zealand butter imports is also a constant grievance.
The French also object to the special subsidies paid to British beef producers, even though they are intended to keep prices down and encourage demand. They also claim that lamb subsidies, although not payable on exports, give British farmers an unfair advantage in the French market. The overriding difficulty is that, for political and social reasons, no EEC government is willing to see farmers driven out of business and land left understandable attitude with

What does it mean to be an Officer in the Territorial Army:

For a start, it means the Territorial Army actually has its own Officers.

And because were expanding were looking for more. You may not have realised

It means going to Sandhurst.

Surprised? You shouldn't be. A Territorial Army Officer's duties and responsibilities are no less demanding than those of his Regular Army colleagues.

Potential Territorial Army

Officers are singled out for their leadership qualities.

And during a continual training and assessment programme (which includes two weeks at the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst) these leadership qualities are developed to the full.

It means keeping in step with the Regulars.

As soon as they join us, potential Territorial Army Officers begin to learn how to exploit their natural talents through a wide range of activities.

From combat tactics, weaponry and map reading, to drill, command and fieldcraft.

And they'll go on learning during the rest of their career as a Territorial Army Officer, because in the event of war, they'll be expected to fight alongside the Regulars.

It means keeping your brain as agile as your body.

Naturally, we expect our Officers to be physically fit. Fitness is an essential facet of command, and it's something we work at.

But leadership requires mental agility too. A Territorial Army Officer can find himself leading men from all walks of life. He needs to exercise understanding and initiative in equal quantities, in order to get the best out of people under his command.

It means commitment.

Obviously, a Territorial Army Officer has to give up some of his spare time.

At least eight weekends a year plus a two week camp and some weekday evenings is the basic requirement, though most of our Officers find that the more they put into the Territorial Army, the more they get out of it.

Britain.

The Territorial Army is a vital and active part of our defences.

Currently, we make up one third of Britain's land forces. we're still expanding. That's why hear from you. we want to believe you have what it If you takes to become a Territorial Army Officerthink about it hard.

Then pick up the phone, with pen and paper handy, and make a free call anytime on 0800 555 555, or send off this coupon today. We're ready and waiting to hear from you.

Officer The Territorial Army

To The Territorial Army. Freepost 4335. (Dept. T1F) Bristol BSI 3YX. Please send me further information on T.A. Officers.

Education Qualifications Ready and Waiting

0800 555 555 (free)

high standard of entries, the judges decided to make an additional special award to a class at Waltham Forest The Royal Society for the Protection of Birds said, however, that starvation among the penguins could well be due to to changes in the weather which prompted fish and their entry. The Terminator Times. They win £25 to spend on Collins books and a facsim-ile of the first edition of The squid stocks to move to areas where the hirds could not reach them. It was a well known occurrence. EEC farm surplus It means a lot to

Crown prosecution service: 1

Courts hoping lawyers will restore faith in justice system

A team of public prosecutors will take over from the police the job of prosecuting eriminals when the new Crown prosecution by prosecuting entiminats when the new Crown prosecution service comes into force in all metropolitan areas outside London tomorrow. In a two-part series, Frances Gibb, Legal Affairs Correspondent, looks at the background to the service and fairs Correspondent how it is organized.

A fundamental change in in England and Wales comes into force in many parts of the start of the new Crown prose- court system.

tion will be the responsibility of a network of public prosecutors, lawyers employed by the Government, who will have the final say on what cases are brought to court.

The £88 million service, which starts in the six metro-politan areas outside London. is intended to improve standards of prosecution, with the prosecutors acting as filters to weed out weak cases, as the procurators fiscal do in Scot-

16: 12: 17 Te.

* * * * * * zez

明本 次 读

aumite Sign

3 3 7 B 1884

The same of the

57 TELE

470 C 10 170

Contract and ₩ ... :< ™g

تت معام

. * =:

or ing

1 - 512

the link that ear things

ಿಸಿಕ≎ = 225

لانته والمعاترة

1 . 544

A 150 %

 $\pi_{\Phi_{i}}(\pi_{i}) = \pi_{i}^{\Phi_{i}}$

10 July - 20 July 1

Section 1 and

A - 62 W 13

1477 MART Sec. 18 12

125 - 152

العبيبية المارا

and the second

age ment me the west

غو است رستنا

453

- 27

.

Recent statistics show there created. is a high rate of acquittals (about 47 per cent) in the Crown courts and about 40 per cent of those are at the direction of the judge. The most common reason is insufficient evidence. The Crown prosecutors will have power in such cases to order charges to .into three new prosecuting be dropped.

It is also aimed at restoring public confidence in the criminal justice system in the wake of the widespread public dis- of 1,000 now in prosecuting quiet which led to the setting up of the Royal Commission on Criminal Procedure in

That commission urged reforms to police powers and suspects rights, which came into force under the Police and Criminal Evidence Act, 1984, at the beginning of this year. at the beginning of this year, basic troops", with about fifty As a balance to increased lawyers needed to reach the police powers, it also urged a target of 420 for the first six prosecution service separate areas.

In the past, he said, cases the rest of Britain.

sometimes went to trial on the the way crimes are prosecuted instructions of the police which either were not justified on the evidence or could have country tomorrow with the been dealt with outside the

As in Scotland, responsibility for prosecutions will be removed from the police so that they do not both investigate offences and prosecutions.

Heading the new service will be Sir Thomas Hetherington, QC, Director of Public Prosecutions, who has postponed his retirement to gate offences and prosecute see it into effect. His office of offenders. Instead, prosecu- about 200 staff will be the headquarters for the national chain of 40 chief Crown prosecutors, each heading a team of prosecoting lawyers.

The new departments roughly correspond with police force areas and draw their staff from the old county prosecuting solicitors' departments. But in several areas, such as Bedforshire and Hertfordshire, where there was oo department and the police used outside lawyers, whole new departments are being

The service gets off the ground in Northumhria and Durham, the West Midlands, Greater Manchester, West Yorkshire, South Yorkshire and Merseyside. It starts in the rest of Britain, including London, which has been divided areas, on October 1.

At full strength the service is expected to have about 1,500 lawyers, compared with a total solicitors' departments, the DPP's office and the Metropolitan Police solicitors' de-partment. Its total staff will be 2,000.

But, despite an improved pay package offered by the Government last November, there is still "a shortfall of the

from the police.

Mr John Wood, Deputy
Director of Public Prosecutions, said: "The essential difference is independence About 220 lawyers must be from the police. In the part of the prosecution of the police. In the part of the prosecution of the police. In the part of the prosecution of the police. In the part of the prosecution of the police. In the part of the police is independence. from the police. In the vast recruited to add to the present majority of prosecutions it is 84 to cope with prosecutions the police who investigate the throughout the capital, many crime, prosecute and instruct of which have been handled solicitors. Under the new ser- by the police. Police overtime vice, it will be up to the pay in London for court prosecutor to review the case attendance amounts to about and decide if it should £5 million a year, compared with less than £1 million for

Vandals 'threat to firemen'

Vandals who lare fire crews to hlazing huildings which have first been booby-trapped risk causing death or serious injury, a firemen's leader said

"Sooner or later a fireman is going to be killed by these lonatics", Mr Bernard Goodwin, Midlands executive takeover of Portsmouth Naval member of the Fire Brigades Base.

He said the fire raisers' tactics included removing preces of timber from the stairs of a derelict property, then covering the missing steps with linoleum so that unsuspecting firemen fell

Another was to fill contra-Another was to fill contra-ceptives with petrol or paraf-fin, which exploded like incendiary devices when the fire in the building had built up sufficient beat. On one occasion a fire crew was confronted by a sheet of plate glass which had been rigged to swing down when the front door was opened.

Mr Goodwin said firemen were now extremely cautious when called to fires in derelict

The growing problem is to be discussed at a seminar to be beld at Warwick University. Coventry, West Midlands, later this year.

don, and massive car parking is also planned together with shops, restaurants, and lander this year.

Bids in for naval base takeover

By Michael Baily Transport Editor

Nelson's Victory and Henry VIII's Mary Rose could be-come two of Britain's biggest tourist attractions in the 1990s under new plans for a private

Four developers, including Allied Lyons and Sealink British Ferries, are competing to take over 50 acres of Portsmouth's naval base for a tourist centre with old ships and naval buildings as the prime attraction. Their bids will be opened today hy the Portsmouth Na-val Heritage Project made up of the Royal Navy, Portsmouth City Council, The Mary Rose Trust, and the Warrior Trust, whose iron hulled warship would be an-

Under present management only about a million visitors a year come to the area, but developers believe that with buildings. But they still had to skilled marketing and man-search the property in case children or squatters were trapped inside.

skilled marketing and man-agement this could rise to 5 million. The project could provide a rich market for train and coach services from Lon-other attraction.

Steam engine scheme for rail repair yard

Every rail buff's dream - the production of steam engines is at the heart of a multi-million pound bid for the Swindon railway engineering

British Rail Engineering Limited is considering half a dozen hids, but the most romantic comes from a local consortium, Great Western Works Limited, which plans to use the heavy engineering plant to manufacture highlechnology steam trains. Mr David Jeacock, a solicigroup, said he was confident workers, many in tears, collected by an lected their last pay packet, heaving a skeleton staff of 450. tor and spokesman for the

The consortium wanted to use the 30-acre core of the site for heavy engineering, initially employing 369 workers, but rising to over a thousand in four years.

The main challenge to the scheme is led by Mr Simon Coombs, Tory MP for Swindon, who was linked with the Wackersdorf for the demonstration. consortium but now doubts stration today. whether it would be possible In Frankfurt, the West Gerto turn a repair works into a man anti-nuclear movement's full-scale manufacturing Easter March central office operation.

Last Wednesday, flags flew nuclear war and power were at half-mast at the site as 1,100 being conducted yesterday in

The Pope celebrating Easter Mass in front In his Easter message the Pope made a of the Basilica at St Peter's Square, Rome, strong appeal for peace, ending with yesterday. In the front row of celebrants greetings delivered in 49 languages to the were, from left, Mr William Wilson, the US pilgrims who filled St Peter's Square were, from left, Mr William Wilson, the US
Ambassador to the Vatican, his wife, Mr George Shultz, the visiting US Secretary of State, and his wife.

pugrums who three States of choose life," he said. It meant taking part with courage in God's work.

Shultz fails, page 6

Pope plot 'not proven'

From John Earle, Rome

Accusations that a Bulgarian or international plot was behind the attempts on the Pope's life in May, 1981, were not accepted by a Rome court, which has acquitted three Bulgarian and three Turkish defendants in a trial lasting 10 months. The verdict, bowever, was conditioned by a "not proven" formula under Italian law, on the ground that there was insufficient evidence to Marseilles and Nice over the weekend. No one was injured.

ered the work of professionals, thought to belong to the outlawed Corsican National Liberation Front (FLNC).

The FLNC observed a truce

during the recent election campaign hut appear to have taken to terrorism again in Corsican holiday resorts.

193 held in nuclear protest

German police are attempting to hold on to 193 anti-nuclear militants arrested at the weekend until after the huge demonstration planned here for today against a nuclear plant construction site.

The 193 were among 280 activists arrested at a protesters' tent camp outside

Wackersdorf whichpolice said

harboured a cache of weapons including petrol bombs.

The arrests came as Easter weekend demonstrations against nuclear power and nuclear arms started all over

West Germany.
The arrested activists were planning to storm the construction site of the Wackersdorf nuclear waste-recycling plant today and tear down the perimeter fence, said

Herr Dieter Stelzer, police spokesman in this Bavarian

Wespons seized at the tent

included axes, hammers, knives, metal slingshot projec-tiles, masks and chemicals that could be used in making explosives, Herr Stelzer said.

A spokesman for the Bavarian Greens party, Herr Hans-Dieter Reiche, yesterday called the tent raid an "arbitrary act of the police". He said the protesters tent camp had been registered with local said peaceful rallies against nuclear war and power were

Wackersdorf (AP) - West

In Lyons on Friday, ponce travelling.

The bombings are consid-

that he will be present if appeals go ahead.

During the trial little convincing evidence emerged of a Bulgarian connection and there was little surprise when Bombings mark end of extreme left terrorist organiza-tion Action Directe, which has been responsible for a proliferation of bombings and assassinations in France over the past few years, mainly direct-ed against specific organ-

He was arrested with M

Bernard Blanc, who is known in which they had been

Norway

ends its paper fast

From Tony Samstag Oslo

Norway will begin to surface tomorrow from its Easter break, probably the world's longest, and almost certainly the lengthiest period that any population has to do without daily newspapers. Although a few papers distributed Easter editions on Holy Saturday, they were printed before Wednesday afternoon, when the entire in-dustry shut down. It reopens tomorrow morning.

Disgruntlement at the enforced abstinence is almost as traditional at this time of year as the Easter eggs or the first

However, this particular

Easter custom may be on its way out, with an equally unpopular ban on Sunday newspapers which has persisted since 1919.

That was the year when (in the words of Dagbladet, in its Easter edition) a "sanctimonious alliance" of clerics and newsagents promulgated what was, for its day, an enlightened piece of labour legislation guaranteeing print workers at least one day off each week.

changed, but print workers cling to the tradition. The parallels with Britain are clear, and the newspaper in-dustry does not hesitate to draw them, pointing to the achievements of Mr Eddie Shah and Mr Rupert Murdoch at the expense of the Norway, too, has its would-be press baron who is trying to force a breakthrough. Mr

Hroar Hansen, a right-wing electronics tycoon, has attempted to launch a Sunday newspaper with non-union print unions.

The law has since been daffodils of the season.

Corsican rebel truce

From Susan McDonald, Paris

I nurteen bombs exploded in arrested M André Olivie izations.

the South of France between alleged to be a founder of the carnest since the return to to police. According to Le power of a right-wing Government in France. Bombs had exploded the previous week in and guns were found in the car

Sergei Antonov of Bulgari- the prosecutor asked for the an Airlines, who was arrested the acquittal of the Bulgarians. three and a half years ago and More unexpected was the More unexpected was the was the only Bulgarian defendant present at the trial, is not allowed to return to Sofia immediately. The Italian authorities wish first to ensure that the Grey Wolves organization.

> The anti-Bulgarian accusations were brought by Ali Agea
> - the Turk serving a life sentence for shooting the Pope

Druzes await day of liberation on the Hill of Shouts

لماكدًا من للمل

From Ian Murray, Majdel Chams, Golan Heights

Israeli rule. But he is deeply angry at being cut off from his family, and furious at what he

The youngsters who should be going to university suffer most, he said. They are not allowed to make the 30-mile to Damascus; they cannot would have to become Israclis country.

Mr Assad insisted that this was something the children, who have all been born since would remain Syrian and would be ready to cheer the Syrian tanks he feels sure will come one day to liberate the

SYRIA

villages.

Maidel Chams : 八二;○

theschools.

The Hill of Shouts is silent now. A coil of barbed wire stretches across the lane that demonstration has been a winds through the terraced hard blow. "Now we have no apple orchard towards the way at all of keeping in touch with our families." Mr Abdul white UN positions by the with our families." Mr Al ceasefire line at the edge of the Walid Assad complained.

willage.

With his large house and ample figure, Mr Assad does named it the Hill of Shouts.

The local Druze villagers al physically suffered much from ways call it the Hill of Tears. Since this remote area of the slopes of snow-capped information were captured from Syria in 1967, it has been the wash children into forgetting their Syrian nationality by Hehrew into could pass messages back and forth to their Druze relatives on the other side of the line. For nearly 19 years contact between the two communities was maintained exclusively with the help of megaphones. journey over the ceasefire line Personal family news was shouted across the no-man's afford the fees to go to and in the valley from one universities abroad: and they hillside to the other. Brothers and sisters would go there to to qualify for identity papers that would let them leave the wave at each other, to pass on news of hirths, deaths and

High on the hill behind, an Israeli watchtower monitored the shouts. Sometimes the Israel took over the area, messages would be censored would never do. He said they by a wailing siren in the tower. But at the end of last month Mr Shimon Peres, the Israeli

Prime Minister, paid what proved to be a very unwelcome visit to the village. His popularity may be exceptionally high among Israelis, but it does not extend to the three Druze villages on the Golan Heighis.

A spontaneous and violent demonstration followed, and Mr Peres beat a hasty and undignified retreat. Since then more than 60 arrests have been made, il of them last weekend.

The villagers say they are used to Israeli prisons, and many of the men boast of the years spent inside for their protests about the occupation.

Madrid - On the eve of the Basque national day, ETA's military wing freed Senor José Egana, a San Sebastian industrialist, aged 61, after 19 days in captivity and payment of a hig ransom (Richard Wigg writes).

According to local newspa-Sofia involvement, page 12 pers, the family arranged for payment of about £1.5 million the armed separatist organization.

JORDAN

Señor Egana was dumped on Saturday night near a restaurant a few miles outside San Sebastian and left with his hands tied round a tree trunk. He managed to free himself.

The industrialist was said yesterday by doctors to be in good condition

Radicals? claim Japanese attacks

Tokyo - The Chukaku-l or Middle Core, faction of le wing radicals has claim responsibility for last weel rocket attacks on importa targets in Tokyo and Osa (David Watts writes).

The Middle Core is t most effective of the left wi-Japanese factions and par lyzed commuter railway lin in Tokyo last year in spectac lar synchonized attacks whire put out of action most Tokyo's commuter lines.

Poison found in chocolate

Tokyo (AFP) - Police have found a chocolate bar lace with toxic agricultural chem cals on the shelves of a Toky supermarket while searchir for tampered sweets after group calling itself Show Gizoku threatened to poiso products of a leading Japanes confectioner.

Berlin blast

Berlin (AFP) - Seven Arab of different nationalities wer injured when a bomh rippe through the first floor office of a German-Arah friendshi society in a West Berli residential huilding overnight

Snow deaths

Valemount, British Columbia (AP) — An avalanch dumped up to 30ft of snow or a snowmohile party in the Canadian Rockies, killing two. Two more are missing and two others were dug ou

Fatal flight

Wiesbaden (AP) - A Wes' German medical transport he licopter taking a critically il patient to hospital crashed ir woods and exploded, killing all four people on board.

Disco brawl

Bonn - A gang of German skinheads attacked more than 1,000 revellers at an all-night disco party in the village of Kaunitz, firing tear gas and injuring four people.

Caine escape

Rouen (AFP) - The British actor, Michael Caine, escaped unhurt when his car was in collision with another bere, but bis sister Mary was slightly

e i

Scania have never been lempted to compete on

Trying to equal some of Ioday's truck prices would mean sacrificing too many of our principles and too much of your cost-efficiency Instead of investing over 7% of sales turnover in research and development, we might have to cut hard-won reputation for absolute reliability and for fuel economy. Instead of manufacturing our own engines. gearboxes, axles and cabs, we might have to make do with bolling logether bits and pieces made by someone less dedicated to precision.

a few corners. Which could mean risking our

And instead of maintaining 24-hour international Lileline cover, we'd be lorced to Irim our support services to more ordinary levels. True, wed be able to offer you a cheaper truck Bul

If would probably cost you more to run. It certainly wouldn't last as long. And when the time comes to selt the return on your initial investment wouldn't be so healthy Scania promise you years of low-cost operation. And that more than equals a short-term saving in the bargain basement.

Scania. Building trucks, building reputations.

Shultz fails to bridge gap with Italy on Libya policy

Mr George Shultz, the US Secretary of State, flew home yesterday after a three-day visit to Rome during which be failed to bridge differences with the Italian Government over policy towards Libya.

Opinions varied on the right tactics for dealing with the Libyan leader. Colonel Gadaffi, he told a press

"What's wrong with Gadaff?" he asked rhetorically. "You don't need to be Sherlock Holmes" to see that Gadaffi mined the Red Sea. harboured and trained terrorists, claimed international waters and air space and opened fire on others in them, op-posed the peace process in the Middle East, and supported ggression in Africa.

"He is his own smoking gun," Mr Shultz said. But be stressed that there was coinplete Italian agreement on other aspects of the recent Gulf of Sirte clash, notably on recognition of the 12-mile limit for international waters, on the inadmissability of firing on ships in international waters, and on the right of self-

ated to Mr Shultz successively by President Cossiga, Signor Bettino Craxi, the Prime Minister, and Signor Giulio Andreotti, the Foreign

Italy feels that the assertion of the right of navigation in international waters near another country by repeated naval exercises is highly risky, and that disputes over inter settled by arbitration. While in Rome Mr Shultz met the Egyptian Fnreign Minister, Mr Ahmed Meguid, and had a private audience

• MADRID: Spain has "reminded" Colonel Gadaffi that no American bases here were used by US naval forces during last week's clash in the Gulf of Sirte area (Richard

Señor Francisco Fernández Ordonez, the Foreign Minis-ter, emphasized this point when rejecting the Libyan leader's threat in Spain that the bases on its territory could become the next target if such large vessels have been con-firmed hit in the Gulf so far

The sources said the Stelios which was later reported pro-

over 40 for all of 1985.

manian-registered tanker was set ablaze in an Iranian air strike in the Galf was a lead attack about 176,053-ton Hawaii, was hit in strike in the Gulf yesterday, the third victim of the war between Iran and Iraq within two days, shipping sources launched from an Iranian belicopter smashed into the ton Stelios about 70 miles east of Qatar, near an area where the Norwegian tanker Berge King was hit on Saturday.

Jewish critics accused by Waldheim's wife also on Saturday. A total of 28 revenge nn her husband because of his support for an independent Palestine while UN Secretary-General. sent out a distress call and salvage tugs were on their way. They said there were no casualties on board the ship,

"The World Jewish Congress ... is not what it appears to be at the moment: Waldbeim's deadly enemy," Frau Elisabeth Waldheim ceeding under its own power.

Vicona (AP) — Dr Kurt said. "But within this organi-waldheim's wife accused some leaders of the World lewish Congress of seeking husband's view of the Pales zation there are people whn have not forgotten my husband's view of the Pales-

The Kronenzeitung newspa-per, which carried the inter-view with Frau Waldheim, criticized the WJC secretaryeneral, Mr Israel Singer, in a leading article forced to break trying to test ban

By Nicholas Ashford Diplomatic Correspondent

In spite of the offer by the Soviet leader, Mr Gorbachov, to extend his country's eightmonth unilateral nuclear test ban. Western analysts said resterday that Moscow will have to resume testing soon if it is not to fall behind in the arms race with the United Gorbachny's latest offer should be seen mainly as a to exploit the fact that the US part of President Reagan's defence modernization programme during the Soviet Union's self-imposed lace the blame firmly on the US when it starts testing nuclear weapons being devel-oped by the Soviet Union which will have to be tested One of the main additions t the Soviet nuclear arsenal still due for testing is the SSNX23 submarine-launched missile, which will be carried on Delta 111 sabmarines. They will be larger and carry more war-heads — probably between seven and 10 per missile — than their predecessors.

The Soviet Union's modern ization programme for its short-range SS21 and SS23 missiles will also need testing, as will its plan to develop a follow-on missile to the triple-warheaded SS20s, now almost warheaded SSZUS, now almost 10 years old.

Moscow is believed to have carried out most of the tests needed for the development of its two big land-based intercontinental ballistic missiles the SSX24 and the SSX25 — before Mr Gorbachov an-nounced his unilateral freeze on nuclear testing in August. There was a busy test schedule before Mr Gorbachov's mainly for propaganda purparticularly as Moscow was well aware that the US still with its MX and Midgetman laser weapons to be used in President Rengan's Strategic Defence Initiative.

"They have been deter-and her fiance with a flat in the almost certainly would not have been testing during the claimed moratorium." ter a large amount of money.

Moscow | Svetlana may be return

From Christopher Walker Moscow

After talks here between Svetlana Alliluyeva, Stalin's daughter, and officials at the US Embassy, there is specula-tion that she and her 14-yearnid daughter Olga may be seeking to go back to the West. A senior US Embassy official confirmed to The Times yesterday that the discussions with the mother and daughter had taken place but refused to be drawn on the subject. number of private reports that both Stalin's daughter and granddaughter, who was born in the US, had been growing increasingly dissatisfied with their life in the USSR.

Both have been living in Georgia, the southern state where Stalin himself was born and where his name is still

Although no official information is available the friends have spoken about depression and discontent about the treatment given by the Soviet authorities in the Georgian town of Tbilisi.

The US Embassy official said that Olga, the daughter of Svetlana's unsuccessful third marriage to an American ar-chitect, Mr William Peters, and Svetlana herself were still regarded by the US authorities as American citizens. This was despite Svetlana's spectacular return here in November 1984 when she told a news conference for carefully-selected Western reporters that she had not known "a single day of freedom in the West".

Martina's sister goes into hiding

From Our Correspondent

Miss Jana Navratilova, the 23-year-old younger sister of tennis champion Martina Navratilova, was believed to be in hiding in Bonn yesterday after defecting from Czecho-slovakia with her fiance.

She is reported to have asked for political asylum in West Germany, but also to have applied to the US Embassy for a visa to join her sister in America as soon as possible. Miss Navratilova, who bears a striking resemblance to 29-year-old Martina and also plays tennis, is said to have been training secretly at a Bonn tennis club. reported to have provided her city centre, but attempts to find her yesterday unsuccessful. It is reported that Martina Navratilova had sent her sis-

Japanese experts tour secret US laboratories

Japanese engineers begin an the Defence Agency, the Sciextraordinary tour of secret ence and Technology Agency, US government laboratories and the Ministry of Foreign today as their country decides Affairs. if it will take part in the Strategic Defence Initiative. firms in the Japanese mission The engineers represent most of the leading Japanese firms, in spite of profound will split into three groups for its 11-day tour - one each for misgivings among ordinary lapanese about a possible role in the Star Wars missile "It's a precinus opportunity to look around in the US, especially to visit the national laboraturies. That's something they couldn't do themselves. said an official of the Ministry of International Trade and Industry, which is represented the three areas of SDI technology. The number of Japanese firms showing enthusiasm for SDI has surprised some Japanese government officials, in view of the programme's negative image, and the main driving force appears to be from engineers whn believe that no Japanese firm can afford not to look into the opportunities SDI might give. The Japanese Government has stressed to interested firms that there are no guarantees of contracts or profits in the long tee that the Japanese Government will agree to join. That depends on a report from the mission to Mr Yasuhiro Nakasone, the Prime Minister. After receiving the report, Mr Nakasone is to visit the US, but there is no indication of when he will announce what is increasingly seen as a Yasuhiro Nakasone: decision in favour of

The 46 experts from 21

Russians cancel top chess match in US

New York (AP) — A chess match featuring leading play-ers from the Soviet Union and the United States has been absuptly cancelled by the Russians, the US Chess Federa-

World champion Gary Kasparov and former champi on Anatoly Karpov were on the Soviet side due to play at Atlantic City in June. The Soviet Union last sent a delegation of its leading players to the US more than .30

Mr Gerard Dullea, executive director of the US Chess Federation, said he had received a telex on Thursday from the Soviet Chess Federation saying they would not be able to take part because of "radical changes" in the 1986 calendar of FIDE, the world

rematch between Kasparov and Karpov, to start in London on July 28, and other matches before the world champion ship were too closely

For the latest in space technology you'd better look down below.

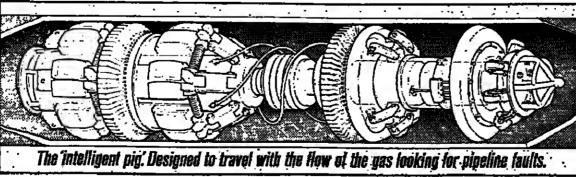

Below ground level there are thousands of miles of arterial gas pipeline. How to check them for safety and efficiency stretched some of the brightest minds we employ at British Gas.

Our scientists spent three years and millions of pounds solving the problem. Space was a major constraint. Some of the pipelines that need regular inspection are just 300mm in diameter.

But when you think big you can achieve small miracles. The 'intelligent pig' they 🔀 designed is a marvel of microcircuitry.

As it 'feels' its way down the pipes, the pig's computers will detect trouble before it can become a problem. When you consider their inventiveness beneath your feet, we hope you'll look up to the boffins at British Gas. British Gas

ENERGY IS OUR BUSINESS

Museveni

forces

wind up

campaign From Charles Harrison Nairobi

The National Resistance Army of President Museveni has taken the towns of Arua and Moyo in oorth-west Uganda, virtually ending the campaign which began when it captured Kampala at the end of January. The West Nile district, separated from the rest of Uganda

Blacks opt for schools takeover in place of boycott strategy teachers decided here at the weekend against resuming a boycott of black schools as a means of protesting against apartheid when the next term bearing on Westersday.

instead, the conference resolved to develop "new and creative" techniques of opposition, involving taking con-trol of schools, using them as a base for political organization, and introducing a liberation-"people's educa-

"We are going to run the schools, we are going to organize the syllabuses," Mr Lechesa Tsenoli, one of the conference organizers, said.
"It is no longer a question of "It is no longer a question of petitioning the Government. We are going to become actively involved in formulating an alternative education."

The conference, attended by 1,500 delegates, called on blacks to observe a "national stayaway from work" oo June 16, 17 and 18 to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the 1976 uprising of Soweto schoolchildren. In addition, it urged rent, consumer, and

In an important switch of tactics, a crucial conference of black parents, students and tachers decided here at the markend against resuming a series of Durban to an outlying Indian suburb after Zulus sermed with guns, spears, pet-The venue of the conference bique. The ANC operates in alliance with the party. armed with guns, spears, pei-rol bombs and stones attacked organizers as they registered delegates on Saturday.

The attackers, believed to be members of the conserva-tive Inkatha organization of Chief Gatsha Buthelezi, the Chief Minister of the KwaZuhi tribal "homeland", came off worst, however. One was shot dead and another set

The main force behind the committee which organized the conference is the United Democratic Front, which shares the vaguely socialist political aims of the outlawed African National Congress The UDF and Inkatha, which was denounced in a resolution passed at the conference, have moved increasingly into a state of open war.

Before the opening of the conference, delegates stood with raised fists and observed a minute of silence in memory of Mr Moses Mabhida, the leader of the banned South African Communist Party, who died recently in Mozam-

The Durban conference was follow-up to one at Witwatersrand University in Johan nesburg at the end of December, which recommended that students go back to school for the first term of the new year, hut gave the Government until the end of this month to meet certain the state of emergency, have been met, and other strictly educational demands, such as the provision of free stationery and textbooks, have been partially satisfied. But many others have not.

They include withdrawal of troops and police from town-ships, release of detained students and teachers, and removal of the ban on the main black student organization, the Congress of South African Students. Police death: A black detective was found hacked to death yesterday at a holiday resort oear Durban, but police believe the death is unconnected with political violence

(Reuter reports).

Machel gives three aides wide powers

powers to three of his closest advisers in an attempt to run his battered country and its politburo.
anti-rebel war effort more The more efficiently,

A top-level government shake-up, announced little more than 24 hours before Presideot Machel set off for Moscow on a surprise visit, may be only the start of a series of leadership changes, ruling Frelimo Party sources said.

dent Samora Machel of Mo-zambique has given sweeping ministries into three sections under the supreme authority of three members of the Frelimo

The most significant change was the recall of army General Alberto Chipande, a folk hero, to the capital to take charge of the war against rebels which Mozambique says are backed by South Africa.

The reshuffle also clearly sought to tackle Mozambique's worsening economic situation,

Mr Marcelino dos Santos, once Vice-President of Frelimo and a prominent Marxist theoretician, has been moved to the sidelines and his job as party secretary for economic policy effectively split in two.He becomes secretary of the permanent commission of the People's Assembly, an administrative position

The new party economic and Sport come under the supervision of Mr Jorge Rebelo, the party chief in with little power.

by the Albert Nile, was liberated at the weekend in a two-pronged advance, with one NRA group moving north to Arua from the road-rail bridge at Pakwach, north of Lake Albert, and the other crossing hy ferry at Laropi, close to the Sudan border, and advancing пп Моуо. Despite its cautious advance, the NRA met no significant resistance. Both supremos are Mr Mario ning Minister but assigned to govern Zambezia province in 1983, and Mr Armando

Guebuza, who had been languishing as minister without portfolio in the President's tries of Education, Health,

Justice, Information, Culture

towns were deserted and had been thoroughly looted.

Troops of the former ruling

Military Council, who had been massed in the West Nile area, appear to have fled to Zaire or Sudan or to have gone to ground in their home villages, often abandoning their weapons as they fled. The former head of state, General Tito Okello, the former army commander, Gen-eral Basilio Okello, and other leaders of the ousted regime, are in Sudan.

Lesotho's rocky path

Scholar king finds politics a problem

On January 20, Chief Leabua Jonathan, who had ruled Lesotho since independence from Britain in 1966, was peacefully removed from power. Michael Horssby, in the first of two articles, reports from Maseru on the new coalition of militarists and royalists running the

There was dancing in the streets of Masern, Lesotho's Chief Jonathan's fall. After unpopular, despite attempts at home) to boost his stature by cocking a snook at his giant neighbour, South Africa.

Major-General Lekhanya: Authority unclear.

There had been no elections since 1970, which Chief Jonathan cancelled when the vote count showed be was losing. and the armed Youth League of his Basotho National Party was out of control. A mutiny by a small faction within the Army sympathetic to the League precipitated the coup. The new rulers have certainly restored a measure of calm. "It was common to hear gualire at night in Masera." said one Western diplomat. "Now you don't. Generally people are much more relaxed and spend less time looking over their shoulders." There is little sign, however, of an early return to civilian rule. An announcement last Thursday by King Moshoeshoe bans all political activity and provides for a jail sentence of up to two years for anyone violating the order. After the coup, executive and legislative authority was vested in the 47-year-old King, n scholarly man educated at Ampleforth College (like many of his subjects, he is a Roman Catholic) and Oxford, who played no political role under the previous government.

The exact relationship between the King and Major-General Justin Lekhanya, also aged 47, the Army commander who led the coup, is not entirely clear. The Army chief chairs both a six-man Military Council and a subordinate Council of Ministers appointed by the King. The King, however, presides each week over an informal joint session of the two councils and his assent to decisions seems to be more than a

King Moshoeshoe has spo ken publicly since the coup of a "new Lesotho" which aspires to make a complete break with the previous soci-ety in which, in his words, "a person's life was no longer considered to be different from that of a house fly".

Under a general amnesty proclaimed on January 31, an indisclosed number of members of the Lesotho Liberation Army (LLA), the shadowy anti-Jonathan guerrilla movement that operated mainly from South African soil, are said to have returned to Lesothe and surrendered their

The leader of the LLA, the 67-year-old Mr Ntsu Mokbehle, who went into exile (and after being cheated of power by Chief Jonathan in 1970. has yet to be lured back.

Despite the ban on political activity, representatives of four small political parties, including the King's nwn Maremation Freedom Party, were allowed to hold talks with Mr Mokhekle in a Johannesburg botel last week. On their return to Lesotho, they called ate with him.

Among his demands are said to be the restoration of the 1966 independence constitution (suspended by Chief Jon-nthan in 1970), the integration of the LLA into the 1,500-mar

King Moshoeshoe: Little experience

Army (formerly the Lesotho Para-military Force but now renamed the Royal Lesotho Defence Force) and elections These demands seem unlikely to be met. In the meantime, Chief Jonathan, aged 72, is enjoying a more or less unmolested retirement at his country seat at Leribe, in the north of the country, a kinder fate than is usually reserved for fallen African leaders. Tomorrow: Working with Pretoria over-subscribed.

Row in Pretoria over

Seven Cabinet ministers and two deputy ministers paid 102,050 rand (£33,250) for preferential allocation of 32,700 shares in Metropolitan Life, which is controlled by the Afrikaans insurance giant change at 4 rand. Mr Chris

A storm has blown up over a special allocation of shares for South African Cabinet oing, sold his 5,000 shares for South African Cabinet ministers in a huge public issue by ao insurance company, which was 30 per cent manufactured for a profit of 2,750 rand. Mr Kent Durr, Deputy Minister of Trade and Indus-tries, made a 550 rand profit oo 2,700 of his 3,000 shares. President Botha said the private financial dealings of Cabinet ministers was of no concern to him, provided they did oot entail a cooflict of interest.

If such a conflict arises it is

The shares, allocated to them at 3.15 rand, opened on the Johannesburg Stock Excharge at the duty of the individual ministers to bring this to the State President's attention,"

When you're thinking of his future, there's no time like the present.

And there's nothing quite like National Savings Deposit Bonds to give him a tidy capital sum when he is older and will appreciate it most.

Whether you're investing for your grandchild, godchild, niece, nephew or just one of your favourites, Deposit Bonds will grow with them.

Not only do Deposit Bonds offer a premium rate of interest - currently 12% p.a. - they also add that interest each year without deduction of tax. This is unlike tax-paid investments, where part of the interest is lost automatically.

Most children are non-taxpayers, so Deposit Bonds are of particular benefit to them. Because as long as they do not pay tax and the bonds are given by someone other than their parents, they keep all the interest.

This special tax advantage means Deposit Bonds are likely to grow faster than any other riskfree investment you could make for them.

So when you're thinking about their future, give them something that will grow and grow in value. An investment that will help towards a more secure tomorrow.

You can buy the bonds at post offices in multiples of $50 with a minimum purchase of $100.

Ask at your post office for a leaflet and an application form. Or make a free call on 0800 100 100 and we'll send them to you.

THE PRESENT WITH A FUTURE

A much-needed success came yesterday for the security forces in Punjab, who announced that they had captured three out of four Sikh terrorists responsible for eight random killings on Saturday.

They were taken by police and paramilitary forces at a farm house not far from where the killings took place, around the curfew-bound town of Nakodar in Jullunder district. for the An official report from Jullunder said the killers had concern over lenient treatment of Sikh extremism in Britain.

As Punjab again explodes into flames, the Indian Gov-ernment needs all the help it extremism, which it sees as funded and encouraged from particularly angry at what they see as Pakistan's role in encouraging, training and equipping the terrorists, but Britain is also widely blamed for not stamping more vehe-mently on the exiles.

Sikhs do the planning." I was told. A senior official added:

"It is of paramount impor-

"American Sikhs raise the

ney, Canadian Sikhs pro-

the muscle, but British aggy

oo ing

certain to be occupied by Hindus since religious Sikhs beards, killing three people including the barber.

In another village they killed a grocer and a cycle repair man. In the next place they fired at three people sitting by a brick kiln, killing two and fatally injuring a

A telephone caller claimed responsibility for the killings for the "Dashmesh Regiment". The name means "tenth" and refers to the tenth struck from a Jeep, which zig-zagged through villages, firing indiscriminately. They first Sikhs their soldier/saint rules

When Mr Rajiv Gandhi

visited Britain in October, Mrs Thatcher offered to extend the "terrorism" clause in ciude India. This would have the effect of removing the political defence against extradition. But India has said that this is not enough. It particularly wants remanded the "humanitarian" safeguard which could allow a Sikh to argue that he would not receive a fair trial in India

The Dashmesh Regiment used to be known as the do not trim their hair or military arm of the militant All-Iodia Sikh Students' Federation.

> A similar caller claimed responsibility for the massacre the day before in Ludhiana, where seven people, mostly from a right-wing Hindu organization, were killed while exercising in a park.

The operation against the killers involves a big search along the banks of the River Beas, long thought to be a hide-out for the rebels, who are fighting for a Sikh-dominated independent country. It is led by Mr J.F. Rebeiro, whose aim is to lift the morale and the abilities of the force, which is thought to have been widely peoetrated by

Mr Rajiv Gandhi, the Indian Prime Minister, has re-ceived reports of the Puojab situation from two close colleagues, Mr Arun Nehru, a cousin, who is minister in charge of police and internal security, and Mr Arjun Singh, vice-president of the Congress (I) party and architect of last year's Punjab accord.

The state's Chief Minister, Mr Surjit Singh Barnala, also came to Delhi on a surprise

Sudan poll bypasses rebel South

By Nicholas Ashford, Diplomatic Correspondent

Mahdi, is expected to win the biggest oumber of seats. Because of Sudan's size and widely dispersed population,

There is little chance of the war-torn southern part of the country taking part in the election in any significant way. At least two-thirds of southerners live in war zones. from which the government forces have been largely driveo by the Sudan People's Liberation Army, led by Colooel John Garang.

The absence of a significant southern vote means that the next assembly will not draw up a new constitution, as had been envisaged by the Transi-tional Military Council when it decided to hold elections have to await a genuine national election, which is only possible if the southern problem is resolved.

Aegean quake was predicted

From Mario Mediano

A powerful earthquake measuring 6.1 on the Richter scale shook the central Aegean Sea on Saturday night, and a physicist revealed that he had predicted the shock to the Greek Government four days before. Police said the tremor caused oo casualties or

Dr Panayotis Varotsos, assistant professor of physics at Athens University, who leads a team working oo earthquake prediction, went oo television sooo after the 8.35pm shock to

"We forecast the carthquake with great precision on March 25," Dr Varotsos said, showing a telegram sent on that day. He said he had immediately informed the Government and urged it not to put out a warning, as the shock would be at sea

The method devised by Dr Varotsos and two colleagues is mown as VAN, from their nitials. It intercepts ground electric signals that precede tremors and interprets them to forecast earthquakes up to a week in advance.

A new constitution will

The Athens observatory announced that the epicentre was 135 miles east-north-east of Athens, between the islands of Euboea and Chios.

with their thinner tapes sup-plant the standard half-inch VHS and Betamax formats. All the big Japanese manu-facturers have had the 8mm technology for some time, but Sony decided to jump into the market ahead of everybody else to reap early profits and lead the market away from VHS and its own Betamax.

Sony was not really ready to go when it announced it. It was basically an attempt to upstage the other manufacturers and change the rules of the battle

Sony's girls join in video

From David Watts

Tokyo

Pretty Japanese girls in space age uniforms are the front-line troops in a new contest for the world video

They are part of an aggres sive marketing campaign that

Sony is waging to try to make 8mm video the standard of

They dash up to people in the street and persuade them to try the Sooy 8mm camcorder, or camera-recorder which combines recording and playback in one unit. The campaign results play nightly io Sooy's television

The success or failure of the sales drive will most probably dictate how quickly other

Japanese manufacturers move heavily into 8mm, and whether or not they try to make the new, smaller, lighter cameras market

advertising.

game," said a foreign analyst of the electronics market. "It may be successful, but it is costly getting in too early before the market is ready. Sony's high-risk marketing push has been forced on the firm by declining sales of its Betamax cameras and decks which have been losing ground to VHS, on which all the rest of the world's manufacturers standardized.

It is trying to recover its market share in one of Japan's largest and most highly competitive exports and change video habits worldwide.

So far Soov claims to have about 50 per cent of the 8mm market in Japan. This year it will put one and a balf million camcorders into the home market. Only Canon and Sanyo have followed suit with competing 8mm cameras.

The other manufacturers are hanging back to see what the biggest of them all, Matsushita, maker of National and Panasonic, will do. Matsushita makes 8mm video cameras for Kodak in the US, but it has oot ventured into the field at home, with good reason. Kodak's sales have been slow in the US and the effect market has been to hit sales of all video cameras, as consumers wonder what to do.

The choices are to stay with the widely-accepted VHS format, with its vast choice of pre-recorded tapes for playing at home, switch to 8mm as the wave of the future, or to go for the latest entrant into the field. VHS compact.

VHS compact is a new competitor from the Japan Victor company, which uses conventional half-inch video tape but is much lighter and more compact than ordinary VHS cameras.

Rules ignored to win woman top food post

From Zoriana Pysariwsky, New York

Miss Margaret Austee, one of the most senior British officials in the United Nations Secretariat, has been tipped to become the executive director of the World Food Council, the organization's main food poli-cy arm charged with the task of eradicating world hunger. The post, which will be vacated by Mr Maurice Williams, an American, when he retires next mouth, carries the rank of Assistant Secretaryrank of Assistant Secretary-General. The Rome-hased council is a 36-nation body and the only UN organ which meets at ministerial level. Miss Anstee, aged 59, is being backed by the British Government, which has embarked on a new strategy of actively promoting British nationals for key policy-making positions within the UN.

Until now Britain has been the only country playing strict-the only country playing strict-ly by the rules of the UN Charter, which prohibits government interference in the appointment-making process. Although this policy has been widely acclaimed, it has meant in practical terms the loss for Britain of many impornt posts. British nation

the Secretariat have com-But despite the more aggres-

But despite the more aggressive British approach, Miss Austee, who is presently an Assistant Secretary-General in the UN's department of technical co-operation for development, faces formidable competition from Mr Gerald Trant, a Deputy Minister in the Canadian Agriculture De-

Miss Anstee feels that her 34 years of experience in development and her intimate knowledge of the UN system qualify her for the job. She was the first woman field officer of the technical co-operation protages, and in 1957 became the irst woman resident representative of the UN devel programme, serving in

Margaret Anstee: Deen in development all her life

ments took her to Africa, Asia and Latin America. Assa Experience gained from the food crisis in Africa has shown that the problem of world hunger cannot be dealt with only at the agricultural level. It must be approached at the developmental level as well Miss Anstee believes, "and

Miss Anstee feels that her appointment to head the council would be a big boost for women in the UN system, where they are settlom considered for solicy-making jobs in y-making jobs in because he is n Sikh. It also Khalistanis. That is the ex-Sir Geoffrey Howe, the tance that Britain he seen as Foreign Secretary, arrived here late last night at the start wants the list of extraditable offences extended. There is another view widely happening."

Indian officials are not keen Britain is considering an of n visit in which he will hear a great deal about Indian again to hear that British law Indian formulation of n prodoes not allow the police to act posed extradition treaty, and n st the extremists, who reply from British officials is have built a "government in exile" in Britain, with Presi-dent, Prime Minister and ministers. They would like to see a change in the law that will permit action.

Howe faces Indian concern on Sikhs

awaited here.
Indian parliamentarians and the Indian media do not accept the sophisticated explanations offered by British officials on why they cannot take action against extremist leaders in the UK. Indeed, Indian public coining is often Indian public opinion is often inflamed by the freedom and patronage that is given to tion in India that the United States is working towards the "Balkanization" of the country, and that Mrs Thatcher is ore pro-American than Mr Reagan". The argument goes that she is used as a "cat's paw" in encouraging the eld here that, because the Conservative Party is in trouble in the polls, the British Government is anxious to ant community, of which the Sikhs form a large proportion. A major British public rela-tions effort is needed here to change this perception.

Sir Geoffrey will today visit the funeral sites of Mahatma Gandhi and Mrs Indira Gandhi, before meeting the Presi-dent of India and the External Affairs Minister. Tomorrow he flies to Agra to see the Taj Mahal and to visit a typical country village, later calling oo the Prime Minister.

On Wednesday he will go to Bombay before flying on to Islamabad for a three-day visit

After 16 years of military the middle of April at the dictatorship and one year of transitional military-civilian rule. Sudanese voters go to the polls tomorrow to elect a new assembly, in which the Umma Party, led by Mr Sadiq al-voting will take 12 days, counting another four, and the result will not be known until

Take your pick from seven

3 and 5 door Unos, including the

69 mpg Uno 45S and a stunning

125 mph⁺⁺ turbo.

All of them adding ( outstanding

WHAT CAR? CARS OF THE YEAR AWARDS 1986

FIAT UNO 70 SL: 'BEST SMALL HATCHBACK' FIAT UNO 45: 'BEST BUDGET CAR'

ALL THE BEST SUCCESS STORIES HAVE A HAPPY ENDING. HERE'S OURS.

Voted Car of The Year 1984: called 'the ultimate supermini' by Autocar; Europe's best selling small car; What Car's 'Best Small Hatchback' in 1985; and now awarded the titles 'Best Small Hatchback' and 'Best Budget Car' by What Car? magazine.

The Fiat Uno continues to pile success on success. And there's never been a better time to share in that success, because now there's finance available at just 4.9% (9.52% APR) through your Fiat dealer on all Uno models.

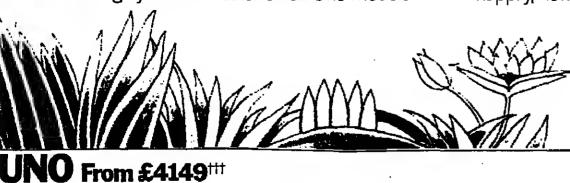

UNO FINANCE AT 9.52% APR TYPICAL EXAMPLE FIAT UNO 45 Cash price (inc. est, on the road costs)___£4.348.63 33 - minimum deposit Balance Financed, Interest at 9 52% APR 36 equal monthly instalments. _£92.37 Total credit price_

4.9% (APR 9.52%)

roadholding, comfort, refinement and reliability to superlative performance and economy. And all of them.

happily, now even more affordable.

SETTING NEW STANDARDS

Their hopes on British honour Groundless writ is abuse of process intended in govern the course of properly conducted lingation. When a defendant, having received such a writ, let sleeping dogs lie and did nothing in procure service of a statement of claim, the last vestige of life of ling the last vestige of life in the statement of claim. The proposed reamendment. On that test, did add a new cause of on that test, did add a new cause of action had been made to the statement of claim. Supreme Court need not dispose to defendant had previously been made to the statement of claim. A cause of action had been made to the statement of claim. A cause of action had been made to the statement of claim. A cause of action had been made to the statement of claim. Letang v Cooper ([1965]] OB 232, 242-3) as a factual situation in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action, as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action, as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action, as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action, as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action, as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined in Letang, v Cooper ([1965]] or action as defined i

China in the 1930s. Yet unless there is a lastminute change of heart by massports but gives no right Britain, Mr Harilela will become stateless when Hong
The 3.5

The 3.5

The 3.5

The 3.5

The 3.5

taining the nationality provisions of the 1985 Hong Kong Act will shortly be placed before Parliament which will determine their fate.

to views expressed not only by to views expressed not only by Hong Kong Indians, but also the leaders of the Chinese community, Hong Kong officials, British MPs and the British and Hong Kong press, by agreeing to grant the territory's non-ethnic Chinese full British citizenship.

"This issue is all about morality and honour," said Mr morality and honour," said Mr Hong Kong's external trade. Harilela. "I am sure that "We like Britain, many of us

However, judging from ear-lier statements by British ministers, his confidence in their request for citizenship ministers, his confidence in Britain's sense of fair play and the odds are that it will not may prove to be misplaced.— the damage caused will he far greater than making itclear it has no wish to give special treatment to a small minority in Hong Kong for Chinese who presently hold fear that it might oftend British Dependent Territory citizenship feel hetrayed by Peking and, more seriously, citizenship feel betrayed by possibly set a precedent Britain on the passport issue. whereby other citizens of for- • PEKING: China's econommer colonies could acquire ic master plan for the next five citizenship.

Mr Harilela and other nonChinese Hong Kongers are the victims of Occidental and Oriental tacial prejudices, Brifain is striving to stem the

By Nicholas Ashford, Diplomatic Correspondent

Mr Hari Harilela would be influx of brown-skinned immi-Mr Hari Harilela would be a pillar of society in whatever country he lived. Businessman, magistrate, philanthropist and a Member of the Order of the British Empire, be is one of the most prominent public figures in Hong Kong, where he has lived since his family followed the British flag from India to southern China in the 1930s.

influx of brown-skinned immigrants; China is reluctant to grant citizenship to anyone who is not ethnic Chinase. After 1997 non-Chinase citizens of Hong Kong, together with about 3.5 million Chinese out of the territory's 5.5 million inhabitants, will be able to acquire the newly-created title of British National (Overseas). This will entitle al (Overseas). This will entitle Kong's sovereignty reverts to China is 1997. So will 11,000 other non-ethnic Chinese citizens of Hong Kong, 7,600 of whom are South Asians and the rest mostly of Portuguese and Eurasian stock.

An Order in Cornell

Act will shortly be placed "British problem".

According to Mr Harilela, most non-Chinese residents of Mr Harilela hopes this will reveal that Britain has bowed settle in Britain and want only to assert the problem. to acquire British citizenship to ensure that they have a right of abode somewhere in the world if they need it.

"We want to stay here. Most of us were born in Hong Kong and have our businesses here," Mr Harilela said, pointing out that Indians controlled about 20 per cent of

If Britain does not agree to their request for citizenship —

Law Report March 31 1986

Court of Appea

Justice Lloyd and Mr Justice Caulfield
[Judgment given March 13]
To issue a writ without any present intention of serving a statement of claim and when there was no evidence or ground upon which one could reasonably be served was, even in the context of a building dispute, an abuse of the process of the court. There was no rule of law that all damage caused by breaches of the same duty by the same party under the same contract gave rise to a single cause of action which accrued when the first item of damage occurred.

The Court of Appeal so held, dismissing an appeal by the plaintiffs, Steamship Mutual Underwriting Association Ltd and Steamship Mutual Underwriting Association (Property) Ltd, from orders of Judge John Newey, QC, who, sitting as an Official Referee on October 2, 1985, had refused them leave to reamend the statement of claim in an action action to defen 1985, had refused them leave to reamend the statement of claim in an action against the defendants, Trollope & Colis (City) Ltd. Newman Levinson & Partners, Haden Young Ltd. Revall Hayward and Partners, S. Jampel & Parmers, and Richard Ellis (a firm), and had dismissed their action against the fifth-defendant for want of prosecution, under the inherent jurisdiction of the court and Order 19 rule 1 of the Rules of the Supreme Court.

Supreme Court.

Mr Michael Harvey, QC, Mr Antony Edwards-Steam for the plaintiff, Mr Nicholas Dennys
for the first defendant; Mr John L. Powell for the second defen-dant; Mr Desmond Wright, QC and Mr Martin Bowdery for the fifth defendant.

LORD JUSTICE MAY said that be could not express ap-proval of the practice of issuing a writ in wide terms so as to cover any cause of action which the plaintiff thought might reasonably arise without any intention at the time of prosecuting the action in acprosecuting the action in ac-cordance with the Rules of the Supreme Court, which were writ; no claim against the fifth cass.

It was clear from Hyrrac
Conveyers Ltd v Conveyors
International Ltd ([1983] 1
WLR 44) that a plaintiff should WLR 44) that a plaintiff should state at the outset what allegations he was making and he facts on which they were based; if be did not be ought not to be suprised if the defendants did not take steps to put an end to the inanimate litigation.

Furthermore, to issue a written when there was no evidence.

when there was no evidential basis on which a statement of claim could be founded and claim could be founded and without any intention to serve one was an abuse of the process of the court (see Greek Ciry Co Ltd v Demeriou ([1983] 2 All ER 921)).

If the fifth defendant had called for a statement of claim to be served in accordance with the

be served in accordance with the time limits in the Rules, as it would have been entitled to do, the plaintiffs would have had either to decline to do so, and risk having the action struck out, or to serve a statement of claim which they knew had no foundation. That such a dilemma would arise in those circumstances indicated that the issuing of the writ was an improper use of the process.
It should seldom be necessary to issue a protective writ to prevent a limitation defence prevent a limitation defence from accruing; even in personal injury litigation where the full extent of an injury took time in become apparent the provisions for liability and quantum to be tried separately would in many cases obviate the need to issue a writ before the evidence to establish liability was to hand.

Good justice needed to be swift justice; the limitation periods

ods were generous and any artificial extension needed to be fully justified.

The plaintiffs had argued that the claims in their proposed reamendment constituted the existence of which entitled one person to obtain from the court a remedy against another.

Contrary to the plaintiffs' submissions, Idyll Ltd v Dineman Davison & Hillman ((1971) 1 Const LI 294) did not lay down a new principle that all damage to property flowing from breaches of the same duty under the same contract by the same party enstituted only one cause of action.

same party constituted only one cause of action.

The Court of Appeal in Idyll had merely applied existing principles to the facts of that case, as the courts had done in Conquer v Boot [1928] 2 KB 336 and Brickfield Properties Ltd v Newton [[1971]] 1 WLR 862). 862). In this case it was inconceivable that, if the plaintiffs had obtained judgment on their unreamended claim and had then discovered the defects in respect of which they sought to reamend and started a second action, they would have been met with a successful plea of res

mer with a successful piez of res judicata.

The judge had been right to adopt a broad approach. It was necessary to ask in broad terms wheo on the facts the claim which it was sought to add could first have been sued upon and whether it had realistically been before the court on the unreamended pleadings.

Although the failure to plead in the statement of claim a cause of action mentioned in the endorsement on the writ did not, unless the causes of action were mutually inconsistent, constitute an abandonment of that cause of action (Lewis & Lewis v Durnford ((1907) 24 TLR 64) was probably wrongly decided), when considering whether an amendment constituted a new cause of action for the purpose of section 35 of the Limitation Act 1980 it was necessary to look at the state-ment of claim and the proposed amendment, and oot at the endorsement on the writ (wbicb according to Order 6, rule 2(1)(c) of the Rules of the

what was ahready in the statement of claim.

The proposed reamendment.

on that test, did add a new cause of action which was not based on substantially the same facts.

The action against the fifth defendant would be dismissed for want of prosecution.

The delay in formulating and prosecuting the claim against it had been inordinate and inexcusable and had prejudiced the court's ability to do justice between the parties.

LORD JUSTICE LLOYD, concurring, said that the correct approach involved the court in the sometimes difficult task of drawing a line between factual which constituted a separate one.

Drawing lines in doubtful cases was one of the things that judges were for. Conquer v Boot and Idvil clearly fell one side of the line; this case equally clearly fell the other.

fell the other. The approach for which the plaintiffs had argued would in most cases work against the interests of plaintiffs in building cases, where some damage often did not appear for some time after other damage had oc-curred; the plaintiffs' approach would in all cases deprive such persons of any right to sue for later damage once they had obtained judgment for the first.

Mr Justice Caulfield agreed. Solicitors: Richards Butler & Co; Mr M. R. Gibson: Fishburn Boxer & Co; Beale & Co

ments Ltd v Persons Unknown Mr Justice Knox refused in the Chancery Division on March 26 to issue an injunction against the Sheriff of Greater London, ordering bim forthwith to enter on land at 15 to 17 Tramway Avenue, Stratford, in order to give vacant possession

Applying for stay after case starts

Croudace Ltd v Lambeth London Borough Council Before Lord Justice May, Lord Justice Balcombe and Sir George Waller

George Waller
[Judgmen: given March 21]
The absence of a dispute between the parties at the time when one of them had started when one of them had started legal proceedings did not, when a dispute which was subject in an arbitration agreement subsequently arose in the proceedings, debar the other party from applying for a stay of the proceedings under section 4 of the Arbitration Act 1950.

The Court of Appeal so held in a reserved judgment, dismissing appeals by the defendant, Lambeth London Borough Council, from orders of Judge John Newey, QC, who, sitting as an official referee, had given judgment for the plaintiff, Croudace Ltd, under Order 14 of the Rules of the Supreme Court, for damages to be assessed, and refused the defendant's application for a stay of proceedings pursuant in section 4 of the 1950 Act. The Court of Appeal so held situations which were part of the same cause of action and those of the land and premises, by ejecting a number of gypsies and their caravans.

He had awarded the plaintiff He had awarded the plaintiff an interim payment of £100,000, on the plaintiffs claim for payment of sums due under a building contract and/or damages for breach of contract in failing to have the plaintiffs entitlement to payment assessed by an architect. ment assessed by an architect.

Mr Desmond Wright, QC and Mr Nicholas Dennys for the defendant; Mr Christopher Thomas for the plaintiff.

"at once", but merely "as soon

Sheriff's duty to evict

COMBE said that if the abs of a developed dispute betw the parties when the proceedi had been commenced had effect of excluding the appl tion of section 4, that wo encourage parties who w subject to an arbitratinn ago ment, but did not want arbitrate, to rush to court at early stage to defeat the arbit tion agreement.

That could not be right there was nothing to justify L

In deciding whether to o ercise its discretion to grain stay under section 4 arong t factors which would we against doing so were the a sence of any defence on liabili the fact that it was appropriate order an interim payment account of damages, a party seeking the stay: s Associated Bulk Carriers Lta Ko.h Shipping Inc ([1978] Lloyd's Rep 241 and El Mechanical Services Ltd Wates Construction Ltd (No. ([1978] I Lloyd's Reo 33).

There was no defence liability in this case and t judge's interim payment awa had been proper.

The defendant's conduct entitlement ascertained meriti entitled the court to infer that purpose in applying for a sta had been to cause a furth

LORD JUSTICE BAL
LORD judge had been justified i refusing the stay even thoug on an arbitration the arbitrate open up the architect's othe wise conclusive certificate which had granted the plainti an extension of time for finish ing the contractual works and t which the defendant objected. Sir George Waller delivered concurring judgment and Lor Justice May agreed.

HIS LORDSHIP beld that the sheriff's duty to evict trespassers was not as stated in Halsbury's Laws of England 4th edition, vol 17 (1976) at paragraph 501 Solicitors: Mr A.J. Georg Lambeth: Masons.

Rally bar on Kim

The leading South Korean dissident, Mr Kim Dae-jung, above right, talking to some of the 200 plainclothes police sent to bar his way yesterday as be headed for Seoul airport to attend an opposition rally any future presidential elecin Kwangju.

The rally, attended by about 100,000 people, heard politic because of a previous conviction.

Snap poll gamble by

Frem M.G.G. Pillai Kusla Lampur.

The Malaysian Prime Min-ister, Datuk Seri Mahathir Mohamed, is expected to call a snap general election next month, a year ahead of schedule.

An election had been ex-pected for the past six months, despite the crises the ruling National Front coalition has had to face in that period. The best bet here is any day between April 30 and May 3. But the general outlook is sombre enough for many to predict that the National Front will lose its two-thirds majority in Parliament, the psychological control that the Malay-led Government insists it needs to rule effectively.

A drop below that could lead to increasing pressures on Datuk Seri Mahathir's effectiveness as Prime Minister and coalition leader.

A delay, however, could be disastrous, his principal advisers say, so he has decided to go ahead and take his chances.

One killed as students in Dhaka clash

Dhaka (Reuter) — At least one person was killed and 20 wounded yesterday when rival students hurled home-made bombs at each other and hlazed away with guns in a two-hour battle at Dhaka University, officials said.

The fighting which fol-lowed clashes on other campases, was between supporters of a May 7 general election resistance to Vietnam's occuand anti-poll groups.

Far East briefing for Reagan

From Christopher Thomas Washington

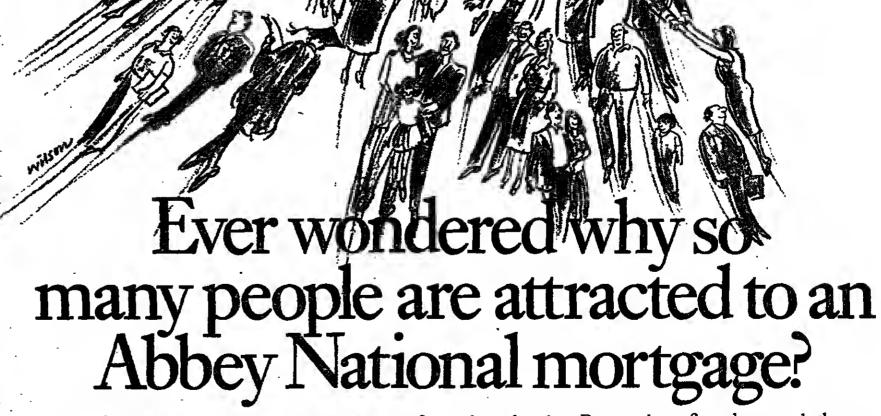

Mr Caspar Weinberger, the US Defence Secretary, embarks on a two-week tour of the Far East today, including three days in the Philippines in which he will underline the Reagan Administration's de-light at the way events have anfolded since the exile of Mr Morrors. Marcos

He will discuss the reorganization of the Philippine military with President Aquino and its ability to handle the Communist insurnanque the Communist insur-gency. The Administration has asked Congress for $100 million assistance for the Fili-pino military in the financial year from October 1.

Mr Weinberger begins his tour in South Korea, and will also visit Japan, Thailand, and Australia. In Seoul he is expected to discuss the contin-ned North Korean build-up, and to assess the growing domestic opposition to the South Korean Government.

The growth of Soviet naval power in the Pacific will dominate his talks in Australia together with the political implications of New Zealand's continued opposition to port visits by nuclear-carrying American warships.

In Japan, which Mr Reagan is visiting in May for the seven-nation Tokyo economic sninmit, he will review Soviet activities in the Pacific and bilateral defence co-operation. In Thailand, a close ally which receives US military supplies, he will be briefed on the non-Communist Khmer

Could it be because there's now a lower rate of interest for all new mortgages, regardless of how much is borrowed?

Or is it simply because our local managers are able to make lending decisions instantly?

Then again, perhaps it's the bridging loan facility for existing Abbey National borrowers that brings people to our door.

Or it could even be the benefits of being a member of the Abbey National Property Service that's proving to be so attractive. Like the 10% off our Property Service estate agent's fees. And the guarantee of a new mortgage for those selling and the person buying their home.

Or maybe it's that people find our Mortgage Certificate so useful when it comes to househunting. Because it confirms how much they can borrow and means an offer will be taken seriously. Providing a real advantage over other potential buyers.

Perhaps the reason is simply because we can recommend some excellent insurance schemes to help repay a mortgage.

Or that within days of a mortgage application the survey will be carried out and the written offer issued. When you add it all up you'll soon see why an Abbey

Abber

National mortgage is such an attractive proposition. So if you haven't got one, why not make things easier for yourself and call in to your local

Abbey National branch? the 1

NOBODY MAKES HOME BUYING EASIER. Full written details of the Society's mortgage facilities are available from: ABBEY NATIONAL BUILDING SOCIETY, ABBEY HOUSE, BAKER STREET, LONDON NW1 6XL. Property Service is not available in Scotland with Everybody knows that society is getting more and more violent — or is it? In the first of a three-part series, Alan Franks looks back to the 'good old days' and finds large-scale riots and vicious street attacks

Statistics, proverbially the damnedest liar known to man, are invoked whenever we wish - as the British oever tire of doing - to compare the present in an unfavourable light with the past. And each time society takes recourse to oostalgia, or seeks revenge over the corpse of some golden age lately assassinated, it is violence which, more than any other culprit, lands in the dock. Io 1986 the courts of social morality find themselves in almost permagent session, but hardly for the first time.

The comparative figures oo Man's inhumanity to two of its most defenceless fellows - the ehild and the domestic animal make for an incriminating read. lo both categories, abuse, whether through individual aggressioo or its collective equivalent, neglect, has risen startlingly in the past few

Individual acts of violence have almost doubled in 10 years

Already we stub our toe oo the first paradox; for were it not for the very existence (and heightened vigilance) of the monitoring agencies, the statistics which are the result of their work could hardly be so damoing. In other words, what appears to be a proof of callousness is at the same time a token of compassioo.

Last year the Home Office published a 200-page volume of data on crime. It reveals, among other things, that iodividual acts violence rose from 130 per 100,000 members of the population in 1974 to nearly twice that figure 10 years later, that burglary doubled, rohbery trehled, criminal damage soared sevenfold, with only fraud and sexual offences showing a negligible movement,

But again, do the figures mean simply that matters are getting worse, or that the police supposedly not only the scourge but also the exposers of violence and its related ills - are getting

We then come to one of the most challengiog pieces of Home Office evidence - a regional hreakdown of crime in 1984, with the prosperous south-east, Lon-don excepted, emerging relatively guiltless while a black belt of felony encompasses the country's via Greater Manchester and West Yorkshire, to Humberside. With South Wales, the West Midlands and Cleveland dotted as accomplices on the map, the spectre of unemployment as the true culprit raises its unlovely bead.

As far as violence itself is coocerned, the Home Office fig-ures tell us that the average annual percentage change during those 10 vears has been:

Violence against the person: up Homicide: up by 0.3;

Wounding, or other act endan-gering life: up by 2.2. For the popular press of 1986, violence remains a lurid if legitimate preoccupation. On March 11, five days after the alleged rape of the Ealing vicar's daughter, the Daily Mirror was itemizing 14 comparable incidents said to have occurred io the ensuing 96 hours, ranging from the assault of a 17year-old girl in a Covent Garden hus station to the rape of a 78-

year-old widow living alooe io London's Notting Hill. Taken together with the horrifie muggings io our inner city areas, the excesses of Britain's soccer hooligans at home and abroad, oot to mentioo the episodes oo picket lines, it is easy to form the impression that violence, both of a public and private nature, has plumbed new depths.

Unfortunately, it is not quite that simple. For example, what would we oow make of an affair like the Gordon Riots of the late 18th century which, as ao expression of civil revolt against the fear of Catholie emancipation, claimed several hundred lives oo the streets of London? Or the epidemic of "garrotting" nearly one century later? This Victorian forbear of mugging was a form of violent robbery which was for the most part practised by gangs of three - a "front-stall" and "backstall" acting as look-outs on either side of a "nasty man" whose function was most graphically described in Volume Seven of the Cornhill Magazine of 1863:

"The third ruffian, coming swiftly up, flings his right arm around the victim, striking him smartly on the forehead, lustinetively he throws his head back, and in that movement loses every chance of escape. His throat is fully offered to his assailant, who instantly embraces it with his left arm, the bone just above the wrist being pressed against the "apple" of the throat. At the same time the garrotter, dropping his right hand, seizes the other's left wrist; and thus supplied with a powerful lever, draws his back upon his breast and there bolds him. The "nasty man's" part is done. His burden is helpless from the first moment, and speedily becomes insensible; all he has now to do is to be a little merciful."

The correspondent who wrote that claimed to have visited an experienced practitioner in his prison ceil, and to have offered himself as an experimental sacrifice. Garrotting, he concluded, was the most inclement ruffianism that ever disgraced the 19th ceotury." The Times meanwhile felt the

The sad evidence: acts of violence against children and animals have risen in a startling way impulse to attribute such deeds to the influx of a foreign strand of criminal immorality. Gooe, it seemed, was the semblance of good manners, bowever duplicitous, of English highway robbery: "Without the old challenge and parley in use among highwaymen, your garrotter knocks a man's head against the kerbstone as the best way of getting at his pocket . . . our streets are actually not as safe as they were in the days of our grandfathers. We have slipped back to a state of affairs which would be intolerable even

The fair challenge of the good supplanted hy a barrage of bouncers. What The Times omitted to notice was that those grandpaternal days were characterized by street disorder on a considerable scale io the aftermatb of the Napoleooic Wars, which gave birth to the original "Sus" laws.

Every time violence mugs its way onto the social or political agenda some form of atavism seems to permente the responses of the outraged; bence in 1974 Sir Keith Joseph's declaration that for the first time since the great Tory reformer Sir Robert Peel set up the Metropolitan Police Force, areas of our cities are becoming unsafe for peaceful citizens hy night, and some even by day . . . Rome itself fell, destroyed from inside. Are we to be destroyed too, a country which successfully repelled and de-stroyed Philip of Spain, Napoleon, the Kaiser, Hitler?" Five years later Philip Knight-ley, president of the Association of Chief Police Officers, was saying "The mindless violence, the personal attacks and injury, and above all the use of violence in all its forms to further political creeds are relatively new to the streets of this country. Two years earlier Kenneth Oxford, chief constable of Mersey-side, had prophesied: "What we are experiencing is not a passing phenomenon but a continuing process of change in our way of life ... our customary ways of behaving and our traditional valoes are being radically modified."

A chief constable described crime as a growth industry

The job of the police force, claimed Sir Robert Mark in his book In the Office of Constable (1978), required not only as much physical courage and dedication as policing parts of Victorian London had done, but a great deal more moral courage than had been needed by the police at any time since Peel. And in that same year - albeit in the Daily Telegraph -James Anderton, chief constable of Greater Manchester, was bemoaning "the rot that has now taken a firm hold in the fabric of our society," and describing crime in general as Britain's main growth industry. One of the definitive studies of the history of violence in Britain is Hooligan, the work of Dr Geoffrey gy at Middlesex Polytechnic. This is what he has to say about the received notion of a tranquil tradition in our society:

THE VICTIMS WHO CAN'T FIGHT BACK instances of cruelty to animals Estimated incidents involving physical abuse of children under 15 (England and Wales) Complaints investigated

6,816

"The view of Britain's history as founded on stability and decency is deeply ingrained in the self-understanding of the British peo-ple. The present, we need hardly be told, is extremely tense. But the past, say the accumulated tradi-tions of our national culture, was a "golden age" of order and securi-ty. Nowadays we need the iron fist of policing in order that we might sleep soundly in our beds. Whereas formerly we did not, and our love of tolerant freedom was spootaneous, unregimented and

"The extremity of these awful judgments against the moral deterioration of the British people, and the enormous vision of chaos and disorder which they conjure np, suggest the need for a cautiou organization of our thought and feeling as we approach these matters. Clearly there is an impressive consistency in this line of thinking - both in terms of the belief of a pre-existing era of tranquility, and in the agreement that the natural moderacy of the British way of life has been eclipsed in the hooligan deluge,

"However, when we come to more detailed considerations such as where this 'golden age' is to be located in real historical time - then we are confronted with such a disorderly jumble of date-marks and vague historical allusion as to allow for wide margins of disagreement even among dedicated 'law-and-order' enthusiasts. Indeed, at the centre of the preoccupation with declining standards and mounting disorder, there is an immense historical

'black hole'." In the second and third part of this series we visit one of Britain's most troubled yet least known inner city areas - Chapeltown in Leeds - and two neighbourhoods in which vigilante patrols are taking the law into their own possible to conclude that violence in Britain today is a phenomenon unrelated to youth unemployment and racial tension. To insist that it is something set apart, moving with its own dynamic force through a once upstanding social field, is merely a 1986 version of the self-distancing approach.

There is even evidence to aggest that the police are tacitly, if unwillingly, abetting the shortterm increase in crimes of personal violence by adopting a laisse= faire approach in the sensitive quarters of our cities.

If we are more violent than "before", we are so only in the sense that we have always perceived that to be the case throughout our history. We have a long precedent of consistency in our self-reproach.

In the view of Dr George Gaskell, lecturer in social psychology at the London School of Economics, pessimism is prema-ture: "My guess is that over the past 10 years the underlying trend has has been an increase in violence, but producing unequivocal evidence to support such an assertion is rather

Academics say that in the long-term crime rates are down

"Almost certainly there is an increase in the actual fear of crime; by which I mean that people have anxieties about being the victim of violent crime, and that these are disproportionate to the likelihood of their actually being a victim. And that, curiously enough, may in itself provide conditions in which criminals flourish."

"If you just go by statistics, it is easy to be misled. For example, when the Criminal Justice Bill came in 20 years ago there was obviously a sudden increase in the number of community service sentences, and hence an apparent rise in criminal figures.

"I don't think it is really very helpful for someone to state that there is more violence in 1986 than there was in, say the 1850s. In those days society itself probably tolerated a higher level of violence... I would say that in the long-term historical perspective violence is following a downward trend. It may not be us to accept that, for the reason that all downward trends are apt to be punctuated by upward bumps, and we are standing on one of those oow."

Part Two: Street life in the city where crime can run riot

The games's fair in Country Life

The Game Fart, one of the highlights of the year, is covered in depth in our special number. Book space now. Reptialuction is always superh. And it is the ideal medium for reaching the top cross-section is opinion-formers. Get alread of the game... with Country Life.

Country Life.

Country Life. 01-261 5401.

Tomorrow

cobra-eyes finds himself in Cognac country for a feast of How old

thrillers

THE ACTION BANK - THE ACTION BANK - THE ACTION BANK - THE ACTION BANK - THE ACTION BANK

in any field Silvio Berlusconi an have few European rivals. Undisputed master of commercial television io Italy, and now established in France with Spain to come, he is the self-styled missionary to the rest of Europe of the virtues of the private television station. His missioo is to make straight the way for commer-cial companies by first removing the fear that private television can be used for ideological aims and by pointing out the tonic effect he believes it has on a country's economy and quality of life. With his European empire taking shape. Berluscooi is now providing the doctrine behiod it which until now has been lacking. He has been seen in France, as well as amongst Italian intellectuals, as a busieven packages women as if they are hamburgers", Fellini Yet his victory in Italy is, in commercial terms, complete. Until 1976 The State Broadcasting Corporation had a national monopoly. When a court ruled that private television stations might operate locally, Italy sooo found itself with not one television company, but something approaching 3,000, with people setting up private transmitting studios in their gardens.

It was from this lawless jungle that Berlusconi emerged. There are now three principal commercial television stations in Italy, Canale 5. Italia I and Rete 4. He owns them all. What he still lacks is legislation allowing him to work on any more than a local basis. All his programmes have to be recorded and the tapes distributed throughout the country and broadcast more or less simultaneously to get around the court's ruling. This means, among other things, that be cannot offer

Italian TV mogul

Silvio Berlusconi preaches the value of come) for satellite transmission oo a European scale heralds his latest expansion. All that marred the launch was that Robert Maxwell, his British partner, announced the agreement a day in advance and so spoiled the effect of Berlusconi's own press will be chairman of the consortium for a year; Berlusconi is permanent managing-director - "the one who will do the work", he says. But he thrives on work. He mentions casually that it has been two nights now that he has had no time to sleep, and that after news of the consortium he had 98 requests for interviews. At 49 he is neat, well-preserved and affable, with a ready smile that conceals considerable tension. His home is the magnificent Villa St Martino at Acore some half hour's drive from Milan. He bought it from the heirs of the Marchese Casati who might

صكذاحن الأصل

With missionary zeal well have been the subject of a ing the taste of the public, the large if we could create a warreness of the poblic. In television which went beyond ted suicide after shooting his wife and her lover.

Pop television and la dolce vita

Berlusconi can be extremely difficult to work with, and has lost valuable associates as his empire has broadened. But

He set up his first company at the age of 25 and was a building millionaire before he thought of turning to television. His assets are oow valued at 6,000 billioo lire (a bit on the high side he says). His Fininvest group has three divisions apart from televi-sion construction publishing, and insurance and finance.

His interest in television grew out of his building activities. He was responsible for "Milano 2", a model town of 10,000 inhabitants on the outskirts of Milan where he has his offices. As one of the services to the inhabitants be offered an internal closed circuit television service. He sees commercial television not only as the rival of public broadcasting but also as its antidote. When my French friends ask me why everything is beautiful in my style of television, I tell them to look at public television which must necessarily present the realities of life. In the news bulletins everything that is most tragic and dramatic is oewsworthy and so we have a condensation of all the unpleasant events.

*Commercial televisioo on the other hand is a little like the advertising which nourishes it - an attractive fable, where everybody is beautiful everything is elegant, and all the children love father and mother and are leved in their turn. This philosophy is fun-dameotal to everything I do.

"Television as I produce it should contribute to improv-awareness of the poblic. In television which went beyond France they have now seen national and natural boundthat "La Cinq" is in anything but poor taste." And be recalls with some pride that the French opening was prepared in 40 days, had 40 billion lire of publicity in advance and for revolutionary importance to European unity. "Look at Italy. Television here has been the unifying factor in Italian culture and in the language.

aries, a television born in Europe, which thought European, how useful it would be to make each country learn about the others. Understanding is a great stimulus to unity." And so, in the immediate future, Berlusconi's extraordinary energies will be focused on Italy and his European commitments. But the United States had best

Peter Nichols

CONCISE CROSSWORD (No 912)

4 Climber's iron (7)
8 Mohammed's birth-place (5)
9 Lottery (7)
10 Search refuse (8) 11 Coffin covering (4) 13 Great work (11) 17 Placked instrument

(4) : 18 Curved sword (8) 21 Drinking festivity (22 Incapable (5) 23 Magnificent array (7 24 Duties (5)

1 Free from condensation (6) 2 Properly done (5) 3 Mockery (8)

4 Positively (13) 5 Soldierly group (4) 6 Lacking imagination

7 Almost (6) 15 Explode (4,2)
12 Alight from saddle 16 Free (6)
(8) 19 Petty quarrels (5)
14 Craftsman (7) 20 Swindle (4)

Solution to Saturday's Jumbo Concise crossword

ACROSS: 1 British Standards Institution 15 Fleshbuib 16 Full use 17 Identikit 18 Reveric 19 Evangel 20 Fresh breeze 21 Tararticla 22 Decibel 23 Wood log 24 Even 25 Pacer 27 Stonecrop 29 Taper 32 Arthritis 34 Chassepot 37 Enclose 39
Contrabasses 42 Rearrangement 44 Effervence 46 Pumpernickel 48 Recants 49 Trenchant 50 Haystacks 52 Torso 54
Dominican 57 Credo 59 Emma 61 Rhombus 64 Environs 66
Top stables 68 Blood vessel 69 Azimuth 79 Elation 71 Raft maker 72 Tadpole 73 Lubricant 74 Spring, summer, autumn and winter

DOWN: 1 Before the war 2 Inadvertent 3 Inherent 4 House-keep 5 Table places 6 No flaw 7 Alleged 3 Double crosser 9 Inefable 10 Surveiler 11 Ice show 12 Uttermost 13 Inkwell 14 Nether garments 26 Recusance 27 Slaps 28 Pregnancy 30 Protegs 31 Brethren 33 Traversed 35 Pragmatic 36 Terce 38 Crew cuts 40 Officer 41 Ascot 43 Secretary birds 45 Encyclopaedia 46 Plain 47 Assassinator 50 Haemophilia 51 Complainant 53 Ombudsman 55 MacIstrom 56 Novelette 56 Oyster bed 60 Paganini 62 On offer 63 Sheikhs 65 Slip out 67 Museum

£100,000 or more to invest? Go straight to NatWest.

Our Sterling Money Market Office gives you an easy way to place deposits of £100,000 and over on the money market.

You don't have to be a NatWest customer. And there's no need to go through a NatWest branch - you can deal with us direct. Ring us on 01-606 4030.

NatWest Sterling Money Market Office, 3rd Floor, 1 Princes Street, LONDON EC2P 2AH.

THE ACTION BANK - THE ACTION BANK - THE ACTION BANK - THE ACTION BANK But still lie has been able to commercial stations while deeply proud of what he has achieved singled-handed, he still sometimes finds his success difficult to believe the first three mooths had oo establish Italy as the cootinenadvertising spot vacant. tal leader in commercial tele-Berlusconi sees television on a European scale as of vision. The announcement one of his more endearing earlier this month of a consortium of French, German and British partners (with Spain to

MONDAY PAGE

A priceless pearl among the plain set

In the world of knitting, Patricia Roberts is regarded with awe. Her design books sell out in days, her high-fashion creations are sold by the world's exclusive boutiques. Sally Brompton talked to the woman who turned plain-one, purl-one into an art form

Ever since Madame Defarge and her macahre cronies clicked away at the foot of the guillotine, knitting has had a somewhat gloomy image.

Even at best, woollens, in common with many of the people who knitted them. have had a reputation for being sensible, cosy and practical. A well-worn cardigan is synonymous with the prover-bial pipe and slippers while its up-market cousin, the twinset is scarcely the kind of garment to set the fashion world on fire.

Then along came Patricia Roberts - and knitting has never been the same. With a wave of her number 12 needles, she transformed the humdrum woollen workhorse into a sexy, glamorous, sophis-ticated contender for the high-

Dedicated knitters took on a new lease of life and even those who had discarded their needles after learning to knitone and purl-one at school were inspired to rediscover their skills in the interests of woollen elegance and original-

You create your own fabrics as well as the shapes'

ity. With the dedication of a true pioneer, Patricia Roberts revolutionized hand-knitting into an art form.

For this shy, former art student it has been a steady progression from designing knitting patterns for "some very boring magazines" to master-minding an internationally acclaimed empire of

Her recent Design Council award for style, a first in the knitwear industry, automati-cally places her in the running for the coveted Design Award of the Year, to be selected by the Duke of Edinburgh and annunced at a ceremony in June. The council describes ber work as "an outstanding example of British design success". Its members were particularly impressed by the fact that "despite a considerable growth of sales, the highest design standards had been maintained throughout the growth of the company".

With a typical Lancastrian realism, Roberts takes it all in her stride. "I'm not' surprised", she says of her remarkable success, "because nothing has happened over-night. It's all been just one stage after another."

The only daughter of a county cricketer who died when she was a small child, she was taught to knit by her grandmother at the age of six and proceeded to invent patterns for her dolls' clothes. But it was not until her final year studying fashion at art school that she decided to concentrate on knitwear.

"I didn't fancy being a designer in a factory just putting on pockets here, there and everywhere", she explains. "I really wanted to care about the things I was making and with knitwear you create your own fabrics as well as the shapes.

At that time, the tail-end of the Sixties, knitwear was very much the poor relation of the hurgeoning fashion industry, with only a handful of French designers specializing in fash-ionable machine knits. "What wanted was to create handknits that looked as if they were hand-knitted hut were sophisticated at the same time", Roberts recalls.

After about three years of making up patterns for a well-known group of women's magazines she decided to go freelance at the age of 26. "In those days people tended to do hand hand has feel and the state of the sta hand-knitting for economy and magazines wanted copies of Marks & Spencer sweaters, but you just couldn't compete with them in that way. I thought that knitwear had to go in a different direction if it was going to be worth knitting

She began designing for more fashion-conscious magazines such as Honey and Petilcoal, producing some of the first bobble sweaters and ones with pictures knitted into when Vogue accidentally photographed one of her designs colour and decided to feature the garment on a fashion page instead of printing it in black and white as a knitting pattern. The magazine sent her with it to Browns of South Molton Street in the hope that the exclusive shop would be named as a stockist. Browns immediately ordered it, and several other designs, and Roberts found herself with a regular retail outlet.

Other fashionable stores particularly American ones such as Bloomingdales - began demanding her designs. In 1976 Roberts opened her first shop, in Knightsbridge, selling both made-up garments and knit-kits consisting of pattern and yarns. The following year

she started to sell her own

Now aged 40 and with her third London shop opening in May, Patricia Roberts is an international byword in fash-ion. She has franchise shops in Hong Kong, Cyprus and Mel-bourne and about 75 per cent of her garments are export-ed — mainly to Italy. Her new pattern books are keenly awaited by her followers and a topic of conversation at dinner parties around the country. She designs the books - stylish masterpieces of glamour and glitz - herself. Her tenth book is due out this year. It costs £2.75 in paper-back, with hardback compen-diums selling for £13.95. The initial 30.000 print run of the most recent paperback sold out almost overnight.

The artiste herself is seem-ingly untouched by her success. "I've always been a worker", she says. "a plodder. tend to think I'm not amhitious hut I must be. Other people seem to think I

The most satisfaction I get out of my work is creating new stitches: I suppose I must have created hundreds over the years. Basically, knitting is knit-one, purl-one and it's really just working out varia-tions on that theme."

She gets ideas for her designs from everyday life — a piece of pottery, perhaps, or a Scrabble board. Her grapes and cherries have been an alltime best-seller, still popular after nearly 10 years. The after nearly 10 years. ooes I like best usually sell the best", she says. She was feeling particularly pleased when we met because she had just discovered how to create a curved circle in wool. "I don't often do a plain stocking stitch pattern as she goes along - "I keep knitting it up and unrav-elling it because I keep changing my mind" - and then writes it down and sends it to one of her team of freelance knitters to make up. The knitters include pensioners and people with the kind of jobs that enable them to knit at work, such as telephonists. 'The trouble with telephonists is that they keep ringing up to chat", Roberts says.

Her finished garments sell for hundreds of pounds - one of the most expensive costs £525 - and her customers include stars of stage, screen and fashion salon. The designer Jean Muir, who is on the board of the Design Council and chairs its knitting com-mittee, compares Roberts's work to that of a painter or sculptor. "I think of her as being much more of a craftsman who has made her work commercial", she says. "I regard her as being a leader in the resurgence of artists and craftsmen who are bringing about the most exciting movement that has happened in this country for a century." Roberts likes to think of herself as primarily a designer. "I'm very interested in product design and so is my husband. We are very much design designers." Her hus-band, John Heffernan, is an automative/industrial designer. The decor of their maisonette in north-west London is as coldly clinical as that of Roberts' black and white shops, which she also designs.

Simply knitting: Patricia Roberts's daughter Amy, aged 4, is learning to knit.

The ones I like best usually sell the best'

ing January by the IBA.

smiling gas fitter

other, I suspected, might soon

dn the same. A smiling woman filled in a form and assured me that I would hear from them very soon. It was wise of me, she thought, to have the work

Some weeks passed. In mid-October I rang the gas board at Staines (the only aumber

the eas heard reveals in the

A friendly lady, no doubt smiling, gave me the number of a Mr Heshaby (not his real name) in Hounslow. At the third time of asking I spoke to Mr Hushaby who was desolat-ed to hear about my problem.

There had been, he explained, delays. Mr Hushaby came to see me and my radiators. He would, he said, send me a quote for their replacement.

count on Navember 28.

done before wister set in.

"A lot of knitwear designers tend to be very arty-crafty and I'm not", she says, "I don't have loss of patterned checks around the place." Her four-year-old daughter. Amy, is

To the vast majority of her devotees, a Patricia Roberts number means one which they have knitted themselves. A typical design, priced at over £400 ready-made, would cost around £170 to knit in the cashmere and angora yarn of the original and about £40 already learning to knit.

One enthusiast carned a year's free baby-sitting hy giving away a jersey which took her nine manths of lunch hours to knit. "It wasn't really difficult", she says, "it was more frustrating because there were so many halls of wool on the go at once. It was rather like playing a piece of music. Once you learn what the notes are you can play the piece." Roberts's shop assistants frequently get called to help customers who have got stuck.

One of the problems Rob-erts has had is commercial imitation of her designs. "It actually worked it out quite well and then somebody bastardizes it and makes it look cheap." She made legal history when a Manchester shop owner whom she sued for selling her designs knitted up was found guilty of infringing her copyright.

Winter of discontent

She has grown accustomed to seeing her designs walking down the street. "I don't often see one of my patterns badly knitted", she says, "hut what I don't like is seeing them knined in cheap acrylic yarns. That really upsets me because varn makes such a difference to the end product.

Her reserve has prevented her from revealing her identity to a passing punter. Only once has she done so - when, many years agn. she saw an Englishwoman wearing one of her sweaters in the Kremlin museum in Moscow.

TOMORROW

Who has time for office romance?

Times Newspapers Ltd need never worry that I might harm its corporate image. That is because I am the woman least likely to get involved in a Corporate Romance which, according to a new study* can send a firm's shares diving through the floorboards as surely as financing the sales director's financing the till director's fingers in the till. According to Lestie Westoff, the author of Corporate Romance, emotional entanglements at executive level have "threatened both office mnrale and the orderly transition of executive power".

لمكذا من لذمل

Out of 112 executives questioned in a 1982 survey, 82 per cent said they had found romance at work and several of these said that it had affected their company

I am aware that what ought to engage my interest in this finding is how a little loving on the premises can send a corporation crashing. But it doesn't. What I want to know s how executives ever find the time to say anything more tender to each other than "Let me have that file on Breeze. Bumf and Belfry as soon as

I work in a company that is teeming with men of all shapes and shoe-sizes and so ar not one of them has cast a glance in my direction that could possibly be described as meaningful. They are not to blame for this since during office hours I am definitely not at my seductive best.

There is something in the air in the London Under-ground system that ensures that, although I enter it during every morning rush hour with a freshly-made-up face and newly washed hair, I emerge at the other end with every lick of mascara blown off my lashes and a lank and dingy

I really look much prettier perched on a bar stool at 8 pm han hunched over an editorial keyboard first thing in the morning but none of the male executives with whom I share the daylight hours can be expected to know that.

My predicament is not unique. A colleague of mine met one of her editors at a party and had to introduce herself to him as he didn't recognize her dazzling nighttime self as the grimy little number he saw nearly every day at the office.

do know one female executive who looks as lovely against a husiness background as she does in a ballroom, But corporate romance has failed to come her way either, since having a comb-out when she should be attending high-level

pround that the fact that Miss

Suzy Menkes on the soft face of knitwear

PENNY PERRICK

Even if I were 10 have some hesitate before embarking on an affair of the heart at my place of work. For I have noticed that men are not at their best between Monday and Friday. For one thing, they always seem to be concentrating on the task in hand and would not be distracted even if Madnnna were to slink in and place her bare midriff between them and their

During the brief period when high-ranking men leave their desks, they eat a lot. This does not present a pretty sight to a woman with a permanent weight problem.

What I can do without as I queue up at the canteen till with my cottage cheese salad and mineral water is to watch the man in front of me riffle through his pockets for enough change to pay for his steak and kidney pie, mashed potato and coffee with cream. The relish that my male colleagues never hring to developing any kind of interest-ing little sideline with me is brought to bear on devouring steaming platefuls of treacle sponge. I have seen otherwise respectable heads of department fling their tie over their left shoulder so as not to have it dangle in the custard. This is not the stuff of which a thousand-megawatt corporate romance is made. Especially since the hlighters don't ever seem to put on any weight.

My own experience excepted, the Corporate Romance is wreaking havoc wherever it strikes, to the extent that Leslie Westoff iosists that companies must hire professional counsellors to deal with the problem.

Perhaps these advisers could also be on tap to help those of us who have never found love in the office deal with that left-in-the-filing-cabinet feeling that occasionally *Corporate Romance (Times

Why the bride needn't blush

Sarah Ferguson comes from a broken home might cause difficulties on her wedding-day. I wonder what people expect divorced parents might do when let loose at a wedding reception. Have a full-scale spat? Refuse to speak to each other? Weep uncontrollably into their tepid champagne as aren t.

they recoll how their ow marrioge came to o sticky end? Such worries ore groundless. People who find themselves confronted with other people to whom they were once married have a vested interest in oppearing charming, poised ond much, much happier than they were when still wedded to the person to whom they now breaks the communication barrier ...

3M's Whisper Telex

...without breaking the bank. £1,295

At just £1.295 for a complete telex, the 3M Whisper Telex isn't exactly expensive. It's also virtually silent, compact and sits neatly on any desk. To get the facts about a telex at an almost unbelievable price, please phone

(01) 936 9299 24 HOUR PERSONAL SERVICE

Telephone. (0344) 58855
Name
Position Company
Address CONTROL OF
		The state of the s
T31 3T	36/is a Tracemen

How you can help stop the sexual abuse of children.

help all the mor		r difficult to deal with, so we need your nis coupon.
I want to help protect	r postal order for: المسابقة بالمارة المارة الم	C15.4x
· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	holders may debit their 20	counts.
No. L.		Signature
Name	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
Address
Diament of the same of the sam	De A. Gilmour, Rel. 61531 NSPCC	Prostcode

It is estimated that one child in ten in Britain has been sexually abused.

sive items I have seen on television recently was a snappy little drams, repeated many times dur-The piece showed a snow-bound housewife, in distress because her central heating had ceased to function, making a single phone call which brought, in short order, a As he departed into the snow, his work done, he assured her, smiling, that if anything else went wrong she had only to ring his masters and all would be well.

Last September I visited my local gas showroun and asked to have not of me control. to have part of my central heating — two elderty radia-tors — replaced. One of them had ceased to give out heat; the didn't actually work for the gas board, but for a private firm in Staines, brought in to expedite matters. He worked, smiling, for most of the day, assuring me from time to time that all was well and that the pump, in particular, was working splen-didly. Towards evening he attempted to re-fill the system with water and set it going. His expression grew steadily less jovial and eventually he told me that two of the radiators were now not working - including, perhaps fortu-nately, the one which had not worked before. This was be-

FIRST PERSON

Tom Aitken

Some weeks passed. In the second week of November the cause the pump was "duff" and would need to be replaced. quote arrived. I filled in the We both smiled again and form, wrote my Visa number exchanged routine grumbles on the bottom and returned it about the gas board for a few at once. The £239.00 was minutes. Finally he said he cleared through my Visa acwould return on the morrow to

Some weeks passed. On

He gazed dispiritedly at the copper pipes leading to it and opined that they must be blocked. He would return in a few days and flush the system Some weeks passed. I rang Staines. They said they would give me the private firm's number. I said they could make their own phone calls. They agreed, smilingly, that this was reasonable. I would hear very soon.

Some weeks passed. I rang Mr Hushaby, who was deso-late. He could offer no explanation for the delay. He and Mr Rockfist would visit me at once. Could I just explain what the problem was?

Messrs Hushahy and Rockfist appeared a few days later. They looked at the system and explained that the piping must be blocked. They would put their own fitters onto the job at once, in order to expedite matters.

Eight days passed. I rang Mr Hushahy, who quite soon remembered whn I was. He could offer no explanation for the delay. Mr Rockfist had, he was sure, been intending to ring the private firm immediately after they had visited me. I would hear from somebody

Six days passed. I rang Mr Rockfist. He was sorry that I had been "messed about". He would get unto somebody at

Three days passed. Still, I was on worse off than I was in September. I have two gleaming new radiators, one of which leaks. My first-floor landing has remained unheated during the coldest February since 1947 and the gas board has had £239.00 of mine since last November. Then, last week, highspeed gas struck. Langh? I almost replace the pump. Somewhat to my amazement January 8 a gas litter came. he did so. But, sadly, the He explained, smiling, that he radiator which had not worked ***

World v World 11 There would be no problem these days in picking a world team to play Mars at cricket. You would just pick the West Indies and turn them loose. The real challenge is to pick a world team that could beat the West Indies. This problem is now being wrestled with by David Gower and associates, and they are doing it for real. The West Indies will play the Rest of the World in a one-day match at Edgbaston on May 20, with the proceeds going to Baod Aid to make the whole thing quadruply

Selection problems have been caused by the only county match that day: Essex v Northants, which rules out Graham Gooch, Allan Lamh and Allan Border. But there is plenty of talent available. Gower will captain the side. He will definitely have Ian Botham, Imran Khan, Greg Matthews, the Terpischorean Australian, and Terry Alderman, the crowd con-

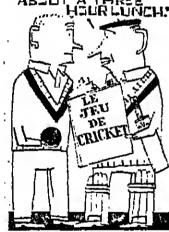

There have been problems in contacting the Indians, but Gower's men are optimistic about borrowing Sunil Gavaskar, Ravi Shaftri and Kapil Dev from the side that will be touring England at the ome. Answers are expected today from New Zealanders Martin Crowe and John Wright. The main problem is the wicket keeper. Wayne Phillips has, perhaps wisely, given up keeping wicket for Australia and said he would like to play for the Rest of the World so long as he didn't keep wicket. So we could have Paul Downton instead, although a controversial choice of young Steven Rhodes is not out of the

The West Indians will be their usual mighty self, with the added bonus that the great Clive Lloyd might step out of retirement for the day. The Rest of the World face a task that would make a team from Mars quail.

Boules anglais

One of the most testing assignments in the history of sport has been handled with exemplary calm hy a former schoolmaster named T.M. Watson. He has written a lucid explanation of how the game of cricket is played - in French. He did so at the request of Stephen Green, curator of Lord's museum, who is constantly asked by French students and by Francebased English teachers for an explanation of the mysteries of the game. Watson translates mid-on and mid-off as mi-droit and migauche, but wisely refrains from talking about mi-gauchet fou, or the favoured Phil Edmonds fielding position of le square leg totalement insane. His explanations of technical terms such as drive - "un coup forward pour attaquer la balle" - are splendidly free of nonsense. But I hope it doesn't lead to a French national team beating us in Test matches. That would be the last straw.

Sex appeal

After a long battle to get itself taken seriously, women's cricket has at last found a sponsor who is very serious indeed. Uni-Vite Nutrition has agreed to sponsor this summer's series against In-dia - three four-day Tesis and three one-day internationals - to the tune of £30,000. That's cerrainly not a cheap laugh.

Having a fling

The world's first full indoor highland games were held over the weekend at Aberdeen conference centre. The only traditional event missing was, understandably, the hammer, it was not an easy event to stage: a reinforced floor and protective netting were needed plus a ruhber coated caber specially made for the occasion.

Pounds in

Princess Anne's career as a flat race jockey came close to disgrace last week. She weighed out for a race at Newbury, having claimed a 7th allowance because of her inexperience. It was only shortly before she mounted that she learned she had no right to the allowance. She was riding in a National Hunt "humper", which is run under different rules to a normal flat race. Hurriedly, she weighed out again, this time at the correct weight, and then rode Well Wisher, which finished like a rocket in fourth place. Because her horse was placed, she was required to weigh in, and had she been found to be claiming 7th in error she would have suffered the ignominy of automatic disqualification, It would have been even more embarrassing had the horse won, and with 7lb less to carry, that might well have been possible. It is the jockey's responsibility to weigh out at the correct weight, not the clerk of the scales. Allowance or no allowance, Princess Anne is a splendid rider and will certainly be collecting her first winner before long.

Pastures green

The death last week of Stroller, ooe of the gamest horses in history, provoked a flood of memories and the odd tear across the country. A pony who outjumped a generatinn of inwering horses, he was ridden throughout his career by Marinn Coakes, now Marion Mould, and for the past 15 years — he lived to the age of 36 — had been living in well deserved retirement on the Mould family farm in Hampshire. Stroller's death brings back memories of the days when showjumping was in its golden age: Anneli Drummond-Hay and Merely a Monarch; Andrew Fielder and Vibart; David Broome and Mister Softee; Harvey Smith and Harvester ... wonder if anyone will ever shed a tear for such horses as Sanyo Technology and Sanyo Olympic

• This column - the column that never tips a winner - lost the chance to break its duck because of its Easter move from Saturday to today. I was all set to tip Cambridge in the Boat Race.

That annual exercise in facetiousness, the Boat Race programme, contained its usual fanciful claims about the interests and amhitions of the crews. From Oxford we have Richard Owen (eating pancakes, suede and nightmares). Christopher Clark (hedonistic utilitarianism and applied sleep research) and Gavin Screaton ("his amhition is to be sober for an evening"). Camhridge replied with John Pritchard's amhition to overcome acute introversion and misogynistic tendencies, James Pew (surfing and chicks) and the ambitions of their diminuove cox, Carole Burton "to grow tall enough to see into her own pigeon hole".

Holy in one

Kitrina Douglas, a former Curtis-Cup golfer who now plays oo the women's professional circuit, told the guests at a recent Christians io: Sport dinner that she "found it as natural to pray on the golf course as in a church". I imagine that England's cricketers are finding it as natural to pray on the cricket pitch as anywhere else these days.

Stamping out

The Soviet bloc boycott of the 1984 Olympics left the postal services of the communist conostocks of Olympi commemorative stamps which were apparently destined for the incinerator. But the event, which became a United States Festival of Victory, is at last being celebrated behind the Iron Curtain. Poland perhaps because it cannot afford to print others - has started putting its own issue into the post offices. What will happen to the offending envelope, I wonder, if a Pole wants to write to a comrade

Slipway slip

Chay Blythe, the round-the-world yachtsman, was asked to christen a boat for the Infantry Sailing Association last week. But the specially designed bottle-smashing contraption didn't work. Blythe yanked the bottle free and smacked it hlithely against the bows. In a shower of champagne and broken glass, he named the boat Bold Warrior.

Rhyme time

Are there no great sporting limericks? Or just none that are printable? I have been reading a newly published collection of sporting verse called We are the hampions and have been struck by the poor showing on the limerick front. The best of the hunch is probably this anonymous

There was a young lady of -Venice, Who used hard boiled eggs to play tennis play tennus.
When they said: "It is wrong"
She replied: "Go along,

You don't know how prolific my hen is." True, this is whimsical rather than startling, though it has its charms. But surely the talents of the entire sporting world could do better. So, to make up for this terrible loss. I am soliciting examples of the sporting limerick. I don't insist on originality: just printability. A fiver for every one

Certoons by Barry Familiani

Guilty or not guilty? Tom Bower on the riddle of the missing weeks

UN secretary-general, now presidential candidate: 'A full account of my life would have been too boring'

t was a glance by a mildly curious archivist in Washington at the widely available Allied list of wanted Nazi war criminals ten days ago which overnight transformed the Wnrid Jewish Congress's opportunistic campaign against Dr Kurt Waldheim into a set nf serious allegations that now embraces senior government officials in Washington, Belgrade and Athens. Unmistakably, the former UN secretary general had, rightly or wrongly, been listed in 1948 as wanted for murders committed during the Second World War. News of the archivist's discovery prompted Yugoslav officials to unearth a thick, long forgotten file which makes allegations of "mur-der and slaughter". Hitherto, the 67-year-old Austrian had suffered only malicious lampooning as a would-be emperor, "looking and behaving like a head waiter - the only man who could bend over same time". For three weeks Waldheim had successfully protected his meticulously cultivated image as a servant of peace against charges of taking part in the Nazi deportation of 42,830 Greek Jews from Salonika to the Auschwitz extermination camp. Paralysed by his stubborn protestations of innocence that as a former Wehrmacht lieutenant be was "not even aware" of the event, the World lewish Congress in New York despaired. Then, ahruptly, it was given an opportunity toswitch tactics.

Herzstein. an historian appointed by the WJC, discovered in the Washington archives the volu-minous divisional history of the Wehrmacht's 714th Infantry Division. An entry written in late 1942 describes "Operatioo Kozara", an anti-partisan sweep that summer across the mountainous Yugoslav countryside as a "liquidation operation" against "Untermenschen" (sub-humans), many of whom agonizingly im-paled themselves on barbed wire rather than be captured alive. Waldheim's name was on the divisional flow chart of responsibilities for that operation as an intelligence lieutenant in "03", a oranch of the overall division, I c/AO. "03" was assigned "special' tasks". On the surface it seems that Waldheim,

although only a lieutenant, was chief of an interrogation branch.

The crux of the new allegations is that between July 1942 and Christmas 1944 Waldheim was a

Waldheim: the hunt starts for witnesses

tions of captured partisans. More incriminatingly, during opera-oons. Waldheim was apparently present at the inquisitions. In 1947, General Lohr was executed by the Yugoslav government for crimes committed during those

Until four weeks ago Waldheim had deliberately concealed his wartime activities. In his autobiography, published last year, he told how, after being wounded in Russia in December 1941, he was demohilized and completed his legal studies. Implicitly, he suggested proprintly appears in the gested non-involvement in the Nazi horrors. Asked on American television recently to explain the omission, he insisted that a full account of his life would have been too boring. The true reason may well have been dif-

The same divisional history records that three officers, as acknowledgement for their special services during "Operation Kozara", were singled out for praise by Ante Pavalic, the Croatian genocidal leader. The three, awarded the Zvonimir medal, in silver and with oak leaves, were cited as earning recognition "un-der enemy fire". Waldheim was one of those rewarded. The contemporary record clearly refutes his current explanation that thousands of medals were handed out like valueless confetti by the hotographic evidence places Waldheim on May 22 1943 on the Albanian border alongside General Artur Phelps, commander of the 7th SS Volunteer Division during "Operation Schwarz", another big and inevitably ruthless anti-partisan hunt. Waldheim has repeatedly insisted that be was only an interpreter. The documents record him as an interrogator and an intelligence officer, a responsibil-ity which, despite his denials, he arently fulfilled until the end of 1944. The lengthening list of incriminating contradictions is, his detractors claim, exposing a systematic cover-up.

The question now is whether the oew evidence of Waldheim's anti-partisan activities undermines his denial of any participation or even knowledge of the Jewish deportations. At issue are his whereabouts during the ten weeks immediately prior to "Op-eration Schwarz". In February 1943, using elaborate deception, hand-picked SS emissaries despaiched by Adolf Eichmann had convinced Jewish leaders in Salonika about the advantages of tions of captured partisans. More "resettling" their flock in Poland. incriminating opera- In March 1943 German army trains, provided by General Lohr's headquarters, began to transport about 2,000 Jews every day to their deaths. By May, the ghettos around Salonika had been efficiently emptied.

One of the SS officers responsible, Alois Brunner, today lives as a fugitive in Syria but is unavailable to explain whether, during the operation, an alert intelligence officer at Lohr's headquarters would have heard about the controlled movement in wartime of thousands of local people.

Four weeks ago, when reminded about the deportations, Wald-heim's reaction was particularly puzzling: "I regret these things most deeply", he said into a tape recorder, "but I have to repeat that it is really the first time that I hear that such things happened. I never heard or learned anything of this while I was there." His spontaneous protestation of innocence about that episode in the Holo-caust was made before he realized what secrets the archives in Belgrade and Washington contained. Since then he has questioned the motives of those who have belatedly produced this "false record", claiming that every national security agency must have investigated and cleared him before their governments ratified his UN appointment. The answer is that the allegations against him are undoubtedly motivated; hut that it is unlikely that any agency in the West, including Israel, carried out more than a cursory check.

The motivation for the current campaign is unmistakeable. Eli Rosenbaum, the youthful general counsel of the World Jewish Congress, unashamedly seized the evidence against Waldheim in the hope of preventing his election as Austrian president in May. UV arnved at t WJC from the US Department of Justice, flush with the success of forcing the highly decorated German rocket scientist Arthur Rudolph, to renounce his American citizenship and return to Germany amid allegations of war crimes. Rosenbaum has become an established Nazi hunter, inheriting the mantle from the aging Simon Wiesenthal who has until now endorsed the innocence of Waldheim, a fellow countryman.

Wiesenthal's discomforture that Dr Josef Mengele was not discovcred alive and well in Paraguay, but dead and buried in Brazi reconfirmed that the victims of Nazism have been astonishingly unable and even unwilling to pursue their persecutors for more than a brief period after 1945. The Yugoslav case against Waldheim was similarly marooned. Hence the long delay before the case was After Germany's defeat, the British and American military governors willingly extradited to Yugoslavia those named by the Belgrade government as war crim-inals. By mid-1946 the Allies had received many reports that those extradited were being executed without fair trial. As East-West tension grew, further Yugoslav requests were denied, although known war criminals were living in the western zones of Germany. Frustrated, the Belgrade government charged innumerable Ger-man officers who had served in Yugoslavia with murder and reg-istered their accusations with the Allied war crimes agency, Crowcass. In their absence, most of those listed were summarily tried and condemned to death. In the turbulence of postwar Europe, and especially the transition of Yugoslavia from occupation to a Stalinist and then Titoist nation, the pursuit of Nazi war criminals soon became haphazard. Until now, Waldheim's records were hiessed with the fate common to all: forgotten and abandoned in a government warehouse.

hroughout Waldheim's tenure at the United Nacions, requests were made by Jewish groups to American security and intelligence agencies to investigate his wartime activities. Consistently, the checks proved negative. The latest was Rosenbaum's own urgent request to the US army five weeks ago. While Waldheim insists that the vacuum proves his innocence, others pos-tulate a myriad of possible conspiracies. The probable truth is that because Waldheim does not feature in the surviving SS and Nazi Party records, and because he had successfully concealed his post-1941 activities, there was nowhere for an uninitiated investigator to begio the search.

In the rim-up to the Austrian election, Waldheim's fate depends upon the determination and success of Rosenbaum and the American, Yugoslav and Greek governments to find convincing eyewitnesses to those awkward missing years. Incriminating tesumony mient electorate which has shown a marked appetite for forgetting their nation's wartime crimes. Others will ponder how different the course of history might have been had it been known that the UN chief, when dealing with international terrorism and warfare in Vietnam and the Middle East, had himself served as an interrogation officer in one of the more ruthless campaigns of the Second World War.

If Austrian voters turn a blind eye to the allegations and elect him, their snub to world opinion could backfire. Waldheim's critics are determined to impose a bar on his future entry into the United States - an ignominious punishment for a world leader.

Rome
The acquittal at the weekend of the three Bulgarians and three Turks charged with being involved in the attempt to assassinate the Pope is a bitter moment for the more idealistic members of the Italian indicator. They had become that the judiciary. They had hoped that the slow-moving machinery of Italian instice would somehow extract the truth from the thousands of pages truth from the thousands of pages of notes collected in nearly five years of investigation. They failed for tack of evidence. But their case was doomed from the beginning.

Much of the evidence for the alleged plot involving the Bulgarian secret services rested on the testimony of Mehmet Ali Agca, the Turk who severely wounded the Pope on May 13, 1981. During the trial, be destroyed his credibility in his opening statement when ity in his opening statement when he claimed to be the reincarnation Video. I doubt it.

Stroke play

backwards and forwards at the Last week, Professor Robert

'senior" Wehrmacht intelligence officer in Army Group E, a 300,000-strong force under General Alexander Lohr whose headquarters in Salonika directed routine search-and-destroy operations. Waldheim allegedly played a part in the merciless massacre of thousands of Yugoslav partisans ann their families. Twice daily he is suppposed to have compiled "activity reports" for the chiefs of the general staff, based on raw intelligence data from interroga-

Anne Sofer

A view from the scaffold

So it's all nver. The wicked witch across the water, having stamped her foot and made her shrill demand, the GLC and all its works disappear in a puff of smoke at midnight tonight. We are told that that puff of smoke will be the most outrageously expensive, the most cheekily suhversive, and quite the noisiest that London has ever known - accompanied, 1 hope by the emptying of County Hall's famous cellar. None the less that will indeed be the end.

Tomorrow the London Residuary Body takes over. Its members seem to be a thoroughly dreary lm - real killjoys. The first thing they have done is to close the members' bar and restaurant to the surviving members of the ILEA who are still, perforce, using County Hall. They have stopped all use of the huilding in the evenings and at weekends. They are trying to close the members' car park and ceremonial entrance as well, though we are hoping the fire hrigade will insist that it stays open. They also appear to have initiated a thorough survey of every nook and cranny of the building, no doubt to assist in the forthcoming auction. One of my colleagues was startled to encounter on his entrance to the men's lavatory the other day a photographer with tripod and hooded camera aimed at the porcelain. The last two weeks have been full of tired and emotional farewells - and speeches. God, how many speeches! I have had to make a few myself. It has been amazing how thoroughly conventional even the very bastion of iconoclasm became as it approached its end. In voices shaking with sincere emotion we have celebrated a comradeship constructive co-operation and the selfless dedication we have all practised these last five years. We have cut cakes and presented one anmher with bouquets. We have minted a whole treasury of new badges and given them to ourselves. My favourite, which bears an uncommon likeness to my old school prefect's badge, is from the Women's Committee. "Work for Women in London" it says. There's a testimonial.

Our final meeting, in the domed and columned council chamber which Herbert Morrison judged appropriate for London's elected assembly, was a magnificent affair. We had a procession of robed mayors preceded by their maces (and no one was unkind enough to point out that the Mayor of Lambeth, at its head, was in fact the ex-mayor, having resigned the day before in the latest exciting chapter of events in that most political of all boroughs). We had a gallery of distinguished visitors, with County Hall's skilled ceremonial staff tactfully placing Tony Benn and Neil Kinnock at some distance from each other. We had flowers and television lights and formal speeches which gave evidence of much scanning of the sections on "Death" and "Government" in the Oxford Book of Aphorisms.

We even had some politics. The left tried to move the adjournment of the council in order to draw attention to ... hut we never found out what some said it was the Lambeth surcharges, Others the plight of Irish women prisoners. There was a constitutional skirmish, and not enough members rose in their places to support sit down. At which the rotund and irrepressible Charlie Rossi, my neighbour from St Pancras South (born in Naples, brought up in the Gorbals) leapt to his feet shouting, "Where are all the lefties now?" and stormed out of the chamber (though he came back through another door some moments later). We all laughed and cheered and jeered and booed, and felt more our normal selves again while the distinguished visitors smiled pained smiles and thought smiled paned sums their own thoughts (starting, no doubt, with "No wonder . .

What will the verdict of history be? On the left a whole mythology is developing that the GLC has been the living proof of the popularity and vitality of the new socialism. It is presented as the way forward between the tired old authoritarian male-dominated. dreariness of the right and the hard-faced and secretive demo-cratic centralism of Militant and the ultra-Left. It is young, exciting, irreverent, open; it has "spoken for the first time" to women, gays, hlacks, etc, etc, etc. If you read the left-wing press you will have become familiar with the whole, repetitive litany by now. It is a view of life which emphasizes style, language and image far more than specific actions. I have sat in innumerable committees over the last few years intensively engaged in a collective act of self-deception. They persuade themselves that having commissioned a huge report on, say, women's housing needs or a financial strategy for London, and having pretended to have read it. they have actually achieved something. In this atmosphere it becomes far more important to the speaker, who therefore had to introduce non-sexist language into any individual woman has her roof repaired. And perhaps, in the long view of the political theorists of the left, it is.

But what those who see the last five years at County Hall as a huge socialist success and blueprint for the future fail to grasp is that the GLC, by the end, in fact did very little except give away money and promote itself - a view of the function of government curiously close to that of Nigel Lawson. It did not have to answer for the organization of any imporotant service, except transport, and that was taken away before abolition. It did not - it could not - intervene in any meaningful way in the economy of London. It did not bear responsibility for any final planning decisions. It was not called upon to implement any of its grand designs. It was, in this sense, toothless. And yet in this age of mass communication it proved that even paper tigers have claws and teeth.

The tragedy of what has happened is that from 1980 onwards it was clear that London government needed reform. There are strategic functions, many of the unglamorous ones oow being fragmented in the post-abolition chaos, but also planning and transport which have never been under an integrated and unified control. Mrs Thatcher, by setting her face against the road of consensus and reform, and choosing the bludgeon instead, has created heroes and martyrs, myth and legend, that will haunt both her and the future of London government for years to come. The author was, until today, SDP member of the GLC for St Pancras shooting: was Sofia really involved?

of Jesus Christ. Subsequently, according to the lawyer defending Sergei Antonov, the only Bulgarian actually in custody, Ali Agea gave 102 different versions of the "Bulgarian connection" and withdrew 59. The group of investigators who conducted the third inquiry into the background to the assassination attempt said they found many doors closed to them in many countries. They even feel that the Vatican knows more than It is giving away.

Following through a conspiracy theory

The beginning of the case was simple enough. Mehmet Ali Agea fired at the Pope in the course of a general audience in St Peter's Square and very nearly killed him.
There was no donbt about his guilt.
Within two months he was tried and sentenced to life imprisonment, with a year of absolute solitary confinement.

So far so good; but in sentencing Agea the court referred to a conspiracy. The Vatican too publicly questioned whether more than one person might not have been involved. So a second inquiry was opened to decide whether there was a conspiracy and, if there was, who the conspirators might be.

This inquiry was entrusted to Ilario Martella, one of the Rome judiciary's most experienced investigating judges. The result of his work was the indictment of eight people, five Turks and three Bulgarians.

In the course of the trial, one of the Turks, Bekir Celenk, died in Turkey (some say he was mur-dered on orders from Bulgaria). Of the three Bulgarians, two were former members of the Bulgarian embassy in Rome who had gone back to Bulgaria. The third was Sergei Antonov, a Bulgarian air-line official who was still at his post in Rome when he was arrested in November 1982.

The Turkish defendants belonged to, or were connected with, the Grey Wolves movement, described by Italian investigators as a right-wing terrorist organization with bases throughout Europe which lives from drug trafficking. Ali Agca claimed memberskip of the movement from the beginning and, in fact, some of his more convincing statements in the courtroom came when be talked about his own circle of Grey Wolves. The third inquiry also shows the Grey Wolves to be a formidable organization

Ali Agca himself came back into the courtroom as a witness after an absence of three months to add to the public prosecutor's report a brief description of his own motives which, he pointed out, the prosecutor had failed to mention. He said: "I carried out the attempt against the Pope because I was against him as the symbol of the western world and of Christianity, which has oppressed all the peoples of the world." That is probably as explicit an account we shall ever have of his real

'Name Bulgaria and you will go free'

The only person to whom he might have said more is the Pope himself, who took the questionable step of meeting his "brother" in prison. What transpired has never been made public. We do know, however, that the Pope has expressed to a group of Bulgarians his hope that their country would not be seen to have been involved in shooting him.

So where did the Bulgarian Connection come into the affair? According to Antonov's counsel, Ali Agea had been visited in prison by members of the Italian secret services and told to implicate the Bulgarians in return for an eventual pardon. Ilario Martella had made what many see as a mistake by giving the secret services permission to see him.

investigators who believed in the connection said they were dealing with other cases of espionage involving Bulgarians and these inquiries helped make Ali Agca's testimony seem more reli-able. And it should be added that there was an extraordinary desire among many people to believe in the connection, whatever the nature of the evidence. It might, of course, still be true; although the one Bulgarian under arrest looked the least likely of all the defendants to be involved in any large-scale conspiracy.

· -X-

Peter Nichols

.... E.E.

18.50

10 mg

771₂

$

1 01 -1 414

12.0

7. 1

.

医动物毒

 $c_{ij} = \{ g_{ij}, \dots, g_{ij} \}$

.

1 3255

2.25

0 0 10 F 25

1 Pennington Street, London El 9DD Telephone: 01-481 4100

THE FULHAM BLUES

Cowling's Law, distilled from the political works of Mr Maurice Cowling of Peterhouse, Cambridge, holds that all politics is about the next by-election. That is not a test which, when examined retrospectively, seems altogether prudent. Too many by-elections in the 60s and 70s heralded liberal election breakthroughs which failed to occur. Too many mid-term by-elections since 1945 have predicted massive government defeats which in the subsequent general elections were transformed into narrow defeats or even into substantial victories. Despite their inadequacy as, methods of prediction, byelections nonetheless exercise a real sway over the imagination of politicians in two sets of circumstances: when an election is approaching and when a government is weakened by setbacks. Thus it is that in the post-Westland political landscape, Westminster's attention is fixed on Fulham.

Nervous Tory backbenchers and hopeful opposition spokesmen alike feel that it will pass an important judgement on matters as various as the Budget, the failure of the General Motors-British Leyland deal, the programme of privatization, the electoral appeal of "people's capitalism" and the future of the Prime Minister.

27. Such calculations provide short-term entertainment for 1 m + 272 the pundits but in the longer term they are mostly frivolous. The substantial underlying 4° 27. strengths of the Government 1121 are too easily forgotten; the control of public spending, the prospects for further tax cuts, the fact that the world economy, stimulated by cheap oil, should enjoy a period of growth that coincides neatly with the period - possibly two years - between now and the general election.

The Government retains an have tacked that oblique legoverwhelming Commons acy without arousing hostile fractious - in Labour's case supporters. Far institutions do vative Party either.

of the Prime Minister's demise have been greatly exaggerated. The fortunes of major innovations like privatization will be determined by more substantial considerations than the result of one by-election.

In properly judging the Government's prospects, however, an important distinction can be made between the Prime Minister and her party. To judge from her brisk and effective dismissal last week of the charges that she had engaged in improper share dealing, and from her thoughtful interview in this newspaper, Mrs Thatcher has run short of neither confidence nor ideas. She remains the radical, even populist, outsider who has broadened the social base of ber party with policies like selling council houses, maintained the identification of Conservatism with the national interest by defending Britain's interests abroad more vigorously than her recent predecessor, and subjected national institutions from trade unions to nationalized industries to major reforming surgery.

Anthony Hartley points out in the current edition of Encounter that, in two of these three achievements, she is faithful to the Conservative tradition established by another populist outsider, Benjamin Disraeli. Where she differs from Disraeli is in her unsentimental willingness to reform established institutions. But this difference surely lies more in the condition of Britain than in any sharp divergence of philosphy. Disraeli held office before the relative economic decline of Britain in comparison to the United States and Germany had seriously set in. Mrs Thatcher arrived just ahead of a crisis of economic adjustment which 30 years of inflation had fostered.

No political leader could almost suicidally so. Rumours not enjoy being prodded with a sharp stick. But the Prime Minister had the necessary resolution. With the job only half done, however, the question is raised by recent events if the Conservative Party has the necessary stomach to carry through the other half. Since Westland sapped the Conservative nerve, the Government has abandoned a number of forthright positions it had previously expended considerable political capital to defend.

Having declared that the exclusion of trade unions from GCHQ at Cheltenham was essential to national security. and having won the point through several exhausting court battles, Sir Geoffrey Howe quietly abandoned it without explanation a fortnight ago.

In response to the move of witless, self-destructive jmgoism on the Tory backbenchers aided by cynical jingoism from the Labour frontbench, the Cabinet withdrew from deals with both Ford and General Motors which, between them would have assured a future (otherwise very doubtful) for the British car industry and lifted a heavy burden of financial subsidy from the tax payer. The Transport Secretary has postponed the privatization of British Airways. And, this weekend, the Home Secretary is wondering whether or not to abandon an overdue reform of Sunday trading laws in deference to a bizarre alliance of trade unions and sabbatarian fundamental-

What this catalogue promises for the future is a government of soothing inactivity. This may present a pleasing aesthetic appearance to Mr John Biffen or the agreeable prospect of a quiet life to the chief whip. But it is not in the national interest. It is not to the Prime Minister's own taste. And it is not necessary to majority. Its opponents are passions amongst her own the success of the Conser-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

our extradition legislation,

Yours faithfully. GERARD HOGAN.

University of Dublin

Trinity College. Dublin.

From the Principal and Vice

Chancellor of the University of St

Sir, It has been suggested that Irish judges were without precedent in looking so narrowly at the warrant

in the case of Evelyn Glenholmes,

but judges since the 17th century have always been careful to the point of pedantry in cases involv-ing the liberty of the person. On April 27, 1768, the great judge, Lord Mansfield, cancelled the outlawry of the most dangerous agitator of the time. John Wilkes, on the ground that the writ for it had been made "at the County Court for the County of Middlesex" instead of "at the County Court of Middlesex for the

That slip of the pen seems less serious than our bungling in the Principal and Vice-Chancellor.

Sir. With reference to the Glenholmes "hlunder" (report,

March 24) the issue of arrest warrants is the responsibility of the magistrate - normally with the assistance of bis clerk - before whom the required information has been sworn. The responsibility of the DPP, when be is the informant, is surely limited to seeing that the contents of the information are true to the best of his knowledge, similarly when a police officer or any other person

It is for the magistrate and his clerk to see that no warrant is issued on the former's authority, unless the information on which that warrant is based bas been sworn, justifies the issue of a

The DPP or other informant cannot normally be blamed for the failure of the magistrate to require the information to be sworn

In any case, I am not sure that encourage landlords into the market by returning, albeit step-hystep, to the situation in which landlords are able to evict tenants and charge a "market" rent which tramples the weakest, poorest stimulate landowners to let their properties, it would do better to accord similar tax benefits to the landlord's business to those currently accorded to other slack

trades, and pay for the stimulation

Editor, on the same day, writes of the "extra revenue" expected from Companies are not allowed to treat the proceeds of fixed asset sales as income. Could someone for the Chancellor to do so?

Of shoes and ships

Sir, The recent meeting of the Board of Trade (report, March 22) was said to have been the first since 1851, but it was not stated whether the Archbisbop of Canterbury and all other members of the Board were present.

The President of the Board of Trade in 1901 is reported in Honsord to have said, in answer to a Parliamentary question. "The Board of Trade does meet. The quorum consists of one - myself".

Yours faithfully, HENRY G. BUTTON,

Grange Road, Cambridge.

7 Amhurst Court,

From Mr Henry G. Button

please explain why it is acceptable

If the Government wants to people to the bottom of the pile.

is the informant.

warrant

before him.

Yours truly

St Giles.

Burwash,

Etchingham,

East Sussex

March 25.

itself.

Surrey

March 3.

Yours faithfully.

89 Ryder's Way,

Old Woking,

SUSAN CORNISH,

sales of public assets.

Yours faithfully.

Dukes Meadow,

I One Tree Lane,

Buckinghamshire.

Beaconsfield.

DAVID ARTHUR.

JOHN PHIPPS.

County of Middlesex".

J. STEVEN WATSON.

University of St Andrews.

extradition case.

Yours faithfully

College Gate, North Street,

March 26.

St Andrews, Fife.

From Mr John Phipps

School of Law.

Arts Building.

March 25.

Facts on Irish extradition law

From Mr Gerard Hogon
Sir, It might be better if those who stepped in 10 criticise the actions of the Irish courts in the wake of the Glenholmes affair brushed up on their knowledge of Irish criminal procedure - a system of criminal procedure which in many ways differs fundamentally from that prevailing in the United Kingdom.

It may, of course, be true to say (as Mr Ivor Stanbrook has pointed out) that a British Court would bave been prepared to grant a further adjournment in the circumstances of Ms Glenholmes' case, but then such a court is not operating within the confines of a written constitution containing entrenched civil liberties guar-

The plain fact of the matter is that once the extradition warrants were shown to be defective. Ms Glenholmes was no longer in legal custody and the District Court was obliged by the terms of Article 40 of the Irish Constitution to order her immediate release. And, as the Irish Supreme Court has pointed out on many occasions, such a release must be "unqualified and unconditional". In other words, the Irish courts have no power to order the rearrest of a person whose release has just been ordered, nor do they possess a jurisdiction to order a remand in custody of a person on the basis of documents (such as an extradition warrant) which are not before the court.

Two further points deserve to be made. First, it is difficult to understand Mr Hurd's suggestion that the defects in the warrant caused "unforeseen difficulties". The attitude of the Irish Supreme Courts was made quite clear by Mr Justice McCarthy in McMahon v. Leahy (1985) Irish law Reports Monthly 422 (another defective warrants case): Where the liberty of any person is concerned; where a valid arrest is fundamental to the validity of the proceedings; where sweeping powers are given to the police of both jurisdictions, I am not prepared to overlook [a]) careless approach and lack of attention to detail. . Narrow though this approach may be, the insistence on strict compliance with all the requirements of the exercise of statutory powers is a fundamental ture of our jurisprudence; it is the duty of the superior courts to ensure such vigilance.

Finally, a series of recent decisions of the Irish High and Supreme Courts give lie to the suggestion that our courts are not willing to extradite in politically sensitive cases. For example, in Maguire v. Keane (Supreme Court, July 31, 1985) the court reaffirmed its recently established principle that members of illegal organisations committed to the disestablishment of the Constitu-

Sir, John Patten ("Time to reform rent law", February 28) urges reform in rented housing generally and in tenants' rights particularly. To achieve this be declares that landlords should behave responsibly and tenants participate in

His argument fails on this point.

landlords and tenants are not of equal bargaining power, Demand exceeds supply, and always has done - even before the Rent Acts.

This was the reason why protection was required 35 years ago, and is still required today. Landlords are also at an advantage in being (generally) better educated, better organised and better in-

From Lady Cook
Sir, I was appalled to read in yesterday's paper (report, March 24) the Government's proposed rape of the water authorities, presumably to secure themselves money for "vote-buying" tactics in the water industry, has it not been used long since to renew the crumbling sewerage system and other needy parts of the infrastruc-ture? Why have we no coordinated system of water authority administration so that in times of drought or other disaster, money and resources from unaffected areas can be tapped to help those in difficulties? And, of course, why is there a different charge for water

Sir, Your Political Reporter writes on the "income" to be raised by the Chancellor from the sale of water hoards. Your Economics from one authority to another.

Budleigh Salterton, Devon,

Yours faithfully,

15A Knowle Road,

From Mr David Arthur

V. E. COOK.

March 25.

Why, if there is so much money

Water for sale

before the next election.

Rents reform

From Ms S. J. Cornish

management.

formed.

tion by force of arms cannot claim under pressure the benefit of the "political offence" exception contained in

Radio Wyvern the world aware that this bureau-

There has been one actual grandeur in regional and national communities tremendously well, to disappear.

That might be fine for their army of 1,500, all with five-year increase in senior salaries of I I per for two years to help us survive, it is a monstrous injustice.

The IBA extracts no less than £7 million annually from indepen-dent radio. Will no one rid us of this gargantuan parasite? Yours faithfully, NORMAN BILTON, Managing Director, Radio Wyvern plc, 5/6 Barbourne Terrace, March 18.

From the Dean of St Poul's Sir. Mr Graham Greene's letter (March 20) insisting on the Christian element in the regime in Nicaragua can be reinforced by the recent experience of a small ecumenical group, Catholic and Protestant, which visited Nica-

We joined the Vio Crucis, led hy Father Miguel d'Escoto, the Foreign Minister of Nicaragua. More than 200 pilgrims walked the entire distance of over 100 miles, hut as they approached the villages and lowns on the way, hundreds and sometimes thousands came out to greet them

At Esteli Bishop Lopez welcomed the procession and at a crowded Eucharist greeted Father Miguel and the pilgrims, and the Eucharist was celebrated in the presence of several thousand

Of course, in Nicaragua there are many who would describe themselves as Nationalists and many who are Marxists, but this small impoverished country is being influenced by Christian communities, especially among the poor, who long for a way of life, which they have not experienced in their history, where there is a measure of justice, peace and

The countries of Central America who have suffered so severely from outside intervention in the past need the help of all their neighbours to achieve stability. They do not deserve armed inter-

Budget reflection

From Mr F. A. Falk Sir. In the article today (March 21) on the effect on charities of the Budget tax changes, Philip Regan refers to the lack of uniformity of charity accounts and criticises the Chancellor for failing to trade new tax privileges for better accounting practices and measures 10 encourage efficiency.

Mr Regan appears 10 be unaware of the progress and concern of charities and their advisers in tions. Further, an improvement in the quality of the accounts has been apparent from those submitted to the annual Charity Accounts Award competition. Mr Regan's comments are an unfortunate slut on the effects and achievements of many charities and their professional advisers.

Yours faithfully. F. A. FALK (Chairman, Accounting Standards Charities' Accounts). Touche Ross & Co.

Hill House, I Little New Street, EC4.

March 21.

patience and dedication leave us

Magistrates are not appointed

I urge that to muddle at this time the court function with the welfare function of the social service departments would dilute the quality of their work, add confusion and achieve little.

G. GODFREY-ISAACS Chairman.

Radio stations

From the Monaging Director of Sir. The IBA's intransigence is once again apparent from their Rank/Granada interference, but is cratic quango is driving its own small radio stations into the ground?

bankruptcy and four covered-up bankruptcies in their system to date. Some 50 per cent of them lost money last year. The IBA, faced with this, looks for future radio. They are quite happy for local stations, who serve their no-redundancy agreements and an cent due next month. For my staff of 20, who have worked prodigiously and gone without rises

US and the Contras

ragua in Fehruary.

carrying statues and crosses.

worshippers.

equality.

vention. Yours sincerely,

ALAN WEBSTER, The Deanery, 9 Amen Court, EC4 March 25.

these mattes.

With the encouragement of charities generally in November, 1985, the accounting profession introduced a statement of recommended practice for charities' accounts. Many charines already comply with these recommenda-

Committee Working Party on would serve to protect children in the way Mr Walters seeks.

for their knowledge and expertise in looking at complex family relationships. That does not mean that I lack confidence in my colleagues in the juvenile courts but we are not trained to provide such a specialist service.

Yours faithfully,

Hammersmith Juvenile Court, Inner London Juvenile Courts, 185 Marylebone Road, NW1.

ON THIS DAY

Louis Riel (1844-85), a Métis (half-breed) led the first rebellion gainst the Canadian Government in 1869. For it he was exiled, but later returned to become a member of the Dominion Parliament from which, in 1875, he was exiled. The Metis in the

MARCH 31 1885

Saskatchewan river region called for his help in defying the authorities and in 1885 Riel formed o provisional ernment The rebellion was crushed after some fierce fighting and Riel was found guilty of reason and executed of Regina on

(BY ANGLO-AMERICAN CABLES.) THE OUTBREAK IN CANADA.

November 16 1885.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30. The Saskatchewan rebellion, organized by Riel, wears a serious aspect. His half-breed followers have for some time past been disaffected, because of the failure of the Dominion Government to give them the rights promised at the close of the former Manitoba rising. They have selected this time for a rebellion because the Canadiin troops are being prepared for ervice elsewhere.

They - the half-breeds - control region favourable for a protracted merilla warfare, nne which is listant from the railway, and in which transportation is difficult. Almost the entire half-breed popu lation in that region sympathize with Riel, together with nearly every one of the Indian tribes. Riel's rendezvous is a strong position beyond Fort Carleton. our miles to the south-west of Duck Lake, where he has cannon rifles, and ample supplies of provisions. He has also established a good organization, with scouts and runners going all about the country, to watch and report on the novements of the Government

Major Crozier's advance from Fort Carleton was intended to lestroy this rendezvous, but Riel efeated him, as already reported. In this fight of last Thursday the rebels lost 40 men killed and 23 wounded, among the killed being some Montana cowboys, from the United States, who had taken annon and rifles to Riel. After his defeat, Major Crozier retreated to Fort Carleton, folowed by the rebel scouts, but the attack was not renewed. Colonel Irvine had a garrison at Fort Carleton of 260 mounted police. It being evident that Riel could helm him, the Colonel determined to evacuate Fort Carleton which stands in a hollow, alongside of the Saskatchewan river, with a high bluff rising behind it. Having been built only for an Indian trading post, it was untenable it attacked; and nobody had resided there except the mounted police and the Hudson Bay Company's officials. Colonel Irvine, therefore, on Friday burnt the fort, with its stores, destroyed the telegraph station, and all valuable articles and then retreated towards Qu'Appelle, halting at another trading post called Prince Albert. Here some small reinforcements were found; and the police forthwith proceeded to strengthen the position, which will be in future the Government outpost.

Colonel Irvine sent despatches to General Middleton, at Qu'Appelle, that a large force must be brought up in order to subdue the rebellion. General Middleton, who had intended to march from Qu'Appelle last week, then decided to await reinforcements. He was expected to advance today. He has an available transport service of 240 teams, but his force must make a difficult march to the north-west for nearly 200 miles.

The news caused great excitement throughout Canada, where a popular movement has been set on foot for raising a volunteer force to put down the rising. The Canadian Pacific Railway is organizing efensive force to protect its line, if threatened, to the west of Winnipeg.

Troops are gathering at Toronto. Ottawa, and Montreal, to increase General Middleton's force Twothousand men are already available for the movement against Riel, though a large portion cannot reach Qu'Appelle for several days.

The plan of the campaign is to advance in two columns: one, under General Middleton, will move to Prince Albert and then against Riel; while another will march westward, by Battleford, in order to prevent the retreat of the rebels southward, should they endeavour to escape into the United States.

Prince Albert, which Colone Irvine holds as a Government outpost, is about 20 miles to the north-east of First Carleton. Battleford, 50 miles to the west of Fort Carleton, has been abandoned, the settlers, with their families, being sent to Swift Cur-rent, a station 150 miles to the southward, on the Canadian Pacif-ic Railway, west of Qu'Appelle. Agents of the Canadian Government have been making large purchases of carbines and cartridges of American arms manufac turers at Newhaven, Connecticut for use in the north-west.

Tailpiece

From Professor H. H. Huxley Sir. Readers may be interested in a recently-transmitted signal (in Larin, of course) from the planet Grove nunc est meum cor.

Gravius quam plumbum; Solent nam vocare me Họi polloi "Tuumbum". Yours sincerely, H. H. HUXLEY. 12 Derwent Close, Camhridge. March 16.

year the industry puts into

MR TRACEY AND THE TOBACCO MEN Norman Fowler, Secretary of State for Social Services, deserves three out of ten for last week's voluntary agreement with the tobacco industry on advertising. It is now up to Mr Dick Tracey, the Minister for Sport, to do better. Negotiations over his agreement with the industry over sports sponsorship have still to be completed. Sports sponsorship is one of the many ways the tobacco industry effectively circumvents the agreements it solemnly makes with government over advertising, and one of the ways it does so most blatantly. The advertising agreement prohibits the linking of smoking to healthy outdoor scenes, sporting success, or heroes of the young. Yet last year the number of hours of tobacco sponsored sport that were televised rose from 332 in 1984 to 363 with brands names such as Embassy, Benson and Hedges, John Player Special, Rothmans, Silk Cut and Mariboro linked on the screen to just those images through boro linked on the screen to snooker, tennis, rugby, motor racing and cricket. It is twenty years since television advertising of cigarettes was banned, yet year in and year out cigarette brand names receive hours of television exposure. It is small wonder that a government sponsored survey amongst children showed that three quarters of them believed they had seen cigarettes advertised on television. Mr Tracey's ideal course would be to insist, over a period of say three years, that tobacco sponsorship of sport was phased out. But if he will not do that there are significant steps he could take to ensure that the £10 million a sports sponsorship produces a lesser return in terms of maintaining a favourable image for a habit that kills about one in four of those who-smoke 20 a day. He should, at least, ensure that advertisements for tobacco sponsored events comply with the ordinary advertising agreement. He also needs to go much further.

The existing agreement rules out "freeze-frame" shots in televised tobacco-sponsored events. Yet tennis players serving and snooker players cueing are shown night after night on television against either brand-name advertisements or hoardings bearing the name of the event. The wording of existing rules needs to be tightened. For example in the Benson and Hedges Tennis the brand name was placed on the scoreboard and all over the umpire's chair so as to be regularly in shot. The existing rules prohibit brand names on items such as cricket scoreboards and officials and their equipment. But Gallaher argued that a tennis scoreboard was not a cricket scoreboard and tennis umpires, unlike cricket umpires, did not form part of the action. The placing and numbers of permitted advertisements and event names thus needs to be further restricted. If a product which destroys health is to continue to be allowed to promote healthy and glamorous activities, event names and advertisements should cease to be placed in positions where the cameras regularly cover them. To ensure compliance a genuinely independent committee (unlike that created Fowler.

by Mr Fowler to oversee the advertising agreement which breach at the time and an annual report.

of the good life that the advertising code prohibits in addition to, a fine. Yours faithfully. MICHAEL OGDEN, Chairman, Criminal Injuries Compensation will consist half of civil servants and half of industry representatives) should be set up. It should be able to take effectivelyto task not just the industry when it bends or breaks the rules, but also the broadcasters, most notably the BBC which televises the hon's share of tobacco company sport and seems notably reluctant to ensure that the sponsorship code is bonoured. It should publish reports of each

Such firm action is needed because sport is being used to circumvent other advertising restrictions and because Mr Fowler's agreement with the industry fails to tackle yet more areas where the advertising agreement is circumvented. Nothing bas been done, for example, to stop the industry diversifying into brand-name leisure wear, adventure and skiing holidays which link cigarettes to images advertisements, The new health warnings are welcome as is the limited impact the ban on cinema advertising will have. But to stipulate, as Mr Fowler's agreement does, that give-aways for children at tobacco sponsored events such as the Marlboro roadshow and Peter Stuyvesant airshow should no longer carry brand names or logos is to admit that companies have been aiming the message at young people, whatever the public denials. The industry will continue to do so through sport unless Mr Tracey does better than Mr

Victims of crime

From the Chairman of the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board Sir, When writing of problems concerning compensation orders for victims of crimes of violence John Spencer (feature, March 5) did not mention that some magistrates seem reluctant to make such orders. No one expects an order to be made if the offender has not the means to pay However, I read case after case in which there is no suggestion that the victim was blameworthy, the nature of the injury is known at the date of trial and the offender has been fined a substantial sum, but no compensation order has been

I suspect that some magistrates may not realise that the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board cannot pay any compensation unless the victim's injuries would attract an award of £400 or more. Such victims remain uncompensated if no compensation order is made by the court -

It is now over three years since magistrates were given increased March 19.

powers to make compensation orders; it is rather depressing that some magistrates seem not to be using these powers. It is also very puzzling, because I cannot see that it makes any difference to the magistrates if a compensation order is made instead of, or m

Board, Whittington House. 19 Alfred Place, WC1.

Children in care often quite amazed at the re-From Mr G. Godfrey-Isaacs Sir, I wish to add my support to the letter from Mr Louis Blomsources deployed. In one recent case in from of me, the same social worker, in a ten-year period, had Cooper,QC (March 19). I wonder if Mr Dennis Walters,MP, has seen a juvenile court in action and and family. whether be is aware of the pressures on us.

We, who deal with care cases in the first instance, hear almost without exception that the local authorities see their first duty as the rehabilitation of the child and family rather than any other long of the dedicated way in which this has been pursued - trial periods at

We know when cases come back home, case conferences held, sup-port provided in helping the family budget, clearing debts, providing home helps, the endless spent well over 400 hours in faceto-face contacts with the parents Only the social service department themselves can know the quality of the social workers they have available in deploy, the level of intervention they can manage and carry an overall responsibility for the day-10-day management. Ahuse, when and if it comes, has to be spotted and understood instantaneously and I suggest no iuvenile court is equipped to exercise that responsibility. And that if the review of these cases rested with us, poorer decisions would be reached which in no way

7

COURT

COURT CIRCULAR

BUCKINGHAM PALACE March 29: The Prince Edward this afternoon attended the 1986 University Boat Race and afterwards presented the winners' Mr John Haslam was in

The Duchess of Kent, patron. will attend a gala performance of the musical Time, in aid of the National Society for Cancer Relief, on April 7, at the Dominion Theatre.

The Duchess of Kent, patron, will attend a gala evening, in aid of the Stars Organisation for Spastics and the National Society for Cancer Relief, on April 9 at the Theatre Royal. The Duchess of Kent, Patron of St George's Hospital, will attend a reception, in Bid of the appeal for the hospital's medical school, on April 23 Bt the House of Lords. The Duke of Gloucester, President of ICOMOS/UK (Inter-national Council on Monnments and Sites, United Kingdom National Committee) will visit The Queen's House and Ranger's House, Green-wich, to mark International Monuments Day on April 18. The Duke of Gloucester will open the headquarters of the South-east traffic division of the Metropolitan Police at Catford on April 24.

The engagement is announced between Paul Anthony, eldes son of Mrand Mrs R.F. Kinnon of Caversham, Berkshire, and Marilyn, widow of Mr J. Manning and youngest daughter of Mrs Parnell and the late Mr E. Parnell, of Upper Norwood.

The engagement is announced between Stephen Rae, elder sor of Mr and Mrs J.R. Campbell, of Selsey, Sussex, and Sandra Frances, daughter of Mr and Mrs F.H. Button, of Worthing,

Mr S.R. Campbell and Miss S.F. Button

Forthcoming marriages

The engagement is announced between Martin, only son of Mr and Mrs S.T. Thorneycroft, of Aldridge, West Midlands, and Amanda Cecile, youngest daughter of Councillor C.W. Blackman, MBE, and Mrs Blackman, of Alderley Edge.

Dr J.P. Botting and Miss C.L. Odell

The engagement is announced between Jonathan Paul, younger son of Mr and Mrs John Botting, and Carcy Louise, elder daughter of Mr Derek Odell and Mrs Jennifer Odell, all of Birthdays today

Marriage

The marriage took place in the Royal Naval College and Chapel, Greenwich, on Saturday, March & between Lieutenant

Alan Geancy, RN, only son of Mr and Mrs E.A. Geaney, of Erith, Kent, and Miss Lynne

Lientenant A. Genney, RN, and Miss L.G. Marjoram

Bradfield College

Mr Richard Chamberlain, 51; Sir Robert Cockburn, 77; Mr John Fowles, 60; Viscount Fur-The following awards are announced: Major Scholarships: ZM Major Scholarships: ZM Catsaras (Danes Hill), CJ Child (Brockhurst), PD Davidoff (St Andrew's, Woking), Minor Scholarships: WA Appleby (Elstree), JMA Knight [Hall Grove), PT Traill (Danes John Powies, 60; Viscouni Finess, 57; Sir Pat Lowry, 66; the Very Rev Dr G.T.H. Reid, 76; Air Commodore Helen Renton, 55; Professor Dame Sheila Sherlock, 68: Canon Charles H. Smyth, 83; Mr David Steel, MP. 48; Lord Trefgarne. 45: Professor Sir Frederick Warner, 76: Mr Sidney Weighell, 64; the Earl of Westmorland, 62.

Hall Glove, Hill).
Exhibitions: JP Baker
Brockhurst and Bradfield). EA
Dark (Audley House). AJE Matthews (Cranmore). JJR Payne (Gayhurst). CR Pierssene (Hall Grave). CJ Tayton Grove), (Brockhurst).

(Brocknurs),
Music Scholarships; RER Demery (King's College Junior School, Wimbledon and Bradfield), JNM Stoughton

Lord Buxton of Alsa, chairman of Independent Television News, to be chairman of Anglia Television in succession to Lord Georgina Marjoram. only daughter of Mr and Mrs G.H. Marjoram, of Belvedere. Kent.

Science report

Anti-asthma drug may aid lean meat

By Andrew Wiseman

An anti-asthmatic drug, on non-castrated males throughbasis for providing a substitute for anabolic steroids, used by farmers to increase the protein content of their animals.

That would provide an after-native to the hormone sub-stances added to animal feedstuffs, or growth promoters as they are known, which have caused n furore, because of the danger of traces of these substances contaminating milk and

Until comparatively recently such steroids which in any case are effective with only some animals - and natural polypeptide hormones were considered to be the only method of reducing body fat and increasing body protein, thus ultimately producing more lean meat. Now, however, Dr Peter Reeds and his colleagues at the Research Centre) Rowett Reamong British scientists in-vestigating n series of com-pounds originally developed as

ati-asthmatic drugs.
Structurally related to the catecholamines, these alter-native compounds have dem-onstrated the same effects as steroids. Furthermore, unlike such bormones as trenbotone sach hormones as trenotiones acetate, they could usefully be given to a wide variety of animals, and also increase protein development when admin-

The Rowett Institute researchers studied the nature and action of clenhuterol in the laboratory and on animals. Initial experiments with rats cles, thus providing alternatives disclosed important differences to stemids, which, in some cases protein accretion was limited to skeletal and cardiac muscles without affecting other organs trenbolone acetate is admin

Later work with sheep and catile showed that clembuterol had also n traumatic effect on incressed mascle protein, crease in muscle growth.

The drug reduced the rate of nitrogen excretion and consequently cut the loss of body protein, even in animals which were not given protein in their

The researchers say that alclephaterol and similar agents may prove to be of great practical value as growth promoters, several important questions remain unanswered.

Their findings have shown, however, that although its netions have some initial effects on the heart rate, npart from its influence on body temperature, fat and protein deposition, those appear to be separable func-tions. Therefore it should be possible to devise compounds which will stimulate only protein deposition, which is all that is needed to obtain leaner meat.

Research is showing the way towards the development of agents enpuble of promoting muscle growth in skeletal masasternet important directors of this anti-asthmatic drog and that of animal. As a bones, those new steroid growth stimulating growth promoting compounds agents. For instance, milits should work more efficiently pany hormones, it was effective than existing ones.

Births. Deaths and In Memoriam

MARRIAGES DEATHS and IN MEMORIAN £4 a kne + 15% VAT (minimum 3 Lines)

Anneuncements, authenticated by the name and permanent address of the sender, may be sent to:

THE TIMES PO BOX 484 Virginia Street

Announcements can be received by telephone between 9,00km and 5 30pm Manday to Friday, on Saturday between 9,00km and 12 mym, 191-431 4009 Only). For publications the following day phone by 1,30pm FORTHCONNIG MARNAGES, WEDONGS, etc on Connand Social Page 26 a line + 15% VAT.

Court and Social Page announcements can not be acceptede by telephone. Enqueres to 02-0222 9953, or send to 1 Pounington Street, London E2

DEATHS

MILME at Stirling Royal Informacy or 29th March 1986, peacefully after a short illness. John Milne M.A., aged 73 years, retired Head of Langs De partment at Dollar Academy beloved partment at Dollar Academy beloved husband of Marte-Anne, 6 Bridge St. Dollar. A dear lather and Grandfa-ther. Service at Dollar Parish Church on Wednesday 2nd April at 2.00pm and thereafter to Dollar Cemetery to which all friends are respectfully myiled.

myited.

SWORD A Service of Thanksgiving for the life of Meg Sword will be held at Heythrop Church, near Chipping Norton at Noon on Saturday 5th April 1986. Any donations to Chipping Norton War Memorial Hospital. Oxfordahre.

IN MEMORIAM

STAND The Hon Maxwell, who die 31st March 1984. So loved and so missed by his wife and family and his many friends.

Clifford Longley

Christianity's struggle to find a place for the Promised Land

The Chief Rabbi of Great Britain, Sir Immanuel Jakobovits, has greeted the forthcoming visit of Pope John Paul II to the chief synagogue in Rome with the remark: "Had such a visit come a thousand years earlier, many millions of lives might have been saved from brutal violence and humiliation.

In a letter to Dr Elio Toaff, his Italian opposite number, Sir Immanuel describes the visit as an "unprecedented gesture", and "an important step towards reconciliation" of which the significance will be hailed by European Jewry in particular. He went on to suggest, however, that there should be an appeal to the Pope for "the elimination of the residual Christian besitations in accepting the State of Israel as the fulfilment of millenial Jewish dreams."

The Vatican should recognize the special bond of Jews with Jerusalem, because it was the Jews who first sanctified 3,000 years ago a city now held holy by three world faiths, he added. There are two issues here, only one of which is specific to the Roman Catholic Church. That is the issue of diplomatic recognition of Israel by the Holy Sec. recognition withheld for the technical reason that Israel is a state of which the boundaries with its neighbours are not agreed hy peace treaties.

Unofficially, most Jewish experts suspect that the real reason is pro-Arah sympathy in the Vatican, particularly, sympathy with Christian Palestinians. The lack of Vatican recognition of the state of Israel is a matter on which many Jews feel surprisingly strongly: it is difficult to imagine any other country in the world knowing or caring much whether the Vatican thought it existed

The second issue is whether Christianity as a world faith, Roman Catholic or not, can find a place in its theology for the return of the Jewish people to the Promised Land. Christianity tells a story of God's dealings with the human race which begins with the history of the Jews, but changes course radically in the decades after Jesus's crucifixion to become the story of the early church, with the centre of attention ancient Rome, not ancient Jerusaiem.

The story accepts the central role of the Jews in God's providence only as far as the first Easter. This marked (soteriologically) the point at which the divine plan changed, with the death of the hope of building salvation on a new chapter in Jewish history, and its rebirth in an alternative faith proclaimed to the world through the church.

Had the plan not failed. Christianity would simply have been the new Judaism; but the Christian tradition has always assumed it was meant to fail hence "Good" Friday. To say otherwise would be to question the Crucifixion as the necessary atonement

But whatever this theology said positively about God's love for man, it had a hidden and very negative implica-tion for the Christian view of the Jews. It meant they lost their central role, and became an anachronism. They were God's broken and discarded tool. It is hardly surprising, therefore, that popes have not been regular visitors to the synagogues of Rome. The wider implication has been that the "Old Covenant" and all that went with it is no longer valid, including the Jewish claim, on religious grounds, to the land

On such theoretical foundations as these, and not just on some unfortunate passages in Passion according to St John, grew the most shameful sub-plot of Christian history, the persecution of the Jews. Not all Jews who wish Christianity to repent of that, realize that they are asking for an alteration in a basic element of Christian theology.

They have a duty to ask that, of course, and to push persistently and hard for it, for they know the consequences of complacency, but they tend to ask instead for tolerance, for live-andlet-live. There have been periods of toleration in the past - it is a gross caricature of Christian history to treat the Spanish Inquisition as normative inthe Church's treatment of the Jews - but the internal logic of Christian theology has eventually brought persecution to the surface again.

It was the Holocaust which supplied sufficient shock to those old Christian certainties to reopen some of the fundamental questions. It drew the attention of theologians to those pas-sages, for instance in St Paul, which suggested an alternative view of the divine master plan. .

It could not be that God had abandoned the Jewish people, for the dreadful consequences of such a belief were there in history for all to see. These hints in St Paul are being gradually huilt into a different scheme, of two parallel paths of salvation. Jewish and Christian, but those scholars pursuing such researches are not finding it easy to preserve what is unique to Christianity. Meanwhile, the mainstream churches are not ready to admit that Christianity has nothing to offer a Jew, so that Jews are in no need of conversion. Jewish leaders, when they ask for such an admission, do not seem aware that they are asking a great deal, not just a concession in the rarefied field of interfaith relations, but a redesigning of Christianity's central

Appointments in the Forces

ROYAL MARINES MAJOR: M G Wimpermy to DRORN as Chief Drafting Drifter, Aug 1.

AIR COMMODORES: O J Trube Director of Aircraft Engineers, April 4: V L Warrington Director of Personal Services

Objector of Personal Services (GAF). April 8. GROUP CAPTARNS: C V Thompson to RAF Swandon Moriey, March 24: K O Benoett to MOD, April 1: P J Nutt to HQ 18 Go. April 1: P J Nutt to HQ 18 Go. April 1: WING COMMANDERS: P WING COMMANDERS: P WING COMMANDERS: P WING COMMANDERS: P L WING COMMANDERS: P L WAS BETTER NOTON. April 1: R M B MOSSING TO MULTINA. April 1: P Hendley to RAF PMC. April 7: P L Watson to RAF Costoria. April 7: P L Watson to RAF Costoria. April 7: P L Watson to RAF Costoria. April 7: P L Watson to RAF

Bridge

These are the leading scores after two sessions of the Championship Pairs at the Guardian Easter International Bridge Tournament at the Park

Lane Hotel:
1. C. Hartley and S. Popham 8636
realch points.
2. L. Kaplan and R. Smolstd 5747
march points.
3. M. Hoffman and P. Korani 5745 points.
Ferry and S. Eginton 5657 4. C. Perry and S. Eginlon 5657 match points.
5. C. Simpson and R. A. Priday 5635 match points.
6. E. Linesen and Dr. A. Haas 5659 match points.
7. S. J. Looge and P. D. Jourdain 5556 match points.
8. R. M. Sheehan and Z. Mahmoud 5640 match points.
9. The Match points of the State of the St

maich points. 4. Mry B. Taylor and M. Landau 1667

match points.
5. Mr and Mrs D. Diamond 1657 match points:
6. Mr and Mrs. P. D. Austwick 1640 match points. match points.
7. A. Revetey and Mrs. M. Swanson
1596 match points.
B. Mr and Mrs. C. Simpson
1566 match points.

OBITUARY DR DENIS BRINTON Distinguished neurologist

Dr Denis Brinton, FRCP.
who died on March 13, at the age of 83, was a distinguished neurologist. He was Physician in charms in the Denoted in a cian-in-charge in the Department of Nervous Diseases at St Mary's Hospital, London, from 1935 to 1963 and Dean of its Medical School from 1946 to 1951. Denis Hubert Brinton was born on December 9, 1902. His father was Senior Classics Master at Eton, so it was natural that his son should be given that incomparable com-panion for any kind of walk in life, a classical education. From Eton he went to New College, Oxford, and thence as a University Scholar to St Mary's Hospital Medical. School for his clinical training. where began an association that remained unbroken, save for war service, until his chosen, somewhat early, re-tirement in 1963. However, he remained on the School Council until 1979, making a total span of 54 years at St Mary's. Having decided to follow neurology as a discipline, one well suited to his precise, deductive mind, he did the then ohligatory apprentice-ship at the National Hospital. He was appointed to the honorary staff of St Mary's and the National Hospital in the same year. Throughout the War he served as a consultant neuropsychiatrist in the RAF with

As would be expected in a skilled natural scientist, be grasped two incidents that came his way during war service; an epidemic of meningitis which formed the substance of a textbook, Cerebrospinal Fever (1941), and the appearance of a mysterious acute neurological illness, with Biblical overtones, whose cause he traced to the adulteration of wheat with tares. Brinton brought many virtues to the several aspects of a busy life shared meticulously between two hospitals, a privale practice and his family. His cultivated mind, particularly rich in a love of his native language, its literature and its usage, leavened by quick sym-pathy and a deep sense of fun, made him sought after as an administrator, adviser and Such qualities made him clear choice in 1946 for five years of deanship at St Mary's. to break a mould with minimal hurt and to create an image for a new era that remains successful to this day. By his first wife, Joan, he had two sons. The bitter blow of her untimely death in 1971 was assuaged by his happy marriage to Rosemary, with whom he had worked as Dean.

BISHOP YENNADIOS

of three senior bishops of the Orthodox Church in Cyprus who were unfrocked for conspiring against Archbishop Makarios in 1972.

This revolt, engineered by the Athens military junta which wanted to encompass Makarios's downfall, unleashed a sequence of events which eventually led to the Turkish invasion of Cyprus. and the partitioning of the island in 1974.

Yennadios was Bishop of Paphos when, in 1972, at a 'rump' synod in Limassol, he and the Bishops of Kitum and Kyrenia attempted to unseat Archbishop Makarios on the grounds that his dual headship of church and state was contrary to canon law.

Bishop Yennadios, who has ever the three were found died at the age of 93, was one guilty of schism by a synod of guilty of schism by a synod of the Eastern Orthodox the Eastern Churches in the Middle East and were themselves de-throned and deprived of ciencal power and authority.

In 1974 Yennadios was proclaimed Archbishop by the Eoka-B terrorists whom he supported, and swore in Nicos Samson, the ex-guerilla gun-man, as President of Cyprus.

The new regime was however, short-lived as Turkey, provoked by what it saw as Greek nationalist provocation by the Athens government, invaded Cyprus a week later. Yennadios subsequently accepted a pardon, after the death of Makarios, and was restored to the office of bish-In the following year how-

MISS EVE SAVILLE

Miss Eve Saville, MBE, who the ISTD being renowned for died recently at the age of 78, a variety of research studies was for thirty years editorial, which became important consecretary of the British Journal of Criminology and general secretary of the Institute for the Study and Tanana of She will be remebered best al secretary of the Insurance for the Study and Treatment of Delinquency. Both institubiannual bulletins, the many conferprestige and scientific reputation maintained almost single handed at times by Miss

She took over an institute formed in the early 1930s from the Association for the Scientific Treatment of Criminals and the celebrated work of such eminent lawyers and psychiatrists as Lord Chorley, and Drs Carroll, Glover and

Miss Saville aimed to continue their pioneer vision and maintained the interdisciplinary basis, concentrating on the wider aspects of prevention and treatment of crime, with emphasis on 'study' in three directions - research, publications and educational activities.

Although it had now become a volutary organisation with limited funds, Miss Saville achieved success in all three aspects, country.

study tours abroad, conferences, and courses, regular visits to penal and therapeutic institutions and the annual winter lecture series.

No small part of that suc-cess was in bringing together, over those thirty years for discussion, psychiatrists, psychologists, lawyers and magistrates, academics and teachers, probation officers and social workers, the prison service and the police, residential staff and the layman.

She remained throughout her life a private, committed individual with both intellectual and managerial distinction: she accepted tribute only reluctantly, and only part of her stipend, but remained in office until her death and leaves a real problem in the survival of a major establishment for the study and treatment of delinquency in this

MR JULIAN ROOSEVELT

Mr Julian Roosevelt, one of the two United States representatives on the International Olympic Committee, has died in hospital in New York. He was 64

Roosevelt, a great-nephew of the former American President, Theodore Roosevelt, won a yachting gold medal in the Olympic Games in Helsin-ki in 1952, and was a also a member of the Unted States team for the Games in 1948 in London and again in Meibourne in 1956. He had also been a member of the Harvard University rowing crew. He was elected a member of the IOC in 1974. As such he had proposed that South Africa be readmitted to the Olympic family for the Los Angeles Games in 1984, but there was little support for the motion.

٠...

 $(x,y) \in \mathbb{R}^{n}$

$5 × 5 × 1

- . a -

The Night Sky in April

By Our Astronomy Correspondent

The Rev A J Booth, Vicar, St Mary's, Cadishead, discuss of Man-cheder, to be Vicar, St Heien's, Hollindare, and Warden of the Hollindare Society, discuss of Liver-nool.

mon-stiperulary). Mayfield, diocese of Chicheler. J Mudeon, curate, St Mary the Mircheler. J Mudeon, curate, St Mary the Mircheler. J Mudeon, Carate, St Mary the Mircheler. J Mudeon, Crate, Cra Lin, Stocke of York. The Rev P Klichten, curate, Nesde, diocese of York. In be priest sin-charge, Crathorne, and part-time youth chaplain in the Archdeacoury of Geveland, same diocese. The Rev H Prideaux, permission to officiate, diocese of Portsmouth, to be curate tron-stipendary). Noty Trainty with St Columba. Fareham, same diocese.

with St Columbia. Fareham, same diocese. The Rev A D Marsh, priest-in-charge, Beyton with Hessett, diocese charge. Beyton with Hessett, diocese of St Edmundsbury and lowich. to be socialin pastoral minister St John's Policy of St Edmundsbury and lowich. to be considered and social minister St John's Hessett of Portsmouth, to be curate inon-subendary. St Albam's west Leight diocree of Portsmouth, to be curate inon-subendary. St Thomas a Becket. Warblington, with St James's Emeworth, same diocese. The Rev M Potter, development officer, extension studies. St John's Theological College, Nottingham, diocese all Saines, Wellington. St Catherine's with Eyton, diocese of Limited.

Mercury will reach its greatest morning elongation (28 deg) on the 13th but is unlikely to be seen in the eastern twilight. Venus has hecome a conspicuous object in the west-crn sky and by the end of the month will be above the horizon for two hours after sunset, magnitude -3.9. Moon near it on the 10th. Mars is a morning star, bu nithough the time of rising does get earlier the change is still very slow, about an average of 01h. Moon in the area on the 1st and

Jupiter should be coming into view in the eastern twilight: n rises only one hour before the Sun at the beginning of the month, though by two hours at the end, and it is bright at magnitude -2.1. Moon near it on the 6th.

Saturn will be rising before midnight. Its motion is now retrograde and it will be in conjunction with Antares again on the 26th. Moon close by on that same night.

Uranus will have risen by midnight in the middle of the month and Neptune about an hour later.

southern hemisphere, this tinl equator has a meridian altitude of about 60 deg. Furthermore, much of Hydra for the first state of the form of the first state of the form of the

Busy traffic on a gange one line yesterday during the Model Railway Club's International Model Railway Exhibition, until Thursday at the RHS Halls, Westminster, central London (Photograph: Suresh Karadia).

Marriage

The marriage took place on Saturday at the Central Gospel

Mission, Nelson, Lancashire, o

Mr Ian Roxburgh, son of the Bishop of Barking and Mrs. Roxburgh, of Loughton, Essex, and Miss Jane Kimmitt, youn-and miss Jane Kimmitt, younger daughter of Mr and Mr. Michael Kimmitt, of Nelson, Lancashire. The Bishop of Barking and the Rev E.G. Fisher officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Emma Blake-Lobb,

Miss Avila Pollard and Mrs Gillian Moore. Mr lan

Muirhead was best man.
A reception was held at Barrowford Civic Hall and the honeymoon will be spent in

Dinner

Old Framlinghamians Mr R.W.R. Smith, President of the Society of Old. Framlinghamians, presided atramingnamans, presided at the annual dinner held on Saturday at Framingham College. Miss E.L. Grodzicka, Mr. S.R. Mitchell and Mr. R.J. Blythe also spoke. Mr. L.I. Rimmer, headmaster, was among those present.

Latest wills

Dorothy Rosamon Hartley, of Llangolien, North Wales, the author, artist and teacher, left

Mr L.J. Raxburgh

Plutn, being visible only with fairly large smateur telescopes, is not normally mentioned in these notes. It will be to opposition on the 26th, magnitude 13.7, in Virgo.

The Moon: last quarter, 1d1: new, 9d06h (ectipse); first quar-ter, 17d11h; full, 24d13h (ectipse). Neither of the ectipses will be observable from Europe. The partial eclipse of the Sun on the 9th is limited to the South including Australia; on the 24th the total eclipse of the Moon will have ended before moonrise in the United Kingdom.

Algol: the only evening minimum readily observable this month is at 9d211/2b; for the next three months the star will be very low in the north and predictions will be omitted from these notes.

As readers will know, the Giotto mission to Halley's Comet was very successful. A large quantity of data as well as pictures were received, and analysing them will take many months. For observers in the time with, it is hoped, a spectacular object high in the lay 5.000 years ago along the

Help the Aged

The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Cardinal Archbishop of Westminster, the Moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, the President of the Methodist Condenic of the Methodist Con-ference, and the Chief Rabbi are to be patrons of Hetp the Aged's silver jubilee appeal. Lord Cadlipp and Sir Kenneth Durham are to be vice-presidents of the charity.

University News

The following Proctors and Assessor for 1987-88 have been elected:

Senior Proctor, Dr P M

Newmann, praelector in mathematics and tutor for admissions at the Queen's College; Junior Proctor. Mrs Gabrielle A

Stoy, assistant tutor for admissions at Lady Margaret Hall;

Assessor, Dr J Knowland, tutor in biochemistry at Pembroke

Elections:

WORCESTER COLLEGE. The Rev.

Nicholas Thomas Wright, MA, D.

Philifonon), assistant professor of New Textament at McColl University, as Chaplan and Official Tutorial Fellow in Theology from October 1, 1986; Siephen Geoffrey Williams BALlandon), B. Phil, D. Philioxon), iecturer at Oriel Colege, as college lecturer in philiosophy from October 1, 1986.

1986. The collection of the co

Oxford

Towards the end of the month there may be a chance to see the comet from the British Isles, although unfortunately there will be moonlight until the last week. Referring to our map, on the 26th the comet will be approaching the lowest star of Crater, and on May I will be close to the next one above and to the right

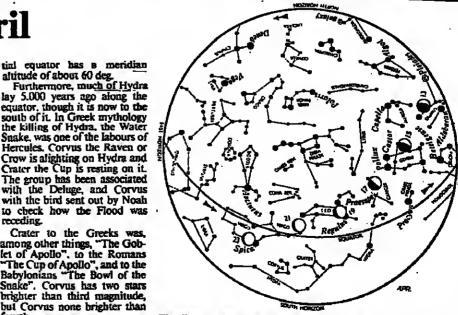

As the stars are faint and their altitude low they may not be visible, so an alternative approximate location of the comet at the hour of our map on the 26th is altitude 10-12 deg. true bearing 200 deg. Binoculars will probably be necessary.

The location of the cornet draws attention to a group of inconspicuous hut ancient constellations. Hydra is a very long chain, about 80 deg of it, m with only one star brighter than third magnitude. The people of Egypt (who not surprisingly linked the constellation with the Nile) and Babylonia lived in equator, though it is now to the south of it. In Greek mythology the killing of Hydra, the Water Snake, was one of the labours of Hercules. Corvus the Raven or Crow is alighting on Hydra and Crater the Cup is resting on it. The group has been associated to check how the Flood was Crater to the Greeks was among other things, "The Gob-let of Apollo", to the Romans "The Cup of Apollo", and to the Babylonians "The Bowl of the Snake". Corvus has two stars brighter than third magnitude, but Corvus none brighter than

As far as the bright stars are concerned, the night sky is not so very different from last month, though the descent of Orion into the rapidly advanc-ing twilight is obvious. The lengthening daylight redness the "life" of winter constellations, whereas in the autumn the shortening days prolongs that of the summer groups.

The diagram shows the brighter stars that will be above the horizon in the latitude of London at 23h (11pm) at the beginning 22h (10pm) in the middle, and 21h (9pm) at the end of the month, local and 21h (9pm) at the end of the month, local and 21h (10pm) at the end of the month, local and 21h (10pm) at the end of the month, local and 21h (10pm) at the end of the month, local and 21h (10pm) at the end of the month, local and 21h (11pm) at the end of t (10pm) in the middle, and 21h (9pm) at the end of the month, local mean time. At places away from the Greenwich meridian the recentive times in which the diagram applies are later than the above by one hour for each 15 deg west of Greenwich and earlier by a like amount if the place be east. The map should be turned so that the horizon the observer is facing (shown by the words around the circle) is at the bottom, the zenith being at the centre. Greenwich Mean Time, known to astronomers as Universal Time and expressed in 24-hour notation, is used in the accompanying notes unless otherwise stated. unless otherwise stated.

لمارًا من النصل

THE ARTS

Television Sadistic laughs

Live television always has a kind of bullfight excitment; at any moment the glittering creature in the centre of the action can put a foot wrong and be gored to death. Saturday Live (Channel 4), an alternative review which ended its first ran at the weekend, aimed to add this sadistic thrill to comedy with a political bite. The mix was similar to that of the American Saturday Night Line, which has been for some years the best breeding-ground for laughter in the English-speaking world.

The objective was finally achieved, with some hard lessons. The programme's political conscience was almost wholly confined to the poerry of Craig Charles, who was the series most notable discovery. Fliewhere, experience proved more valuable than anarchy. Beautifully-timed perfor-mances by veterans like Spike Milligan, John Wells and John Bird got more langles than the new generation's strategy of running around smashing things and shouting words that were once consid-

Experience also told in Anno Domini (BBC1), a $25 million series about the rise of Christianity and the decline of Rome. It was written by Anthony Burgess and pro-duced by Vincent Labella, the team who gave us Jesus of Nazareth. Sadly, this was the ultimate in Mogadon viewing and only actors of presence and accomplishment, like the late James Mason, Ian McShane and the newcomer Neil Dixon, succeeded in hold-ing the attention.

Blame for the mexorable tedium of this chronicle probably rests with the director, Stuart Cooper, whose previous credits include nothing of epic scale, and who appeared unaware that he was in the same ball-park as Franco Zeffirelli, William Wyler and Pier Paolo Pasolini.

. He resisted all temptations to spectacle - there were no glittering legions, dancing girls, painted catamites or dramatic scenes of brutal oppression. Calvary looked like a rubbish tip. Some incidents were considerably more exciting as described by Robert Graves in I Claudius than as brought to the screen in this production. Even with the greatest determination to look on the bright side, Anno Domini was a hell of a way to celebrate Easter.

Lizzie - An Amazon Advenexciting. The director, Lavinia Warner, made the most of Maria Aitkin's trip up the Amazon in the wake of a Victorian planter's wife. The jungle landscapes were dazzling, and the wildlife all .. : present and correct from giant anacoadas to lurid macaws.

Maria Aitkin herself was a guide whose piquant individ-ual tone enhanced the journey.

Jack Lang (right) became the most visible, popular and sometimes abrasive French Minister of Culture since Malraux, bringing the whole question of government and the arts to the forefront of public consciousness. But now the government has changed, and his successor, François Leotard (left), finds himself with hugely controversial projects already in hand. Charlotte Mosley reports

Ought the nation to contribute to our dreams and desires?

advertisements in the national press, exhorting the French to reelect the government that had put France back on the cultural map, typified for Lang's detractors the worst of his reign: a lot of money The English spelling of his first name is misleading on the one hand he has been one of the most vociferous critics of "Franglais" and has fought against the en-croachment of American culture in French cinema and television, branding Dallas and Dynasty as the equivalent of cultural imperialism which has not stopped either series being shown on French television). On the other hand, Lang has showered foreign stars with the Legion of Honour decoration, including Elizabeth Taylor and Martha Graham.

Lang has left his successor François Leotard, with a difficult act to follow. During his ministry

Giscardian policy of promoting France's cultural heritage came into its own, helped by a phenome-nal increase in the cultural budget. The subsidy for the film industry alone was increased 7.5 times from £21 million in 1977-81 to £150 million during Lang's five-year reign. No area of the arts, however lowly, was considered unworthy of state intervention. A comic-strip museum is being built in Angoulême, a school for pop singers was set up two years ago and a national centre for circus training opened in a Parisian suburb on January 13

But these are small fry. The Socialists' most ambitious and controversial plan centred around the £1.4 hillion Grands Projets which not even the austerity programme of 1983 seems to have iented. It is for these that Jack Lang's term of office will almost certainly be remembered. The size and scope of the project are spectacular and make an impressive list. Most memorable, because of the passions it aroused, is L.M. Pei's glass pyramid which will crown the expanded and renovated Lonvre. Criucized by some as making the museum look like an annexe to Disneyland, it has had the advantage of allowing archeological excavarions to take place in the 12th-century crypt which will be on show to the public.

At the Bastille the foundation has been laid for what is the most extravagant of the Socialist projects: a £200 million opera house designed by the Canadian architect Carlos Ott due to open in 1989 when it should be able to receive a million opera-lovers a year. An international communications centre at a new Ministry of urbanism. bousing and transport is rapidly being erected in Paris's mini-Manhattan, La Defense. The roof is being put on to an Arah Institute on the Left Bank. The Ministry of Finance, which was finally prised out of the Louvre, is being re-housed in a monumental hrutalist" complex along the Seine at a cost of £250 million. The imaginative project of converting the old Quai d'Orsay railway station into a museum of 19th-century art, which began under Giscard, was expanded by the last government and should open in December this year. The scale of the Grands Projets has inevilibly meant that few have been hrought to completion under the Socialists. In order to show the public that they were getting their money's-worth the City of Science and Technology (not museum, as it might sound stuffy) was opened in unseemly haste on March 14 - two days before the election. Only half the projected huilding is completed visitors at the inauguration had to wade through a sea of mud and avoid the wel paint.

No doubt Lang has revitalized the arts by throwing vast sums of money at them. Even if he has turned them into a political football in the process, at least he has brought the whole question of government and the arts to the forefront of public consciousness. No one in Europe has posed the whnle question of public and private patronage in such acute terms. The new government will unquestionably cut back on these hugh subsidies and the arts will cease to be such a contentious political issue, hut it will be impossible to undo all that the ahrasive former minister has achieved, and impossible to duck the public policy issues he has so hrilliantly promoted. As Leotard said recently on television. "the state should not intervene in our dreams and desires". But in France, at any rate, it is increasingly hard to see how this can be avoided unless a new race of private-sector Medici emerge between now and the year 2000.

Country music Silk Cut Festival

mine bought the latest issue of Les Cahiers du Cinema, anticipating a review of his hero Fritz Lang's career. It says much for the outgoing French Minister of Culture (or perhaps about my friend's interest in politics) that the long article in this respected monthly was entirely devoted to Jack Lang.

With the change of government France has lost its most visible Minister of Culture since Malraux.

Indeed it has lost its most popular

Minister, who soon became known as the Minister of Propaganda for favour with everyone, nor has his energetic wife Monique ("La Mauvaise Lang") who according to the Figuro magazine manipulated in a rather dubious fashion the international show-business personalities who "signed" one of Mitterrand's election appeals. This appeal,

Of course be has not found the Socialist government.

Though not without its moments of drama, the opening night of this, the eighteenth annual gathering of the oldguard country clans, passed off with little sense of occasion. While their loyalty to the cause is not in doubt, country fans can constitute a remarkably placed audience.

Wembley Arena

Johnny Russell, a discovery at last year's festival, where although low on the bill he earned a standing ovation, was again more successful than most acts in prompting a response, though this seemed to be due more to his smug jokes and home-spun philosophizing in between numbers than to the songs themselves. But where a little more attention was required, as during Rattlesnake Annie's brief acoustic set, a listless uninterest took hold.

As well as playing his own set, George Hamilton IV was a charming and informative compère. "Our next guest has been a member of the Grand Ole Opry for 49 years", be said with unforced admiration, an-nouncing Bill Monroe, who rattled off a brisk succession of traditional favourites.

Exile were the only repre-Celia Brayfield sentatives of the "new wave" of country acts to appear. Although by pop or rock standards their music is a mildly mainstream confec-tion, at Wembley the R 'n' B shuffle of their opening "Promises Promises" took off like a hull in a china shop. They played well, and harmo-nized adroitly over a steady back-beat. But there was a tendency to wonder when the neighbours would be round to spent for show.

"The good news is that George Jones is definitely here", Hamilton announced. The headlining of Jones, who during his period of decline in the late 70s failed to turn up at more than 50 scheduled performances, was indeed on hand, but he nearly did not stay for very long. Unhappy with the sound balance, he walked off the stage after four songs. Adjustments were made, and he returned to sing his slow, lachrymose ballads, conjuring an unmistakable atmosphere of after-hours melancholia. His final song, "He Stopped Loving Her Today". was typical of the genuine painful emotion that can still be wrought from the much-master of the form. Roused at last, the audience cheered for more, hnt Jones had had enough, and did not return. It is hoped that Johnny Cash will be able to close the festival with more enthusiasm

Concerts Intonation matters

Bartók Quartet Wigmore Hall

The problem of playing in tune haunts all musicians, but especially violinists, from their first lesson to the day they retire (and it will be an early retirement, too, if they do not deal with it effectively). It is not a "once mastered, never forgotten" skill either: the battle involving reflex calculations of minute distances has to be re-fought and won every day.

So one felt sympathy for the Bartók Quartet here, but also disappointment that an en-semble with such a formidable reputation, offering wholehearted if sometimes quirky interpretations, should frequently falter in intonation matters. What had been a minor irritant in Beethoven's Op 18 No 3 and the Debussy ahused country genre by a G minor Quartet became more disruptive to the flow of Tchaikovsky's Quartet No 1 not just in the passionate dig their bows deep in the allegro movements, where most quartets are prepared to risk some raggedness as they accepted Russian manner, but even in the celebrated Andan-David Sinclair te Cantabile. Simple purity must surely be the paramount

consideration here. The great pity was that in many other areas the Hungarshowed considerable technical resourcefulness. Beethoven demonstrated their light-bowed homogeneity of tone, the clarity and finesse of the interplay between individnals - a rapport borne of long acquaintance - and their skill displacing the expected cent while maintaining overall momentum.

Debussy encouraged the flowering of the quartet's fyri-cal side, especially in the rhapsodic Andantino where there was especially mellifluous solo work by the violist and cellist. Some of the portamenti seemed miscalculated and the search for ecstasy in the finale's closing pages succeeded only in producing whipped-up frenzy, but the second movement was a magical landscape of characterfu plucked passages and subtly shaded ostinati, and the quick chordal sections in the opening movement had a taut muscularity that was properly "anime et très décide". Here was a frustrating glimpse of the quartet in top form.

Richard Morrison

Endless miracles

London Choral Society/Glover Festival Hall

It is not so easy to sit down and write sense after an experience such as Bach's St mediate impression is that half the greatest music of the last 500 years is contained in this supreme expression of grief and its underlying thread of consolation.

The performance took a while to find itself, some of Jane Glover's tempi were half a notch too slow, as in the opening chorus, which did not really develop enough momentum to launch the work on its long journey. But soon the music seemed to take charge, as it always does, its interaction of narrative, contemplative and dramatic elements mostly coming across with sufficient vividness. The London Choral Society made much of their dramatic setpieces, while the English Chamber Orchestra responded tellingly to Bach's endless miracles of instrumentation.

Anthony Rolfe Johnson, in less than ideal voice, was nonetheless a commanding Evangelist: Rodney McCann, replacing Willard White at short notice, made a dignified Christus; and the arias drew some fine singing from the bass David Wilson-Johnson, the tenor Laurence Dale and (particularly) the counter-tenor Paul Esswood.

Felicity Lott's gentle and pliable soprano was memora-hly suited to "Have Mercy, Lord", whose violin obbligato was wonderfully played by Jose-Luis Garcia. Here, of all places, we could have done without the determined coughing ohhligato from a certain contingent of the audience. Malcolm Hayes

lington who have emigrated to before learning his true par-Billericay; Magwitch is an entage on This is Your Life.

Small Expectations Elizabeth Hall

So, farewell then, GLC. And farewell too the GLC-sponsored satirical revues of Alistair Beaton and Ned Sherrin: having gleefully tra-duced Gilbert and Sullivan in the Ratepayers' Iolanthe and the Metropolitan Mikado, they now train the pop-gun of their wit on Dickens.

Here, Pip appears as the black adopted son of middleclass "progressives" from Is-uncouth reporter from The Sun looking for a heartwarming story; Miss Havisham has turned into "Ms" Havisham, the voracious cocktail feminist editor of Spare Side magazine; her ward is a dumb hlonde newsreader by the name of Estella Scott; and Herbert Pocket is a cokesnorting entrepreneur who launches young Pip from his warehouse flat in Docklands.

Theatre

But oh for Sullivan's music

The up-and-coming graffiti artist gets his face in The Face, appears on the South Bank Show and exhibits at the Tate

The strength of the authors earlier outings lay in Sullivan's music, and the signal weakness of this entertainment is not its feeble plot nor its reliance on the weasel bite of topicality so much as the score of the American com-poser Gerrard Kenny, Despite some highly proficient singing and dancing from Michael Seraphim and Maria Friedman in the principal roles, it is less of an end-of-an-era romp than a trite and unamusing end-of-the-pier show.

Martin Cropper

INTEREST RATES

NEWRATES FOR INVESTORS

As from 1st April 1986, the interest rates on shares and deposits will be as follows:

	NETRATES (OF INTEREST %	GROSS EQUIVALENT TO INCOME TAX PAYERS
PLATINUM KEY	•	•
balances over £10.000	9.00	12.68
balances under £10,000	8.80	12.39
MONTHLYINCOME
balances over £10,000	8.65	12.18
balances under £10,000	8.46	11.92
CLASSIC KEY	8.65	12.18
DIAMOND KEY	8.00	11.27
FUTURE KEY	6.00	8.45
PAID-UP SHARES	6.00	8.45
MONEYMAKER SHARES	7.00	9.86
SUBSCRIPTION SHARES	6.75	9.51
S.A.Y.E.	8.62	12.14
DEPOSITS (Personal)	5.75	8.10
DEPOSITS (Basic Rale)	5.50	7.75
DEPOSITS (Higher Yield Basic Rale)	5.75	8.10
OTHER ACCOUNTS FAMILY	II - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1	. T- Cl

OTHER ACCOUNTS Existing High Interest Term Shareholders, 5 Star Bond holders, Special Investment Shareholders and Golden Key Account holders are notified that their interest rates will be reduced by 1.0% from 1st April 1986 but the differentials above the Paid-up Share rate will be maintained at the existing level.

When you want a better investment Building Society Has the key

Head Office: Vorkshire House, Wesigale, Bradford BD1 2AU, Tel: (0274) 734822.
750 brain her and agencies throughout the country.
Member of the Building Societies Actionation, Member of the Building Society Investors' Projection Scheme
Member of Link Total assets secred £1 750 Duti 000

Opera: Paul Griffiths reflects on the lessons of recent failures in Wagnerian production, and Richard Morrison introduces BBC2's Cosi fan tutte, to be shown tonight Competitive spirit the two London opera houses the principle remains. in recent new productions.

Parsiful at the Coliseum finds

Joachim Herz following an nence, and their costs, over an interesting line, but quite failing to come to terms with much of the atmosphere of the piece, or with its spectacle.

The Flying Dutchman at Covent Garden, offering distinctly less evidence of origi-'nal thought about the opera, also fails to operate on the scale of its subject.

Of course these are works that nowadays one wants to question rather hard, and ask what is redemption in Wagner's terms, what and where-fore the guilt that rages in the Dutchman and becomes the very substance of Parsifal. how the illusion of unity is produced within works that plainly draw on all kinds of musical, mythic. pictorial, hterary and philosophical sour-ces. But, before the questions can be asked, the defendant has to be brought into the court and both the ENO and the Royal Opera have allowed Wagner to escape with a

This would be all very well if productions of these operas were sufficiently frequent to be disposable, but of course they are not. The ENO have never done Parsifal before. to Montselvat after the illfated production by Terry Hands, never revived since its unveiling in 1979. So, whereas an unlucky choice of singer or conductor can soon be nor right, himse right, hiring the wrong producer may have effects lasting a decade or more. To be fair, Mike Ashman was not the the Dutchman: this was to

By a doleful coincidence Wag-ner has shown up the worst in rely after his Boris there. But to competition.

the absence of a dream that one feels at both of the new Wagner productions. And it Royal Opera's first choice for may even be that the dreams would be the more vivid for Operatic productions have expected long period of subsi-dized running, are high. Perhaps they should be planned, therefore, more like ventures in another semi-permanent and costly art, that of architecture. The recent Parsifal, and still more so the recent Dutchman, had flaws that could easily have been detected at an early stage, but presumably by then it was too late for much to be done. If, however, these productions had been presented as blueprints before being commissioned then subsequent history might have been very different. Of course, there will be cases where managements will be happy to give a producer carte blanche, but there must be many cases too where the opportunity of a production might be opened

One would have to see, of course, whether opera produc-ers turned out to have more hauteur than architects when it came to submitting projects. But maybe they would recognize that chances to stage Parsifal do not crop up every day, and that preparing an outline production might be a useful exercise. Maybe, too, have been staged by Andrei being quizzed a bit at the Tarkovsky, on whom the start. - P.G.

Thomas Hampson, whose Guglielmo in Così fun tutte mixes personable grace and considerable power

The BBC has been promoting its new television version of which is sung over the credits) Cosi fan tutte (tonight, BBC2 Radio 3) heavily, and with justification. Jonathan never uses three camera shots on an aria where two will suffice, and, to compensate for the small screen's lack of British opera-lovers. Ashley width, much use is made of Putnam's Fiordiligi is a vivaforeground and background cious lass, vocally exciting in groupings in the ensembles: a stylized "picture frame" de-vice, perhaps, hut ideal for allowing several characters' reactions to be observed simultaneously. Even David Myerscough Jones's set is an economical, though beautifully detailed, 1790s Neapolitan interior of browns and pastels. which is literally unwrapped during the overture. have been saying something sexist about women. Miller affair, hut rhymes like "Good prefers to put both sexes gracious, how loquacious" tend to evoke Lorenz Hart more than Lorenzo da the action is stopped just Ponte. – R.M.

which is sung over the credits) perfectly captures the rueful mood of four sadder and wiser

some: the singing is generally top-notch.

What impresses most, however, is the ingeniously sparse television treatment. Miller never uses three camera show ny Rolfe Johnson (Ferrando), Jean Rigby (Dorabella) and John Rawnsley (Don Alfonso) are well enough known to the upper register at least, and one would like to hear much more of the American baritone Thomas Hampson, whose Guglielmo mixes per-sonable grace and consider-

The London Sinfonietta under Peter Robinson plays with unusually hard-edged accentuation, though the fiddles are less than unanimous in places. Da Ponte's libretto might Ruth and Thomas Martin's

لعلقا معد المرا

The different faces of James Cagney

From Ivor Davis Hollywood

James Cagney, who went from a celebrated film songand-dance man to one of Hollywood's most lovable and most mimicked screen tough guys, died at his farm in Duchess County, New York, yesterday after a long illness. The actor, who had suffered from failing health during the last few years of his life, had been discharged from hospital only a few days ago. He was

Although after 65 films Cagney was best remembered for his roles as gangland mobsters in films like the his role in the 1942 film Yankee Doodle Dandy, in which he played George M Cohan, and won an Oscar for best actor, that turned him into the United States. Io that musical he sang and danced in a magnificent, strutting per-formance as the vandevillian

Throughout his lifetime he was one of the most mimicked Hollywood stars, with movie lines like "You dirty rat" (which he never delivered in a film) and "Don't get me mad see" (which he did say on Public Enemy, Angels With screen) becoming staple im-

Dirty Faces. The Gallant personations in comedy acts Hours and Ladykiller, it was for nearly half a century.

It was in the 1931 film Public Enemy that Cagney got the tough-guy label which stack for his entire life. In that almost a patriotic symbol for picture he was asked to throw an omelette at co-star Mae Clark, but instead improvized, and squashed a grapefruit on her face thus launching one of the most lucrative tough-guy careers in screen history.

> Although recognized as a tough-as-steel screen type, an equal among contemporaries like Edward G. Robinson and Humphrey Bogart, in life Cagney was a sweet, self-effacing man, acutely uncomfortable in the role as a high profile actor.

He officially retired from Hollywood in 1961, explaining: "The days aren't long enough for me. I spend most of my time on my farm." He did devote his energies to running his farm, raising cattle and staying out of the poblic spotlight. In 1974 he returned to Hollywood to become the first recipient of the American Film Institute's lifetime achievemeot award.

James Francis Cagney, who was born in New York City in July 1899, the second of five film-making but in 1980 was laughs." children of an Irish saloon-tempted out of retirement to star in Milos Foreman's film Ragtime, in which he played a New York police com

When asked about his long screen career and enduring tough-guy roles, Cagney said "I was never a serious actor, I was a song-and-dance man, a

And asked why he retired from films so early, he ex-plained: "I didn't like it. I'd been at it for some 40 years, It wasn't fun any more. After a while it gets down to essential needs. You need a wife, need friends, you need some money

Village voice

The headman who refuses to give up his fight

Continuing his series from a village in the Himalayas, Victor Zorza tells how the headman stood up to a dranken bureaucrai from the state capital and lived to regret it.

The quartel in the Temple Square, where a visiting official was surrounded by angry villagers, threatened to get out of hand. 'Fetch the headman," someone called out. He arrived running, just in time to avert a fracas, but has lived to regret his Nain Singh had been making enemies among government officials ever since he had been elected headman. Other headmen demanded bribes from villagers for support-ing an application for a disability pension. ing an application for a disability paradol, for certifying a document, for any service it was their duty to perform. They shared the proceeds with officials higher up the ladder. But Nain Singh would have no truck with the system and denounced it at every opportunity.

The headman, a tall, square-shouldered man with a walrus moustache, could often be heard in the Temple Square thundering against the thieving bureaucracy - "paper horses," as be called them.

He came from the Rajput caste, warriors-turned-farmers, yet the low-caste Harijans trusted him. They had been the farmers' serfs, but he had stood up for them when the Government abolished bondage in the 1970s. He had risked his position in the Rajput community by freeing his own bondsmen and cajoling and bullying others to do likewise.

The official who had started the altercation in the square had come to the village to investigate the embezzlement of post office funds. He was aggressively drunk, foul-mouthed, provocative. The values suspected that the investigator's task was to protect officials guilty of complicity, not to bring the embezzler to book.

Inspector mutters vengeance threats

Nain Singh had ordered the crowd to disperse and gave the visitor a piece of his mind. Instead of provoking the villagers and causing a brawl, he said, he should be looking for the real culprits among his fellow officials, who were the source of all corruption. The inspector retired to sleep it off, muttering threats of vengeance.

On his return to the mountain township from which the region is administered, he reported that Nain Singh had interfered with his attempt to carry out his assignment. Soon word reached the village that the subdivisional magistrate, the highest govern-ment officer in the area, had ordered the headman's arrest - for obstructing an official in the execution of his duty.

Nain Singh had often told me that the magistrate was the kingpin of the local system of corruption, and had openly proclaimed this in the village square. The magistrate could not have been unaware of it. Was the arrest warrant his response?

"You can't fight the system," Nain Singh's friends warned him. The villagers were friends warned hum. The villagers were always talking about the Harijans' supposed champion, Watan Singh, who, they said, had made a fortune out of government grants intended to improve the condition of the disadvantaged. He had defeated all attempts to expose him and had retired to a mansion in town to live on his share of the funds he had allowed officials to siphon off.

Villagers pay bribes and keep quiet

The low-castes' latest representative on the Harijan Welfare Board, Mangatram, whose extortion of bribes from the poorest villagers I described last week, knows he can do so with impunity. He is safe, the villagers say, because he shares the bribes with his protector in the city, a government employee who has made a name for himself as the benefactor of the kill villages.

When the villagers complain, Mangatram tells them that his patron has the ear of the Prime Minister and can stop the flow of government fimils to the area. The help they need so badly would cease altogether. So they pay the bribes and keep quiet.

Nain Singh submitted a formal petition to the Chief Minister in the state capital, detailing the charges against the two men. Au inquiry was held, but its conclusions were not acted upon.

The magistrate who issued the warrant for the headman's arrest was at last transferred because, the villagers say, he had displeased some politicians. But Nain Singh continued to be dragged through the courts, diverted from his duties as headman, his energies absorbed by the need to defend himself. Yet he refused to give in. "I owe a debt to the peo-ple who elected are," he kept saying.

The results of previous inquiries, the villagers always said, had been covered with whitewash because the big man in town had friends in high places. How, I asked Nain Singh, could be hope to prevail against the system after years of futile struggle?

The headman conceded that he might not be able to do anything on his own. "But one day," he predicted, "you'll write about what you've seen in the village and the Prime Minister will read it and will come here. Or he'll order an investigation."

"Rajiv," he said, "will get to the bottom of

O Victor Zorza 1986

THE TIMES INFORMATION SERVICE

Today's events

New exhibitions Memories of Ireland, photo-graphs; National Theatre, South

Bank, SE1; Mon to Sat 10am to lipm (cods May 10). Screenprints hy Julia Wilson; Crooms Hill, SE10: Mon to Sat

10 to 6 (cods April 25).

Glass, Sculpture and Prints: Frome Museum Gallery, North Parade. Somerset: Mon to Sat 10 to 4 (ends May 2).

Etchings by D Y Cameron Aberdeen Art Gallery Schoolhill; Mon to Sat 10 to 5 Art Gallery

Thurs 10 to 7, Sun 2 to 5. (eods | Music

Last chance to see Missiooary's Letter of Discovery of the Moa; The British Library, Great Russell St. WC1; 10 to 5.30. Works by Joshua Reynolds; Royal Academy of Arts, W1; 10 to 6. Ecology and Electricity Supply lodustry, Natural History Museum, Cromwell Rd, SW7; Egyptian Laodscapes.

weavings from the Ramses Wissa Wassef School; City of Edinburgh Art Centre, 2 Market St; 10 to 5. Three Artists from Orkney MacRohert Arts Centre, University of Stirling, 11 to 5.

Flemenco Vivo, flemenco dancing and guitar, Royal Festival Hall, 12.30.
"Uofioished Symphooy",

The Times Crossword Puzzle No 17,007

Nature notes

GLC says farewell; Royal Festival Hall, South Bank, SEI, 7.
Guitar duo by Tom Dupré and Richard Hand; St Martinin-the-Fields, Trafalgar Sq. in-the-Fields, Trafalgar Sq. WC2, 1.05.
Concert by the Gabrieli String Quartet, with Emmy Verhey and William Nabore; Wigmore Hall, Wigmore St. WI, 7.30

Concert by the Guarneri Trio; St Andrew's Church, Edin-Organ recital by Ian Tracey; Liverpool Cathedral, 11.15. Cranbrook Town Band, The Terrace, De la Warr Pavilion,

Bexhill-on-Sea, 11. Ravi Shankar and Kumar Bose, The Roundhouse, Chalk Farm Road, NW1, 7.30. Teddy Bears' Easter Concert by the London Concert Or-chestra, Barbican Hall, EC2, 3. Easter Festival of Black music, Town and Country Club, 9-17 Highgate Road, Kentish

An Easter concert of Chamber Music, Endymioo Ensemble, St Paul's Church, Covent Garden,

General

The Golden Age of English Furniture, exhibition and craft demoostration: Brights of Nettlebed Showrooms, Elizabeth Browo House, 15 Cannoobury St, Berkeley, Glos;

Farewell to the GLC: music. childreo's events, circus stalls, fairground, firework and laser display (8 and 12 midnight); Jubilee Gardens and the South Covent Garden Street The atre, street entertainment of every kind; West Piazza, WC2, from 11.
End of the Road Show, song

and pupper show on topical issues; Covent Garden Piazza ring 240 5451 for The Best and Last of the GLC New Variety Shows; Old White Horse, 261 Brixton Road, SW2, Children's Day at Battersea Park, marching bands and ma-jorettes, funfair, face painting. storytelling and treasure hunt, plus the Roland Rat Roadshow; Battersea Park, 11 to 5.

Easter Eggeitemeot, batmaking, face painting, story telling and clowns; Royal Festival Hall Foyer, South Bank, SE1, 1 to 4. Fun Run, Highate Woods and

Village by London Hash House Harriers, meet Highgate Under-ground, 5.30 Crafts Fair: Lauderdale House, Waterlow Park, Highgate Hill, NW6; 11 to 6. 1986 Camden Festival; for informatioo enquire 01 388

Antiques and Collectors Fair. Hammersmith Palais, Shep-herds Bush Road, W6, 10 to 4. London Harness Horse Parade; Regent's Park, NW1, 12. Easter Hats and Bonnet Pa-rade for youngsters, Barbican Ceotre Conservatory, EC2, 2.
Antiques and Collectors Fair,
Wembley Arena, Middlesex, 10

Coalhouse Fort, a river defence of East London; East Tilbury. Essex, 1 to 5. Easter Bonnet Parade: Marine Parade, Worthing, Easter Egg Hunt, Castle Park, Bangor, 10. Model Engineers Society
Miniature Railway open day, Transport Museum Grounds. Cultra, Northern Ireland, 12 to The Red Shoes, ICA, The Roads

London and the South East:

Al3: Lane closures on both carriageways of Newham Way at East Ham could cause delays.

Al0: Contraflow introduced between Rush Green and Hailey interchanges, Hoddesdon by-pass, diversion via B1502. Earls Court: Heavy traffic in West London as Ideal Home ex-hibition ends.

The Midlands: M1: Lane

closures between junctions 15 and 16 N of the Rothersthorpe service area, Northamptonshir M5: Birmingham: lane closure between junctions 4 (Lydiate Ash) and 5 (Rashwood). A453: Donnington Park, Leicester shire, extra traffic likely because of motor cycle racing.

Wales and the West: M5:
Bristol: outside lane closures N and southbound between junctions 15 and 16. A380 Contraflow at Ideford between Exeter and Torquay Bristol exhibition centre: expect congestion, Ideal Home congestion, Ideal Home exhibition.

The Nerth: A1(M): Contraflow on the southbound carriageway near the junction with the A66, County Durham.

A1: Contraflow on the Catterick bypass, Yorkshire, bridge repairs. Carlisle Races: congestion likely.

Scotland: M90: Lane closures between junctions 10 (M85) and 11 (A9). Edinburgh: Folk Festival, congestion likely; Leigh St, width restriction, delays likely.

Information supplied by AA

Bond winners

Winning oumbers in the weekly draw for Premium Bond prizes are: £100,000 20TT 084155 (the winner lives in Stockport). £50,000 15SF 669292 (Aylesbury). £25,000 3KZ 383656 (Stockton ou Tees).

Scout Job Week Scouts will be taking part in group and individual projects from today until April 5 to raise funds to support local Scouting. All those taking part will have an official Joh Card which people should ask to see if they have any doubts about someone offering to do a job.

	Australia S	Buys 2.17	Sells 2.06
ŀ	Austria Sch	24.95	23.75
	Belgium Fr	74.10	70.30
ı	Canada S	2.145	2.045
	Denmark Kr	13.17	12.47
	Finlenci Mick	8.15	7.65
	France Fr	10.95	10.40
	Germany Dro	3.57	3.39
	Greece Dr	230.00	210.00
١	Hong Kong $	11.90	11.40
н	Ireland Pt	1.19	1.13
١	Italy Lira	2425.00	2305.00
i	Japan Yee	277.00	263.00
ı	Netherlands Gid	4.01	3.82
П	Norway Kr	11.15	10.50
ı	Portugal Esc	229.86	219.00
1	South Africa Rd Spain Pta	3.80	3.10
1	Sweden Kr	223.00 11.27	211.00
1	Suitzerland Fr	2.99	10.72 2.84
1	USAS	1,542	1,472
١	Yugoslavia Dar	540.00	490.00
1
ı	Rates for small dec	omination b	ank notes

Weather forecast

A depression in the North Sea is moving slowly E. A. cold front across northern France at first will move away into the continent.

6 am to midnight

Loudon, SE, central 8, SW England, East Anglie, Midlande (E). Channel Islands: Cloudy with some rest or sleet at first, surny intervals with showers developing, which W light or moderate; max temp 9C (46F).

E, central N, NE England: Fog patches at first, surny periods developing with scattered showers of rate, sleet or snow; which NW light or moderate; max temp 8C (46F).

scouperd sinvivate of tax, assets or store, which NW Bight or moderate; their temp 80 (46F).

Midliands (W), Wales, NW England, Lake District, tate of when, 3W Scottand, N Instend: Fog patches at first, surrey intervals with scattered showers of rain steet or snow developing; which NW light or moderate; max temp 80 (46F).

Borders, Editaburgh, Dundee, Gleegers Surrey periods with scattered showers of steet or snow, wind W light or moderate; max temp 7C (45F).

Abserdees, Control Highlands; Moray, Freit, NE, NW Scottand, Argyll: Surrey intervals with showers of rain, steet or snow; wind NW light or snoderate; max temp 7C (45F).

Outlook for transcrive and Wednesday; The rather cold showery weather will continue, showers of steet or snow; wand N to NE light or moderate max temp 6C (43F).

Outlook for transcrivers and Wednesday; The rather cold showery weather will continue, showers of sleet or snow in many sness.

Moon rises 2.05 am

Lighting-up time London 8.02 pm to 6.07 am Bristel 8.11 pm to 6.17 am Etinburgh 6.18 pm to 6.15 am Menchester 8.12 pm to 6.13 am Penzance 8.22 pm to 6.30 pm

Yesterday

Temperatures at middey ye cloud; f, fair; r, rain; s, sun. C F Belfast f 541 Guerns Bringham r 337 inverse r 337 invernees. c 541 Jersey c 541 London c 541 M'nchster f 541 Nowcestie f 641 R'nkieway

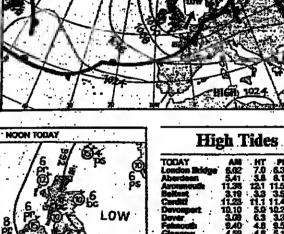

London

Yestenday: Temp: max 6 am to 6 pm, 7C (45F) : min 6 pm to 6 am,2C (36F) Humidity: 6 pm, 78 per cent. Rest: 24h; 16 6 pm, 0.05ins Sus: 24 hr to 6 pm, 0.3 hrs Bar. mean sea level, 6 pm, 996.1

ars, rising militioars=29.53in.

Highest and lowest

Around Britain

5.2 NORTHERN RELAND Belfast 1.6 .05 . 5 43 hall pro

Abroad

MEDIAY: c, cloud; d, drizzie; f, fair; fg, fog; r, rain; s, suit; sn, snow; t, thunds

1 The entertainment chance (8). guests could be up to her, 5 Put a roof on yonder church Fashionable lady of the 6 Provided oo return with quiet perch, perhaps (4). Crossways in a state (7). 9 A fisherman likes to. but not while sweeping (5,1,4). 10 A mother? He never had 11 Low character, this old solone (4). dier (7,5). 12 Prepare strawberries in port 14 Mr Sprat, a capital writer (4.6). 13 6 about to deserve degree 17 We agree to listen more than once (4.4). 15 A fan here and there rioting 19 The umpire has to impose control verbally - what a . . . (8). 16 . . . or lost in the crowd, in Slough (6). 18 Shrew packs a right in undent (7). armed combai (6). 20 Rose and roared again? (8).

23 Sick of dividing 11 into four 25 Dressed many a boy (4).

26 Lottery providing minor return (4). 27 Pips possibly obtained from giant limes (4-6). 28 Sisters in unsisterly displays 29 Scouts should always show

24 Suffer in Paddington, for in-

DOWN I Nag a drudge (4).

willing (2,8). 2 'ave a look for a girl in fic-

8 River's got fish - about 12

21 King's almost without a stu 22 Not fixed in Alabama port

Solution to Puzzle No 17,005 HARRY PROPUESY
NAME OF SECAL
HARRY PROPUESY
NAME OF SECAL
HARRY PROPUESY

The solution to prize puzzle No 17,006 will be published next 3 Next, a hair oil that can produce a lift (12). Concise crossword, page 10

Millions of summer migrants ing song rings out from the high tree tops. The first sand-martins-are back: they normally nest in holes in sandpits, and have grown scarcer as good sites have diminished, but some have adapted to nesting in dry drainpipes. Swallows and yellow wagtails will be the next species to return.

Most jays have gone back from town gardens to the woods, where they are chasing each other through the branches each other through the branches with a dramatic slow-motion flight and a great vaniety of harsh calls. Lapwings are displaying over arable fields, tilting their round wings wildly to left and right, and producing a curious hum with their wing-feethers.

feathers. Lesser celandine leaves are thick on the ground, and the first flowers are opening, two or three weeks later than usual. Colt's foot is also very late. Cuckoo-pint leaves are growing in sturdy bunches but the purple spikes are slow to appear. Pale leaves are breaking through the glistening buds on the horsechestnuts, and larch buds an showing a tiny green spot DJM

Anniversaries

Births: René Descartes philosopher, La Haye, France, 1596; Franz Joseph Hayda, Rohrau, Austria, 1732; Edward Fitzgerald, translator of Rubaiyai of Omar Khayyam, Bredfield, Suffolk, 1809.

Deaths: John Donne, London, 1631; John Constable, London, 1837; Charlotte Bronte, Haw. 1837; Charlotte Broute, Haw-orth, Yorkshire, 1855; Emil von Behring, bacteriologist, Nobelaureate, 1901, Marburg, Germany, 1917.
The Eiffel Tower was inaugu

The week's walks

Today: Charles Dickans' Literary Tour, meet St Pass's Underground, 11; Jack the Ripper Murders, meet Whitechapel Underground, 2; The Famous Square Underground, 2; The Famous Square Mile, meet St Pass's Under-Mile, meet St Paul's Underground, 2:
Haunted London, meet St Paul's Underground, 7 (ends in a pub).
Tomorren: Inn's of Court, meet Chencery Lane Underground (tacket office), 11; Nature Walk in Bushy Park, meet Hampton Court Gate, 2:30. Fools, Fars and Festivals pub walk speciel, meet Blackfriers Underground, 7:45.
Wednesday: Treasures and Trivia of Royal Westminister, meet Gneen Park Underground, 11; Legal London - Iraide
the Law Courts, meet Holborn Underground, 2: The London of Jack the Roper, meet Whitschapel Underground, 7:30. ground, 2: The London of Jack the Ripper, meet Whitechapel Underground, 7:30. Thursday: Westminster Abbey visit, meet Westminster Underground, 11: Sexon and Norman London, meet theseum of London, 2:30: Best of British Pubs Night, meet Bond Street Underground (ticket office), 7:30. Friday: Legal and Riegal London, meet 8t Paul's Underground, 10:30; Life in Medieval London, meet Museums of London 2:30: An historic pub walk. Dickens' Hosteiries, meet Museums of London 2:30: An historic pub walk. Dickens' Hosteiries, meet St Paul's Underground, 7:30. Setunder; Shakespeare's London Innathane pub walk. The Monament Underground, 7:30; An historic pub walk. The Monament Underground, 7:30; An historic pub walk. Thurmaside, meet Blackfritzes Underground, 7:30; An historic pub walk. Thurmaside, meet Blackfritzes Underground, 7:30; An historic pub walk. Sudder, Historic Pub walk.

The pound

London: The FT Index closed up Thursdays: 1390.0 New York: The Down Jones indust

EASTER MONDAY

Are Afrikaners incapable of change? In the Western Cape, many are confounding the stereotype. More flexible than their fathers, not notably intolerant in attitude, they do not envisage an eruption sweeping them away

On the lip of a volcano

By J.M.Coetzee

Some 40 miles from Cape Town, on the fringe of the wine-farming region of the Cape Province, lies Stellenbosch, the second-oldest town in South Africa. Though it is the seat of a major university, Stellenbosch is not a notably liberal place. Its students are wellbehaved, its white voters have always stood firmly behind the -National Party, which has held power since 1948. Liberals have. gained no footing here, but then neither has the ultra-right.

A few months ago, the highway between Cape Town and Stellen-bosch was effectively closed: bands of black and coloured mixed-race - youths hung about overpasses to stone cars. Burning barricades sometimes blocked the road; on bad days even the airport, which lies along this route, could be reached only under police

Today, as I drive out to Stellenbosch, the highway is reputed to be safe. I pass an armoured troop carrier parked under a tree. A soldier, crouched on the embankment, stares at something through hinoculars. From the vicinity of the Crossroads squatter camp, an illegal shanty town that bas been the scene of recent violence, a pillar of yellow smoke rises into the air. The sun blazes down. All is quiet on this southern front, hy South African standards.

1.3

I am on my way to meet some of the citizens of Stellenbosch, strangers as yet to me, to hear how they feel about what is going on in our country. My mind is open, I am ready to be surprised.

A week ago, in the village of Greytown, I overheard a farmer, a fat apoplectic-looking man in khakis, everyone's notion of the brutal slavemaster. "P.W. Botha and his promises", be growled. "If he won't put up, he should shut up." (The Afrikaans idiom he used was a good deal cruder than the English version.) If, even in the somnolent remoter valleys, Afrikaners were irritated by the snail's pace of change, how much bolder might they not be nearer the big

As I will discover, the people I interview do not conform to the reigning stereotype of the Afrika-ner. They do not speak contempuously of blacks. They are not notably intolerant in their attitudes, heartless in their conduct or indolent in their daily life. They seem not to bear the worst marks of apartheid, a doctrine and a set of social practices that scars the moral being of whites as it degrades and demeans blacks. Whether they can be said to be representative of their three million compatriots — in other words, of 60 per cent of South Africa's whites — I do not know. They all identify themselves as Afrikaners, but their allegiances seem to lie as much with the broad South African middle class as with the Afrikaner tribe. In this respect they are typical of the generation born after 1948, a generation that, having grown up under Afrikaner hegemony, can afford to be more self-assured, less belligerently na-tionalistic than their fathers.

Indeed, I am struck above all by the calm of those I interview. They do not talk like people perched on the lip of a volcano. All of them believe the world around them is changing land should be changing faster), but nowhere dn they seem to envisage an eruption of change that might sweep them away. Yet they live in country seething with black anger, and at war on its borders. Has the ring of steel around the black townships fosleted in them an unreal sense of security, a culnable ignorance, a foolish calm? Or do they in truth have darker fears than they are the truth, or have they chosen to engage in acts of self-presentation

I put the question, yet it seems to me falsely pur. How often in our lives does the muth of ourselves, the whole and unmixed truth. emerge? Are we not routinely engaged in acts of self-presenta tion, acts which it would be excessively puritanical to condemn as insincere? Surely, getting to know the truth of another person, we neither accept nor reject his self-presentations, but read them, as best we can, in whatever context we can summon up. A few hours of conversation will not give us privileged access to "The Afrikaner": it would be naive to expect that. What we texts of four lives, fragments of the text of a national discourse.

n one of the pleasanter Africa's west coast, where her father kept a store, she married an academic, settled in Stellenbosch, paints in her spare time. But she still hankers for the desolate westcoast landscape: when she goes there on holiday, she takes her children on long rambles in the veld to teach them the plant-lore she learned as a child.

common tongue, the language of most of rural South Africa. Like everyone else I speak to, Kaffie Pretorius is depressed about the failing economy, about accelerating inflation and the collapse of the South African currency, which has led in only a few months to a doubling in the prices of imported goods, including petrol. Yet, to my surprise, she observes that these economic woes may not be such a bad thing: "For the first time, Whites are truly affected - for the first time they must think serious-ly about the future." And then, after a pause: "How did we think we could hold on to all of this?" She waves a hand to embrace her spacious hame, the prosperous neighbourhood, and beyond it the town of Stellenbosch, surrounded by thousands of acres of farmland.
"How did we ever think we could hold on in it?"

the feeling behind them. Perhaps one can be so naked only with strangers. Yet afterwards I wonder whether I would not have been equally touched, though in a different way, had she lamented: from us?" Is it a good idea to indulge, in oneself or anyone else, these fits of voluptuous self-recrimination? "Things go in phases", she resumes. "We are the the adjustment. Our children will find it easier. Already, children find it easier to relate to colnured friends than we ever did."

In what spheres of life, I ask, are edjust? First, education. When welcome them." I am struck, as we talk, by how vague and shifting her fears are, and by how typical she is of most whites in this respect. At nne moment, she envisages a future social order much like the present one, though without the racial laws. At other moments, she-ready to divulge? Are they telling for an audience of strangers?

white suburbs, I meet Kaffie Pretorius, an attractive matronly woman in her 30s. Brought up in Lambert's Bay, on South

We speak in Afrikaans, our

I have no reply. I am touched by her words; by their suddenness, by How can they take all this away generation that will have in make whites going to find it hardest to schools are integrated, standards drop. It's unfortunate, but it's a fact. Look at Zimbabwe. Second. neighbours." Wnuld she personal-ly mind black or coloured neighbours? "Not at all", she replies. "If a hlack family could afford to move in next door, I would existence as an unwelcome guest in the land of her birth. It is one of the bitterest consequences of the decades-long suppression of black dissent that ordinary whites now not only have no one with whom to imagine negotiating their future, but have not the vaguest idea of what blacks might be prepared to settle for.

"Our women are the worst",

Kaffie Pretorius remarks. "It is because domestic belp is so easy to get. Utter idleness. They get into their cars in the morning and drive around aimlessly all day. If they are the most conservative, it is because they have the most to

Does she herself have a servant, and how have interpersonal relations been during the present unrest? "Martha is going to have a baby soon, which has led us to talk to each other more openly. It strikes me how hard we find it to think our way into the life nur

heat, living in a corrugated steel

After lunch, some teenage friends of the family stop by. They have just written their schoolleaving examinations. For the boys, the choice is whether to enrol in university and postpone military service or go into the army. I ask whether they have any doubts about serving in Namihia (still called South West Africa hy most White South Africans), or patrolling South Africa's Black townships. No. they reply: one must be prepared in make sacrifices for one's country. All the same, they are cynical about South Africa's occupation of Namihia and its professed aims there (to protect the right of the territory to self-determination). As for the strife at home, they agree that blacks should be given more freedom but then, says one of them, Dawid, whites should have freedom 100, freedom in found a should be, thinking he will propose some tiny spartan colony on the Orange River. "The Transvaal, the Orange Free State, and northern Natal", he replies, naming a vast area containing perhaps three-quarters of South Africa's economic resources. "Our forefathers shed enough blood for those parts of the country in justify our claim to them." He speaks the language, arrogantly possessive, of the enduring right-wing dream of a national homeland where the Afrikaner will be left to run his affairs without interference, and where blacks will face a clear and simple choice: In stay nn as rightless, wage-earning sojourners, or to pack their bags and seek their salvation elsewhere.

Dawid's friends shake their heads and smile. Clearly they don't take him seriously. As for Dawid, his face is inscrutable. Does he believe in what he says, nr the Afrikaner's mask of dourness. Is Dawid a joker? "What are your ambiunns?" I ask bim. "To qualify as a clinical psychologist and then go into a career in politics", be replies. "I travel widely, I talk to many people", says Michiel le Roux. "I would say that, down to the smallest town in South Africa, there is a perception that things have changed, totally and drasti-cally, 1985 has left a mark on everyone. There is an awareness that the country is in a crisis, and this cuts across boundaries of age, class, language.

"Nn one thinks we need only take a few deep breaths for things in go back to normal, as they did in 1977", he says, referring to the 1976-77 uprisings in Soweto that shook the country for 18 months. For this reason it has become possible for a strung leader to take South Africa in a direction that would have been unthinkable in 1984. Anything is thinkable in 1986, provided that the leadership is strong enough."

e Rnux, a graduate in law, is at the age of 36 an executive in a Stellenbosch-based liquor company. We meet in his spacinus office overlooking a courtyard in which stands an disused wooden winepress, tall as a house.

Does the strong leadership be refers to exist? "Nn, clearly it doesn't. President Botha gave strong leadership - stronger than nne expected - up to a certain point. Then he faltered. The issue nver which he faltered was resi-dential segregation. The feeling that we are directionless is widespread. People have un feeling nf being nn the road in anywhere. If the last year has been a year of crisis, how has the crisis manifested itself in this quiet, civilized town with its oak-lined streets and painstakingly restored 18th-century houses? Race relations are good, or seem to be, Michiel replies. He is conscinus of no hostility when he visits coloured areas, calls for a boycott of white business have met with little success. Yet, he concedes, it is quite possible that he is deluded. A coloured school principal warned him of a "tremendous level of aggression" just beneath the surface. What more can he say? One can report only what one sees.

Where we go from here neither of us is sure. I remember the soldiers I passed on the highway,

the smoke over the shanty towns.

Which is the true face of South Africa - Crassroads, hurning, or

Siellenbosch, nn the surface so placid? Months agn, I remember, nn a quiet Sunday afternoon, I cycled through this tnwn. "Amandia! (Pnwer!)", shnuted a vnice behind me. I glanced around. A man, nni black, but colnured, waved a fist at me from the pavement. "Amandla!" he shnuted again, in case I had misunderstnod him. Was his the true hidden face of Stellenbosch? We talk about foreign sterotypes of the Afrikaner. Michiel shrugs them off. "Stereotypes are always a generation nut of date - that is their nature." Would he regard himself as a representative modern Afrikaner? "It is curious how a society changes", he replies. "It is like a child growing day by day you see no difference, then all of a sudden the child is grown up. For Afrikaners of my generation, born after 1948, the nld issues have never really had relevance. It is a questinn of self-confidence. The Afrikaner's language is no longer threatened. He rules the land. The things that matter to him today are the same things that matter to an American, and Englishman, a German: his children, his job, his salary, his car, his buliday. He has been absorbed into a cultural pattern that is basically American.

"If you ask me to put my finger on anything that is different from a political point of view about the Afrikaner I would say it is simply that he tends in be 20 nr 30 years behind the times. Take racial discrimination. Before World War , racial discrimination was a fact nf life all over the West. The West came to realize that it was wrong. Now it is gradually becoming accepted here that you don't judge Continued on page 18, col 1

Good neighbour: Kaffie Pretorius would welcome a black family next door - if they could afford it

مركدًا من للما

Railway line that ran out of steam

As a large-scale

inquiry into British Rail's threat to close the Settle-Carlise line gets under way, Richard North reports on the battle

In the week before the hearing that will decide its future, traffic was brisk on one of England's most beautiful railway lines. The Misses Temple, tweeded enthusiasts, their feet comfortably nestled on newspaper on the opposite seat, were headed for Batty Wife Moss Viaduct (rechristened during its making The Ribblehead Viaduct), on the Settle-Carlisle line: they were going to

We had been passing high moorland with the mountains of the Lake District to the west and the North Pennines to the east. Snow was braving it out wherever the lie of land gave it shadowy sanctuary. Wherever the terrain was too bleak for the spring lambs. there were walkers.

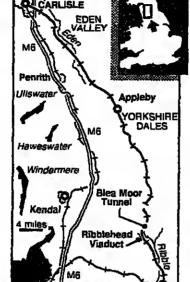

"We came on this train to see the Liverpool garden festival", said Kathleen Temple. "There were primroses and cowslips all the way: it was lovely." Her sister Nancy leant forward to insist that surely the chief glory must be the Appleby Horse fair. The gypsies come to town, from everywhere. They have races in the street".

Appleby is bang in the middle of the line, and may see its last train next year when - if - Britisb Rail succeeds in closing this monument to capitalism, tenacity (hundreds of deaths occurred among the 6.000 navvies who camped in shanties during its making), and engineering genius. It is at Appleby that the Transport Users Consultative Committee hearings into the closure plans began last

The line was a typical creation of the high railway building period (it was opened in 1876) in which companies battled with each other for routes. It had been proposed as an alternative route from the northern cities to Scotland, more as a way of persuading the Midland Railway's competitors to allow better access to their track than as a serious venture. Parliament would not let the company back down from its plans when the bluff succeeded in its original

And so, for 72 miles the Long Drag, as it is called, triumphantly hauls its way into the hills and on the way includes 325 bridges. 21

viaducts and 14 tunnels. The jewel in its crown is the Ribolehead Viaduct: 104 feet high, 440 yards long, its 24 arches make it the York Minster of the piece. It needs a lot of money spent on it.

The line is part of the extensive "Provincial" (non-Inter City) network of BR, which includes some wonderfully lovely lines in Scotland, the Cumbrian coast, Wales and East Anglia. Enthusiasts dream of a day when they constitute a secondary network of scenic routes, timed and promoted as a prime tourist attraction for rich tourists and walkers, that vast army of car-weary Green Tourists which the Countryside Commission has identified as an enormous growth point in the Britisb

THE SALESMAN

Ron Cutton is the BR official nverseeing the closure. As the man who spearbeaded BR's Inter City Sav-ers, which are largely credited with its successful expansion of business in the face of deregulated coach competition, he is a past-master of marketing. Under his management, the Settle-Carlisle line has seen a spectacular growth in business: traffic has doubled in the last three years, and it now covers its day-today costs, and thus outperforms the average for the rest of the "Provincial" network, in which trains mure normally cover half their direct costs. "Two for the price of one" deals, and even a Live Aid month, have brought the line meny fans.

"The problem is that the line needs an injection of capital, and needs it now", he says. "Over the next decade or two, it needs capital expenditure of perhaps £13 million. More immediately, we certainly need something like £5 millinn in the next three years, of which The Ribblehead Viaduct alone needs between £2.6 and £3 million to keep it going for 15 vears or so."

BR is expected to run its rural lines as a social service, under Public Service Obligation arrangements which allow it subsidy on rontes where nn profit is expected. It has been getting rather more imaginative in its management and marketing of some scenic routes, and a package of improvements for such routes (of the kind already announced for the Central Wales line) is due in the next month. It has found that tourist-conscious local authorities will often conperate in funding lines, but the sheer scale of capital required for Settle-Carlisle seems to bave daunted BR. The formal consultation process for closing lines hinges on TUCC hearings, and these are supposed to focus on social hardship, not tourist potential.

Marketing wizard: Ron Cotton

The Settle Carlisle Joint Action

Committee bas amassed an impressive body of enthusiasm and economic analysis around its case to keep the line. "There are young people leaving school today who have never been on a train", Peter Horton, its secretary, says. "I'd like to get them bere and show them this line. They'll be voting on transport issues soon. It's remarkable the way the whole of northern society is fighting for this line. We have MPs of all parties fighting tooth and nail for it."

THE BATTLE LINES THE INNOVATOR

Colin Speakman is the ex-teacher who devised Dales Rail, a coordinated rail-and-bus network which since 1974 has brought thousands of people to the region during the summer months using the Settle-Carlisle line and specially and temporarily reopened sta-tions along its length.

The collapse of bus services in this region has made the train even more important but it's tourism which can provide the growth point, with local people getting the benefit of investment intended to develop it. You know. it's not the wealth in steel track that matters. It's ideas. It's entrepreneurship that will save this line and others like it".

As a pioneer of new public transport techniques, he worked for a time with the Yorkshire Dales National Park and then moved to the West Yorkshire

Campaign fighter: Peter Horton

THE SETTLE CARLISLE JOINT ACTION GROUP

Several people are already making plans in the hope that the closure doesn't happen. One such body is Cumbria county council, whose transport planner Peter Robinson says: "We think we have a workable solution to part of the public transport problem for the region".
He is hopeful that the local

Transport pioneer: Colm Speakman

County Council, which will cease to exist next month. Now be has set up his own firm, Transport for Leisure, to foster his ideas; a sign of the way private sector initia-tives may be coming to the aid of public transport.

THE AUTHORITIES

authorities can bring off a scheme first mooted by Eden district council and club together to give BR a contract to run commuter stopping trains to stations between Skipton and Carlisle, some of which have been opened only occasionally since the early 1970s. and some not at all.

BR have said they would run the service for £150,000. Local authorities would keep any profit.

THE TOURIST BOARD

THE TIMETABLE

"There has been a big increase in the use of beautiful lines by firms running glamorous trains", says Hayda Marris, development manager for Cumbria Tourist Board, "We've already seen the Trade and Industry Committee of the House of Commons saying tourism accounts for over half of all national spending on transport national spending on transport and that maybe 15 per cent of foreign tourists travel by train at some time during their stay.

They said that BR needed separate funding for tourist development. They also said this: 'Providing for courism is not an optional extra for the railways."

GOVERNMENT ROLE

When the TUCC's report is in, transport minister Nicholas Rid-ley will publish a decision letter which may be the first chance the objectors to closure will have to examine BR's financial case. But the decision will not be made merely on the narrow social need" criteria: it will take account of BR's wider obligation to tourism and the national heritage.

Lord Young at the Department of Employment leads the Government's tourism brief, shared with Trade and Industry. He has already declared his conviction that railways and tourism go hand in hand. With the Department of the Environment it is believed that they could coordinate government and private have enough faith to believe that we can work out a solution'

On the lip of a volcano

Continued from page 17 a person on the basis of skin colour.

If Afrikaners have been swallowed into an American life style. is the same future in store for blacks? "The black man is oppressed in his own country. That is why, at the moment, it is important for bim to assert his own culture - black art, black writing, black theatre. But the American cultural current is very strong. Ultimately, black theatre doesn't stand a chance against Dallas. It is Dallas that blacks will prefer to

"It is striking what a hold western values have taken among blacks, values like freedom of choice, freedom of speech, freedom of assembly. Who knows, perhaps blacks will guard these values all the more jealously because they have been denied them so long. On the other hand, if black liberation comes only after a long military struggle, we may have a military cast of mind imposed over everthing - military discipline, military organiza-African countries. It is a matter of how the transition takes place."

next stop is at "Boland" Coetzee, the former Springbok rugby interna-tional. Whether Jan Boland has beard of me I doubt: be is not much of a novel-reading man. But I have seen him play rugby scores of times, and can make a fair guess at his approach to life; hard work, no nonsense. We quickly compare genealogies and establish that, like so many Afrikaners, we are probably distant relations.

For our interview he conducts me into the cavernous cellars of bis wine-farm. In a subterranean hush, we sit down to talk. How is apartheid faring in the countryside, I ask."Apartheid has never been a word in my book" he replies. It was only when he left the farm where he grew up that he first experienced it. For a while he muses: "Apartheid has created a gulf between people. We no longer know each other. Also, we whites have simply appropriated things for ourselves, leaving the blacks and coloureds to do the producing. It is not just. It is not a healthy state of affairs. He is not, strictly speaking, answering my question, and knows it I understand the difficully he is having. Like me he was born in the twilight of a centuriesold feudal order in which the rights and duties of masters and servants seemed to be a matter of unspoken convention, and in which a mixture of personal intimacy and social distance - a mixture characteristic of societies with a slaveholding past - per-vaded all dealings. To whites brought up in this old order, the codification of social relations into the system of racial laws known as apartheid always seemed gross and unnecessary, the brainchild of academic ideologies and upstart politicians.

Co-existence: Lydia Roos foresees a South Africa of many tribes

So for Jan Boland Coetzee to shake his head over apartheid, yet look back nostalgically to an age when everyone knew his place, by no means proves him a hypocrite. though I suspect he forgets the iron hand needed to keep the old order running.

Coetzee is known not only as a winemaker, but for his part in the movement among progressive farmers to improve labour relations in the countryside. The age of the average farm labourer in South Africa, he tells me, is 52 vears. Two generations of workers have quit white farms to seek their fortunes in the cities. In another generation, there will be no one left to till the soil. Therefore he has striven to create an exemplary environment on his own farm that will draw younger coloured men back to the land: decent wages. productivity incentives, comfortable housing, health care, recreational opportunities. "During the present unrest we have found many younger coloured people wanting to come back to the farm simply in order to be part of an ordered little community with civilized standards and a regular routine. For years we farmers were preoccupied with land and capital. Now we have begun to pay attention to people again, and the result is a change in attitudes that cannot be described - it truly has to be experienced."

There is a certain utopianism in the vision he projects of a rural order based on small, rationally organized labouring communities. Utopian less because his brand of upliftment does not work - it clearly does, within its self-imposed limits - than because it draws much of its attraction from somewhat sentimentalized memories of a feudal past. Farmers like Coetzee reject such vast centralized blueprints for the future as Hendrik Verwoerd's "Grand Apartheid" in favour of smallscale, independent, pragmatic losolutions. As long as the politicians (and perhaps the police too) will leave us alone. Coetzee seems to be saying, we country folk can find ways to live harmoniously together. In much of the talk rife among more progressive whites today, the same spirit is to be detected loss of faith in large-scale national policies, impatience with red tape, readiness for ad hoc approaches to local problems. The irony is that this is precisely the moment in history when black South Africans are grouping together in larger and larger political blocs and black leaders prepared to limit discussion to merely local issues are proving harder and harder to find. Only the darkest cynic would the social upliftment of their work-force has not been sincerely intended. While their workers are well-housed, the Coetzees themselves live in a cramped bungalow - renovation of the old farmstead is barely underway. Nevertheless, looking towards the future, one may ask whether marriage will ever be possible between the kind of enlightened paternalism they stand for and the egalitarian black nationalism claim that the effort Jan Boland

Coetzee and bis wife have put into sweeping across the land. When I ask Jan Boland what be thinks the effect will be on this part of the country, once restrictions on black mobility ("influx control") bave been lifted, be is dismissive: "There is no tradition of blacks living in the Western Cape", he says. True, but only because the law has been brought to bear to keep hlacks out.

Can Jan Boland imagine circumstances that would make him quit South Africa? Vehemently, he shakes his head. "Never. I stay. I have enough faith in my countrymen, black, white and coloured, to believe we can work out a solution. I can't believe that South Africans are such bad people as the Americans and the rest say." He tells a story of how, while touring France with the Springboks, be found himself in a bus with some American tourists. They asked us what language we were speaking and we told them it was Afrikaans. They had never heard of such a language, they didn't even know there were such people as Afrikaners. Well, now they know. What I mean to say is rather be proud of your language than your skin colour. As for the norms of the so-called civilized world, we will live those norms, not just talk about them."

ou must understand that I am a believing Christian", says Lydia Roos. "I can't sit here and despair. can't say there is no future for us. I can't say it is too late. Because things bave begun to change. But we must move faster. Whether the government under-stands this. I don't know. . ."

Wake-up call: Michiel le Roux says white attitudes have changed

Lydia Roos is a domestic science teacher in a bigh school. We meet in ber home in an unpretentious white suburb of Cape Town. The schools have just closed for the summer holidays. It has been a hard year. We all ache for relief. But the end is not in sight. "December 16 Martyrs Day" reads an ominous sign daubed on a wall in the town.

Under the writing is a picture of a neat little bouse like the one in which we sit, with flames licking around it. "We are going to bave to make sacrifices", she says. "Prices are rising all the time. Yet if high prices mean that farm workers will at last get a good wage, maybe it's a good thing."

A drop in living standards: will that be the extent of white sacrifice? What of social anartheid? Is she prepared to see the neighbourhood opened up? There is no hesitation in her reply: Absolutely Coloureds, blacks: if they can afford it let them come and live here."

Her readiness to jettison the Group Areas Act, which enforces segregation of housing marks Lydia as, in her word, verlig, enlightened. Her vision of the future, she says, is of a South Africa in which there will be many tribes, white and black, none in a position of dominance each maintaining its own cultural

"We will keep our boerekos, our Afrikaner dishes, just as the Indians have kept their curry." I am dubious. Is the struggle in South Africa not about more than the preservation of national cuisines? What of the realities of

"I think we will end up with a federal system", she says. "Provinces with local self-government, and a national government over them. The Western Cape should be one province, with Cape Town as its capital. I don't know about the Eastern Cape - that is a matter for the blacks." Will whites elsewhere in the country, living in the midst of yast black majorities, not see her prescription as a form of smug isolationalism that only the Western Cape, with its small black African population, can afford? She smiles. "Perhaps", she concedes. "I see my brother once a year. He lives in Pretoria. After the first day or two we don't talk politics any more. We disagree too much. But families don't break up over questions of politics. We bave ways of living with our differences."

I think of the poet Breyten Breytenbach and his brother, an officer in the security forces, who do not speak to each other, of the many friendships I have seen break up under the stresses of the past year. Is it uncharitable to think that Lydia and her brother do not yet disagree enough? Have her verlig leanings brought ber into conflict with other Afrikaners? No, she replies, but she finds she has lost respect for colleagues who are absolutely unsympathetic to black aspirations. "Within myself I doubt their integrity. Opregtheid - uprightness, integrity - is a keyword for her. It measures the distance between professed Christian faith and dayto-day practice. Her parents have worked all their lives in the Mission Church, the branch of the Dutch Reformed Church that ministers to coloured people. She is a regular church-goer, and on Thursday evenings runs needlework classes for black domestic servants. "We must each do our bit", she says.

At school, among the teenagers she teaches, she encounters little spirit of conciliation: "They talk only of shooting the troublemakers", she says. "It hurts me, that kind of talk. They pick it up from each other, or they hear it at home. The school I teach at draws on a less-prosperous neighbourhood. In the better paris of the town you will probably find a more thinking attitude. But signs of the unrest are all around us: buses with broken windows, sirens all the time, helicopters overhead, Blacks singing freedom songs in the streets. You can't expect children not to be affected.

"I taught in a coloured school for a while. I went back for a visit. When I taught there I had good. relations with the children, open relations. Now things have changed. The old openness has gone. Hostility? I wouldn't call it personal hostility, though I couldn't help hearing remarks passed behind my back. But bostility toward the system - yes, definitely.

"I remember, during my time there, there was never any celebration of our national day, no singing of the national anthem. I suppose one can understand that The anthem has certain Afrikaner connotations: the line about the creaking ox-wagon and so forth. But I love the anthem. To some extent it is our fault that they won't sing it. But still

John) M.Coetzee, the South African academic and novelist, has written four books. The most recent, Life and Times of Michael K. won the Booker McConnell Prize in 1983, Aged 46, he'll Professor of General Literature at the University of Cape Town

FOLLOWING THE CLEARANCE, HERE ARE THE ARGUMENTS FOR ACCEPTANCE.

The Guinness offer for Distillers has now been cleared by the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry.

The Guinness best offer is worth 713p per Distillers share. The Argyll best and final offer is worth 697p per Distillers share. The Guinness offer is better by 16p.

Guinness and Distillers will form an enterprise of world scale, in terms of both its size and its activities. It will be one of the 15 largest companies in Britain and one of the top 70 in the world.

With a market value of over £3 billion it will be worth more than 1% of all the U.K. companies quoted on the stock market.

The current Guinness management team has a proven track record in turning around a drinks business and establishing sustained growth.

In the last four years earnings per share have risen by 169%, dividends have risen by 47% and the share price has shown an almost six-fold increase.

5 Like Guinness, the core assets of the Distillers company are its premium international brands.

As a result the Guinness management team is uniquely equipped to rationalise, manage and build Distillers business around the world.

We recommend acceptance of the Guinness offer by Distillers shareholders.

GUINNESS PLC

Guinness is good for Distillers.

Vhen you're the fastest micro around-People talk!

Not only does this machine leave the AT for dead in terms of performance, it also undercuts it by up to a staggering £1600 without even taking into account bundled software. The XEN offers incredible value for money, particularly considering its speed. Its response to commands is buy. almost instantaneous and loading software seems to take a fraction of the time taken by more What Micro? - December 1985 mundane micros.

As the benchmarks show, in terms of processing power and disk accessing, the XEN is a superb piece of engineering which can outrun most things on the market. For computationally intensive applications it looks to be a very good Practical Computing-January 1986

The Apricot XEN is a pleasure to use. It's fast and effective-showing off both the 80286 built-in processor and Windows software to their best advantage... This is the best machine the company has ever produced.

It was the speed of the system which impressed me the most... you can forget just how much work the machine is really having to do. PCW-January 1986

There's a lot of talk about the new Apricot XEN. Experts, normally restrained in their praise, are becoming unusually enthusiastic.

Phrases like "in a league of its own" and "incredible value for money" are being used. So why is Apricot XEN so special?

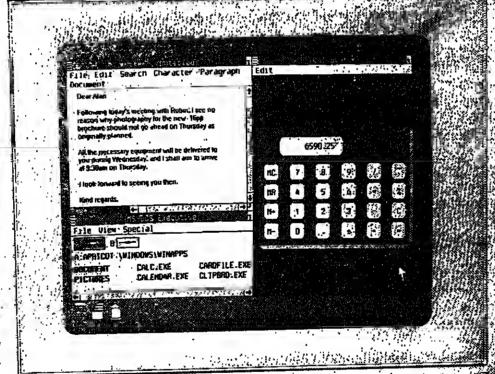

Because of its astonishing performance, for one thing. Apricot XEN has come out on top in every test so far. In an article measuring computer power, the Guardian decided that something called "processor memory bandwidth" was the most accurate yardstick. Naturally, Apricot XEN achieved the highest score, even beating one of the leading minicomputer systems to the mark.

And when you look at XEN's storage capabilities, it's clear that they are just as impressive as its processing power.

XEN's disk drives have broken all the benchmark records too. So whether its the XEN FD with twin 720K floppy drives, or the XEN HD with a 20

And if, as the gentleman of the press say, the XEN floppy disks are faster than the IBM hard disk, caught the imagination of the computer industry is how little this powerful

With multi-tasking Microsoft Windows as standard, a twin floppy disk XEN FD with 512K of RAM and a monitor can cost as little as £2494. while the XEN HD with a 720K floppy drive, 20 Megabyte hard disk and a full 1 Megabyte of RAM is an astonishing £3494.

When Apricof offers this kind of value, the competition will have to take a long look at their own prices - if they expect you even to glance at them.

Choosing even the basic XEN configuration can mark the beginning of a long and fruitful partnership. The memory of an Apricot XEN can be expanded to 5 Megabytes. You can add a second 20 Megabyte hard disk. Soon, telephone and modern communications, and even an expansion box to make use of specialist IBM cards, will be available. as will a tape cartridge back-up system.*

And XEN's open architecture means it can run on Apricot Networks, and even run as a multi-user system under the Xenix operating system.

Expansion facilities like these will keep an Apricot XEN user sweet for a long time to come. And so will the back-up. Only the top Apricot dealers and ComputerWorlds are allowed to sell XEN, so you will always have access to professional

> To find out more fill in the coupon or call us on Freefone Apricot (via the operator) and we'll send you a free brochure. Enough said?

Roc

The only alternative is to pay more for less

Please send me a free information pack on the Apricot XEN. To Apricot UK Limited, FREEPOST Halesowen. West Midlands, B63 IBR. Position Company

Approx XP IBM compatible expansion box and telephone available Spring 1986. All prices ex-VXI

Why a little-known Victorian fantasy garden is in danger of disappearing for good

Egyptian style: the tunnel, guarded by sphinxes, leads to the ground floor of an ornate cottage, part of the extraordinary Staffordshire gardeo created by James Bateman in 1842

A paradise that may be lost

er, acquired a farmhouse surrounded by swampy fields on the edge of inhospitable Biddulph Moor, in north Staffordshire. Within a few years he had huilt himself a magnificent Italianate mansion, Biddulph Grange, Within the aid of a friend, Edward Cooke, marine painter and garden designer, he then created an extraordinary pleasure garden covering 15 acres.

So bizarre was the garden that in its day it attracted considerable attention. Six articles describing its rich and imaginative fantasy appeared in The Gardener's Chronicle in 1856 followed by five in 1862.

Today only a handful of people know the garden. Biddulph Grange remained in private hands until 1922, when it became a hospital Now the estate is to be sold and itsvery existence is under threat. The West Midlands Regional Health Authority, which has done its best to maintain the spirit of the garden in the face of mounting vandalism and the inevitable effects of time, has closed the hospital, putting both the buildings and gardens on the market.

Bids are in and if the remnants of this historically important garden are not to be swept away we must all hope that the successful offer is that from the National Trust, which considers that Biddulph Grange possesses the best surviving example of a mid-Victorian garden. It is certainly a garden of great diversity and of immense fun, with many secret enclosures. The trust doubts whether any other owner would have the resources or interest to restore it. When Bateman started the garden he imported tons of earth and rock

o 1842 James Bateman, soo of which he used to create miniature a wealthy engineer and bank-hills and dales with long, serpentine hills and dales with long, serpentine ridges. He planted this troy contained landscape with conifers and deciduous trees which sheltered great belts of rhododendrons. He created a grassy terrace flanked by yew hedges in froot of the house, dropping to a small lake. But it is beyond this lake that the true theatre of Bateman's garden can be found.

Lost within what has now become a mutinous growth of trees, a network of narrow paths leads between rocky outcrops to the Chinese garden. Here, beyond a scaled-down Wall of China - complete with watchtower - Bateman built a temple on the edge of a small Worlds away in style though only pool, over which he constructed a yards away in reality is the Egyptian small hump-backed bridge. Up-court sculpted from ancient yews eoded in the water he placed two and guarded by four souchant huge pieces of rock and to the side he sphinzes. The eourance becomes a made a courtyard overlooked by a tuooel which leads to the ground great red sculpted ball. The whole set floor of a tiny ornate cottage. Tucked piece is stumbled upon quite by in a gloomy ante-chamber is a squat chance and the effect is startling.

> corrage opens on to a pinetum and curving path which leads off to acother dark tuocel. Alongside the Egyptian court is the mile long walk, leading oway from the house as straight as a die. This narrow path is encroached upon by solid huttresses of yew and eventually opens into a small roodel which houses a vast stooe um which stands a good 10ft high. On all sides visual puns can be found while at oo point within the garden can the whole be taken io at a glance. All this survives today, if a little worse for wear. Much of the delicate frighten and surprise the visitor. The woodwork has gone from the Chioese garden and much of the massive stonework has moved. The stoo lintels in Egypt may have cracked and the cottage become a slum. But the essence of Batemao's garden is still there, bloated and mature, and could quickly be restored and saved. The National Trust is ready to do this. But it is, a spokesman says, very much oo teoterhooks until April 16. On that date the successful bid will be announced. If the Notional Trust is chosen oo immediate appeal will be launehed and recovation work begun. Guided tours of the garden, which is unique in this country, will be evailable from early this summer.

All hands to the trowel

Britain's archaeological sites are threatened. David Lovibond explains how the gifted amateur can help

Io the years before the Great War "barrow digging" was n popular entertainment with weekend house parties. Archaeology was, like cricket, a fort, and the Saxon defences at Cricklade.

In Dorset the archaeology is in a state of crisis. Roger Peers, Curator of the Dorset pursuit for geotlemeo amateurs — the professionals were the navvies who did all the heavy work. But the past 20 or 30 years have seen n rapid decline in the amateur role.

Excavotion has entailed increasingly complex and expensive techniques that have made the ascendancy of the professional archaeologist inevitable. Sadly though, many archaeologists nppear reinc-tant to allow amateurs even a supporting role. Bryn Walters, the Executive Director of the Roman Research Trust at Littlecote in Wiltsbire, says: There is o fear that amateurs will lose a lot of evidence they are incapable of recognizing.

There is, however, considerable evidence that professional archaeologists lack both the 'Appalling destruction

manpower and the strategy to deal with the growing threat to England's archaeology. En-glish Heritage, the government's statutory advisers on archaeology, has esti-mated that England has around 600,000 archaeological "items", only about 2 per cent of them scheduled as ancieot monumeots - that is, regarded by English Heritage as meriting state protection. And although English Heritage an-nounced this month a "schedaliog cohaocemeot programme" which aims to increase the figure to 10 per cent, scheduling is no guarantee of a site's survival. Io theory n farmer or developer must receive permission from the Department of the Envi-ronment before doing anything likely to affect o scheduled monument. If he goes ohead regardless be is liable to prosecution; but according to Dai Morgan-Evans, an inspector of ancient moonments for English Heritage, "a convictioo is very difficult to achieve, it being necessary to prove the farmer knew be was damaging a protected mooumeot". Dorset and Wiltshire have land of British archaeology" and it is in these two counties that the devastating effect of intensive farming on ancient landscapes has been most opparent. Wiltshire has about 13,500 archaeological items of which 1,500 are currently schedoled. The county's Li-brary and Museum Service estimates that only half the scheduled monuments have been properly surveyed, and securiog a comprehensive op to 20 per cent have either record of England's vanishing been destroyed or seriously archoeology. This groud damaged. Examples include endcavour calls for a revival of

Peers, Curator of the Dorset County Museum, comments: "In the past 30 years I have seen the most appalling destruction of sites, including scheduled monuments like the Broadmayne - Long Bredy barrow group and the Celtic sites in the Piddle Valley." Other major losses include the neulithic camps on Hambledon Hill and the interiors of nearly all the hill-forts

Throughout England the picture is much the same: the reat and humble remains of the past endangered by urban development, mineral extraction and intensive agriculture. As Mr Morgao-Evans makes clear, excavation is irresistible for many archaeologists. "It is infuriating that so many professional archaeologists are preoccupied by rescue excava-tion (digging sites in advance of destruction) and seem nowilling to become involved in the management of sites." Site management, according to Mr Morgan-Evans, includes "the cootrol of stock levels to avoid erosion, vermin cootrol and scrub clearance".

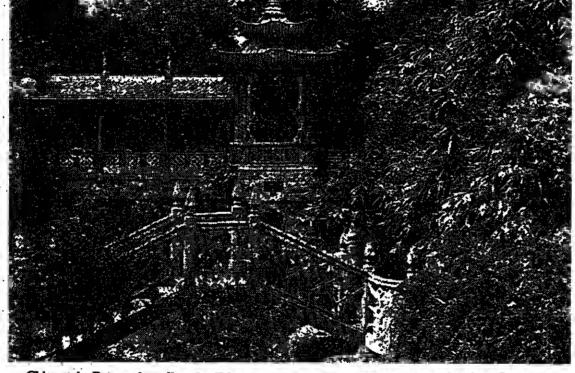

As well as managing indi-vidual sites Jan Wills, the Gloucester County County Archaeologist, believes "archaeologists should put far greater effort into preserving archaeological landscapes and edocating farmers as to the importance of doing so". Peter Marsden, an archaeologist with the Moseum of Loodon, also thinks that "much more work has to be pot into the sorvey and interpretation of the many thousands of ordi-nary sites about which very little is presently known".

The Hampshire County Council has introduced a scheme which other coanties

'Infuriating professionals

mlgbt consider: "countryside beritage sites" are monuments of considerable local importance bot are not scheduled. As such they have no statutory protection but Malcolm Oake, an archaeologist with the nty Council, feels designation poblicizes the valae of the sites and helps to gain the landowner's cooperatioo".

Most of these strategies are ooly feasible with the help of amateurs. As Mr Hogh Seymour, President of the Wiltshire Archaeological aod Natural History Society, says, "It is vital that the main professional effort is aimed at Michael Young the North Down barrow group; the role of the taleoted ama-

China style: Bateman's replica of a Chinese temple. Nearby is a scaled-down model of the Great Wall

Rock's tomboy turns cowgirl

When Suzi Quatro opens oext bass guitar. "We were one of month in the title role of those families who would get Annie Get Your Gun at the Chichester Festival Theatre, it will be the culmination of a costume like a proper show."

lifetime's unwitting preparaHer flapper girl rendering of tion for the part. Ever since Five Foot Two with her younthe world's greatest woman rock singer first learned at school about the world's greatest woman rifle shot, she knew they were two of a kind.

"Annie Oakley's character is exactly the same as mine", drawls 35-year-old Suzi. "Like me she was a tomboy who played with guns, a woman in a man's world. She was a plucky little girl with a very soft streak - definitely a

The fact that she will be taking on the classic Irving Berlin role created on Broadway by the legendary Ethel Merman without ever having learnt to act worries her not.
"Life has been my teacher"

she scoffs, as Anuie herself might. "Betcha nobody's done quite as much living as me, neither. I've been on the road for 22 years. If you can't learn in that time you ain't ever goin' to learn anything."

Besides, she has acted before the serious of the

Besides, she has acted before — 15 episodes as the scruffy reform school graduate, Leather Tuscadero, in television's Happy Days, and guest appearances in Minder and Dempsey and Makepeace.
"I love it", Suzi says. "It's all the same thing to me, all entertaining I use the same method as I do when I'm singing I iest on for it"

singing I jest go for it."
It has proved a successful formula for the Detroit-born singer who roared to fame with her raunchy black leather image and rasping motor-cycle music at the beginning of the Seventies.

Her Italian father, an execu-tive with General Motors, had his own band and Suzi studied classical piano and drums as well as teaching herself the

Suzi Quatro up at every gathering and not talks about her just do a bit, but do it in full

first major

acting role, as Annie Oakley gig playing the bongo drums in her father's band. By the time she was 14 she and her two elder sisters had their own skirts the elub owners de-manded and she despised. "I was the one the people were always clapping for", she re-calls. "The audience soon group, Suzi Soul and the Pleasure Seekers. A year later chooses who's going to be the she left school to tour with the face in any group." band full time with her It was an opinioe shared by Mickie Most, the Loedonparents' reluctant blessing.

The all-girl band was in great demand, but eveo in those early days it was Suzi out in front, always looking a hit different in top hat or leather jacket over the mini ger sister Nancy used to bring

At the age of seven she landed her first professional

6th-century country mansion in Essex which they first saw advertised in Country Life. She met Len, a builder's soo from Romford and a former Essex boxiog champion, wheo

he auditioned for her band in November 1972.

Her first chart topper, "Can The Cao", was released in April 1973. "We celebrated by doing Top of the Pops followed by o gig and then I think Lenoy and I got drunk in our Suzi believes her obsession with performing is an extend-ed cry for attention. "I always felt neglected as a child, although I wasn't I always based record producer, when he saw the girls in action but he waited notil the band split wanted more attention than I

up before flying Suzi over to Britain to make an album in The panelled walls of her beamed oice-bedroomed

Soft at heart: Suzi at home in Essex with her husband Len and children Laura and Richard

Today. Suzi lives with her home are lined with the gold, husband. Len Tuckey, and silver and platioum discs she their two small children in a has earned over the years. Of her 16 hit records, two reached No 1 and she has sold around 40 millioo worldwide. "I still shout out of the window when one of my records is on the

> She always knew she would be a success but insists that she is still the same mischievous, happy-go-lucky tomboy she has always been, "up at the bar with the boys wherever we are". She can still "knock back the whisky if I want to" although she seldom does these days. "There's no joy in being with your kids if you've got a horrible hangover." Even so, she and Lenny are regular customers at their village pub and wheo Suzi's parents came to stay recently her father astounded the locals hy thrashing them at snooker. It was Poppa Quatro who taught Suzi how to pot a black as well and play a mean hand of poker. Her Hungarian mother was responsible for the good old-fashioned Catholic values which Suzi intends to pass on to her own children. So what about the raunchy image that she has always personified? "Raunchy's got to do with the musie", she insists. "It doesn't mean you're everybody's piece of meat. That's why rock'n'roll is such a healthy outlet - it's not saying you're going to have orgies afterwards. The music

She still does at least one major tour a year - "I'd die if I couldn't go on the road." and these days her original fans bring their children along as well. She sees no reason why she should not still be rocking at 65. "If you feel awkward, it's time to floish. But I haven't felt that yet."

moves you - you doo's move

Sally Brompton

Introducing the new Everest range of Entrance Porches. A whole new look for the front of your home, built with all the expertise you'd expect from the UK's leading manufacturers of doors and windows.

Aluminium or UPVC frames; solid Brazilian mahogany surrounds; toughened safety glass fitted as standard...as with all Everest products, everything about these porches

A porch can add tremendously to your home's looks. These porches will add beauty and value. For more details, enter your name and address here.

Please tell me more about Everest Entrance Porches. Name

Send to: Everest Double Glazing, Freepost, Cuffley, POTTERS BAR Harts. EN6 4YA (no stamp needed)

An Oxbridge dream works for the future

Kent is one of Britain's younger universities, set above the nation's most ancient cathedral city. Its inspiration was the collegiate model of Oxford. Now it is reaching into space

The University of Kent is a love-child of the British academic system. Its curriculum was dreamt up io the commoo rooms of Oxford and Durham; its academic regulations were lifted from the stern ordinances of the University of Birmingham; its first vice chancellor, Geoffrey Mr Templeman, was himself registrar of Birmingham.

To the green-field site out-side Canterbury that became the Kent campus, he carried some of the verities of the civic university.

The Kent worthies who in the early 1960s pressed the government to locate a university in the county had io mind a high-toned institution to complement the cathedral at overlooks the city of

There was to be no engioeering, no heavy science; some hus oot too much innovation in the conteot of degrees; above all the kind of academic respectability that follows from the presence on campus in the early days of

Mr Templeman and his cofounders wanted to create a modern Oxford. There were to be colleges, bigh tables, tutorials; it was to be no 9-to-5 institution but a community in which the lights hurnt late into the night oo seminars and social events; staff and students were to be close, the pastoral role of the former being emphasized, but only within a cootext of academie

1960s, Kent had to scale down its pretensions rapidly. Twenty years oo - Kent received its plies the personnel for the royal charter in 1965 - its services and functions which senate bas to grapple with the consequences of its arts-andsocial studies bias at a time shift of students in science aod technology and wheo industrial-research money is difficult to obtain.

Mr Templeman, vice-chancellor for 15 years, personified the older academic style, diffident and haughty, unwilling to campaign on behalf of the university among fund-raisers and grant-givers.

Kent has virtually oo en-dowment; it relies exclusively on UGC money, tuitioo fees and the income it gets for research. Unlike the medieval cathedral it was meant to complement, it had no proper ndependence of the state.

Many of Kent's academic staff have been in post for years. Canterbury and its environs is an attractive place to live; Londoo is only an hour and 20 minutes away by train. People stay put.

As recent years have shown, however, Kent professors' cooservatism about where they live has oot extended to the shape of the university.

1970s as it expanded, Kent recruited young staff. Io 1986 they are still relatively young, certaioly not old enough to be Under the leadership of Dr

David Iogram, vice-chancellor for the past five years, Kent Mr Templeman's ideal was has tried to come to terms costly. Like the other "new with the harsher climate of the universities" of the mid- 1980s. It has a good story to tell.

The University of Kent supmake society tick, and make life civilized.

Keot graduates, among whom unemployment is low, have gone into the world and fouod work as solicitors, li-

ormond

tank management systems

Are delighted to be associated with Kent University, and look forward to many more years of fruitful association.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

DEVELOPMENT CENTRE

A DESIGN AND BUILD CONTRACT

CARDY

CONSULTING STRUCTURAL ENGINEERS

BUILDING SERVICES CONSULTANTS

PHASES

The Greenfield Jones

The Chapman Bathurst

Partnership

& Partners

Partnership

P Hayes-Watkins

oumbers of overseas students. current income from overseas studeot fees - £2 millioo - matches the tuition charges it collects from bome which Kent attracts large

But the Kent story is not studeot numbers, a liberal arts university with useful hut study of pure physics, chemis-

It has over the years developed applied branches of these subjects: io electrooics, computing, biochemistry and ap-plied statistics, for example, Because Kent had oo establishment of engineers or traditional chemists, these newer disciplines had space to grow. although the university could not afford much expensive equipment.

nology and computing are the subjects of the hour, and Kent has put them in the forefront of its submissions to the University Graots

Yet perhaps there is a sleight of hand. For though Kent does exciting work in,

We've

Mr. B. L. Macra

got it right

Tourism Publicity & Economic

Canterbury City Gouncil Military Road

-Canterbury (0227) 451755

Canterbury CIT IYW

LEISURE · INDUSTRY ·

COMMERCE -- RETAIL

For full details of the City Council's new economic development initiatives please brarians, physicists and, io large number, as teachers.

They have become social workers, civil servants and computer programmers. Kent has attracted a type of person who has made good io the broadcasting media: there is a small Kent mafia io film and

Kent graduates have apparently successfully be-come sales people and special-ized io marketing.

io English, research in agrarian history, the teaching and study of foreign languages. It is just that in the present

climate they make a less

The danger is that Kent may uodersell its virtues. Work such as that by Professor Mark

Kinkhead-Weekes on D. H.

history of the English countryside will never attract commercial sponsorship, but its value as academic work can-

Kent's broad spread of work in the social sicences makes for a better marriage of outside support and academic such a result is, in a sense, a victory for the liberal espoused by the founders was freedom of intellectual association among academics, and the corollary was freedom for their interests to develop in whatever direction they might

in a sort of iotellectual promiscuity by eocouraging cross-disciplinary work. Such work is evident to some exteot in its

"area studies" - it has a concentration of academics interested in South-East Asia,

American and European stud-

Kent is making energetic efforts to weather the financial storms produced by reductions in UGC provision per studeot and ceotrally-imposed limits on student intake (Kent

is heavily over-subscribed

It is right to emphasize the up-to-dateness of its research profile. But it would be mistaken for the university to sideline its historical strength - solid teaching and scholarship in the liberal arts and social sciences - the basis of academic values descended directly from the Oxbridge

each year).

Yet Kent has tried to build the Government, services.

university.

wrence or by Professor G.

Mingay oo the economic exciting selling point.

In a basic sense, therefore, it fulfills the primary public purpose of universities: it produces employable graduates whose market value and personal qualities have been enhacced by their time spent on the Kent campus.

With a branch of the National Film Theatre and a Gulbenkian Theatre oo site, culture is served.

Mr Templeman's amhition of an all-day university is not fully realized; Kent has its student commuters who return to digs and flats in the eveniog; and at weekends the campus cao feel dead. In spring and summer the plateau above Canterbury on which Kent sits - blown by cold winds in winter - becomes a green garden making for glossy and not-altogether misleading colour photo-graphs in the brochures by unamhiguous. Kent is basically, io terms of staff and small components for the try aod mathematics.

Now, io the 1980s, biotech-for example, biochemistry, its heart remains in scholarship

Dusty encounters of the Halley's Comet kind

High academic aims: Dr David Ingram, vice-chancellor of the university

It was a brief encouoter. The historic rendezvous between the spacecraft Giotto, packed with monitoring equipment, and Halley's Comet that took place io mid-March was short.

The space scientists gathered in a polyglot team at the European Space Observation Centre at Darmstadt, West Germany, knew that they could count oo only four hours of date traosmission as Giotto approached Halley's nucleus; minutes more would be a gift from providence, although over the six years of virtue. The university has done well in attracting grants from the Economic and Social Research Council and from detailed planning that went into the Giotto mission, secular scientists across Europe The latter has financed the had more than once offered growth at Kent of a veritable oblation to whatever gods research concentration on sohover over astrophysical lab-oratories for the spacecraft to survive its meeting with the comet for just a while longer cial policy in the fields of health and personal social There is no immediate rea-than planoed. son for Kent to be a centre for studying the distribution of Among them was Professor Tony McDonoell, director of the Unit for Space Sciences at grants for city social work. But the University of Kent. With the unit's monitoring equip-ment standing ready in Can-Templeman cooception of the terbury and oo site at the Darmstadt centre, even four One of the central values hours would be enough for, as Professor McDonnell put it, many years of fruitful

> At peak the stream of data would be at a rate of 40,000 hits" a second, a flow of such rich insight to the particles which make up the comet's nucleus and tail that the past months of intense effort will

Travelling during the past year between Britain's large infrared telescope in Hawaii and the Giotto launch site in French Guyana, Professor McDonnell has spent a total of four weeks ioside an

The University of Kent has, understaodably, not lost time to exploit its connection with Halley's Comet. There is an undeniable Canterbury link; the drawing of the fiery comet rendered by the mook Ead-wine on its appearance in 1145; which appears beneath Psalm Five of his Canterbury Psalter, illuminated at the

al. He is an expert in the composition of solids in space as he puts it, the whole interplanetary environment excluding plasma or solar wind. His uoit's forte has an Space Ageory and the Science and Engineering Re-search Council. He said: "Givbecome the design and coo-struction of devices, carried en the relatively weak level of resources, we do well io space into space, to determine the nature of space "dust". research. But then English

After the encounter Professor McDonnell will doubtless be under some pressure 10 revise bis 700-page Cosmic Dust, a record of cumulative study of solid particles within the solar system, published in Kent lacks an observatory.

Indeed it lacks expensive equipment of most kinds. That it has a name in the space science rankings is because of the efforts of Professor Mc-Donnell and colleagues over a number of years to build reputation and expertise; Kent's contribution has been to provide an environment in which this branch of astro-physics could prosper, albeit dependent on American shuttles, French rockets and the resources of the Rutherford Appleton Laboratory in Oxfordshire. It recently recognized Pro-fessor McDonnell's achievement of international standing - some might say a little late in the day - by promoting him from a readership to a personal chair.

He arrived at Kent after working at Jodrell Bank and the National Aeronautical and Space Administration's Goddard Spaceflight Center. The American connection has been useful, for Professor McDonoell led his team to the design of the first non-United States experiment to be accommodated on the Shuttle programme, a loog-duration exposure facility.

He said: "Space science has grown well to the new univer-sity environment of Kent; there have been opportunities for growth in phase with opportunities for spaceflight."

Money has been a problem, despite Professor McDonnell's success in winning support from the Europe-

ZES SPECIALISTS IN :-Trinity College, Cambridge.
Professor McDonnell's interest io Halley's Comet is neither historical nor personal. He is an expert in the We have the expenence and reputation to help you scientists are resourceful; they have learnt to make do and

The Kent group's interest io

Halley's Comet centres on the motion of particles from or near its nucleus. In at the birth of the Giotto mission, Professor McDonnell cootracted to design a set of foils and a dust

shield to measure iooizatioo

in the vicinity of the comet and determining chemical identities, find out exactly

Halley is part of a pro-gramme of work that should last, all being well, beyond the year 2000. The Kent group has a stake in the load due to be carried oo the shuttle Ulysses, its flight now indefinitely delayed by the destruction of Challenger and NASA's subse-in this," Professor McDoooell said. "It could mean the Halley data will be concentrated on, and we won't rusb

Already preliminary plan-

oing is being done for a space

encounter even more amhitious than the intimate meet-

iog of Giotto and Halley's

Comet. Astronomical conditions will provide the opportunity, at the turn of the ceotury,

for a probe to land on a comet,

drill ioto the core and return to earth with samples.

straight on to a new project."

'There's perhaps a hlessing

what the comet is made of.

Yet that journal embodied two of the most potent aspira-tions of the 1960s, breaking with what Professor Guido fessor, called the "unhappy parochialism" of old subject pdaries, also departing

The old fire still burns

modern cultural studies, gets a raw deal — though this art historian and literary critic

For Dr Bann, and his col-leagues in English, modern languages, and the other hu-manities, still tend the flame crossing and re-crossing the old disciplinary boundaries.

Such ideas are less fashionable in the vocational and applied 1980s.

sciences and subjects that attract research grants when it presents itself to the wider world. The likes of Dr Bann, founding editor of the journal Twentieth Century Studies, are somehow not in the front when Kent was founded - would never put it as from intense spe :-- the axes of scholars swinging

1.0

$\frac{1}{2} \cdot \frac{1}{2} \cdot \frac{1}{2}

Since then Kent's horizons have narrowed. It offers single subject arts degrees in English, French and so on with as much enthusiasm as the more traditional universities. But in the teaching for part one of its honours degrees and in the variety of cross disciplinary options, the original ambition

Kent's scholars in the arts span a great arc of haman knowledge from the work of Professor Ian Gregor (another founding editor of Twentieth Century Studies) on Thomas Hardy to that of Professor David Birmingham on the history of Africa.

Scholarship at Kent has, in the nature of things, no obvious pattern: Kent is a centre for the study of African and Caribhean literature because of the interest of Professor Louis James, Dr Lyn Innes. and colleagues rather than; because of any pre-ordained

The proximity of Canter-bury Cathedral has stimulated bibliographical expertize; the cathedral library has been explored and catalogued by university librarians and the university's senior lecturer in French, Dr David Shaw, who recently won a grant from the British Library for the pur-

Kent has proved a congenial-home for scholarly work with a modern flavour based solidly. on work in English and history-

The driving force in technology transfer

We are proud to be collabotating with Aere Harwell in the development of important new technologies. Harwell's outstanding skills in applying their technology to commercial applications is the cornerstone of our joint venture

COGENT LTD 46 Bishopsgate, London EC2N 4AY Tel: 01-588 2878. Telex: 8954597

Kent is South East England. Located between London and mainland Europe, Kent offers businesses more.

Four major seaports and easy access to main international airports. Extensive motorway and rail networks. A skilled workforce - with an Low local taxes, low rents, competitively priced land. And we'll provide all the investment and financial advice your company needs.

England. And the essential link for your business in Europe.

Development Board

Jourches House, Wash Street, Marchetre, Nove 14214 (RF, 2007). Telephone 0522-679976.

enviable labour record.

Kent - it's the Garden of

Kent Economic

AT CARTERRUET Research and Do your business interests include: Chemicals Manufacture Waste Treatment Are you interested in: Novel Synthetic Routes More Specific Synthesis Effluent Detoxification Then you should consider consulting BIOTRANS "Covernment and Academe working together for Industry"

Por further information contact: Dr Peter Baker Laboratory of the Government Chemist, Comwall House, Waterloo London SEI 8XV Telephone: 01-211 8535/8223 (answerphone)

مكذاحت الأصل

The University of Kent was not the only "new university" founded in the early 1960s to emulate Oxbridge and establish colleges. The oniversities of York and Lancaster have also been collegiate in struc-

But it is probably fair to say that Kent has worked hardest at keeping at least the sem-blance of the ancient academic

A 3 1. E.

ANTE THE

THE PARTY OF

A. C. CO.

13.6. E P.

中国語

STREET,

. 13.11. L. 12.1

for the second

4. 250

P. C. 1825

PARTY PROPERTY

CY: 32

大学 子神

ATT - (3823)

127 / 72 Ell

15 X 22 12 12 ..

11 15 1 2 1

FAT E LTIL

 TE 1

E:2 7 2:5

The POTEST

4 4 4 4

1226 21

in the last

the street all

n P 24 THE PARTY

me and F

4 : 27 ...

his success has been limited. hs colleges lack the endowments and corporate independence of the Oxford and Cambridge models. At times they appear to be glorified halls of residence.

Yet their continued existence, and the hard work put into them by staff and students alike, underlie Kent's boast to offer undergraduates the most distinctive life-style of its generation of

And the second s Kent's four colleges have no financial basis. Academic matters are dealt with at Kent, as elsewhere, by professors and lecturers, gathered in their boards of studies, faculties. and the senate.

As Dr Shirley Barlow, master of Eliot College, argues, however, their importance underpins two of Kent's great virtues: its emphasis on smallgroup tutorial teaching and its interdisciplinary studies.

She laughs - the colleges have small rooms - their size forbids anything other than intimate teaching. Their common rooms con-has no departments, cannot retreat into the company of their fellow specialists. They are forced to mingle and Kent's rich offering of cross and multi-disciplinary courses has resulted.

The four colleges take their names from modern thinkers: T.S. Eliot. Maynard Keynes, Lord Rutherford and (19th rather than 20th century) Charles Darwin. They share the same physical features, providing a mixture of study bedrooms, tutorial rooms and communal facilities for dining

Keeping the colleges separate over the years has been hard

There is no central students' union building at Kent. In-stead, each college has its iunior common room to organize events.

Keeping the colleges separate over the years has not been easy. Students have pressed for more universitywide activities, even a single students' union.

The cost of maintaining four separate catering establishments in the colleges has tain academics of varying rocketed and the university has had to devise schemes to even out the flow of hungry students who are at liberty to eat wherever they want.

Masters of colleges: Professor Robert Gibson (Rutherford), left; Dr Shirley Barlow (Eliot College); Dr John Butler (Darwin) and Derek Crabtree (Keynes)

But having kept the colleges through the years of student liberalism and academic antiauthoritarianism, there are signs they might once again come into their own.

Dr J.R. Butler, master of Darwin College, notes that "high table" is still in existence and students now occasionally like to dine formally; they dress up; perhaps prefer a more ordered environment.

Is there any prospect of Kent's mixed-sex colleges turning into segregated establishments? Never, Dr Butler

Though Kent, like most universities, had its phase of student troubles 15 or so years ago, student radicalism has hardly tainted it. The student body is solidly middle-class. comes predominantly and from homes in the South-East of England, many within Kent itself. The campus has a fair

The guides to student life ends to London and to Paris. that have proliferated in recent years give it an impressive social rating, indicating that both parents who have arrived and parents who are still aspiring need have few qualms about sending their young people seek at week-offspring to Canterbury. Student life at Kent is as rich and varied as in other universities with a bright and motivated intake. It is marked by a weekend exodus of young people in search of whatever easily accessible from east

Ninety per cent of first-year undergraduates, live on the campus, either in the colleges or the popular self-catering residences nearby.

Second and third years tend to rent houses and flats in Canterbury; some commute to the campus from the seaside towns of Whitstable and Herne Bay, where lodgings are annual grants to universities. the university to do every last bit of development before it will agree to From its accidental birth in contacts between university academics and consultants in Canterbury medical electronics has burgeoned. There are now about 10 undergraduates choosing the option in electronics and a flourishing research programme supported for example by the South East Thames Regional Health Authority. It is a course in high demand sciences university.

Costs are low, but the quality stays high cheap. Too cheap, the university says: for accidental rea-sons during the 1970s the University Grants Committee started paying Kent less than it deserved and the anomaly has never been put right.

لللذا من المامل

Compared with other universities, its recurrent costs per student are low, about 3.300 in 1983-84, the lowest of every UK university bar

Kent's figure is low because the bulk of its students are in subjects that are relatively inexpensive to teach and study: the humanities and social sciences. It teaches no medicine and little engineering two costly subjects. Yet even compared with universities with a similar "mix" of subjects. Kent emerges as an economical institution, the hird or fourth cheapest.

Kent is simultaneously proud and ashamed of such figures. The university takes comfort from the fact that it provides an academic education of high quality at relatively, lower cost. But the fact that the UGC has managed to under-fund Kent for years also means in times of tight fiancial restraint that the UGC is likely to continue to want to under-fund.

Kent's vice-chancellor, Dr David Ingram, a physicist, has made no secret of his antagonism towards the present government's higher education policy; he has, if anything, been more outspoken than some colleagues. Yet Kent has had little option but to co-operate fully with the UGC as it tries to translate the government's priorities and demands for savings into its

Kent's position can be seen most clearly in the response it made last November 10 the UGC's request/demand for a statement by each university of its plans for the rest of the decade. Kent's problem is stated on page one. The Government through the UGC is trying to engineer a shift in student members from the arts and social sciences to science and technology. Kent has attempted to boost its numbers in predominantely an arts-social

Its problem in the face of the UGC is how to emphasize its commitment to expanding science and boosting its scienlific research (and so earn official approval and extra money) while remaining true its scholars and researchers in the humanities and social

But on one count. Kent has no trouble meeting the UGC's preferences head on. The UGC nowadays has a penchant for "rationalization" ensuring that universities share libraries and laboratones with each other and with other colleges in the vicinity.Kent told the UGC quite properly that in Kent there are no other colleges.

unversity means that it is the major centre for higher education in the region." The only other institutions around are the Mid-Kem College of Higher Education, Christ Church College, a former teacher education college already affiliated to the university, and Wye College near Ashford, a specialist agricultural college that is part of the University of

Unlike some universities. Kent told the UGC it has a Pride in its work on biochemistry and microbiology

research plan - a list of specialisms into which it iotended to put any extra money there was, It reflects Kent's conception of its ideal self as a rounded institution, strong in both arts and sciences, also a hard-headed appraisal of where, in years to come, intellectual, financial and institutional interests will lie.

"In determining research strengths," the university told the UGC, we have used as performance indicators publication records in books and articles, patents, prizes and awards, invitations to lecture and participate in conferences. We have also taken account of the value of external grants. We have had an eye to the potential 'high-flier' opening up of research which may be

Continued on next page

A new branch of electronics that benefits hospitals

The recent work of Dr Richard Collier on the use of pulsed electromagnetic fields to detect the pace of healing in fractured human bones is as good an example as the universites can offer of practical but imaginative work with social bene-

But it also raises worrying ques-tions about the capacity of British industry to exploit technological

Medical electronics is one of those subjects which just grew up at Kent without, in the past, any intention on the part of university

planuers. Kent has taught electronics since its early days, since 1966, and now offers — uniquely — a de ree in electronics with specialization in medical applications, fully accredited by the Institution of Electrical Engineers.

Medical electronics has grown up around the local Kent and Canterbury Hospital, though there are close links with the London Hospi-

Out of a stadent project Dr Collier has pursued an interest in measuring resonance in bones. It is, he notes, quite difficult for a doctor to tell when a fracture has healed, manual examination and X-rays giving ambiguous results. A broken bone produces a lower frequency of resonance at the site of the fracture; as it heals the frequency returns to normal. So he develoned an acoustic method of showing the mechanical properties of bone: the patient's limb is weighted, a sensor placed on the skin and an instant read-out is available on a atented device put together in the

The device has been used on Kent with excellent results as an economical and "non-intrusive" means of charting the progress of healing, Its wider use in clinical medicine depends on getting the device manufactured, and here, Dr Collier says, there are problems. The Americans are interested.

hospital patients and in London

Two firms, including Hewlett-Packard, want to exploit the university's patent.

But Dr Collier has natil now preferred the approaches made by a North of England firm — except that it is proving slow, wanting (he says)

among the overseas students who

British Aerospace pic, 100 Pall Mall, London manufacture.

الماقة المعدد للما

Town and gown make it a chaste affair

Kent University is dominated by splendid views of the city of Canterbury beneath it. The architects even deliberately designed two of its colleges. Eliot and Rutherford, to be pierced by vistas of the

From the town the low-rise university buildings are unobtrusive. The landscaped campus on St Thomas's and St Stephen's Hills enhance the solid villas creeping out of Canterbury on Whitstable Road. But though they are near and physically compatible in a Kentish sort of way. town and gown have yet to embrace with much passion.

The university is sited where it is because, in the later 1950s, Canterbury's city fathers and officials of the Kent County Council wanted it there. Canterbury, a city, needed a university. For all the debris of modernity it is still possible in certain lights and from certain angles to conjure up the town of Canterbury as it might have appeared to a William Cohbett riding down from Rochester replete with the local ovsters.

The 15th-century cathedral nave rises to dominate the skyline and the ancient city walls guard the close. It surely was a fitting university town. Relations, however, are more humdrum. The university hrings in income for traders and landfords and, nowadays considerable numbers of non academia to conferences in the vacations.

A decade ago townspeople disliked student squatters and blamed the university for university has made special go their own ways.

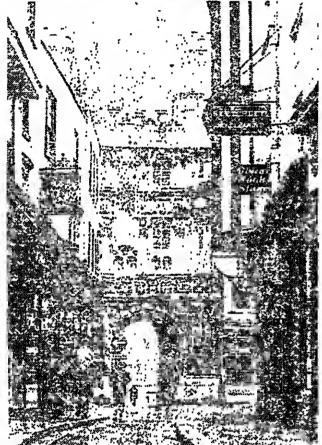

30 years ago had high bopes when they proclaimed: "The educational and cultural life of county on the one hand and the university on the other would be of mutual support and benefit"

That may now be true, but it nas taken years of patient effort on the part of Kent academics, and especially its school of continuing education. Despite initial enthusiasm for the university from Kent County Hall at Maidstone, the county has not been prepared to make more than a token grant to the university and bas not been able to scheme educational plans around it; so the university has taken its own initiatives.

To say that Dr Alan Barbrook, director of the school, has a social mission would be exaggerating. He and his staff do have a deep commitment to the provision of educational opportunities not so much to the socially deprived (the county of Kent has fewer of those than most places) as to the community at large. This takes the form of a cornucopia of part-time and evening courses and one-day

Kenı is typical of British universities in that its hinterland has had minimal effect on its courses or research interests. Its sociologists study the Isle of Thanet; there is talk importing socialist votes into of setting up a study group to a true-blue town (an assertion examine aspects of the Chanuniversity psephologists nel Tunnel project, but hy and proved was mistaken); but the large Kent and the university and weekend conferences.

University neighbours: Canterbury and its ancient cathedral

Because the county is pre-dominantly rural and subur-The university's sponsors ban, it is largely empty territory in the search for industrial and commercial research sponsorship. Four the city are such that a university would not find inself planted in an arid soil. There is every expectation that the city and surrounding that the city and surrounding county on the one hand and extends for beyond the county on the one hand and extends for beyond the county on the one hand and extends for beyond the county on the one hand and extends for beyond the county on the one hand and extends for beyond the county on the one hand and extends for beyond the county of the county o extends far beyond the county of Kent. The search for sponsorship and industrial collaboration is world-wide.

Mr Watts' task at KSIP Kent Scientific and Industrial Projects Ltd - is big. The university's research establishment is small. His job is to effect introductions, to smooth pathways, and his success is measured by the fact that KSIP now has £750,000 turnover a year. Much of this is in the area of where Kent is well-placed.

Biotechnological applications are likely to be the attraction of the purpose-built suite of offices and workshops the university has just built on campus to let to commercial firms. One of the first tenants will be LH Bioprocessing, a subsidiary of the Porton International Group.

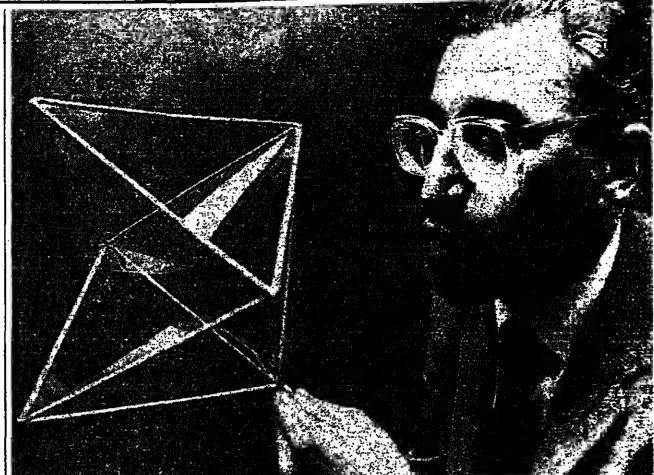

LH Bioprocessing was set up to exploit the new technology within genetic engineering to do with fermentation processes: it is looking for applica-tions in pharmaceutical products, and speciality chemicals for the food and agricul-

"This is not a science park", Mr Watts avers. In a sense the research-and-development centre is more a response to pressure within the univeristy from the existing volume of contract research in laboratories already bursting at the seams. The hope is that it will prove a mecca for small companies on their way to expansion. Mr Watts detects an encouraging attitude change on the part of Kent academics. He says: "You can see them being educated in the ways of commerce. They see the benefits that accrue from industrial collaboration.

"Unquestionably things have changed over the past five years. It is now becoming quite respectable to hold an industrial contract."

Kent's success story is Biotrans, an association between campus scientists and the laboratory of the Government Chemist, an industrial research establishment under the wing of the Department of ernment has paid £1 million to get the venture off the biotransformation", the use of organisms to convert the structure of chemicals. Dr Chris Knowles, professor of microbial biochemistry at the university has, for example, won wide recognition for his work using the enzyme cyanide bydratase to detoxify cyanide; ICI has started pilot production of a fungal enzyme to feed on cyanide effluents, thanks to work at Kent.

Blowing bubbles is a serious business

The unusual interest of Dr Cyril Isenberg has a fascination for the photographer. Dr isenberg, a physics lecturer, blaws bubbles not for entertainment but in the cause of science. His demonstrations include blowing "hour-glass" bubbles the size of a man and using soap films as a design aid for roadways, pipelines and cable networks.

> Pictures by Suresh Karadia

Dedicated the truth

From previous page

fashion. The resulting appraisal picked out research in the chemical laboratory on colloids and interfaces and fundamental studies on the mechanisms of chemical and biochemical reactions in solution. The latter stood alongside Kent's pride that its work in hiochemistry and microbiology was, for its size, among the top 10 per cent in the UK. Kent's work in biotech-nology had received the accolade of a £1.5 million grant and Industry itself. Other Kent strengths are: computing, especially func-tion programming and formal methods

from the Department of Trade electronics, especially optical communications · statistics in the shape of the Applied Statistics Research Unit, originally funded by a "pump-priming" grant from the UGC but now supporting itself from research contract money and involved in solving problems for private firms and industry.

The university told the UGC: "We wish to protect those areas identified as research priorities, provided with preserving a sufficient spread of expertize to cover our teaching commitments." But it warned against overreliance on quick application of such research.

. There is a note in this of Kent's self-awareness and pride as a university dedicated to longer-term seeking after truth and new knowledge -"An important part of our job will be to make sure that long-term research of scientific value is not dominated by immediate technological

The down-to-earth approach opens up a hotline to Whitehall

Kent University's social scientists fit the stereotype badly. Its political scientists are adahead of contemporary mitted into the very portals of Number Ten. Its sociologists are entrepreneurs, heavily in-volved teaching utilitarian courses on behalf of the Manpower Services Commission to wonld-be businessmen eager to start up on their own.

lts social administrators, in the shape of the highly suc-cessful Personal Social Services Research Unit. are primary recipients of research contracts from the Depart-ment of Health and Social Security. Kent does not appear to be listed by government ministers or their civil ser-rants as a hotbed either of ideological extremism or impractical academics. KarlMarx does, however,

UNIVERSITY

Humanities

Natural

Social

Sciences

Sciences

TOTAL

CHRIST CHURCH COLLEGE

NONINGTON COLLEGE

Mathematics 72

have a walk-on role in Canterbury. Professor Richard Scase, a sociologist, noted that we have never gone into Marxist-type debates here".

But a marxist approach is noticeable among the university's social policy speamorestry's social policy spe-cialists even, a few years ago, among its lawyers who were basy through a short-lived "clinic" bringing radical law to the people of East Kent. If there were no Marxist social scientists at Kent it would be odd because it has a large complement of them; they are heterogenous, impossible to pin down to a single orientation".

Kent's political science is impossible to classify. Founded by Professor Brian Keith-Lucas, an old-style constitutional scholar special-

35

AWARD OF DEGREES

24

BA BEd MA

90

FACULTY BA & OR SCHOOL BSC MA MSc MPhil PhD LLM

32

368

191

456

1087 104

153

Year ending 31 July 1985

izing in local government, the political scientist area at Kent now includes Professor Colin Seymonr-Ure, an analyst of the relations of government and the media who has recent-ly completed a study of the likes of the noturious former mouthpiece for President Nixon, Ron Ziegler, presidential Professor Seymour-Ure has been associated with the growth on the Kent campus of a unique collection of political cartoons but his next project is to lead him into studying a type of political spokesperson not unrelated to Mr Ziegler, the prime ministerial press secretary, of whom Mr Ber-nard Ingham at Number Ten Downing Street has recently become such an egregious

Professor Seymour-Ure has won research money to study prime minister's spokespeople in Britain and a selection of other democracies.

He is not the only Kent social scientist flying close to the sources of power. In its submission to the UGC, Kent emphasized its research strength in what it called the

Such work has been spear-headed by sociologist Profesheaded by sociologist Profes-sor Ray Pahl who led a research group in studying the families in the Isle of Thanet. His rather pessimistic conclu-sions about the withdrawal of the unemployed from a normal pattern of social and leisure activities were balanced by the finding that families where one or more adults had jobs were also very active in DIY; bome improvement and so on.

withal, to use their "leisure" to profit. Official interest in Prolesser Pahi's work led to an invitation to present his findings to a seminar at Number

Professor Pahl's colleagues are also working on the boundary between economics and sociology. Professor Scase has been studying the sort of people who start new business-es; with colleagues he is an active builder of a new institute of management at Kent offering a master's degree, and in his spare time a director of Invicta, a local commercial

Professor Scase leaves the impression that sociology at Kent is down-to-earth. "We're empirically based, ideologically agnostic," he says. The aniversity has certainly been well rewarded by the main provider of funds for sociological cal research, the Economic and Social Research Council. With much of the money going to its specialist health and social services research units, social science at Kent has earned some £1.25 millions in grants and contracts.

On De David Morgan, dean of social sciences, is keen to social consequences of economic change — the effect on at Kent do not just mean families and households of sociology. In the faculty there leclectic with relative strength in quantitative methods), soand, the darlings of the 1980s.

> to construct their academiidentity. Our accountancy studemand because they have been taught things like corporate planning, world economics, because they have been well educated and acquired their accounting skills within an intellectual context."

HIGH LEVEL HARDVVARE

Suppliers to University of Kent

Networked

Supermini Computers for research, teaching and central computer service facilities.

High performance Unix based single and multi-user computer systems.

High Level Hardware Limited PO Box 170, Windmill Road, Headington Oxford OX3 7BN, England Telephone Oxford (0865) 750494 Telex 838854 - HLH

Tallis Consultancy

TALLIS, British Telecom's Communications Consultancy Service, congratulates the University of Kent on their Silver Jubilee. We are pleased to be assisting the University in all aspects of the design, selection and installation of their new digital telecommunications system.

the very best English apples and pears

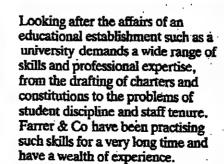

Home Grown Fruits Ltd., River House, Stour Street, merbury, Kent CT1 2PA Tel: (0227) 66551 Telen: 96201

Printer to the University of Kent

Educational & security printers for university publishing programmes, academic year diaries, prospectuses, . departmental literature.

A knowledgeable service using the best equipment and the best standards for professional bodies and learned institutions.

Eyre & Spottiswoode Limited THANET PRESS, UNION CRESCENT. MARGATE, KENT CT9 1NU Telephone: 0843 292336

Best wishes to the University on the twenty-first anniversary of their Royal Charter.

> FARRER & CO 66 LINCOLN'S INN FIELDS LONDON WCZA 3LH

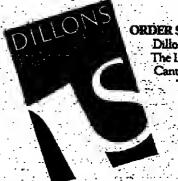

Dillons is one of the best-known names in University

Our main Gower Street store is the most authoritative source of academic and general books in London. 20,000 titles from Medicine to Linguistics, Mechanical Sciences to Sociology, with unrivalled Languages and EFL.

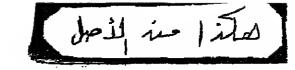

The Order Service Division, based in our University of Kent bookshop, offers mail order, export and book servicing. We really understand the specialised requirements of universities and libraries.

Personal customers are welcome at Gower Street, which is open every day until 5.30 pm including Saturday. We apologise that rebuilding may temporarily restrict wheelchair access, but hope you will bear with us as we create Europe's finest bookstore.

ORDER SERVICES DIVISION Dillons University Bookshop The Library, The University, Canterbury, Kent CT2 7NO Telephone 0227 450034

> MAIN BOOKSTORE Dillons Bookshop 82 Gower Street, London WC1 Telephone 01-636 1577

Tracy Logan is a typical British sixteen year old, leaving school this year.

But to Japan, and our other international competitors, she's a big threat.

That's because this year

she'll be starting 2 years paid skill training on the new YTS.

She'll begin her course by trying out several different skills before she chooses the one she'll train for through to the end of the second year.

By then, she'll have a skill, a certificate to prove it, and a better chance of getting a job.

Our competitors in the Far East and Europe have been training their young people like this for years.

It's made them more efficient and more productive and it's helped them take trade away from us.

But from now on they're going to have to watch out.

Tracy will be spending the next two years learning how to take trade away from them for a change. Along with about 360,000 other ambitious British school leavers.

THE TIMES MONDAY MARCH 31 1986 UNIVERSITY APPOINTMENTS

Kuwait

University of Kuwait Health Science Centre

Faculty of Medicine

Applications are invited for the Post of Chief Technician in the Department of Surgery.

of busy, modern, well equipped research laboratories. The successful applicant will also be expected to assist in the running of many of our on-going research projects and to Research interests include Vascular disorders, High energy nucleotides, Angiogenesis, Interactions in anaesthesia, toxic, anaphylactic and hemorrhagic shock, Non-invasive detection of hleeding, Biomechanics and tumour thesis alone would be a great advantage. This position would ideally suit a determined, single or childless married person, who prefers to work in a demanding but stimulating

Salary will be in the range of KD 450 - 512 per month, (KD 1 = £1.8, US $ 3.5 approx.). There is no income tax in Kuwait and currency is transferable without restriction.

Free, furnished, air-conditioned accommodation is provided, and electricity and water supplied free of charge. Sixty days paid annual leave for each completed year of employment, and annual economy class return air tickets to the country of citizenship or permanent residence are provided for the appointee, spouse and three dependant children.

Free medical treatment is available under the State Health

Planning and Academic Staff Recruitment, Kuwait University, Faculty of Medicine, P.O. Box 24923, Safat. Kuwait, with detailed curriculum vitae in duplicate, recent passport photograph, and the names of three referees, to arrive no

Kuwait

University of Kuwait Health Science Centre

Faculty of Medicine

Applications are invited for the Post of Chief Technician in the Candidates should have experience as a clinical laboratory technician and hold the F.I.M.L.S., or equivalent qualification, with fifteen years' experience including training. The successful candidate's duties will be of a multi-discipline nature and will be both in the laboratory and in the field.

Salary will be in the range of KD 450 - 512 per month, (KD 1 =

£1.8, US £ 3.5 approx.). There is no income tax in Kuwait and currency is transferable without restriction. Free, furnished air-conditioned accommodation is provided, and electricity and water supplied free of charge. Sixty days paid annual leave for each completed year of employment, and annual economy class return air tickets to the country of citizenship or permanent residence

dren. Free medical treatment is available under the State Health of Medicine, P.O. Box 24923, Safat, Kuwait, with detailed curriculum vitae in duplicate, recent passport photograph, and the names of three referees, to arrive no later than the end of April

FRENCH

COURSES FOR

8-18 YEAR OLDS

Learn French in an interesting and vital way in the beautiful Dordogne. Short courses, total immersion, tanguage taboratories, video, TV. Bilingual French staff. Visits - Chateaux, caves and historic towns. Activities andude tennis, horse nding, canoeing and cookery.

INSTITUT FRANCAIS

Official French Government Establishment

Native French teachers - high quality courses

INTENSIVE FRENCH COURSES

(10 weeks - starting 21 April)

14 Created Place, London, SW7 2JR

Tel: 01-589 6211, Ext 42

Bilingual Secretarial College

01-581 2701, Ext 21

CHIROPODY AS A PROFESSION

and for the trained rean or womain chiropodist in the palvale sector is 6. Most of the fraining recessary is oquality for a diplome in chiropodi alton at home by very epiccalised correspondence lessons followed edical bossins. You are livrilled to write for the free booklet into

The Secretary of the School of Cheopody, THE SMAE (MSTITUTE (remainment 1919) The New Half (Department 111) Both Rosel, Randorlees SLE 4LA Audenheed (NS28) 21100 (24 km) and (NS28) 32449

Further details: L'Ecole Hampshire 24250 Veynnes-de-Domme

The Hampshire School 63 Ennismore Gardens London SW7 Telephone 584 3297/8

Telephone (010.33.53) 29.53.15

Applications should be submitted to: The Director of Planning and Academic Staff Recruitment, University of Kuwait, Faculty are provided for the appointee, spouse and three dependent chil-

later than the end of April 1986.

Department of Microbiology.

Service.

Applications should be submitted to: The Director of

The applicant should have a B.Sc. or equivalent in a biological subject with fifteen years experience. M.Ch. by help with the establishment of new ones.

immunology.

environment.

Candidates should be able to oversee the administration

PREP & PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Kuwait

University of Kuwait Health Science Centre Faculty of Medicine

APPOINTMENT OF A CHAIRMAN AND

PROFESSORS IN CLINICAL VIROLOGY AND BACTERIOLOGY FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF MICROBIOLOGY

Applications are invited to fill in the following posts in the Department of Microbiology, Kuwait University, Faculty of Medicine:

Chairman of Department Professor of Clinical Virology Professor of Clinical Bacteriology

Applicants for these professional posts should have minimum of 14 years experience, 4 of which as Associate Professor or its equivalent, i.e. Senior Lecturer or Reader. They should also possess Higher Medical Qualifications (eg. M.B.B.Ch., M.R.C.Path and or Ph.D). Besides having adequate teaching experience, they should have conducted and published research in reputable Journals. Applicants for post as Chairman should have experience of administrations of a department in any sub-speciality in Medical Microbiology.

CONDITIONS OF APPOINTMENT

Total monthly salary will be within the following scales according to qualifications and experience (1 KD = £ 2.5. US $ 3.2 approx.). Professors with clinical appointments = KD 1210 - KD 1370 (8 increments). Professors medically qualified with medical science appointments = KD 1140 - KD

Clinical Supplements:

In addition to the above University salary there will be a monthly clinical supplement of RD 450 (Professor & Chairman) or KD 400 (Professor) paid by the Ministry of Public Health for 10 months a year to the medical school staff with

Conference:

Gratuity:

conference a year which would be subject to the University rules and regulations. There is a gratuity of one month basic salary for each year employed payable on termination of

A member is entitled to attend one academic

Housing:

Suitable furnished, air-conditioned accommodation, electricity and water free of charge. Free comprehensive treatment is available in Kuwait under the State Health Service.

Medical Care:

Travel:

Air tickets are provided from the country of recruitment for the appointee, spouse and up to 3 dependent children under 20 years. There-after, return air tickets are issued annually to the country of citizenship or permanent residence. On termination of contract, air tickets are provided to the country of recruitment. A baggage and freight allowance is also provided.

Vacation:

60 days paid annual leave and various national This is provided free in State Schools where the instruction is in Arabic, Staff who have to send their children to non Arabic Schools in Kuwait

Taxatlon:

Education:

will have the tuition fees of up to a maximum of 3 children met by the University. There is no income tax in Kuwait. Currency is transferable without restriction.

METHOD OF APPLICATION

Curriculum vitae in duplicate which should include the names of 3 referees personal particulars, qualifications with dates, career history, teaching experience, research accomplishments and where appropriate clinical experience should be sent to the Director of Planning and Academic Staff Recruitment, Faculty of Medicine, University of Kuwait, Health Science Centre, P.O. Box 14002 24923, Safat, Kuwait, to arrive no later than end of April 1986.

KUWAIT

University of Kuwait Health Science Centre Faculty of Medicine

Applications are invited for the Post of Chief Technician in the Department of Anatomy.

Candidates should have experience as a clinical laboratory technician and hold the F.I.M.L.S., or equivalent qualification, with fifteen years' experience including training. The successful candidate's duties will be of a multi-discipline nature and will be both in the laboratory and in the field.

Salary will be in the range of KD 450 - 512 per month, (KD 1 =£ 1.8, US $ 3.5 approx.). There is no income tax in Kuwait and currency is transferable without restriction. Free, furnished, airconditioned accommodation is provided, and electricity and water supplied free of charge. Sixty days paid annual leave for each completed year of employment, and annual economy class return air tickets to the country of citizenship or permanent residence are provided for the appointee, spouse and three dependant chil-dren. Free medical treatment is available under the State Health

Applications should be submitted to: The Director of Planning and Academic Staff Recruitment, University of Kuwait, Faculty of Medicine, P.O. Box 24923, Safat, Kuwait, with detailed curriculum vitae in duplicate, recent passport photograph, and the names of three referees, to arrive no later than the end of April

LA CRÈME DE LA CRÈME

Temporary Aristocrats?

Not part-time peers, but Manpower temporaries. Forget "Oh no! It's the temp." Listen for "Oh great! It's the Manpower temporary. Our clients now expect that standard – so now we need more people to live up to it.

 Secretaries
 ● W/P Operators Management Secretaries

We help through training, and correct assigning ... and recognise upper class performance.

Manpower Temporary' _ it's a title well worth having.

MANPOWER Tel: 225 0505

P.A. SECRETARY REQUIRED C.£8,500

to work for Chief Executive of small company. The position offers the opportunity of interesting and varied work in a friendly office. If you have good secretarial skills and are well spoken, with an ability to communicate asto all levels.

Ring 01-387 8279 ino agencies

PA/TOP FLIGHT Sell starter for sole charge of busy office and Entreprentier's home start. Ability to liase at all levels Hobity organised and motivated personality with warm friendly palure Skills 120:60 excep-tional salary. Apply Miss F Howard Price Jere si lictoced Agency Telephone 01-828-2063

TUTTION MATHS and Statistics tuition by MA (Cartab) for GCE. Oxbridge Entrance and 1st year Univ work. 01-946 4380

LANSDOWNE COLLEGE EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAL COURSES COMMERCING 'Al Lansdowne you learn to manage information and no sust type II' Lansdowne Col-lege. 43 Harrington Gardens London SW7 47U, Tel. 01-373 7282/3/4

SCREASE YOUR
JOS PROSPECTS!
Why not study and exusy the summer in Toreasy at the same time? Students may at the full time generatize courses combined with 0 and A let of students. There are morning courses as well as part-time courses, Apply for details Lewis Education Cortre, 54 Torewood St. Torquay TQ1 10T 0903 214474

Creme: Secretarial/PA appointments over £7,500. General secretarial.

THURSDAY General Appointments: Chief Executives, Managing Directors, Directors, Sales and

SATURDAY Oversess Travel:

Holidays abroad. Lriw cost flights Cruises, Car hire. U.K. Travel: Hotels, Cottages, Holiday lets. Entortainments: Per Friends:a new classification for

TEACHING POSTS

are available in the IRAQI UNIVERSITIES for the academic year 1986/7.

The Cultural Department
Embassy of the Republic of Iraq
20 Queens Gate
London SW7 5JG Tel: 01-584 7141

(10.00 am - 3.00 pm Moo-Fri) Closing date for submission of the completed applica-tion forms and photocopies of certificates is the 21st April 1986.

CONDITIONS AND BENEFITS

One year contract (renewable) Monthly salary is paid in Iraqi Dinars (One I.D. = £2.5 approx.) according to qualifications and experience

B.A. & B.Sc.: I.D. 150 + 1.D. 5 per year of experience (up to a max. of LD. 300) M.A. & M.SC.I.D. 300 + I.D. 10 per year of experience (up to a max. of I.D. 450) PH.D. & HIGHEST MED. QUALIFICATIONS:

Free accommodation, subject to availability.

Free air tickets for the candidate, his wife and two (under eighteen) children, at the beginning and the termination of the Contract.

60% of the income is transferable outside

Agricultural Engineering (M.Sc.) Automatic Control Compiler Construction Computational Aerodynamics Computations & Flames Computer Network Energy Conversion File Organization & Data Base

Management (Data Systems) Marine Biology (Bio-Energy) Material Sciences

Pressure Vessels Software Eng.

Tribology Vibrations

rics (Cardiology, Nephrology and Netrology)

Applicants with suitable qualifications in the subjects listed below can obtain the application forms and relevant information from:

DIPLOMA: :LD. 130-140 + LD. 5 per year of experience (up to a max. of LD. 250)

LD. 450 + LD. 20 per year of experience (up to a max. of £800)

of: LD 60 monthly for Bachelors LD 150 monthly for Married Candidates All incomes are Tax-Free

Free medical treatment at Government

TEACHING STAFF

Geological Oceanography (Geochemistry)

Heat & Mass Transfer Impact Mechanics Information Systems & Technology Internal Flow Mechanics

Petroleum Eng. (Surface & Production Operation)

Surveying (Eng. & Geology) Stress Analysis

TECHNICIANS

Peasaries (Cargology, Neparology and Newton)

P.S. These subjects are additional to the advertisement in the month of March. These subjects are only available at the University of Ragindad and the University of Basrah

University of Kawait Health Science Contre FACULTY OF MEDICINE.

Applications are invited for a post of Chief Technician in the Department of Flustmacology. Candidates should have experience as a Laboratory Technician and hold the F.I.M.L.S. MI Biol. or equivalent qualification with ten years' experience. The successful candidate's dimensified to prepare student practicals, to supervise training of technicians, ordering equipment etc. Salary will be in the range of KD 450 - 512 per month, (KD 1 = 62, USS3.8 approx.) There is no income tax in Kuwait and currency is transferable without restriction. Free, furnished, airconditioned accommodation is provided, and electricity and water supplied free of charge. Sixty days paid annual leave for each completed ty days paid annual seave for each completed year of employment, and annual economy class return air tickets to the country of citizenship or permanent residence are provided for the appointee, spouse and three dependent children, Free medical treatment is available under the State Health Service.

Applications should be submitted to: The Director of Planning and Academic Staff Recruitment, Faculty of Medicine, University of Kuwait Health Science Centre, P.O. Box 24923, Safat, kuwait, with detailed curriculum vitae in daplicate, recent passport photograph, and the names of three referees, to arrive no later than 15th of May 1986.

UNIVERSITY

LADY MARGARET HALL

HALL
University of Challent
CHAPLAIN
OPECAMEN any Archived for y point of Challeng (who and the am Angalican valenty am) for three years from he (of two years) endeather
y wat to go a full time other
g with he the heritanty occumitted university services.

The Queen's University of Betfinst LECTURESHIPS IN ARCHITECTURE ARCHITECTURE

Applications are invited for a some federative and a factorizate for the Depotency of Pathylacone, tembre from 1. Segments 1986 or year for early he accepted. The personal appropriate control in their an active more on the control in their an active more or their personal appropriate at their pulpose. Application strikes and a proposency is used to beyon or depotent and a proposency and appropriate and a proposency and extensions on antiference and a proposency application of the personal application of the personal applications. Application of the personal applications are personal applications. Applications are personal applications.

Rectionage.

Saure with far the pariet goal to (pAP)* CENERY with constructory senses in splits, where 1865 which chicage describing an exposurable and epithername. Applicationally at the latter inchestage and the state for inches SERIZ, ERISK, ERISKI, 19 609 inches SERIZ, ERISK, 19 800. 19 609 inches SERIZ, ERISK, 19 600. 19 609 inches SERIZ, ERISK, 19 600 inches SERIZ, 19 600 inch

11. "杜 1 章章

1. 27.

A 200 - 100 300

to the same of the work

 $(t_{\alpha})_{\beta} = (\underline{s}_{\alpha})_{\beta}$

$ $1.4 mg

UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD School of Geography.

impolatorized for the first imministic wells; the resistance of the Colline buck weekly in became, he couldnot release the incidence of majorized the incidence buck which is majorized to be controlled to the controlled by the controlled to the controlled by the co

POSTS '

WYCLIFFE COLLEGE

Applications are invited by 29th April for the post of Head in succession to Mr. R.C. Poulton - who, like hts. predecessors, has been a member of HMC - when he becomes Head of Christ's Hospital on 1st January,

Details of the post and application forms may be obtained from the Secretary to the Council of Governors, Wycliffe College, Bursar's Office, Regent Street, Stonehouse, Glos. Gl.10 2AD:

BIRKDALE SCHOOL SHEFFIELD

Full details (s.a.e pisase) from R.G. Grayson. MA. LLB, Chairman of the Gov-ernors. Birkdale School, Qakholme Road. Shefficid

HEAD OF

DEPARTMENT

You re just one phone call away from knowing a you're a 'natural' for the highly paid, excessing world of computers. Ref. TO TIRING NOW

ST. ANTONY'S

SECRETARIAL

COLLEGE

RSA and LCC com

STARTING APRIL

4 week Typing/Audit

Train for a

NEW

career in

COMPUTERS

3 months

months introductor

01-636 6441

PITERNATIONAL private pos-traditional University offers degrees to raid-career adults on er 25. entitrety at home and with full credits for the career experience. Prospectus from Dest. 7. Netf Gibson & Co., Sud-bury, Sutfolk, CO10 600.

ST. COURSES College, London. Serretarial. Business and Lan-quage Courses. Training Engish for Coursess Studonts. Resident and Day Stu-dents. The Registrar (TI). 2

lege. 22:24 Queensberry Place. London SW7 2DS Please write or leightone

SHORT INTO SIVE Typewriting induvidual futhon: Speed development, Electric (sectoris), c. who full-time tag. Sectoris (sectoris), c. who full-time tag. Sectoris (sectoris), c. who full-time tag. Sectoris (sectoris), for the full-time tag. Sectoris (sectoris), for the Langton Centre 18. Duraven St., Parklane Lendon WI.

RIDEPENDENT FACTS Fact sheets on all Secondary Independent Schools in U.K. El. 75 per schools Fiber 10 schools. From: Independent Facts. Eton House. I Woodlands. Severley. North Humberside HU17 88T. WHICH SCHOOL? Our coinseling is Iree and objective. Come and see is Trussan & Knephiley. 76 (TS) Notting Hill Gale, W12. Tet: 01-727 1242.

... Stonehouse, Glos APPOINTMENT OF HEAD

BURSAR

Applications are invited for the post of Burster at Birledate School, an IAPS day school for 475 boys aged 5-16

Experienced French leads and P.S.S. levels at boys' day prep. school in Surrey. Burnham scale II etc. Single accommodation available. Apply with C.V. to BOX E49.

CRUCIAL EXAMS BONHAMS 6 wk. full time. CZOLII Visuali Arts Course starie. 28kh April: Apply Principal 01-584 0667. IN 1986? GCE O'er A level Applying UCCA or Poly? Greening?

NOW IS THE THIE to come us for expert assessment guidence, Free brockers CAMEER ANALYSTS ANCHAM Secretarial Codess.

18 Dunraven Street, Park Lane, London W1Y 3F. Please write or telephone for prospectus.
Tel: 01-629 2904.

The FULBRIGHT COMMISSION STUDENT 689 8583 or 01-589 8331 ADVISER or consistent Advisory Service dealing with enquiries on U.S. education, primarily post-secondary. Graduate of American university, and 23-28, preferred. Typing skills necessary. Starting salary within the range of DSSS to 27707 in-cluding London Allowance. Apply with Curriculum Vitae-by April 7 to: Educational Ad-viser. 6 Porter Street (off Baker Street), London Wild. 2HR.

CHAPLAIN Bloxham School An Anglican priest is a quired for September, 198

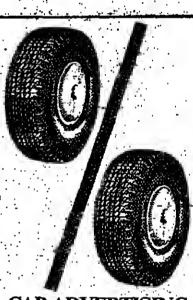

The Reverend Laurence Gumer to Mariborough. Ap-plicants should be graduates; Previous school experience is not essential. The appoint-ment inverses protogral and bear-blee dutties are usual as priest.
Applications together with CV, and the names and addresses of two Confidential referees should be sent as soon as possible to The Headmanter. Blackham School. Blocham. Banbury. OX15 dPE from whosh retries particulars may be obtained

BODLEIAN LIBRARY DEPARTMENT OF WESTERN WESTERN

MANUSCRIPTS

Appointment of research assistant archivist, for two years, for work on the papers of the Society for the Protection of Society for the Protection of Society and Learning, Academic-related Grade IIA, trillar stately £7800, Candidate should have a good honours desire in an appropriate field, and related research archive experience will be an additional advantage. Further details and application forms may be obtained from the Assistant Secretary, Bodician Library, Cottor OXI 380, Closing, date April 14th.

Westminster Cathedral

CAR ADVERTISING: THE PERCENTAGES THAT COUNT

Out of everywhe who handh a 1983, 1940; 'Sour new or second hand, 178% read The Sunday Times.

A figure which comfortably outstrips our major competitors: (Daily Telegraph, 12.8%; Sunday Telegraph, 9.8%; The Observer 166%; The Gustdian, 4.8%, Source: NRS, April-September 1985;
This year, it's more than likely many of our 4 million readers will be in the market to change their car.
The more sous 4.2% of them own two or more cars.
Reusons enough to choose The Sunday Times as an ideal place to sell a car.
Particularly when you consider the madest suture of our titles.

our rates.
Just £9,50 per line tapproximately four words; min Or 256 persecc. Initi desplay tolus VAT @ 15".1.

To reserve space Rill in your advertisement in the space below flower messages can be attached separately to Chicques to be made possible to Times Newspapers Ltd. Should you wish to pay by Accessor Barelaneard, please quote your number below.

Send to Shirley Margolis, Group Classified Advertisement ment Manager, Times Newspapers Ltd. Advertisement Department, P.O. Box 484, Virginia Street, London

THE SUNDAY TIMES MAKE-IT-WORK-FOR-YOU

Over 1-4 million of the most affluent people in the country read the classified columns of The Times. The following categories appear regularly every week, and are generally accompanied by relevant editorial articles. Use the coupon (right), and find out how easy, fast and economical it is to advertise in The Times Classified.

MONDAY Education: University Appointments, Prep. & Public School Appointments, Educational Courses, Scholarships & Fellowships. La Crème de la Crème-TUESDAY Computer Horizons: a comprehensive guide to the computer market Computer market.
Legal Appointments: Solicitors, Commercial Lawyers, Legal Officers, Private & Public practice.
Legal La Crème: a new classifica-

Town & Country, Overseas, Rentals.

Marketing Executives and Overseas Appointments. Including a new classification entitled Financial and Accountancy Appointments. THE WORLD FAMOUS PERSONAL COLUMN APPEARS EYERY DAY.
ANNOUNCEMENTS CAN APPEAR WITHIN 24 HOURS.

WEDNESDAY La Crème de la FRIDAY Motors: A complete car Crème: Secretaria!/PA.appointments buyers' guide featuring established ness to Business: Selling property, franchise equipment etc, to small and large

Fol in the coupon and attach it to your advertisement. Prior to it appearing we will contact you with a quotation and confirm the date of insertion.

Rates are Lineage £4 per line (min. 3 tines). Boxed Display £23 per single column centimetre, Coun and Social 66 per line. All rates + 15% VAT.

ADDRESS DATE OF INSERTION

TELEPHONE (Daytime) _________ACCESS OR YISA AND NO...

SCHOLARSHIPS

ORGAN SCHOLARSHIP 1986-87 lications are now in this scholarship from Catholic music

Write for details to:
Master of Music
Venturasier Cethedral
Clergy House
4-2 Francis Street
Lendon SWIP 1QW

young readers to contact people with similar interests at home and overseas

PAY NO POSTAGE. Send in: The Times, Shirley Margolis, Group Classified Advertisement Manager, Times Newspapers Ltd. Advertisement Daylor Street, London 21 9DD.

il in the SEAT LEZS stable for all seasons will also Upper Lambourn trainer with

All classified advertisements can be accepted by telephone (except Announcements). The deadline is 5.00pm 2 days prior to publication (ie 5.00pm Monday for Wednesday). Should you wish to send an advertisement as writing please include your daytime phone atmber. CINTOMER SERVICES DE. PARTISENT. If you have any queries or problems relating to your advertisement ance it has resultants. It you have my open advertisement once it has appeared, please contact our customer Services Department by selephone on 01–481 2006

A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Cancer Together we can beat it.

We fund over one third of all research into the preven-tion and cure of cancer in the UK. Helpus by sending a dor Cancer Research Campaign (

And Allendon SWIT-SAR SERVICES

2 Carlson House Terra

Pinchimeter, Love or Macriage, All ages, arms: Datefine, Dept 62(6) 23 Abinadon Road, Lon-don Wil. Tel: D1-958 101. CALLERS: GPS protestionality within and produced curriculum villar documents. Details: 01-880 2059. Details: 01-860 2500s.

MEART to HEART. Todays way of meeting. Confidential introductions throughout UK for Componionable, Priendedto,
Marriage. Heart to Heart, 32
London Rd. Twickenhum.
Middx 01-892 2081.

WANTED

- Mings 0497 820736. Desix, Hookense etc & Pre 1940 farmatice. Tel: 01-585 0148 of 01-228 2716 day or night. OLYMPIE THERE'S washed. Top prices paid , Tel 01 828 0778.

FOR SALE

...

RESISTA CARPETS SPECIAL OFFERS Wicanders Corkoplast Ties, design netural only 18.96 per sq yd + VAT,
Wool july Berber carpets
4m while Heastan backed
£4.36 per sq yd + VAT,
While stocks last, 207 Haverstock HIII Tet 01-794 0139

MARKSON PIANOS, Albany Street, NW1. Tel: 01-935 8662. Artillery Place, SE18. Tel: 01-854 4517.

Free entimates Expert fitting of England's finest 17th and 18th Century replica furniture. Soild Managany. English Oak. Watnot and Denyaetry. Natibebed. . Oxon. (0491) (GAT115: CATCH, COUNTY COUNTY credit cards.

Ties: Ties: 2.79%-2.99%. Other tities avail. Hand bound ready for presentation. also
"Boundays". C.12.50. Recreentation
When. 0.1688-6525.
TRICKETS FOR ANY EVENT, CAIR.
Statisfat Exp. Cress. Les Mis.
All theaty and exp.
Tiel. 821-66 16.958-0395.
A.E.X / View / Discers. hogany, 1890, carved logs. Totally magnificent. Tel: 01 940 1152 or w/e 0672 870629 940 1152 of w/e 0672 structure field from the field

ANTIQUES & COLLECTABLES THE WORKESTER ROYAL CO.
Limited Editions of Wellington and Napotean Bonsparts.
S4.500 cech. Rapty to BOX
E61.

MUSICAL. INSTRUMENTS

NWS. 01-267 7671. Free catalogue.

THE PLANO WORKEROF.
LODGON'S leading specialist in new and restored planes for the largest gentine selection available. SOs Highpass Rt. NWS. 01-267 7671. Free catalogue.

This: PLANO WORKEROF.
LUMGON'S leading specialist in new and restored planes for the largest gentine selection available. SOs Highpaste Rd. NWS. 01-367 7671. Free catalogue.
PLANOS: M. LANE & SOSS. New seed recombile prices. 368 876-883.

PLANOS: M. LANE & SOSS. New Seed recombilioned. Quality in reasonable prices. 368 876-883.

BERT GELASOS PLANOS. 368 876-883.

BERT GELASOS PLANOS. 368 876-883.

BERT GELASOS PLANOS. 367 876-883.

Ey. Exc. cond., requirely but £1.250 one. 01-441 4501. HEALTH & BEAUTY

LIFE EXTENSION ST.IVES HYDRO 0736-753262.

FRENCH GIRE. 16 years old time-hy house up Cote D'Azur) whites to do enchange visit with English girl/boy of similar ap-to come to England now until Italia. The England of the Cotalis-timase pasone 01-602 3237 atter 6.00 years of 0392 32469 over Enter Weshand.

SHORT LETS SERVICED FLATS, Lendon from C325 pw. on-p Hoe Apts 373 3455 QUEENSWAY W2 3 bed furn into £500 pw Short Let Prance A37.
2445 day or 0925-72050 ove
£ERWICKS 'APARTMENTS IN Konsington. Col TV 24be swed.
tis. Collengian Apis 373 6506.
$T JAMES 5WS. LEXTRY 2 bed fully furnished serviced api or park. 01 373 6506 in 1372 6506 in 1

FLATSHARE

FIND A-PLAT (Flat Sharing Agency) home-owners no (on 36 Kings Rd. SW3 01-504 8023 Fill MAM F 22+ to there room in attractive flat. £40.38 pw suci Td: 361 2777 after 7.30 pm RENTALS

Quraishi Constantine

Per Week £ RECHIMOND 2-bed Georgian House 308 HAMPSTEAD HAMPSTEAD Described 1 bed Flat PIER HOUSE SW3
Prez Verw 1 bed Flat
BAHEICAN EC2
Super 1 bed Flat
EALING
LUXURY 1 bed Flat 250 195

150

130 01-244 7353 NOTTING HILL, WIT Scient dew conversion of quiet Street, 2 minutes from the lube. October recession. 2 befores, modern bachen 8 bathrim, with street. Plant less than 1, plant 1990, pr. week. Nothing Hill Office: 01-221 3500

CHESTERTONS SELCRAVIA. New hord serviced list. Beautiful at tiques, hurse roof garden. bed/sitting room, dining root id. beth. TV. steres. 2270. T. .256 0260, 5891697.

LAWSON & HERMAN Diplomats & executives urgestly seek quality properties in all central /West Lendon areas, For abres-tion please ring 01-938 5425.

OPERIOR FLATE & HOUSES swall. & reqd. for diplomats, executives. Long & short lets in all areas. Libritant & Co. 48. Albamarie St W I. 01-499 5334.

taying in London? We specialise to renting qua farnished former. Try us, Hunters 837-7366.

get of huxury apts. Short lets, Central London. 01-938-2412. MONTPELLER WALK SW7. 3 AGONTPILLER WALK SW7. 3 mins Historia. 4 mins Hyde Park. Lircurfons well furnished &-equipped fins. 2 rec, 2 dible bedrins. kil. hall. hash & citis. Quiet & ronny. All postille arpidances. Col. TV, gas Cri. fireblaca, phone. Company let. 1 year from 1st April. No spenis. 580-6a66.
Almeimean Encourtry. Seek hax fins/houses up to £500 p.w. Usual fees red, Phillips Kay & Lawis, Soulis of the Park. Chelsels office, 01-352 8111 or North of the Park. Regent's Park office. 01-722 $136.

Qurakhes Constanting offer quality Humand rundrhished properties in Kensington, Chelesa, Fulham, Potney, Wimbledon, Richisond, From E100 pw. Please let with your requirements of 244 7355.

MEDIT/SMREEY BORDER, Detatched house A beds, CH-folly equipped modernised kitchen, Garage, garden, assy commuting, C450 pc.n, References required, 0732 863255.

AMERICAN Bank mently requires incury flast and houses from £200 - 21,000 pw. Ring Burgest Estale Agents 561 5136 BELORAVIA
KNIGHTSERIDGE Rass/houses available now. £100-1,000 pw
Burgens 01-881 5136,

3 bed, 2 bash town me, re-reading fun, Co let only. Others gratiable, A.C.R.E. 586 8811.
[EXPERIENCED RINITALE cepotiators.
Appointments, RESERVE PAPEL/Portland Place.
Magnif fun refurb 2 bed flat, All used come. £285pm. 936 9055.
PROF F 26 series accommentation is for Westmander. Telephone of the 212 6780. FLATMATES Selective Sharing Well estab totroductory pervice Pipe sel for appl: 01-589 5491 313 Brotopton Road, SW3

GENERAL

APPOINTMENTS EXPENSIVEM MESOTIATOR re-outred for rentals office of Hollead Part item specialisms to London and country house lettings. Pereta. Portland House, Pertland Road, London W11 4LA 01-221 1404.

SUPER SECRETARIES CHACE + QOOD REPRIFITS Past onthusance ser reard by small friendly Bedgian company. Varied duties for busy young managerial team. 100% involvement essential. Rustly o/hand. 60 typing. French an assot. Innuned. Start available.
Age 20 to 25. Please telephone Eridget on: 01-02-25 6024 (no agencies).
SECRETARRES FOR ARCHITECTS AND DESIGNERS.
Permanent. & LEMPONEY POS-

Permanent & temporary pos-tions. AMSA Specialist Rec. Cons. 01 734 0532 PROPERTY TO LET LONDON

Keith Cardale Groves MONTAGU ST, WI ST. JOHN'S WOOD NWS 01-629 6604/

KENT SEVENOAKS. Idvilic country re-trast, part of converted stables.

4 beds. I hastnoom. I shower plus separate vc. 2 reception. (wity filted kitchen, stummthe hall double garage. Cas central hasting. Beautiful vs. acre gar-dem. 5136,000. 0732-62801.

SCOTLAND house central heating 2 rections, fully flued thick index states a double bedroom study 2 baths, cloakroom.

CENERAL

COLF 6TI Limited Edition. All White convertible A Rec. Low Milesge 13,000 only. I lasty owner immerciate condition. C7.200 see 74624 774311 MORGAN 4/4. A seat. 43 Y Rec. Alam body. W/W, Lasther int. Yellow. Many extres 8,800 m. Alum body, W. Laurer A. Alum body, W. Laurer A. Alum Pellows Many extras 8,800 m Fellows 100 mm Wantage 100 mm Pellows 100 mm VC387 4321 (0) 67423 UU /OLVO, Ex-management cars: all models. low mileages, huge str-ings Tel 0452-25291 (Widays)

PORSCHE

Nairobi, Jo'Burg, Cairo, Du-bai, Istanbul, Singapore, K.L. Delhi, Bangiok, Hong Kong, Sydney, Europe, & The Americas, Flamingo Travel, 3 New Queber S. Marble Arch London Will 70D. 01-402 9217/18/19 Open Saturday 10.00-13.00 JAGUAR & DAIMLER COSTCUITERS ON RIGHT, hot to Europe, USA & most destina tions. Diplomat Travel: 01-730 2201. ABTA IATA ATOL.

UP UP & AWAY

USA from £99. Major travel. 01 485 9237. IATA

JOS FARETS WORLDWING
LOW FARETS WORLDWING
USA, B. America, Mid and Far
East, S. Africa, Trayvaic, 48
Margaret Surset, W.; Of 880 2928 (Visa Accepted)
fr £1599, first fr £2038, Sydmey fr £699 rtn. Columbus, Cullers Cardens, 10 Deversitire
Square, EC2, 01 3929 4261,
DBSCOURTS 1st/Economy tickets. Try us

Dark grey with light grey interi-or. Cruise control/ frip meter. 15,000 miles. £15,250. Tel. Granthamt0475: 76313. LOWEST AIR FARES Buckingham Travel. ABTA. 01-936 8622. Choice of 45 whole range. £4.995-£19.000. Est. 19 years. PX. Tel 01-554 9833 Essex (T). MALAGA, TEMERIPE Travelwise 01 441 1111 ABTA

MERCEDES MALAGA TENERSPE Travelwise. 01-441 1111 ABTA. 280 SE. September 85, C registration, automatic, 2,800 miles. Chaste whate, blue velour, brand new with lots of extras including air conditioning, 7550 electrones. CHEAP FLIGHTS Worldwide Haymarket 01-930 1366. assette/radio. Owner goung

O1-724 2388 ABTA ATOL GI.724 2388 ABTA ATOL

RELIABLE LICENSED & SONGE
IOW COST GIGH EXPERTS NY, LA,

SYCHOLY, SINGADOTE, BERNEKOK,

RIO, SANIAGO, LIMA, NAITONI,

JO'BUTP, All ELITOPE, Freedom

HOMERAY, GI.741 4666 ATOL,

432 IATA AITO

AMERICARE, SPECIALISTS Sydney

a/w E395 th D645, Auckland

a/w E490 th E774, Jobury

e-IW 6264 tim E470, Les Angeles a/w E177 th E353, London

Filight Centre OI-370 6352,

LATHA AMERICAL, Low cost

flights e-Q. Rio £496, Lima

£475 fin. Also Small Group

Houday Journeys, J.J.A 01-747,

3108 230 E (124) 1986, Red. ESR. Al-loys. Stereo. Auto. Elec windows, etc. Personal no 8676 TW. £10.500. Tel: 0902 241 19 80 SE A REG. 18.000 miles. im £17,460. Tel: 01 800 2433.

OVERSEAS TRAVEL

£17,950 for quick sale. 01-643 5748.

SWITZERLAND FROM ONLY £99 RETURN

Save with Swissair's Super Apex. London to Zurich or Geneva daily on convenient afternoon flights. And daily morning flights London to Basle (except Sundays). Book and pay 14 days before departure. Stay in Switzerland at least until the Sunday after arrival.

Similar savings also from Manchester and Birmingham direct to Switzerland. Bookings and full conditions from travel agents or 01-439 4144.

swissair ...

TRAILFINDERS Worldwide low cost flights. To best-and we can prove 170,000 clients since 1970, WORL)
TRUM E785

and 25 staff to terve
and 25 staff to terve
2510 Homelocators.
Sends Control Sends (627
2510 Homelocators, who distributed to the staff to terve
3 bed, 2 bath town see, Nr Holidary Rus. Co jet only. Others svallable, A.C.R.E. 586 8811.
VPENERORED RENTALS segontors. See General Sends (1998)
Sends Control Sends (1998)
Sends £250 £241 £160 £231 £286 £253 AMGRES 2187 C325 NEW YORK 2139 2242 GENEVA 275 289 42-48 EARLS COURT ROAD

Compe/USA Flotes 01-937 5402 Long Heal Replies 01-803 1515 1st/Buswers Class 01-938 2444 Government Licensed/Booded ABTA IATA ATOL 1458 Dartair The Articlet specialist

NYSK 2749 Päure 2.54 SVAM: 2339 Nordel 279 Svahev 2539 Bangkov 2564 Augk 25637 Toranto 2744 150 Jermyn Sireet, SWT

LOWEST FARES Phase write or talepho-ter further inferenties SUN & SAND 1, Swallow St, London

01-439 2100/734 6668 MAJOR C/CARES ACCEPTED

APRIL/MAY HOLIDAY BARGAIN PROLIDAY MARGAMES
CRETE 5139, Menorza 5129
ALGARVE 5135, CORFU 5117
TEMERER 5127, BHODES 5149
NOS 5139, POROS 5122
Various deps April/May inc.
Valariat of hotel account, plus flight from Garwick Makester fluid Supparaval deps daily April/May and deseguation de summar. Brochares (24 hrs) Instant hotelogs.
VERTURA HOLIMOTE
LINEOUS 81-227 5455
MARKHERTER BRILLES 5825

AUSTRALIA FAR EAST WORLDWIDE The lowest cost flights Eurocheck Travel 01-542 4613 01-543 4227 Estab 1970

ITED FARES single fetura £300 £465 £220 £325 £130 £200 £235 £335 £250 £340 £196 £350 Afro Asian Travel Ltd 162/168 Regent St W.1. TEL: 61-437 $288/$/7/8 AMEX/VISA/DINERS

SELF-CATERING BALEARICS

SELF-CATERING

SELF-CATERING GREECE GREECE FROM £129

SPRING OFFERS 194 2945 KDS/PHODES 6/4 5129 5159 KDS/PHODES 16/4 5149 5179 TOLON 11/4 5149 5179 CRETE 6.15/4 5159 5189 PRICES INCLUDE
A/TAXES @ INSE
TRISWAY HOLIDAYS
RICKMANSWORTH, HERTS
(1922) 778344
NORTHERN OFFICE (0422) 75999 ABTA ATOL 1197 AITO

sea in beautiful unspoilt of try. Size 8. £160 pw. Tel: 272 297 or 01-727 4065

SELF-CATERING ITALY REDILGE DI A MAGIC WEN-END. Induse yourself... you deserve it. A weekend in Ven-toe. Florence, or Rome. Ead well, drink well, shop well and forper about England's desersa-lise to the state of the Industrial State of the sta

SELF-CATERING PORTUGAL Holidays of distinction for tery few. Tel: 01-491 080 St. James's Street, SW1, IMALFLICHTEOOKERS 01-387 9100.

DW COST FLIGHTS. Nost European destinations. Valentander D1 402 4262/0022 ABTA 61004 ATOL 1960 WAND. AMARCA. NYORK, WORKWISE cheapest Fares. Pichmond ABTA 01-940 4073. MARKE. JAMAICA. NYORK SELF-CATERING SPAIN OSTA DEL SOL, Fac Richmond ABTA 01-940 A073, BRAME, ANABACA, MYORM, Worthwide Chaspest Erres. Richmond Travel. 1 Dobe 86 Richmond ABTA 01-940 4073. SPARN, PORTUGAL, Elights from most UK alsports. Many laie special offers. Paider 01 471 0047 ATOL 1640 TRIMBSA For this periect holitary with sumy days & carefree rights. Meel for March/April. Tunesian Travel. 01-573 4411. BSA. N/YOK £159 Mann £196 LA £299 rtm Abto Chespest schedule from major US carthers. 01-584 7571 ABTA.

Sea frost apartment to rest. Sea frost apartment to rest. steeps 2/4. Use of all hotel lacd titles. Avail April, May, August. From 575 pw. 0762 332773. MARREELA. Lux 5 bed apt in lown. Own pool. or beach and lovely sea view. Ol. 965 9635, 577 2161. WINTER SPORTS in MOLIDAYS OF April by all from Gatwick with hotels on apts. From £129. Lift pass only £27. Good snow I Freedom Holidays OI 741 4686 ATOL schedule fit on major US carriers. 01-584 7371 ASTA.

USA, CANADA & FUNDOPE.
LOWEST AM FARES. Also
Caub and 1st. Bestare 01-3941642. Atol 1400.

AUSARCA, Sth Africa, U.S.A.
Hong Kong, Best Fares: 01-493
7775 ABTA.

SYD/MEL, ESIS Perin ESAS AR
major carriers to ALIS/NZ, 01.
584 7371. ABTA
TURNEY. Flight only by Delaman. Depo. 13. 20 May,
From £169, 01-892 2619, Atol,
SOUTH AFRICA JOSUNG F ESSE EKINEG BOLEBAYS 6/4 by air from Galvick with hotels of abts. From £129. Lift gass only £27 Good Snow I Freedon Holidays 01.701 4886. ATOS, $18 BARSHAM HOT LIME, Hotels chalets & apts by air, license coach & s/drive, instant book ings with access/viss. Ski West (0575) 86481 I. SOUTH AFRICA JOBUT IT £465. D1-584 7371 ABTA. SKI JET FLIGHTS Geneva, Zurich, Munich, etc. resort transfer from £69, Ski Jet. 10373) 864811 ABTA.

SOMERSET & AVON

EXBOOR. Excellent food and comfort to superb Georgian syl-clustry GH. Fresh baked rolls chotted cream. Located: 0.8 & B. £13.50. Tel 0398 4203.

BUSINESS SERVICES

SURVEILLANCE

MONITORING

01 558 4226

GENERAL CALDIVES, Lanzarole Isla O1-830-4363 ABTA. CORNWALL & DEVON TARE TIME OFF to Paris, Ampierdam, Brussels, Brugas, Gesswa, Berne, Lauganne, The Hagore, Dualitin, Rouen, Bous logne & Dieppe, Time Off, 2s, Chaster Close, London, SWIX 79Q, 01-235 8070.

12ansidwell SELF-CATERING Country House Hotel Spend this Spring or Summer in quiet luxury near rise THINK SMALL Helford estuary. Own ground secluded cove, excellent foo Sanali groups — 14-21 people in staffed Villa Parties throughout the bled; sanali beats — Bodram Write or phone for brochure Mawnan, Falmou TEL, Falmouth (C outh 103261 -250-34

ers'or a 20-berth m cruiser in Turkey/Greece: small becole with character in Turkey. SMALL WORLD Old Stone House, Judges Terrace, East Grinstead, Sussex Rifle LAQ Tel. 0342-22222 (24hrs)

or 27272 (res) THE REST VILLAS are to the Pairner & Peirker blue book. Available in Algarve, Marbella. South of France. USA. & West Indies, Most have staff, all filtre private pools & none are cheap. Brochures 1049 451) 8413.

HISCOYER ANDORRA. He a Hille different. Emby the unspolled atmosphere of the Pyrenees in summer. Lizz o/c spis or chaiet. fantastic sports facilities, beautifantastic sports facilities, beauti-tui scenery. Inchaive car hire from £120. Tei: 01 221 7913. SHECCESHIEE Corv Ludiow. Ironbridge. Country house holi-day flats 2/8. Beautifut area. Brochure. 05887 487 and coounter surveilland equipment for both the amount equipment to the control of the cont

LEGAL NOTICES

UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS HOUSTON DIVISION

CONTINENTAL AIRLINES CORPORATION
CASE NOS 83-04019H2-5
CONTINENTAL AIR LINES, (NC., and TEXAS INTERNATIONAL AIRLINES, (NC., through 83-04022-H3-5
TXIA HOLDINGS CORPORATION,
CASE NOS. 85-05481-H3-5
TXIA FINANCE (EUROPE) B.V.,
T TEXAS INTERNATIONAL AIRLINES CAPITAL N.V., and TEXAS INTERNATIONAL AIRLINES FINANCE CONSOLIDATED UNDER CASE NO. 83-04019-H2-5

DEBTORS. NOTICE AND ORDER TO CREDITORS AND EQUITY SECURITY HOLDERS CONCERNING MOTION FOR APPROVAL OF AGREEMENT WITH TEXAS AIR CORPORATION RELATING TO THE REDEMPTION OF THE 7-1/2% CONVERTIBLE SUBORDINATED DEBENTURES DUE 1993 OF TEXAS INTERNATIONAL AIRLINES FINANCE N.V.

TAKE NOTICE: On March 17, 1965 the above referenced Debtors (the "Debtors") filled with this Court a Motion For Approval of Agreement with Texas Air Corporation Relating to their Re-demption of the 7-1/2% Convertible Subordinated Debentures Due 1933 of Texas International Airlines Finance N.V. (the "Motion").

2. A hearing on the Motion will take place before the United States Bankinghoy Court for the Southern District of Texas, Houston Division on April 8, 1988 at 9.80 am. The hearing will take place before the Honorable T. Glower Roberts, United States Benkinghoy Judge, 7th Flore United States Courthouse, 515 Rusk Avenue, Houston, Texas 77002. Any person objecting to the entry of an order approving the relief requested in the Motion must like a written objection with the Bankruptey Clerk, United States Bankruptey Court, 518 Rusk Avenue, Houston, Teas 77002 on or before 12.00 Noon on Mondey, April 7, 1986. A. A copy of the Motion, with a copy of the Redemption Agreement attached as an exhibit thereto, can be obtained by contacting counted for the Debtors. Mr Lenard M. Parlons and Mr John F. Higgins, Sheinfeld, Maley & Kay, 3700 First City Tower, Houston, Texas 77002, telephone number (713) 656-8881.

Counsel for the Debtors is directed to deliver, by co copies of the Motion to all persons requesting copies the 8. Copies of any objections to the Motion must be personally served on coursel for the Debtors, Mr Lenard M. Parlons at the address set out in perspect 4 above, on the date the objection is filed with the Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court. IT IS SO ORDERED, this 26th day of March, 1986. /S/ T. Glover Roberts UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY JUDGE

Morale high for Grey Desire

RACING: BRITTAIN'S TOUGH CUSTOMER SET TO REPEAT KEMPTON TRIUMPH

While the word from Newmarket is that Piggott has a good chance of winning the Clumber Stakes for Charles St

George with Cagliostro, who was with Henry Cecil last year, the feeling there is that his other runner. Georgie's De-light, will be beaten in the Little John Stakes by Gavin

Pritchard-Gordon's Cresta

while the former has obvious-

True to form Easterby's

Fakenham.

him last year.

Grey Desire, Mel Brittain's tough six-year-old, is napped to win the Quail Stakes at Kempton a second time this afternoon. Before he won it ast year he had finished unplaced in the Cammidge Trophy at Doncaster. This time he enters the fray fresh from a morale-boosting vic tory in the same sprint at Doncaster. What he did there he should manage agaio, especially as he proved last year that he is not remotely put out of his stride by the son of testing conditions that be will encounter again this after-

Formatune and Will George, others to have won at Doncaster recently, are also both fancied to cash in on their fitness in the Capitalcard Handicap and the Paddock Handicap respectively.

But in these races 1 just prefer Fusilier and Hilton Brown. Fusilier was carrying overweight when he finished

Hilton Brown will be meeting

third in the Lincoln, while

Will George on 71b better terms. At Nottingbam Lester Piggott's first two runners as a trainer will inevitably arouse igterest on the course where he bowed out as a jockey in this country.

From Our Irish Correspondent, Dublin ally lightweights dominate the Irish Grand National and this past week punters have seized upon this as a decisive sezzed upon this as a decisive clue in their attempts to identify the winner of Ireland's richest steeplechase run today at Fairyhouse. The animal to take their fancy has been Omerta, who was backed from 12-1 down to joint favouritism on Saturday norning with two major English ancies Run and Skip and Righthand Man. Certainly Omerta looks to have been given o real chance by the handicapper, Captain Louis Magee, for he will be carrying a mere 9st 8lb as compared to the 12st of Run and Skip and the 11st 9lb of Righthand Man, The last time Omerta per-formed was at Cheltenham wheo in the four mile National Hunt, Chase he made light of 12st 7lb, winning in a canter by a dozen lengths from Another Dragon, Even though there is a world of ifference between the class of the average National Hunt Chase competitor and the borses that figure prominently in the Cheltenham Gold Cup, I believe Omerta can triumph today.

The two top weights fit into

The two top weights fit into the latter category having finished fourth and flifth behind the great mare. Dawn Run, this mooth. Run and Skip made the better effort by far, keeping company with Dawn Run for the greater part of the race and still being in contention at the second last fence. He had, however, made a couple of bad mistakes. Richthand Man ran o very Righthand Man ran o very different sort of race, never really getting into contention, but it is probable that he was short of a race for this was his first start since reuning fourth to Run And Skip at Chepstow before Christmas. Comparing the Fairyhouse and Chepstow handicaps, one finds that Righthand Man is now 181b better off and Mrs Dickins very optimistic that he can turn the tables with Run And Skip. the tables with Run And Skip.

It is well worth remembering that Righthand Man ran a splendid race in last year's Gold Cup, being beaten only 2 ½ lengths by Forgive 'n' Forget. If he can recapture that form he would certainly be the pick of the English trio with Maori Venture the cutvider of the trio. be fielding some of its jumpers oo this busy afternoon. I can envisage Cybrandian being too quick for Earls Brig in the H S Commercial Spares Handicap Chase and thus compensating his connections for their overall misfortuce in the Cheltenham Gold Cup which ended in disaster when a stirrup leather broke after only six fences.

Auction, whose stable com-panion Dhofar is also expected to wio the Coral Bookmaker Hurdle 21 But stable companion Ryeman will surely need to be at his very best if he is to beat George Robinson, our New-Josh Gifford's southern raider Simon Legree, who ran so well at Cheltenham to finish a close market correspondent, also passes on encouragement for Weshaam (2.30) and Hoist the third in the Mildmay in the Axe (4.30). Ben Hembury's Flete Challenge Cup. Elsewhere the successful Ross-on-Wye trainer John Edtwo runoers at Newcastle. The latter was beaten only a length there oo Saturday by Soxopb wards looks the man to follow at Hereford, where Mana Reef (3.0), Deer Crest (3.30) and ly been going great guns on the Castle Warden (4.0) are all Otherwise it should pay to thought capable of winning, leaving stable companioo Strath Leader to keep the flag follow Peter Easterby at Gosforth Park. The redoubtflying at Market Rasen by able Yorkshire trainer will be looking to Well Rigged to recover their Lincoln losses in winning the Keisby Novice's Chase.

the Newcastle Centenary Handicap while Cumbrian Still on the Ligcolnshire track I can envisage Mark Dancer is expected to go well Pitman landing a double there in the Northern Handicap on for his mother Jenny on Red ground that seemed to suit Rocky (3.25) and Mr Dibbs (4.35).

doubly good prospects this afternoon, but oo different courses. While his brother Simoo

will be on duty at Newtoo

Abbot to partner their father's nice young horse Harry's Double in the Castle Circus Novice's Hurdle, Clive Cox.

his understudy at Rhonehurst, will be at Wincanton to partner Predominate io the first division of the Axbridge

Novice's Hurdle. Both will be hard to beat, while Battle

King, from Fred Winter's yard is another big Lambourn

tip for the second division

Lester Piggott: First runners

Oliver Sherwood is another Omerta can repel Righthand Man

3.30 JAMES IRISH GRAND NATIONAL CHASE (EIR34,320: 3m 4f) (17 G Bradley

K Morgan

S Knight

N Mastden

E Tyrrell

F Berry

T Carmody

T J Taefe

T Morgan

Is Fair, 12-T Maori Venture, Lucisis, 14-1 Sesion Bridge, Missier Donoven, 10-1 OwensFORM: RUN AND SKIP (12-0) 4th besten 4% to Dawn Run (11-9) with RIGHTHAND MAN
(12-0) 5th beaten 14%, 11 ran. Cheltenham Gold Cup 3m 21 ch good Mar 13, earlier RUN
AND SKIP (10-8) won 6t from Golden 17 (9-11) with RIGHTHAND MAN (11-7) 4th beaten 91 16 ran. Chepstow, Welsh Grand National 3m 6t ch soft Dec 21. HARD CASE (10-3) won 4th from THE ELLERI (10-3) with SESSIM BRIDGE (10-13) 5th beaten 6%, 11 ran.
Leoperdistown 3m ch good Feb 16, MAORI VENTURE (11-7) won 1% from Port Askag
(10-2) 8 ran. Lingfield 3m hicap ch good to soft Mar 15, MISTER DONOVAN (12-0) 3rd beaten 12 to Artifude Adjuster (12-0) 14 ran. Chebenham 9m 2f hun ch good Mar 13.
ONERRATA (12-7) won 12f from Another Dragon (12-0) 22 ran. Chettechham 4m ch good
Mar 12, MARCOLO, (10-10) 4th beaten 13th of Glyde Court (11-6) with LUCSSS (11-6) fell 16th when going well, 20 ran. Cheltenham 3m hicap good Mar 11, earlier MARCOLO, (913) won 2½ from LUCSSS (11-2) and BOLD AGENT (11-60) 3rd beaten 22%, 4 ran.
Felryhouse 3m hicap ch heavy Jan 22, INSURE (10-9) won 20 from Howart Highway (012) with DALTHORE 3nd of 6, Limerick 3m hicap che heavy Mar 15, BOLD AGENT (110) won 6l from Randoss (9-9) 5 ran. Down Royal 2m 4th leap ch heavy Mar 22, ANDROY
(7-2) ch beaten 3 to BOLD AGENT (9-7) 8 ran. Down Royal 3m hicap ch good soft Mar
(7-7) 2nd beaten 31 to BOLD AGENT (9-7) 8 ran. Down Royal 3m hicap ch good soft Mar
(7-7) 2nd beaten 31 to BOLD AGENT (9-7) 8 ran. Down Royal 3m hicap ch good soft Mar
(7-7) 2nd beaten 31 to BOLD AGENT (9-7) 8 ran. Down Royal 3m hicap ch good soft Mar
(7-7) 2nd beaten 31 to BOLD AGENT (10-7) 8 ran. Down Royal 3m hicap ch good soft Mar
(7-7) 2nd beaten 31 to BOLD AGENT (10-7) 8 ran. Down Royal 3m hicap ch good soft Mar
(7-7) 2nd beaten 31 to BOLD AGENT (10-7) 8 ran. Down Royal 3m hicap ch good soft Mar

Venture the outsider of the trio.

KEMPTON °C4 Televised: 1.45, 2.15, 2.45 Draw: high numbers favoured Going: soft

1.45 QUAIL STAKES (£4,604: 6f) (15runners) 101 00301-1 GREY DESIRE (C-D) (M Britain) M Britain 8-8-10. . K Darley 7

5-4 Grey Desire, 5-2 Sharp Romance, 6-1 Vorvados, 12-1 Melody Park, 14-1 igo Loco, 10-1 Really Honest. FORM: GREY DERSIRE (9-10) won 1½1 from SHARP ROMANCE (9-7) with VORVADOS (9-10) 4th beaten 5½; AMIGO LOCO (9-4) 5th beaten 5½; 13 ran, Doncaster 6f side good Mar 21, MIRACLES TAKE TIME (8-4) 3rd beaten 2½ to Matou (9-5) 15 ran, Haydock 6f ricap port Oct 16 MELODT PARK (8-1) 4th beaten 2 to Zanats (7-13) Bran, Newbury 6f ricap good Oct 26. OCEAN TRADER (8-13) 2nd beaten 3l to Mummy's Favourite (8-10)5 ran, Laicester 6f sids firm Oct 21, CRIETE CARGO (8-13) 5th beaten 121 to Managad (7-13) 11 ran, Doncaster 7f h'cap good Mar 22.

Selection: GREY DESIRE

2.15 CAPITAL CARD HANDICAP (£2,800: 1m) (15)

100-30 Fusilier, 4-1 Formatune, 11-2 Corn Street, 7-1 Rana Pratap, 8-1 Alquirm, 10-1 Kazarow. PORNE: QUIET RIOT (7-8) 4th beaten 3 kil to Staney (8-7) 7, ran. Tork 1m h'cap good to soft Oct 10. KALKOUR (9-0) 11th of 12 to Chance Ing Million (98-3) 12 ran. York 1m 11 h'cap good to soft May 14 seriler won a good mot at Sandown 1984. THE HOWARD 8-6) won 2 from Socutamastale (9-10) B ran. Carlisle 1m h'cap firm July 3. FUSILER (7-10) 3rd beasen 3r to K- Battery (8-4) with RANA PRATAP (8-0) 8th beaten own 9. 25 ran. Doncasser 1m h'cap good Mar 2. CORN STREET (8-5) 4th beaten 2 to Well Rigged (7-10) 20 ran. Doncaster 1m h'cap soft Nov 6. FORMATURES (9-4) won na from Verbarium (8-11) 25 ran. Doncaster 1m h'cap good Mar 21.

4-1 Xhai, 9-2 Boom Patrol, 5-1 Gundreda, 13-2 We'll Meet Again, 8-1 Nebris. 10-1

2.45 ROSEBERY HANDICAP (£7,726: 1m 2f) (15)

7-2 Will George. 4-1 Specemaker Boy, 5-1 Hilton Brown, 13-2 Meeson King, 7-1 Davill, 10-1 Chapins Club. FAKENHAM

Going: good to soft 2.15 RAYNHAM SELLING HANDICAP HURDLE (£1,400: 2m 80yd) (10 runners) (21, AUC. 21h COYO) (10 FIRRIER'S)

3 /F00 TUTHEL BOND P B Alingham 9-11-8

18 0222 CHARLIE PODLE A G Blackmore 5-10-13

14 1324 AIRLANKA J R Jentims 4-10-18

15 0043 MERO WOLF R T Juckes 9-10-7

17 0-P6 GATEWAY GRIL R Champion 6-10-8

18 0P0F FORTUNE FROMER R W Hartop 4-10-5

21 00U- WILTON BEACON J L Harns 10-10-1

23 000 BYROC BOY R Curtis 0-10-0

24 0P/P ROYAL FEATURE (5) MS E Andrews 0-10-0

25 0022 LINGFIELD LADY (BF) W T Kemp 4-10-0

15-8 Lingfield Lady, 11-4 Charlie Pools, 7-2 Airtanka, 15-2 Wilton Beacon, 10-1 Tuthill Bond. 2.50 QUEENS CUP EASTERN COUNTIES HUNTER CHASE ($1,443: 3m) (6) 7-4 Swarm, 11-4 Able Sailor, 4-1 Prince Rowan, 7-1 Prydel, General Rule.

3.25 CORAL BOOKMAKERS HANDICAP HURDLE (1,590: 2m 80yds) (6)

13-B Dhofsr. 5-2 Rix Woodcock, 4-1 Rocky's Gal, 7-1 Tin Boy, 12-1 Maurie-Bugg.

FORM: THATS YOUR LOT fit from hundling. (8-12) 5th besten 17% I to Celebrity (7-11) 16 ran, Doncaster 1 m 2 sits soft Nov 9. ALL FAIR (8-7) 2nd beaten 1 % I to Measter Line (8-1) Bran, Newmerket 1 m 2 h reap good to firm Oct 19, ABU KADRA (8-10) 8th beaten 1 This Bold Rev (8-7) 24 ran, Doncaster 1 m 4 h reup soft Nov 9, NEBRIS (8-12) sin beaten 1 This Bold Rev (8-7) 24 ran, Doncaster 1 m 4 h reup good to firm Sep 21. BCOM PAROL (10-7) 3rd beaten 3% is beaten 1 monco (11-22) ran, Doncaster 1 m 25 sits good to Mer 21, SHOSTAKOVITCH (9-9) 4m beaten 5% I to Cueens Eyot (8-11) 15 ran, Windsor 1 m 25 sits good to firm July 8, XHAI (7-4) 4th beaten 3% to Brany (8-4) 25 ran, Doncastor 1 m 1 cap Mer 22, WETL, NEET AGAIN (9-4) 3rd beaten 3 to Balgowne (7-3) 18 ran, Lencester 1 m 21 in cap soft Mer 25, DUELLING (8-3) 4th beaten 41 to Balgownie (7-2) 1B ran, Doncastor 1 m 21 n cap good Mar 20.

Kempton selections

By Mandario 1.45 GREY DESIRE (nap). 2.15 Fusilier. 2.45 Marley Roofus. 3.15 Our Pet. 3.45 Parag. 4.15 Hubbards Lodge. 4.45 Hilton Brown.

By Our Newmarket Correspondent 1.45 Sharp Romance, 2.15 Fusilier, 2.45 Xhai, 3.15 Shades Of Night, 3.45 Below Zero, 4.15 Tarts Is Tarts, 4.45 Broadwater Music, Michael Seely's selection: 2.45 Xhai. 3.15 REDSHANK MAIDEN FILLIES STAKES (2-Y-O: £1,832: 5f) (14) HANK MAIDEN FILLIES STAKES (2-Y-O:

ALWAYS A LADY (G Steinberg) M Usber 8-11
BASTILLIA (M Peters) D Arbothnot 0-11
BETTA WIN (P Mardoch) J Bridger 8-11
DOUBLE TALK (H O'Neils H O'Neil 8-11
JOHNKEINA (FRI) (Lord Tawistock) W Jarvis 8-11
JOHNKEINA (FRI) (Lord Tawistock) W Jarvis 8-11
OUR PET (Mrs M Horgan) R Hanson 8-11
OUR PET (Mrs M Horgan) R Hanson 8-11
PRIVAPORY (R Rusberford) E Eldin 8-11
ROYAL RABBLE (J Joseph) TI Elsworth 8-11
SALICIER (E Jones(Essibourne) W Brooks 8-11
SHADES OF NIGHT (P Nurse) J Winter 0-11
TILITING YARD (Rum Ludy Hastiach R Shearber 8-11 P Cook

11-4 Our Pet, 3-1 Shades of Night, 7-2 Titing Yard, 0-1 Royal Rabble, 3.45 MIDDLESEX HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2.502: 1m) (9) Paul Eddery
I McKey i
P Waktron

5-2 Bakers Dough, 100-30 Farag. 4-1 Gorgeous Algernon, 11-2 Below Zero, 10-1 Quicken The Bid, 12-1 others. 4.15 RUTH WOOD MAIDEN STAKES (3-Y-O: £1,643: 1m 4f) (8) DISCIPLE (Equine Investments Ltd) O Lewis 9-0 P Waldron 2
003- GROVE TOWER (Mrs R Saura-Chacon) R Nicholls 9-0 N Howe 6
0032-3 HUBBARIS LODGE (BIF) Rodovas Ltd) P Keleway 9-0 P Cook 7
00- LONGGHURST (J Terry) C Horgan 9-0 P Caleway 9-0 P Carson 4
00- MARKELIUS (Mss E Tulky) M J Haynes 9-0 W Carson 4
00- GUARTERFLASH (C Cyzer) M Usher 9-0 A McGione 8
2-0 TARGET SIGNITED (USA) (Mss K Johnson) C R Nelson 9-0 J Reid 1
PARTS IS PARTS (USA) (G Hoskons) R J Williams 8-11 R Cookesse 2 9-4 Hubberds Lodge, 7-2 Grove Tower, 4-1 Disciple, 11-2 Longghurst. 4.45 PADDOCK HANDICAP (£2,427: 5f) (11)

4.0 E B F ROBERT HOARE MEMORIAL HUNTER CHASE (£1,433: 2m) (6) HASE (LI, 400. Zin, to, 1 1P-F CASTLES-IN-THE-AIR (C) 11 B Lyles 13-12-4 Nr O Lyles (7) 6-4 Martineau, 3-1 Castles-In-The-Air, 9-2 Florne Palmer.

Fakenham selections By Mandario

2.15 Airlanka, 2.50 Swarm, 3.25 Dhofar, 4.0 Martineau, 4.35 Living Fire, 5.10 Simark. 4.35 GENERAL REFRIGERATION NOVICE HANDICAP HURDLE (£1,499: 2m 80yds) (7) 3 G-10 LIVING FIRE Mrs M Dicturson 7-11-18. J O Device (7) 4 0016 MERDON MONARCH R Sheather 5-11-7 5-2 Living Fire, 3-1 Northern Hope, 0-2 Asticot, 8-1 Merdon Monarch, 8-1 Rambling Wild. 5.10 SILVER JUBILEE HANDICAP CHASE (£1,556:

2m 5f 110yds) (6)

More racing, pages 28 and 29

Today's course

specialists

TRAINERS: G Pritchert-Gordon, 6 wins from 55 rutners, 18.4%; J Winner 7 from 48, 15.2%; R Smyth, 8 from 46, 13.0%. JOCKEYS: S Cauthen, 25 wars from 11 ndes, 21.7%; G Starkey, 21 from 102 20.6%; W R Swithburn, 19 from 95, 20.0%

TRAINERS: B Hanbury, 7 from 53, 13.2%; J Berry, 6 from 77, 11.7%; S G Norton, 7 from 78, 92%, JOCKEYS: T Ives, 15 from 71, 21.1%; Paul Eddery, 7 from 45, 15.6%; M Birch, 21 from 175, 12.0%.

NOTTINGHAM

TRAINERS: J Sutclide, 8 from 25, 32.0%; C Tinker, 5 from 21, 23.8%; 5 McMehon, 18 from 65, 14.5%. JOCKEYS: W R Swinburn, 19 from 112, 17.0%; G Duffield, 22 from 151, 14.8%; 5 Whitworth, 8 from 44, 13.8%.

WARWICK

TRAINERS: P Hastern, 8 from 59, 15.3%; I Balding, 7 from 61, 11.5%; O Lewis, 5 from 60, 8.3%. JOCKEYS: S Withworth, 16 from 64, 15.5%; G Duffield, 11 from 77, 14.3%; P Cook, 12 from 85, 14.1%.

KEMPTON PARK

3.45 COUNTY CLAIMING STAKES (3-Y-O: £1,312:

11-4 Flying Flynn, 3-1 Merry Ridge, 4-1 Sandron, 0-1 Way Above, 8-1 Pat's Jester.

4.15 LITTLE JOHN EBF STAKES (3-Y-O: £2.271:

1 RHAPSODY IN BLACK M Ryan 9-3 September 3 0- GEORDRE'S DELIGHT (USA) L Proport 9-0 W R Swinborn 2 0- JOHN TULLY M Haynes 9-0 SWinborn 2

5-8-11 O d'Avey (7) 19
19 00-1 CARNEADES(B) M H Easterby
5-8-11(5ex) 9 Center (5) 9
23 00- BLUERROINO (D) Mrs J Ramaden 7-8-2 M Wood 2
25 400- BOREHAM DOWN N Bycroft 7-7-13 A Memo (7) 5
6-4 Carneades, 4-1 Timminion, 11-2 Miss Blackthorn, 8-1 lunters Fen, 18-1 Hot Ruler, Bluebirdino.

18 02/0 NORTH STAR SAM Mrs J Regisde

9-3 G Duffield 5

5-8-11 O d'Auty (7) 19

1 1- PASTICCIO M Janvis 9-6 ______ 2 413- CRESTA AUCTION G Princhard-Gordon

Newcomer Tisn't powers into companion Fouz, had weakened mto third place after taking up the running two furlongs out. Ironically, Fouz was the choice of Richard Quinn. Cole's stable jockey. The mount on Tisn't went to Philip Waldron.

Derby which will now be the colt's maio target. Waldron said: He didn't like the ground and would appreciate a longer trip."
John Winter, the Newmerket trainer, who had been ill for six weeks, is now recovered and was in winning form for the first time this season with Stately Lass io the Bonusprint Masaka nice filly, but she's just missed the top class. She will probably further than this seven get further than this seven furlongs, but is not entered in to the afternoon when the Queen's Prize went to the 33-1

the trainer, to explain the improvement in form by his first winner of the season. He said: "I told them that Milton Burn had run too freely at Doncaster last week, whereas victory on Tisn't

NOTTINGHAM

Going: soft Draw: 51-6f, high numbers best 2.15 ROBIN HOOD MAIDEN STAKES (3-Y-O: £959:

10 ru	inners)
000-	ABSOLUTE MASTER M Jarvis 9-0 T Ives 9
000-	BELVEL (ITY) P Rohan 9-0
22.0	EASY LINE P Haslam 9-0
6-	LUIGI'S STAR R J Williams 9-0 S Whitworth 2
000-	THE MECHANIC J Suscitte 9-0 G Duffield 1
000-	TOUCH ME NOT R Hollinshead 0-0
305	CHABLISSE R Whitaker 0-11 O McKeown 10
00-	LOCH FORM C Tinkler 6-11 M Wood 8
4 VE	ligilan, 5-2 Ken Skidali, 4-1 Touch Me Not,
	32-0 5- 600- 303- 000- 303- 000- 00-

Nottingham selections By Mandario

2.15 Vaiglian. 2.45 Gods Solutioo. 3.15 Cegliostro. 3.45 Northern Melody. 4.15 Cresta Auction. 4.45 Carneades.

2.50 Luigi's Star. 2.45 Reveille. 3.15 Cagliostro.

7.4 Rhapsody in Black, 2-1 Pasticcio, 100-30 Cresta
Auction, 9-1 Geordie's Delight, 12-1 John Tully. 3.45 Flying Flynn, 4.15 Cresta Auction. Michael Seely's selection: 4.45 CARNEADES 4.45 NOTTINGHAM HANDICAP (£1,446: 1m 6f)

2.45 BROXTOWE HANDICAP (£1,744: 6f) (11)

1	040-	SUDDEN IMPACT (C-D) K Brasney 4-9-105 Whitworth
3	00-1 00-1	GODS SOLUTION (D) T Barron 5-9-8 (S ex)
11 12	00-4 000-	401-GFOOLISH TOUCH(B) (D) K Stone 4-9-6 C Dayler 5 COOL ENOUGH (D) Mrs J Remaden 5-9-1- R Carter (S) 8 HOLT ROW M McConneck 5-8-12 W R Swinburn 9

100-30 Cool Enough, 4-1 Gods Solution, 5-1 Single Hand, 6-1 Saw High, 8-1 Holt Row, Sudden Impact. 3.15 CLUMBER STAKES (3-Y-O: (£959: 1m 2f) (7)

5-2 Caghostro, 11-4 Ousty Diplomacy, 7-2 Ouck Rea

2.0 BRAMPTON NOVICE HURDLE (4-Y-O: £1,165:

9-4 Stanwood Boy. 3-1 Lady Woodpecker, 4-1 Coral Harbour, 8-1 Lloyds Grift. 8-1 For A Lark, 18-1 Hickling Squire, Huntingdon selections

By Mandarin

2.0 Stanwood Boy, 2.30 Mr Mouse, 3.0 Do or Die, 3.30 Back in Actioo, 4.0 I Got Stung, 4.30 Preacher's Gem,

2.30 STILTON NOVICE CHASE (£1,570: 2m 4f) (13)

11-4 French Captain, 7-2 Mr Mouse, 9-2 Repent, 6-1 Woodlands Generator, 8-1 Dancing Sovereign.

2.15 H A FOX SAAB EASTER NOVICE CHASE

22,793: 331 21) (10 futniers)

3 3F3F GALESBURG(B) N Geselee 7-11-5 O Browne
4 2142 GIOLLA WAY (8F) D Gandolto 7-11-5 O Browne
5 00P1 MEISTER J Did 9-11-5 P Nicholts
14 0F00 GREY COTE (NZ) R Frost 8-11-1 P Nicholts
10 P/401 LANACRE BRIDGE P Hobbs 9-11-1 P Filchards
19 2030 PRINCE BUSIONS F Gorman 11-11-1 P Richards
19 2030 PRINCE BUSIONS F Gorman 11-11-1 A Machanich

21 PD2F THE JOESTAN P Haynes 7-11-1 A Madgurick 24 102/ CULM VALLEY C Down 10-10-10 Mr C Down (4)

3-1 Meister, 7-2 Road 7o Mandalay, 4-1 Giolla Way, 6-1 lesburg, 8-1 The Joestan, 10-1 Prince Buskins.

Newton Abbot selections

By Mandario

2.15 Galesburg. 2.50 Harry's Double. 3.25 Fire Drill. 4.0 Sword Play. 4.35 Exhalted Dawn. 5.10

2.50 CASTLE CIRCUS NOVICE HURDLE (£903: 2m

2 0210 HARRY'S DOUBLE O Sherwood 0-11-7 ___ 5 Sherwood 18 _____ 90 GARA ROCK (RIZ) O Barons 5-11-0 ______ P Nicholis 6- WELL-DRILLER R Frost 7-11-0 ______ J Frost 29 0-PP CHEVITINO W G Turner (7) 30 PFF R.YING FREE I Wards 0-10-9 _____ P Richards 1-2 Harry's Double, 4-1 Gara Rock, 8-1 Well-Onlier, 10-1 Melassa Gold, 14-1 Flying Free, 20-1 Chevitino.

3.25 H A FOX EASTER HANDICAP CHASE

3 4379 FIRE DRILL (C-D) K Bishop 11-11-7 P Richards
4 1P-F NORD HINDER O Esworth 6-11-4 5 Sherwood
5 U103 ATATAHO J Rocerts 10-10-10 P Nicholis
8 1012 A BOY NAMED SKOUX (C-D) T R Sevens
8-10-3 Philip Hobbs
0 -POP ALMIGHTY ZEUS(B) R Hodges 5-10-0 8 Earle (1)
11 30F4 THORNTON 5 May 7-10-0 8 MicDonald (7)
12 4840 MAGGIE DEE R Frost 9-10-0 J Frost

Going: heavy

150yd) (6)

(£2,793: 3m 2f) (10 runners)

Going: soft

2m) (11 runners)

• Edward Guest was seen at his best riding Naive Charm - his first mount of the season - in the Philip Cornes Nickel Alloys Maiden Auction Stakes 51 Haydock Park on Saturday. The Newmarket filly, backed from 4-1 to 2-1, was soon in front, with Guest sitting for as long as he dared before he went for his whip to hold the strong late challenges of Clown Streaker and Take Effect.

3.0 EASTER SELLING HANDICAP HURDLE (2897 HUNTINGDON 2m 200ya) (13)

4 4/0- MAC'S DELIGHT R Carter 8-11-12 G McCoun
5 DOO4 CRISP AND KEEN(B) K White 0-11-8 G Evens (7
10 D4F/ RIKE MIA O Runger 7-11-2 S McNei
13 9200 DO OR DIE O O'Neil 9-10-11 T William
10 OFD- TOURALONG K B White 10-10-7 V McKevid
21 4P00 GALTERIM(B) T Bill 7-10-5 C Prince (7
24 OFPP MORE LIVELY K Morgan 6-10-3
26 /P4P MISS NIGO H Webb 7-10-2 R Strong 27 P00- SNOWFLAKE H Jackson 9-10-2 Mr R Morri
27 POO- SNOWPLAKE H Jackson 9-10-2 Mr R Morti
31 0/00 SMOKEY'S SON Miss G Rees 7-10-0 A Sharp
32 -00P AVOPROUD C Triettine 8-10-0 A Sharp
33 0000 GREATEST HITS W Kemp 8-19-0
33 0000 GREATEST HITS W Kemp 8-19-0
3-1 Macs Delight, 4-1 Do Or Die, 9-2 Crisp and Keen.
3.30 FITZWILLIAM HANDICAP CHASE (£1.746:20

8 324 MASTER MELODY (C-D)(BF) W Hackett 15-11-7 M Bestard B 3110 BACK IN ACTION (BF) K Saley
7-11-7 Mr T Thomson Jones
11 0F42 COLE PORTER (C-D) M C Bunks 11-11-3 ... G McCourt
13 1- MISTER SKIP J Webber 7-11-1
7-4 Back in Action, 9-4 Master Melody, 3-1 Mester Skip

4.0 WATERLOO NOVICE HUNTER CHASE (Amateurs: £630; 3m 100yd) (9)

1 1 GOT STUNG J Delahooks 0-12-5 AHII (7)
1 00P/ BRAVE SONG J H Mills 7-11-12 J Mills (7)
F3- MUSSEL BED H B Hodge 9-11-12 Mills J Hodge (7)
4 HEWINHAM M A Johnson 0-11-12 W Sportnorg (7)
REGAL REBEL C Carritari 11-11-12
40F- ROBERT HEWRY O Sherwood 10-11-12 A McKeever (7) 13 000 THE CLETONIAN Miss T Aucott 8-11-12 19PF0-3 WOODLANDS GENSET P Prichard 5-11-12 20 SUNYLYN W N Mawle 0-11-7

4-6 | Got Stung, 7-2 Newsham, 11-2 Robert Henry, 4.30 EBF MILTONS HANDICAP HURDLE (£1,704; 2m 200yd) (5)

15-6 Jimmy Lorenzo, 11-4 Kingholm Quay, 7-2 Deep Trouble, 11-2 Preachers Gem, 8-1 Pare Pleasure,

4.0 JOHN F COUCH ESTATE AGENTS MAIDEN NEWTON ABBOT HURDLE (£1,350: 2m 150yd) (16) 7 0030 BLUE SPARKLE J Old 5-11-7

8		BOLD ACCLAIM A Frost 5-11-7
13	900	CUTTING EDGE B Iseac 6-11-7
10	P	DELAMIST J Honeyball 6-11-7 P Nich
23	OFO	GENERAL OPTION 8 Vern 5-11-7 J Harak
24	-00P	GLAZEPTA AGAIN O Carter 7-11-7
25	04	GLENCOMMON J H Baker 5-121-7 Mr L Hervey
29	P00-	LAUGHTER LINES(B) K Bishop 7-11-7
39	0000	SEA RANGER C Roach 0-11-7 B Wi
40	OOP.	SHARP IMAGE R Hodges 5-11-7 S Earle
42	P47	SWORD PLAY (NZ) P Haynes 0-11-7 A Madge
48	0.00	WIMBLEBALL J Payne 8-11-7
60 60	PB	GO CONTINENTAL N Kemick 0-11-2 M Yeomeo
87		MR GARDENIA A Frost 8-11-2 C Hopwood
68	9.00	NIGHT WARBLER(B) N Ayliffe 5-11-2 M Ayl
		Jaran Managaran Maria Cara Carana maria
75	0000	STORMY KESTREL L Waring 5-11-2

13-8 Sword Play, 100-30 Blue Sparkle, 9-2 Bold Accieim 4.35 NICHOLAS & NICHOLAS WESTERN TRUST

ĘL	LING	HURDLE (£800: 2m 150yd) (13)
1	FP00	CLEVER ANGLE (8) B Forsey 0-11-8 P Richards
3	342P	BATTLE MASTER CJ HN 5-11-4 Philip Hobbs
5	PO-P	DASSELLS J Forte 5-11-4 S May
0	OP. P	DON'T TELL ARTHUR(8) C Popham 5-11-4 P Nicholis
9	4000	GREY TORNADO T Keenor 5-11-4
		VIVRE POUR VIVRE (ITY) J H Baker
••		8-11-4 Mr L Harvey (7)
22	0030	PRONUPTIA BREDE O Winde
_	~~~	5-10-13 Mrs O Tsakerisience
24	U	BROAD WOOD(B) Mrs J Wormscott
		4-10-12 Q Womanoott (7)
26	PP	4-10-12 O Womencott (7) VIPER OPS W G Turner 4-10-12 Tracy Turner (7)

3-1 Bettle Master, 4-1 Vivre Pour Vivre.
5.10 SOUTH WEST RACING CLUB HANDICAP HURDLE (£3,115: 2m 5f 110yd) (13)

7-4 Gold Tycoon, 3-1 Bandolero, 4-1 Solid Dak,

3.30 EROSTIN GROUP HANDICAP HURDLE (£1,469: 2m) (11)

2-1 Oryx Minor, 5-2 Mi Ded, 9-2 Orbital Manoeuvers, 0-1 Deep Coach, 13-2 Brobury, 0-1 Cathy's Pal. 4.0 ALEX FETHERSTONHAUGH CHASE (£1,786:

4.30 DUNCOTE MAIDEN HURDLE (Div 1: £1,198:

170) (16) 1 900 BRT OF A DANDY JT Gifford 5-11-8 Peter Hobbs 16 4034 HOW NOW May J Priman 5-11-8 C Mann 18 GPP JOCKSER J Webber 8-11-8 C Mann 21 0 NELSONS DOCKYARD R C Armylage 5-11-5 C MES TO SAMPS FRIEND MAY J Barrow 5-11-6 Miss T Davis (7) 25 0P-0 FRIEND Mirs J Barrow 5-11-6 R Damwoody 35 SAMPS FRIEND Mirs J Barrow 5-11-6 R Damwoody 35 SIMYDAZE FT Where 5-11-6 J Doggan 36 F THATS FOR SURE O Nicholson 5-11-6W Humphreys (7)

5-2 William Blake, 100-30 Denoing Admiral, 5-1 Bright Arrow, 13-2 Megwa, 0-1 Rodners, 10-1 far Flame.

WARWICK

Going: soft Draw: 51-1m, low numbers best 2.0 MARTON STAKES (3-Y-O: 2684: 67) (10 runners)

______] Joheson 5 ______ M Hills 1 9-4 Boofy, 100-30 Reignbeau, 5-1 Low Key, 13-2 Mercia Gold, 7-1 Sexon Bazear, 10-1 Royal Berks.

2.30 WARWICKSHIRE SPRINT HANDICAP (£1,257: 5f) (8)

5-2 Penon, 100-30 Taylor of Sohem, 7-2 Royal Bear, 4-1 Pine Hawk, 8-1 Riverside Writer, 18-1 Robrob. 3.0 HEART OF ENGLAND HANDICAP (£2,494: 1st 6f 180yd) (10)

3.30 E	RIDFORD SELLING STAKES (2-Y-O: £5/8: 5
(10)
1	O CUTTLER REDGE C Wildman 0-11 J Mathies
2	GOLDORINA W Turner 8-11 IR Curant
2	O ROWEKING (B) P Hasiam 0-11 M Hills
4	ANONA BELLE C Wildman 8-8 S Crossley
5	4 ATHALEA CYNTRA (B) N Tickler 8-8 J.H Brown
8 9 11	HIGH TOWN A Smith 8-9 A Mackey
ĝ	MARTHA'S PRIDE R Statos 8-8 S Webster
11	MONS FUTURE H. O'Neix (I-0 Johnson
12	SAM'S REFRAIN OH Jones 8-8 D Williams 1
14	B VALDOSTA C Wildrag 8-8 A Clark
2-1	Athalea Cyntra, 5-2 Roweking, 100-30 High Town,

2m) (7 runners)

Blinkered first time Keuptou: none. Neucaste: 3.30 Decartes. Nettingham: 2.45 Hopelul Kate. 3.45 Northern Melody, Sandron. Werwick: 2.0 Saxon Bazzer. 3.0.0own Fight, Enkash. 3.30 Roweiting.

MARKET RASEN 5-2 Red Rocky, 11-4 Don't Annoy Me, 100-30, Apple Wine, 6-1 Cauckbuck, 9-1 Finals Sept.

2m) (7) . 2.15 RASE SELLING HANDICAP HURDLE (£514: 8 1402 TAVARGOS (C-D) L Woodingham 5-11-7 P Covingen (7)
7 P-P3 BRENI GUINWER H Fleering 5-11-2 J McLaughlin
8 PP0P THAMEID (B) A R Develor 4-11-1 M Fleering
10 -0-0 BARNALYRA M Avisor 5-10-13 P Thompson (7)
11 000P WHAT A POPSI (B) K A Morgan 5-10-13 S Johnson
13 2400 MGGRESCO (B) G C Morgan 5-10-13 S S Johnson
15 0F00 WYOMING T Kersey 4-10-13 Sustem Kerney (7) 13-8 Tavargos, 7-1 Bren Gunner, 5-1 Negresco, 9-1 naiyra, 18-1 Thamusd.

(£1,449: 2m) (15) Market Rasen selections By Mandarin

2.15 Bren Gunner, 2.50 Strath Leader, 3.25 Red Rocky, 4.0 Foresters Lad, 4.35 Mr Dibbs, 5.10 Coeur Valiant,

2.50 KETSBY NOVICE CHASE (£1,799:3m) (9) 2 2521 STRATH LEADER (D) JA Edwards 8-12-4 — 5 2221 TULLAMARINE G W Richards 9-12-4 — 4 POOP JUBINEE KING (B) M C Chapman 0-11-13 R Balfour (7) 11 04-F SANDHACKER M W BIAND 7-10-1 — 7 Jervia (4) 12 1/F-P SANDHACKER M W BIAND 7-11-8 — 7 Jervia (4) 12 1/F-P SANDHACKER M W BIAND 7-11-1 — M Bransus 15 0-2F SANP TIN J Hardy 8-11-3 — M Bransus 7 -PP4 THE NAW/TON STAR (B) M Avison (-11-3 M Papper

8 4P00 WOLD SONG Mrs C Clark 10-11-3 P Nhorn (4) Evens Strath Leader, 7-4 Tullamdne, 8-1 Snap Tin , 8-1 Sendcracker, 14-1 others.

3.25 'COL R THOMPSON' MEMORIAL HANDICAP: HURDLE (£1,760: 2m) (6)

A - DOZ RED ROCKY (D) Mrs 3 Primer 0-11-7 M Primer 5 PP10 APPLE WINE (C-D) O W Chapman 8-11-3... S Johnson 6 3810 DON'T ANNOY ME (D)(BF) H M Whitator 5-11-3 Mrs Whitator 7 D40 THE NUR (D) W Hastrogs-Bass 7-11-2 Mr P Dogmen (7)

CARLISLE

Going: soft (10 runners)

2 0033 SHINING BANN (D)R W Johnson 11-11-5McP Johnson (7) 8 0-06 ARDESEE OJ Moorheed 8-11-2 8 9 14.3 FOXBART LEXION 10-11-2 C GRANG
9 14.3 FOXBART LEXION 10-11-2 C GRANG
11 4200 HISTORIC HOUSE M W Elerby 11-11-2 C GRANG
18 -000 RANDORILY CJ Bell 7-11-2 C GRANG
17 4P00 SARENA PLASTICS T W Comminghem 8-13-2 C GRANG
18 U SEAL MOON J W Rediem 9-11-2 C GRANG
19 0303 NOT EASY W A Stephenson 6-10-11 Mir J Walton
21 32-P SATINANDA F T Walton 0-10-11 Mir J Walton 22 PPOP TRIBLESS FLIGHT 8 McLean 8-10-11 B Storey

> Carlisle selections By Mandarin

2.15 Satinanda. 2.45 Flying Oats. 3.15 Travel Home. 3.45 The Black Sack. 4.15 Coulters Candy. 4.45 Orp Baltic. 2.45 BBC RADIO CUMBRIA HANDICAP HURDLE

(£1,387: 3m 100yd) (10)

2 -000 MOSSMORRAN (C-U) A Scott 7-11-10 B Storey
3 3221 CALIRA Miss M Benson 7-18-12 (Sex)
7 121F FLYING GARTS (B)(C-U) W Matchis 8-10-0
10 0001 ROMAN DUSK J (Charleon 9-10-7 (Sex) life P Demis (4)
13 001U 10LINOY MARCR 7 H Caldwell 18-18-1 P Caldwell (7)
14 1043 MARWOOD C Parker 6-10-1
19 0032 LARRY HILL (C-U) Mrs J Goodfellow
71-10-0 J K Kineme 11-4 Flying Cets, 7-2 Romen Dusk, 4-1 Larry Hill, 11-2 Magwood, 13-2 Calina, 16-1 Mossmorran. 3.15 SELLAFIELD NOVICE HANDICAP CHASE

(£1,417: 2m 330yd) (4)

HEREFORD

O DOSS CALWAS MOVICE DIRECT E 1000

TO MOS	POWER TE MOVICE NUMBER (1991: 5	ŧ
14 runn	ers)
3 -310	SHADY LEGACY (C-D) R Morris 5-11-5	٠
11 0.02	CARNEY COURT P Runsom 6-11-4	•
13 A-	PARTITION W.L. Toulou & 44.4	•
14 6000	DONPERRY W H Taylor 6-11-4	•
30 00	SIV COM SIV COM C MANUE C 11 4
27 00	EASTFORM (8) J Ferilar 8-11-4 M Herring NY SON NY SON S Mellor 5-11-4 M Herring SCHOLAR (URA) (8) J Costrave 5-11-4 J Self GLEIOY'S SLIPPER Mrs E Kennard 8-10-13	į
99	CI ENGINE OF HERES IN E CONTROL S-1 P4 CONTROL S-10-13
36 PF	PALS DELIGHT A J Chamberlain 5-10-13	•
37 P	PROVINCIALS BEST Mrs S Obver 7-15-13 R H	•
38 F	SISTER MORGAN G Price 5-10-13	,
	CTOCHETERN T N Delever 4 10 49	•
41	STIPERSTEEN T N Bailey 6-10-13
12	VOWCHERCH LADY M Oliver 6-10-18_	,
_
11-8G	irundy Lene. 5-2 Shady Legacy, 4-1 Scholer, 13-2 on, 10-1 Vipsama, 12-1 Provincial's Bast.	İ
ion my Sc	X1, 10-1 Vipsania, 12-1 Provincial's Best.
	TT

Hereford selections By Mandarin

2.0 Grundy Lane. 2.30 Skiskelter. 3.0 Manna Recf. 3.30 Deer Crest. 4.0 Castle Warden. 4.30

2.30 HOLIDAY SELLING HURDLE (£527: 3m 1f)

9-4 April Gern, 5-2 No Plake, 4-1 Golden Jane, 15-2 Wordsworth, 10-1 Water Eston Get, 12-1 Frede's Folly. 3.0 LEOMINSTER NOVICE CHASE (£1,800: 2m)

4.0 CHASE NOVICE CHASE (Amateurs: £1,184: 2-1 Jennypick, 11-4 Foresters Lad, 100-30 impany, 10-1 Fax City, 12-1 Assrobyt. 135 ARTHUR CHANTRY NOVICE HURDLE ## PROMES COMMANDER OF THE PRO

CATECHESIA J. Wicker O-11 A. Mackey S. FORGETTLY DAY, (1954) L. Pregott O-11 S. Chiestop S. FORGETS OF DAY, (1954) J. Jarrett O-11 W Words (5)-2 PROMESING TRIES (1954) J. Jarrett O-11 W Words (5)-2 SOMEWAY L. NOR 6-11 America Chapter 1 O- WESSEX KINGGOM M. McCorracci O-11 Mrt Hille 6

9-4 Knoptely Del. 3-1 Promising Times, 9-2 Medium Martin. 7-1 Catechism, 8-1 Wessex Kingdom, 12-1 Seminary

Warwick selections By Mandaria 2.0 Boofy. 2.30 Perion. 3.0 Avebury. 3.30 Roweking 4.0 Catechrism. 4.30 Star Of Ireland.

By Our Newmarket Correspondent 2.0 Low Key, 3.30 Roseking, 4.0 Knightly Dia, 4.30 Arrow Beak, 5.0 Hot Morama.

4.30 WEST MIDLANDS HANDICAP (£1,249: 1m 2f

| Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Total | Tota

3-1 Arrow Beek, 7-2 Coffee House, 4-1 Flame Flower, 5-Star of Ireland, 0-1 Karamours, 12-1 Cradle of Jazz.

5.0 LEEK WOOTON FILLIES STAKES (3-Y-O:

100-30 Hot Morenta, 7-2 High Helo, 5-1 Herive Habitet, 6-1 Molly Partridge, 6-1 Dynamic Saby.

Crawley 5

R Current 5

R Current 5

R Statement 7

R Statement 7

R Statement 3

W Woods (2) 1

00- Alissie Grit. A Baley 8-17.

000- BOXCES SHIRCE J Bracky 0-17.

000- DYMARIC BARY A logbar 8-11.

021- HOT BOOKEA FI BOAR 0-11.

203- HOLLY PARTIEDGE J WESON 0-17.

NATIVE HABITAT M Jarves 6-11.

Y-O: £1,000: 51 (5)

5.0 High Helio.

170yd) (10)

£1,000: 1m) (7)

8-11 Mr Dibbs. 100-30 Fencturch Colony, 9-1 Sebsted, 8-1 inner Sands, 12-1 Video. 5.10 CECIL HAGUE HANDICAP CHASE (£2,026:

the state of the

41 34 00

. . -

PURPT

And the second

1 1 A SALS - 1 1

The same of

A straight of the

The state of the s

Day .

The Property of the

11-4 Just Alick, 100-30 Coour Vellent, 5-1 Ghezel, 6-1 Katopergos, 8-1 Fav Batas. 3.45 BORDER GARDEN CENTRE CHALLENGE CUP MAIDEN HURDLE (£1,180: 2m 330yd) (23)

7-2 Nijama, 4-1 The Black Sack, 8-1 General Chambos, 4.15 JOHN MCKIE MAIDEN HUNTER CHASE (£674: 3m) (11)

8 OF- MISTER BENSON J G Brachum 9-12-7 Mee J Norton (7)
10 P-00 PANEGYRIST C J Alexander 11-12-7.
12 PJ-2 SHACKIN BRIS (8) Mrs Gisborne 0-12-7 Mr T Righty (7)
13 0-20 VULGANS GRAZETTE W A Stephenson 0-12-7.
14 P-F0 GRAYROSE ACADEMIC G M Jones
10 000 BANTEL BOWMAN C H Bell 6-12-0 SHABRANCER Mrs 0 Cockburn 8-12-0 SHABRANCER Mrs 0

11-8 Coulters Candy, 4-1 Shackin Bridge, 4.45 MOORTHWAITE HANDICAP CHASE (£1,213:

4 2300 ORP BALTIC (II) E J Alston 7-11-7 C Grant 6 01PP LADY LAWYER (BICLD) J E Brockbank 6-11-1 D Molant 5-10-13 D Molant 6-10-13 D Molant 7-10-0 D Mo

210 0043	ROYAL YIEW YR Bisho	p 16-1:1-3	_
219002	SHANNE O O'Nell 7-11	3 J &	-
222 0000	TURTLETON K C Bully	9-11-3	_
228 4-20	LA VEHITE G H Yandare	6-10-12 J	-
229 P-6P	MISS TULLULAR & Fors	ey 6-10-12 N Fee	W
		Verite, 9-2 Royal View,
Channie 1	6-1 Marine, 20-1 Turtlet	on the second train,
			_
3-30 MC	22-ON-MAE MOAK	X HURDLE (2655:	2
(17)
1 -2310	DEER CREST (D) J A Ed	wards 6-11-11 P &
7 9-01	BHUNDEAN BREEZE R	_Jockes 5-11-4	_
	CHELSEA MAN IA CHIME	5-15-4

1 -24	U DEEK CREST (DIJA Edwards 8-11-11 PI
7.4	BRUNDEAN BREEZE RT Jackes 5-11-4
· 6 T	A CHELCEA WAY ALCEUME 14
	O CHELSEA MAN M Oliver 5-11-4
. 11 .0	COWAL SHORE S Mellor 5-11-4	فالتمط
16	MALTON'S LAST W J Owens 5-11-4
17	NASTER SCHO Mrs Y Test 7-11-4
	OF STATES AND COMPANY OF THE PARK AND ADDRESS OF THE P
10 20	MASIEM MITO VA M TRUEZ 2-13-1
22	RAGENS BOY O O'Nell 6-11-4	See
∷23 ∣	SAINTS ALIVE K C Balley 6-11-4
31	MESS CANNIBAL FIC Puch 5-16-18
~	A WINDS CHARACTER IN CHARACTER ID-13
32 4	U MISIT PARK IS HUTTER /-WL1X	_
34 14	SAPEICA O Eluzbal D-10-13
35 0	SPACE KATE E E Evans 5-10-13	_
. 38 0	CLOYANIES CALL I TO A COMMENT
. 36 U	CASTANHERO Mrs J Erans 4-10-12 M Brist	98/20
91	SWING TO STEEL M C Pipe 4-10-12
43 OF	LITTLE DIMPLE Mrs C Seymour 4-10-7
7.4
	eer Crest, 3-1 Brundeen Breeze, 7-2 Ragens Bo	v. 4-1
Sents A	ve, 11-2 Mister Kilo, 10-1 Cowal Shore.
7.00	EWTON WILLIAMS HANDICAP CH	ASE
G2.54	: 3m 1n (6)

1 1022: CLASTLE WARDEN (BSP. J.A Edwards 9-11-10 P Burlon 0 P304 MOUNT OLIVER (BSC-U) M Scardenoire. 8-10-6 J Bryan

6 - 208 - PLAY THE IGNAVE SC) P G Balley 9 10 0 - 3 Septem 9 400 P SALOR'S RETURN N O Painting 10 10 0 - J Septem 9 12 PP38 BAY FOREST (8) Mrs E Kenner 6 10 0 - 44 308F CHEENSWAY BOY Mass A King 7-10-0 - 44 308F CHEENSWAY BOY Mass A King 7-10-0 - 45 308F CHEENSWAY BOY Mass A King 7-10-0 - 45 308F CHEENSWAY BOY Mass A King 7-10-0 - 45 308F CHEENSWAY BOY Mass A King 7-10-0 - 45 308F CHEENSWAY BOY Mass A King 7-10-0 - 45 308F CHEENSWAY BOY Mass A King 7-10-0 - 45 308F CHEENSWAY BOY MASS A KING 7-10-0 - 45 308F CHEENSWAY B CHEENSWAY B CHEENSWAY B CHEENSWAY B CHEENSWAY B CHEENSWAY B

15-8 Castle Warden, 9-4 Mount Cliver, 7-2 Play The Knewe, 6-1 Salor's Return; 14-1 Stay Forest, 20-1 Queensway Boy. 4.30 CHARLIE KNIPE HUNTER CHASE (amatuers: £680: 3m 1f) (8)

1 -111 RUGY (CIR G Westwing 16-13-2 J Washell (7)
2 UZ-F RANDY MARK R J Edday 12-12-0
38788- JASSHI RISAJS Washess 0-12-0
4 0-00 LONESONE PARK (INC.O) Mrs A Price
70-12-0 Miss L Wallace (7)
5 3PP- ROUGH ESITEMATE V R BERDO 10-12-0 C Crosses
8 009 TWO AZURE P G Balley 11-12-0
9 US-6 CONTRARY LADY M H Weston 9-17-9
9 US-F CANTABLE Lady S Brooke 7-17-9 13-8 Rogy, 5-2 Lorestone, Park, 3-2 Javelin, 6-1 Handy, rk, 12-1 Rough Estimate, 16-T others.

Today's point-to-points
Chickingtoit Leconited & Cowdey, Covetay Park () 40); East
Kent, Street Land (2.0); Eggelerd, Bishoophingh (1.30); Easet
Farmers & Union, Maries Lov (2.0); Four Burrow, Wachbridge
(2.0); Horth Cotsmootd, Springhill (2.0); North Streether, Syonon-Severn (1.30); Out Bishot, Lockinge (2.0); South Josen &
Philips, Healthfeld (2.30); Sauth-Nella, Thorpe (2.0); Sauth Permitriciteshire, Lydestop (2.0); Stellandontale, Chirm Park (2.0); Talyboot, Talybort-Out-list (2.0); Taumien Valle, Jordens (2.4);
Tyuedele, Corbridge (2.0); Visio-le Canven, Hockwood Park (2.0);

Derby picture Paul Cole sent out his first change, Milton Burn, expertly winner from his oew stable handled in the soft ground by complex at Whatcombe when the newcomer, Tisn't, landed the Bonusprint Easter Stakes by the Bonusprint half a length from the favourite. last week led until Accuracy Hello Ernani.

Tisn't, a grey colt by the illfated Derby winner Shergar, got the better of a last-furlong struggle with Hello Ernani, after his more avaragement and the his more experienced stable quickly sent for Hugh O'Neill. today he was held up for a late challenge. This was accepted." Tisn't is generally quoted at around 33-1 for the Epsom Stakes. Winter said: "Stately Lass is a the classics.

Backers had a disastrous start

Philip Waldron: Kempton

NEWCASTLE

Going: good to soft

2.0 JESMOND STAKES (2-Y-O: £1,789: 5f) (6 runners)

11 BLUEMEDE (D) (P Armstrong) M British 8-7
0 SOY SINGER (G Spear) K Stone 8-11
3 GALLIC TIMES (Mrs E Taylor) Mrss I Sell 6-11
J JIMMY J J J Stanley Ltn) M H Easterby 8-11
REVOLVER VIDEO (T Pansh) J Berry 8-8
TOOTSIE JAY (D Perkins) P J Felden 8-8 1-2 Bluemede, 4-1 J J Jimmy, 6-1 Gallic Times, 14-1 Revolver Video, 19-1 Boy Singer, 20-1 Tootsie Jay.

2,30 MELDON MAIDEN STAKES (3-Y-O: £1,177: 1m) (md) (5)

5-4 Weshaam,a 2-1 Sprowston Boy, 5-1 Quahtair King, 7-1 Nobie Saxon, 12-1 vson Thoms.

Newcastle selections By Mandario 2.0 Bluemede, 2.30 Weshaam, 3.0 Well Rigged, 3.30 Ivoroski, 4.0 Cumbrian Dancer, 4.30 Hoist The Axe,

By Our Newmarket Correspondent 2.0 Tootsie Jay. 2.30 Weshaam. 3.0 Virgin Isle. 4.30 Hoist The Axe. Michael Seely's selection: Verbartum.

3.0 NEWCASTLE CENTENARY HANDICAP (E4,401: 1m) (md) (6)

2 213000- TRY TO STOP ME (D) (A Wikinson) Denys Smith 5-9-7 M Fry 3
4 13034-0 VIRIGIN ISLE (D) (T Birs) P Hastern 5-9-2
5 31321-2 WELL RIGGED (D)(8F) (Mrs J Mounthfield) M H Easterty 5-9-1 M Birch 4
142102- TUTBURY (G Adshead) W Whenton 4-8-3 N Carisle 1
9 000-010 EMERALD EAGLE (D) (A Lyons) C Booth 5-8-0 A Shoutts (S) 5
11 41031-2 VERBARIUM (USA)(C-D) (Mrs J Rameden) Mrs J Rameden 0-7-10
J Oulen (7) 2

Evens Well Rigged, 7-2 Veraberium, 5-1 Tutbury, 8-1 Emerald Eagle, 10-1 Try To Stop Me, 14-1 Virgin Isle.

3.30	FORES	ST HALL HANDICAP (£2,131: 1m 4f 60yd) (12)
1	041104-	LEON (Full Carde) N Tinkler 4-9-10 Kim Tinkler (7)
3	144400-	IVOROSKI (P & I Darling) Denys Smith 4-9-2
4	#30010.	HIGHAM CREV (C-D) (W Chanman) O Chanman 10-9-1
5	0/13211-	HOLLY BUOY (F Wood) Mrs G Reveley 6-9-0 E Guest (3)
8	03000-0	POKEY (M W Easterby) M W Easterby 4-8-13 M Hindley (3) 10
7	20230-0	MASTER CARL (P Savil) Mrs G Revoley 7-8-12
3	0200017	DESCARTES(B) (M W Easterby) M W Easterby 4-8-11 K Hodgson :
10	10100-0	MISS MORLEY (W Springer) J Flowlands 4-8-8
11	404-0	TAKE A CARD (Mrs J Ramsden) Mrs J Ramsden 7-8-9 A Shouts (5)
14	1320-0	RUBBONS OF BLUE IH Whitton) M Naughton 6-8-3 1
14 17	3/00-4	SKI RUN (P Wignam) P Wignam 11-7-12
18	4200-	THARALEOS (USA) (R Watchman) F Watson 0-7-12

4.0	NORTH	ERN HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,861: 7f) (7)
1	3101-	DANCING TOM LI Turney) T Fairburst 9-7 ———————————————————————————————————
3	l 030016-	GOOSE HILL (C) (1-sppodromo Razang) M W Easterby 9-4 K Hodgaon 5 IMPROVISE (D) (P Haisell) Ron Thompson 8-13
4	000212-	CUMBRIAN CANCER (Cumbrian Industrials) M H Easterby 8-10 M Birch 0 BRADBURY HALL (M Watterson Ltd) K Stone 8-7 L Chemock 0
7	21040-4	UPTOWN RANDB'S (G Dawes) G M Moore 8-6 1
8		K O ISLAND (J Tsang) J Berry 8-2

3-1 Leon, 7-2 Holly Buoy, 4-1 Higham Grey, 6-1 Rabbons Of Blue, 8-1 Pokey, 10-

5-2 Cumbrian Dancer, 3-1 Goose Hill, 5-1 K O Island, 8-1 Uptown Randb's

ш.,р		· surroug rows
4.30	KILLIN	GWORTH MAIDEN STAKES (3-Y-O: £1,103: 7f) (6)
1	0	BOLD SEA ROVER (Lt Col R Warden) M H Easterby 9-0 M Bird
2	90-	COLWAY RADIAL (Colway Tyres Ltd) Denys Smith 9-0 M Fr
4	0000-	MR COFFEY (Mrs B Stead) 5 Norton 9-0 J Low
5	00-	RAVELSTON (F May) C Booth 9-0
В	2	HOIST THE AXE (USA) (T Whitney) B Hanbury 8-11 A German (7)
9	00-	HOIST THE AXE (USA) (T Whatney) B Hanbury 8-11

Saturday's results

Kempton Park 1.45 1, Milton Burn (33-1); 2, Accuracy (15-2); 3, Milton Burn (33-1); 2, Accuracy (15-2); 3, Meadowbrook (5-4 lav); 15 ran, 2-15 1, Stattely Lass (9-2); 2, Hodden Brief (15-6 lav); 3, Measuring (9-115 ran, 2-45 1, Tiarri (5-1); 2, Hello Ermans (2-1 lav); 3, Fouz (6-1); 9 ran, 3-15 1, Pensurchin (8-1); 2, Mark Angelo (7-2); 3, Windmade (5-6 lav); 3 ran, 3-45 1, Loft Boy (14-1); 2, Sizcarratio (18-1); 3, West Carrack (18-1); The Hiscote Chub (11-4 fav); 13 ran, 4-15 1, Swift Trooper (4-1); 2, Straight Through (9-2); 3, Are You Gulley (8-1), Pounelta (7-2 fav); 8 ran, NR; Pitprop.

Haydock Park 1.30 1. Native Charm (2-1 fav); 2. Clown Streeker (7-2); 3. Take Effect (5-1). 18 ran. 2.0 1. Sakit (5-6 fav); 2. Denberda (18-1); 3. 7aylormade Boy (5-1). 4 ran. 2.30 1. Amongst The Stars (9-1); 2.30 1. Amongst The Stars (9-1); Soveratin Love (100-30); 3. Suprame Kingdom (14-1). Planet Ash 13-8 fav. 3

Newton Abbot

(11-8 fav); 3, Royal Casino (14-1), S ran. NR: Rostra.
3.45 1, Grundy Lane (5-2 fav); 2, Bold Monk (18-1); 3, Bassim (5-1), 13 ran.
4.15 1, No. Pardon (13-2); 2, Two Coppers (5-1); 3, Broadheath (13-2); Canio, Roll-A-Joint 4-1 jt-favs, 8 ran, NR: Highland Drake. Highland Drake. 4.5 1, Averon (25-1); 2, Pento Prince (7-4 fav); 3, Mighty Steel (18-1). 14 ran. NR: Wedding Talk, Isom Dart.

Plumpton

2.30 1. Mount Feddame (12-1); 2. Mercy Less (9-2); 3. Brahms And Liszt (25-1). Gelileo (13-6 fay), 13 ran. 3.0 1. Coldherbour Lad (15-2); 2. Lungfield Lady (7-2 ji-lany; 3. Song For Christie (7-2 ji-fay). Centaur Song 7-2 ji-lev 11 ran. 1.30 1, Native Cherm (2-1 tav); 2, Clown Streaker (7-2); 3, Take Effect (5-1); 18 ran. 2.0 1, Sint (5-8 tav); 2, Denberdar (18-1); 3, Taylormade Boy (5-1), 4 ran. 2.30 1, Amongst The Starrs (9-1); 2, Sovereign Love (100-30); 3, Suprame Kingdom (14-1), Planet Ash 13-8 fav. 3 ran. 3.0 1, Withy Benk (5-6 tav); 2, Auto Lang Syne (9-2); 3, Red Duster (6-1), 9 ran. 3.0 1, Planter (5-2 tav); 2, Little Armier (9-1); 3, Rapod Star (16-1); 10 ran. 8.0 1, Inhealt (1-2 fav); 2, Southdown 4.0 1, Caro's Gift (9-1); 2, Rostherne (3-1); 3, Vintage Toll (8-1), 10 ran. 4.0 1, France (11-4); 18 ran. 4.0 1, Caro's Gift (9-1); 2, Rostherne (3-1); 3, Vintage Toll (8-1), 10 ran. 4.0 1, France (11-4); 18 ran. 4.0 1, Caro's Gift (9-1); 2, Rostherne (3-1); 3, Vintage Toll (8-1), Tressider (11-4); 18 ran.

Southwell

1.45 1. Soxoph (2-1); 2. Holst The Axe (5-2); 3. Keep Cool (7-4 fav), 5 ran. 2.10 1. Chevet Lady (15-2); 2. Beau Mrage (7-1); 3. Laugh A Lot (16-1). Red Bitly (7-4 fav). 10 ran. 2.45 1. Bolikin Knight (Evens fav); 2. Baton Boy (4-1); 3. Sheliman (9-2). 4 ran. 3.15 1. Parade Girt (6-1) fi-lav); 3. Valocated (8-1). Top That, Farmer Jock 6-1 (1-1); 3. Galisc Times (6-1). Victy Val 7-2 lav. 12 ran. 3.45 1. Pashmins (18-1); 2. Moonee Pord (18-1); 3. Galisc Times (6-1). Victy Val 7-2 lav. 12 ran. 4.15 1. Appearing (5-2 fav); 2. Try Scorer (9-2); 3. Nikrola Eve (7-1). 12 ran. 4.15 1. Go Linsarva (9-2); 2. Of That It (12-1); 3. Ascot Again (7-1). Keno Hill 2-1 lav. 9 ran. NR: Sean Be Frenchman (11-1); 2. Brother Geoffrey (11-4 fav); 2. Skawsby (7-1), 12 ran. 3.45 1. Centra Attraction (3-1) f-fav); 2. Towcord (50-1); 3. East Park (8-1); Captan (10-1); 3. The Kulah (7-2); 3. Thorball Arch (5-1). Captan (4-1); 3. Thorball Arch (5-1). Captan (6-1); 3. Thorball Arch (6-1); 3. Basker Grove (6-1); 3. Thorball Arch (6-1); 3. Basker Grove (6-1); 3. Thorball Arch (6-1); 3. Basker Grove (6-1); 3. Matatan (6-1); 3. Thorball Arch (6-1); 3. Basker Grove (6-1); 3. Thorball Arch (6-1); 3. Basker Grove (6-1); 3. Resettin Jack (6-1); 4. Jack (6-1); 4. Jack (6-1); 4. Jack (6-1); 5. Jack (6

Newton Abbot

2.15 1. One Por Marretty (3-1); 2. Cools Sun (16-1) fav); 2. Princely Heir (16-1). 18 (16-1) fav); 2. Princely Heir (16-1). 18 (16-1) fav); 2. Saspring (16-1); 2. Geoldaretta (9-4); 3. Harrow Abb (5-2); 13 ran. NR: Athens Star.

3.15 1. Akram (5-4); 2. Bickleight Bridge

Home Star.

3.15 1. Akram (5-4); 2. Bickleight Bridge

TOWCESTER Going: heavy (7.45 inspection)

2	2.0	PEN	IRHYN HANDICAP HURDLE (£1,686: 3m)
9	16 y	d) (2(runners)
	3	4-00	VOYANT R A Perkins 7-11-9 SHOEMENDER (C) P R Rodford 9-11-5 (7ex) C Gray
	7	0-01	SHOEMENDER (C) P R Rodford 9-11-5 (7ex) C Gray
	В	2040	MALFORD LAD R Hawker 8-11-4
	12	0030	KINSBOURNE LAD M 8 Connat 8-11-1 _ M Jenkins (7)
	13	FUPO	ANGEL BANK J A Edwards 9-11-1
	15	/004	ANGEL BANK J A Edwards 9-11-1 Mr C Liewellyn
	10	3000	PRINCESS HECATE (C) P Davis
			11.11.0 Mess T Davis (7)
	17	4440	LE SARTHOIS Mrs S Davenport 9-11-0
	19	3-F4	CATHERINE BRIDGE T A Forster 6-10-12 R Duterroody
	21	1P/B	STRAIGHT LEP A R Avient 10-10-10
	22	OPO	MASTER ANDREW F Champion 11-10-10 Peter Hobbe
	24	2002	FOLKLAND OW Arbuthnot 5-16-7 J Duroma
	25	130F	FOLKLAND OW Arbuthnot 5-15-7

4-1 Folkland. 9-2 Shoemender, 0-1 Malford Led. Towcester selections

By Mandarin 2.0 Folkland. 2.30 Autumn Zulu. 3.0 Spider's Well. 3.30 Mi Dad. 4.0 Celtic Sieve. 4.30 Tribal Drum, 5.00 William Blake.

2.30 CENTRALSPIRE NOVICE CHASE (£1,831: 2m) 7 F022 AUTUMN ZULU Miss L Sower 7-11-4 R Rowel
8 00-0 SOWDEN I M Dudgeon 6-11-4 Peter Hobbs
9 DANCE THE BLUES (USA) J Webber
10 1330 DUNHALLOW BOY T Casey 5-11-4 ST Webber
11 PP00 FIRST QUADRANT (USA) H O'Neil 6-11-4 Educkley
19 3PP TURKAMA T Casey 5-11-4 ST CASEY 6-11-4 ST CASEY 6-10-18 ST CASEY 6-

2-1 Clear The Course, 100-30 Autumn Zulu, 5-1 Bowden, 3.0 SCHILIZZI HUNTER CHASE (Arnateurs: 1,234: OHI 100yo, _,
4 0240 GENTLE APPROACH OH Thompson
9-12-30 Thompson (7) 9-12-30 Thompson (7)
8 0-30 SPARTAN RAMBLER (C-D) R Hursby
9-12-3Mr C O'Teole (7)
7 2-11 SPIDER'S WELL P Davies 10-12-3 ... Miss T Davis (7)
0 442P THE SOMAC(B) E Savage 9-12-3 ... Miss L Canson (7)
13 34-2 NILLENGDON BOY R Harvey 12-11-12Mrs J Crawford (7)
17 0FP3 NORTHERN MAN R Banks 9-11-12... R Banks (7)
10 U1- SPARTAN REGIME R A Periore 11-11-12. C Wrage (7)
20 FINE SPIRIT Miss B Lewis 13-11-7 ... Miss B Lewis (7)

11-4 Solder's Well, 3-1 Spartan Rambier, -

39 2004 TREBAL DRUMED) IM Chadpson 7-11-6W Hamphreys (7)
42 00 BALLYANNAGH MSS P Sty 5-11-1 M Easterd
43 00 CATCH A STAR K A Morgan 5-11-1 M Easterd
45 CRUSP AND BONNIE K C Baby 11-11-1 C Gray
46 00 TRUE BLOSONS J Weber 5-11-1 C Gray
11-4 Tribal Drum, 100-50 September 5-11-1 5.0 DUNCOTE MAIDEN HURDLE (Div II: £1,164: 3 00 BRIGHT ARROW N J Henderson 7-11-8 C Missas
4 00 CHELSEA MAN M Oliver 5-11-6 JC Doyle (4)
7 0042 DANCING ADMIRAL(8) K A Morgan 0-11-8 S Michell
7 007 MAGWA (N2) (385) T A Foother 5-11-6 R Dammoody
24 23-0 RODNERS W G M Turner 0-11-6 R Dammoody
25 00 TIAR FLAME Mrs O Haire 7-11-6
20 00 TIAR FLAME Mrs O Haire 7-11-6 JD Deggen
37 03 WILLIAM BLAKE JT Gifford 7-11-6 Peter GHobbs
43 PP OKARAB BIRIS I JWobber 5-11-1
45 000- TAM'S LAST C Grant-Ives 7-11-1
54 WILL BELLS K 3 Bridgester 4-10-9 S Worthington
5-2 William Blake J OLG-30 Degrees Admired 5-1 School

21 G412 MANNA REEF J A Edwards 8-11-13
23 G-00 ANECE Mrs G Jones 8-11-3
25 GPP CARRAMORE CUTLAW J Cosprave 7-11-5
26 GPP CHARCE FACT A J Chamberlain 8-11-3
210 FPP BRADOR Williams G-11-3
218 -Pu0 LIMENST G H Yardley G-11-3
214 GOPO MARRIE O F Pacher 8-11-3

I'm what come

Withhead San

Cardiff.

Urged on by the perpetual motion man, Jonathan Da-vies, they ran the ball with their traditional freedom and Cardiff, as they invariably do, responded. On another day, Cardiff would have punished mistakes, but the Welsh Cup finalists - for all their 29 wins and only seven defeats - are not in vintage form this season. They ran up cul-de-sacs rather than finding the open highways.

Cardiff too were missing

three injured internationals: Phillips, their captain, Scott, and Roberts, the last two back row players; meanwhile, the Barbarians' back row was in exceptional form. Rees, the Nottingham flanker, had played an energy-sapping cup match only 24 hours before (as had Rendall, of Wasps, in the same game), yet he main-tained his form magnificently.

Shrugging off the gloom of the cup defeat, he and Winterbottom roamed the field tackling and supporting, with Robbins, who also added his height at the lineout, on

Behind them, Jones and

Davies, who appeared to have established good relations with Argentina while in Sydney for the international sevens by appearing in Pumas stockings, demonstrated their maturing partnership. Davies, in fact, was well policed by Crothers but he drew so much of the defence upon himself that he created scope for others, notably the spiky Dev-ereux, whose sheer strength

diff midfield

from the closest range.

Nevertheless the Barbarians led 12-9 at the interval. Their first try was a delight, Harrison coming in between his centres on the blind side wing and Thorburn adding his weight to the movement before Crossan crossed. Their Bath count the cost of victory writes).

The treatment room at the Recreation Ground, Bath, will resemble a hospital casualty their heels.

By Mandarin 2.30 Military Crown. 3.0 Emandar. 3.30 Cybrandian. 4.5 Buck Up. 4.35 Simon Legree. 5.10 Yahoo. 4.35 CROSSLEY HANDICAP CHASE (£3,759:2M 4F 100YDS) (6)

2 2Pth SMION LEGREE J T Giltord 0-11-7.
3 11th RYEMAN (BUC) M H Estatrby 9-11-5.
4 1/1F- TRAVELOWER W A Stopherson 9-11-4.
5 1100 DUNNASK EDITION W A Stepherson 8-10-11.
D P223 THE DIVIDER Mrs T Calder 8-10-0.
1 3000 BOOK OF KELLS J W Bandell 11-10-0.

3-1-Hideedeeboo. 9-2 Quality Prince, 11-2 Empire Sands, T. Son of Manado, 0-1 Military Grown, Be Resolute.

3.0 EBF HUDDERSFIELD NOVICE CHASE (£2,438: 3m 100/d) (12)

3.30 H S COMMERCIAL SPARES HANDICAP

WINCANTON

Going: good to soft

2.8 AXBRIDGE NOVICE HURDLE (2733: 2m) (14

11-4 Predominate, 3-1, Formidable Lady, 4-1 Donavan's Choice, 6-1 Black Sheep, 0-1 Destroy, 12-1 Admirable Originton.

1 1100 STRING PLAYER (D) FH Lee 11-3 2 1007 SELLIDOR (D) NF Crump 10-12 0 1200 TORGE BELL (D) G M Moore 10-12 10 1017 SECK UP (B) M H H Besterby 10-7

A 2002 PREDOMINATE (BP) D Sharwood 5-11-7

A 2002 PREDOMINATE (BP) D Sharwood 5-11-7

ADMINIALE CRECHTON D Sharwood 5-11-7

2203 BLACK SHEEP | Dudgeon 0-11-0

$4.90 Bev2 SUMMLES POLLY D Sharms 5-11-0

$4.90 Bev2 SUMMLES POLLY D Sharms 5-11-0

$4.90 DOSTROY (BSA) D Sharms 7-11-0

$5.90 DOSTROY (BSA) D Sharms 5-11-0

$6.90 DOSTROY (BSA) D Sharms 5-11-0

$7.90 DOSTROY (BSA) D Sharms 7-11-0

$7.90 DOSTROY (BSA) D Sharms 7-11-0

$7.90 DOSTROY (BSA) D Sharms 7-11-0

$7.90 DOSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F Winter 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F WINTER 4-10-6

$7.90 POSTROY (BSA) D SHARMS CHOICE F W

Wincanton selections

By Mandarin

CHASE (E824: 2m 4f) (11)

_ ____

5.10 WILSTROP NOVICE POLE (2686:3m) (24) 2 3100 FROSTY TOUCH Mrs 2: ±5-11-5 Mine D Sheck (7)
3 2021 JACK OF CLUBS 2 McLB: 6-31-5
4 021 YANDO W A Stephenson 5-11-5
5 -023 AMOTHER BOXERS GO Norton 6-11-0 ... Mr 7 Band
CLUE RAVNEE W G Reed 7-11-0 ... Mr 7 Band
CLUTC NORTH E Worners 7-11-0 ...
1 M ALL FARMESS Mrs M Dickinson
5-11-0 Mrs Steine (7) 50 ITALIAN FOUR J Norton 0-11-0 ... 0 JAY DOUBLE YOU J 2 Wilson

2.30 +1 S COMMERCIAL SPARES HANDICAP CHASE (27,336.3m 100yds (5) PTeck CHASE (27,336.3m 100yds (5) PTeck CHASE (27,336.3m 100yds (5) PTeck CHASE (27,236.3m 10.10) PTECK CHASE (27,236.3m 9 40F0 MARACAS BAY (8) N Waggott 7-11-0 Nine Y Waggett 7
2 D160 SELICEN TURNI P A Cheriton 6-11-0 5
5 PP THE RONK J W Reclium 0-11-0 5
5 WOODLANDE WINEJ J C Doyle 5-11-0 5
9 08F0 YALISKART Miss J Eston 5-11-0 10
10 YOUNGKOWNOW Denys Swith 0-11-0 18 C Bracks (7)
2 PP JUNGSKOWNOW DENYS Swith 0-11-0 18 C Bracks (7)
3 000 KALISKART ARE J Eston 5-10-0 5
5 UJPP LUCKY PASS Mrs S Lenyman 12-10-0 6
6 0004 PERMY FALIS R F Bowing 7-10-0 6
6 11-4 in All February T-2 Values 8-2 Junks of Childs Silven 11-4 in All Fairness, 7-2 Yahoo, 9-2 Jack of Clubs, Sike Turn, 6-1 Kited Scot.

12 2222 CO MEMBER (C-0) T Forster 10-10-1 C Bro 13 0000 SAURDERS (D) T Clay 12-10-1 14 2100 PSOYSCAR (D) J Charlen 3-10-0 R Miles 25 4-33 CMLY FOR LOVE (D) O Micholson 7-10-0 R Miles 5-2 Co-Member, 11-4 Mr Moonraker, 7-2 Royecar, 0-1 imper, 0-1 Only For Love, 12-1 Seunders. 3.45 EASTER HANDICAP HURDLE (£1,662: 2m)

14. 0004 MARINERS DREAM (C-0) F Wahvyn
14. 0004 MARINERS DREAM (C-0) R Holinshaed 5-11-7 —
19. -00 DRCK'S REVENIGE(6) (D) R Hodges 7-10-9 —
20. 1300 SAFTRON LORD (b) L Kennard 4-10-9 — B Powell
22. -224 KASSAK (D) N Microal 10-10-9 — B Powell
25. 230- 18 HIGH S Patenore 5-10-8 —
28. 0040 BALLYWEST R Hodges 0-10-7 —
31. 0-40 BROTHER PARTISAN J Sayers 5-10-0 —
32. -30- ALETIS May A Finch 5-10-0 —
33. 0000 CAUDIEN MATCH (D) Mrs S Hembrow 0-10-0 —
36. 0000 BRODANE I Durloon 7-10-0 —
36. 0000 BRODANE I Durloon 7-10-0 —
37. 0-10-0 —
38. 0000 CAUDIEN MATCH (D) Mrs S Hembrow 0-10-0 —
39. 0000 BRODANE I Durloon 7-10-0 —
39. 0000 BRODANE I Durloon 7-10-0 —
30. 0000

4.20 HINDON HANDICAP CHASE (£1,900: 2m 5f) O P-OP LUCKY NEW(C-D) T Bulgin 11-11-7 6 PO4 BEN LAIR(C-D) F Walkyn 6-11-1 1 P000 LESELUC Mies S Watermen 10-10-6 4-6 Ben Lair, 4-1 Lucky Rew. 8-1 Lesiuc. 4.55 AXBRIDGE NOVICE HURDLE (£740: 2m 5)

By Mandarin

2.0 Predominate. 2.35 Smart Reply. 3.10 Co

Member. 3.45 Admiral's Ruler. 4.20 Ben Lair.

4.55 Battle King.

2.5 Battle King.

2.6 Battle King.

2.7 Battle King.

2.7 Battle King.

2.7 Battle King.

2.8 Battle King.

3 TO MEET HILL HANDICAP CHASE (£2,813: 3m The Control of the Co 1-2 Battle King, 8-1 Yankes Doodle, 10-1 Flying Tenderloot, 12-1 Nelsons Dockyard, 4.00 HANBURY NOVICE CHASE (£1.310: 2m) (7) UTTOXETER 034 ANOTHER HALF O McCain 8-11-0. PRO- GRAY ROSE BAY E Owen Jun 8-10-0.

4-6 Tom Caxton, 3-1 Another Half, 5-1 Shared Experience, Uttoxeter selections By Mandarin

2.15 Pm a Dealer. 2.50 Jubilee Lights. 3.25 Woodway. 4.0 Tom Caxton. 4.35 Solares. 5.10 4.35 HIGHBARROW HANDICAP CHASE (£1,710:

3m 27) (9)
2 6F01 COVENT GARDEN (USA)(S)(C-D) W Cley
3 1P0P CRACK A JOIE (C-D) T 58 7-11-7 P. Creak
4 0044 GRIENBANK PAIK (C)(0) R Posicies 0-11-6 — 7
7 314/ RELDIS M Barractough 12-11-1 P. Creak
10 1F33 SOLARES J. Berry 6-10-9 — 9
11 6006 KEEP A PROSESE (D) J Wilson 0-10-8 — 9
13 2200 CMEADLE (WEEN 1 Haddet 0-10-5 — 9
13 12 2200 CMEADLE (WEEN 1 Haddet 0-10-5 — 7
17 12UZ SMALL MONEY Mrs W Sylos 7-10-1 — P Dever 2-1 Covent Gerden, 5-2 Solares, 5-1 Small Money, 7-t Greenbank Park, 0-1 Crack A Joke, 16-1 Keep A Promise.

5.10 RIDWARE NOVICE HANDICAP HURDLE

4-1 Carney Court, 9-2 Bluff Cove, 11-2 Spigot Sheft, 7-1 Canarim, 0-1 Whitefriers.

CHASE [2824: 2m 47) (11)

CHASE [2824: 2m 47) (11)

CHASE [2824: 2m 47) (11)

CHASE [2824: 2m 48) (11)

CH 13-4-Edy Tig. 4-1 Copel Velour.

14-4-Edy Tig. 4-1 Copel Velour.

15-4-Edy Tig. 4-1 Copel Velour. 4.0 JOHN HARE MAIDEN HURDLE (4-y-o: 2808: PLUMPTON

one heavy (7.30 inspection) HOLDAY NOVICE HURDLE (£685: 2m) (12

9-4 Miss Never Hyde: 3-1 Bendicks, 0-1 Headley Hall, 0-1 Jersula, 10-1 Stair's Winnia, 14-1 Dimension. 4.30 HASTINGS HANDICAP HURDLE (£1,976: 2m

7-10-6 M Head (7)
20-3-90 ZPPARE N I.-Judkon 0-10-8 (6x4)
27 -4-00 DV/NET REITH PS Michael 7-10-0 W Sands
28 00P0 LINTON (8) 8 Stevent 12-10-0 J H Device
20 00P0 LINTON (8) 8 Stevent 12-10-0 J H Device
22 40P-0 HYA JROGE G Riphy 0-10-0 Mas P Filtch-Hoyes (7)

27-2017 ASHLONE S Melor 7-12-0 Q Landine (7)
3-7020 DAUNE EASY R Parter 0-11-6 Q Landine (7)
3-7030 DAUNE EASY R Parter 0-11-6 Q Landine (7)
3-703 DAUNE EASY R Parter 0-11-6 Q Landine (7)
3-703 CHERNAL CHERNY 2 Services 12-11-6 Q Landine (7)
3-703 CHERNAL CHERNY 2 Services 12-11-6 Q Landine (7)
3-704 CHERNAL CHERNY 2 Services 12-11-6 Q Landine (7)
3-705 CHERNAL CHERNAL (7) C CHERNAL CHER 7-2 Rainbow Lady, 4-1 Quite A Night, 5-1 Blue Dart, 5-1 End of Era. Windhaster, 10-1 Zioeth. 5.0 LINDFIELD HANDICAP CHASE (£2,523: 2m 4f) 4 2130 AUGHRA BOURA (C-D) JT Offord 10-11-7 . E Murphy

5 FIGH BRIGHT MORNING D M Grissel D-11-4.
D F-03 LETTH HILL FLYER P Mischell 10-11-1
11 0002 MERCY LESS (G) M-J Bolton 7-10-0.
14 0078 POOR SON (SRC-0.R) Yourspay 10-10-0.
16 0070 POLITBURO (USA) J J Bridge 6-10-0. 9-4 Leith HR Fiver, 11-4 Aughra Boura, 4-1 Mercy Less, 0-1 ht Morning, 0-1 Poor Son, 12-1 Politburo.

5.30 EBF STAKES NH FLAT RACE (2978: 2m) (14) ARCTIC CHIEF T M Jones 5:11-5 ... Miss 8 Weigh (7)

0 AS YOU LIGE IT M D Truster 5:11-5 ... Miss 8 Weigh (7)

0 AS YOU LIGE IT M D Truster 5:11-5 ... IN Keiter (7)

1 COUNTER TO THE STREET STREET (7)

1 COUNTER TO THE STREET (8)

1 CRASH CALL P Budger 6:11-5 ... IN Keiter (7)

1 PENNY ROSE M C Pipe 5:11-0 ... IN TRUSTER (8)

REGAL NOD R C Agrinvace 5:11-0 ... IN TRUSTER (8)

7-4 Warchard, 5-2 King Namind, 5-1 Panny Rose, 6-1 Regal Nod, 10-1 One Of The Lade, 14-1 Lady Calcrier.

Davies inspires Barbarians to stay true to > principles second was a penalty try, awarded when Hadley late tackled Jonathan Davies as he pursued his own kick down the touchline.

> The Barbarians indulged

Thorburn by giving him two penalty attempts which, at just under and just over 50 metres, have suggested that spring had hardly spring at Cardiff Do Saturday, but there was a were mere shadows of the monster he kicked next door against Scotland. He missed spring in the Barbarians' steps as they left the field. In beating Cardiff by four goals to a goal. and was somewhat lucky to Cardiff by four goals to a goal, a try, and three penalty goals, they not only recorded their first victory since 1980 in this 102nd official meeting between the clubs, they also maintained basic Barbarian get away with an obstruction which preceded his own try and restored the Barbarians lead after O'Brien had edged Cardiff back in front. Fitzgerald, the Barbarians captain, had to leave the field early in the second-half with a whiplash neck injury which only brought on Burns, the Lansdowne hooker and hero of Friday's game against Penarth, when he scored three tries in the Barbarians' 39-15 farewell to the Seasiders. He, like the rest of his team, was happy to watch Harrison seize a loose ball inside his own 22 and swoop away over 70 metres before giving Simms a try which settled the result ury which settled the result despite Hadley's late effort. SCORERS: Cardiff: Tries: O'Brien, Hadley. Conversion: G Davies. Penalities: G Davies (3). Barbarians: Tries: Crossan, Thorburn, Simms. Penality try. Conversions: Thorburn (4) (4).

CARDIFF: M Rayer; A Glasson, D Evans, A Donovan (capt), A Hadley; G Davies, N O'Brien; J Whitefoot, J Souto, I Eidman, O Golding, R Norster, M Rowley, T Crothers, R I stella

Norster, M Rowley, T Crothers, R Lakin.
BARBARIANS: P Thorbum (Neath and Wales); M Harrison (Wakefield and England), J Devereux (South Glamorgan Institute and Wales), K
Simms (Liverpool and England), K
Crossan (Instonians and ireland); J
Davies (Neath and Wales), R Jones
(Swansee and Wales), R Jones
(Swansee and Wales), P Rendall ((St Mary'a College and Ireland, captain)(rap: W Burns (Lansdowne)), G Pearce (Northampton and England), P Winterbottom (Headingley and England), P May (Lanelli), J CampbellLamerton (London Scottish and Scotland), G Rees (Nottingham and England), G Rees (Nottingham and England), D Blaves (Coventry and England), D Blaves (Coventry) ingland). teferee: D Bevan (Clydach).

Babas flock to the line: Thorburn (centre) leads the way at Cardiff on Saturday

Swansea come in from cold

By Gerald Davies

The long cold winter clearly has a lot of life left in it. No sign has a lot of fife left in it. No sign of spring-like weather at Swan-sca on Saturday, no warmth in the sun to revive end-of-season weariness and a chill wind blowing in from the Mumbles. The surface, too, was heavy, and not at all what might be expected at this time of year.

All these factors consulted to

All these factors conspired to make things difficult for the players. The absence of five international players might have made things worse for the Harlequins, but both teams were well matched Swansea won because they took better advantage of the wind in the second-half, and took all their apportunities. They won by five tries, three goals and a penalty to three tries, two goals and a

For Harlequins, Jackson and Dudman converted both su-Woodhouse had a nice under-perbly from the touch-line as standing close to the scrum, Dent found a few gaps in midfield, and Dudman had a midfield, and Dudman had a scored a try for Swansea from a good game behind them. But close scrum, which was contracks and they petered out.

The game was settled in a 12attacks and they petered out through lack of support or poor minute period at the start of the

Wales stand-off half, looked effort by Allan Williams, char-settled in the centre, prompting itably assisted by some lax settled in the centre, prompting the idea perhaps that is where he nught to stay. Richards had a run or two, and the twn Williamses at half-back were always probing. If all these had their moments, Emyr and Titley hardly saw the ball nn the wings. Swansea's forwards were slow in releasing possession, and Paul Mnriarty, who ntherwise had a sound game, was particu-larly guilty in holding on to the ball at the back of the scrum. In this aspect, he ought to have followed the example of Jackson, who gave controlled, swift possession to Woodhouse. The Harlequins were ahead 15-6 at the interval. Hunter scored a gond try after the visitors had counter-attacked Emyr's wayward kick nut of defence. Woodhouse took it up and ran diagonally to link up with his wing to score. Woodhouse himself got the second try by running blind from a 15-metre scrum.

well as adding a penalty. In between, Mark Davies had second half during which Swan-Much the same could be said of Swansea. Dacey, the former sea scored three marvelinus tries. The first was an individual Harlequins defence close to the scrum, and lack of team cover, which allowed the scrum-half to wriggle past the back row and run 40 metres to score.

The other two were the result nf passing movements. Titley scored from an orthodox three-quarter movement with Rees coming in as decoy. Trotman scored his try after superb breaks by Aled Williams and Richards set up a ruck near the Harlequins line allowing the flanker to emerge and charge nver. Rees converted one try as well as kicking a penalty.

Although O'Brien reduced the deficit with a try for the visitors, a strike against the head a little later saw them lose both the advantage and possession for Aled Williams to dive on the ball and score. Rees again converted.

CONVETLED.

SCOPIERS: Swammas: Tries: M Davies, M Triby, Alian Williams, Aled Williams, J Troman. Conversions: D Roes (3), Pensities: D Roes (1) Harlequins: Tries: S Hunter, N O'Erien, A Woodhotse. Conversion: R Duchman (2). Pensities: R Duchman (1). SWANSEA: D Roes; M Triby, D Richards, M Decey. A Emyr: Aled Williams, Alian

M Dacey, A Emyr; Aled Williams, Allen Williams, K Colclough, C Hillman, K Yates, J Trotman, T Cheeseman, R Moriarty, M Davies (copt), P. Moristry, M. Davies (copt), P. Moristry, M. Davies (copt), P. Moristry, H. Rell, P. Moristry, M. Belf, A. Thompson, A. Dent, S. Hunter: R. Czeri, A. Woodhouse; P. Curtis, J. Olver, F. Creichord, M. Skinner, W. Wall, N. O'Brien, D. Cooker, M. B. Martin, D. Cooker, M. B. Martin, D. Cooker, M. B. Martin, M. C. B. Martin, D. Cooker, M. B. Martin, M. C. B. Martin, D. Cooker, M. B. Martin, M. C. B. Martin, M. Martin, M. C. B. Martin, M. C. B. Martin, M. Martin, P Jackson. ec R Yeman (Port Talbot).

Stylish revenge for Scots created problems for the Car-Scotland. For all that Cardiff might Scotland, who had paid for have won had their finishing venturing largely into the un-known on their last visit in been slightly better. Hadley known on their last visit in 1984, comprehensively avenged that defeat on Saturday. They broke the pattern of the highly organized set-piece play of the Romanians with ruthless efficiency, winning by three goals and five penalty goals to five penalties and a drop goal.

The Scottish front five gave their connesies numbers a torrid played the liveliest match I have seen from him this season and the red-headed Glasson on the other wing was tremendous handful. Defensive-desperation forced the Barbarians to concede three penalties in the first half, all converted by Gareth Davies their opposite numbers a torrid afternoon in the scrum. Milne made the life of the Romanian loose-bead, Bucan, a misery and the Scottish scrummaging was so effective that by the middle of the second half, the two Roma-

RUGBY UNION RESULTS

JOHN SMITTYS MERIT TABLE A:
Glocaster 14, Meedingley 7.

JOHN SMITTYS MERIT TABLE B: Bedford
4, Rouselyn Park 6.

CLUB MATCHER: Aberaven 36, London
Weish 9: Abertisen 16: Bridgend 21,
Maester 15: Bristed 3, Beth 10: Cartiff 19;
Cross Keya 15; Bristed 3, Beth 10: Cartiff 19;
Berturians 24: Coventry 19, Gostorn 9;
Cross Keya 15; Tradeger 16: Durham 80,
Menchester 9: Unenal 44, Northampton
19; Fyide 22, Notingham 14: Met Police
17. West Hartispool 15; Mesth 11.
Laioster 15: Newbridge 13, Waskefield 13;
Newbort 14, Microsley 0: Pymouth 3,
Sheffield 10: Pomppool 54, Nianeston 7;
Portypoidd 12, South Wates Police 9;
Roundhay 3, Ornel 24; Rugby 3, Mortey
22: Seracons 24, Bradford 25; Swanses 25,
Harlequins 19; Torguty 20, Exister 4;
Vifirmelow 14, Birnsingham 21; Sale 25,
Harwick 18.

SCHWEPPER SCOTTISH LEAGUE: First

GYRO BANK LEAGUE: North Weet: First division 1: Widnes 47, Heaton Moor 10,
West: First division: West First division: 1; West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West First division: 2, West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West First division: 2, West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West First division: 2, West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West First 2, West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West First 2, West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West First 2, West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West First division: 2, West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West First division: 2, West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West First division: 2, West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West 11, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West 12, South Mest 12, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West 12, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West 12, South New 12, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West 12, South Liverpool
O, East: First division: West 12, South Liverpool
O, East: Fir department this week as the Julia Player Special Cup holders sort out their walking wounded for the semi-final against Leicester on Saturday (Bryan Stiles Chilcott, Halliday and Martin, together with Spurrell, their captain, and Egerton, the Nn 8, have all booked in for treatment after the 10-3 victory in the rugged derby game at Bristol on SCHWEPPES SCOTTISH LEAGUE: First division: Edinburgh Academicals 32, Kilmarnock 3; Sellerk 10, Watsonians 19. Kimarpock 3: Sellefit 10, Watsonlans 19, NORTHERN: Ashton-under-Lyne 7, Old Aldwinians 30; Blackheath 18, Northern 18; Chester 3, Preston Grasshoppen 15; Coine 6 Nelson 11, Marchester 94(MCA 19; Coventry 19, Gosforth 9; Durham City 60, Manchester 9; Fylde 22, Notthrighern 15; Cloucseter 14, Headingley 7; Kendal 16, Weston 4; Leigh 3, Castleford 9; Macclessel 9, Matiock 18; Newbridge 13, Walsefield 13; Phythouth 3, Sheffield 10; Roundbay 3, Orrell 24; Rupby 3, Mortey 22; Ruthin 19, New Brighton 12; Sale 25, Hawick 18; Sandbach 3, Southport 0; Saracene 24, Bradford 8 Bingley 3; Vale of Line 15, Hartlepool Rovers 0; Victors 22, De in Salle 3; Witnelow 14, Brinningham 21.

To add to Bath's worries Redman, their England second row forward, pulled put of the Barbarians match against Cardiff because of an ankle injury. Swift, their wing scored a first half try against Bristol. Sorrell replied with a penalty but Barnes was on target with two for Rath. Leicester bolstered their confidence for the semi-final with a 15-11 victory at Neath.

FOOTBALL

3.0 unless stated First division

Arsenal v Watford .

A Vitta v Laicester City

Liverpool v Man City Man United v Eventon Newcastie v Sheff Wed

by Rutherford. The Romanian right-wing, Voinov, allowed the right-wing, Voinov, allowed the ball to bounce and the ensuing race was fittingly finished off by Deans, the Scottish captain. Gavin Hastings kicked five penalties - all in the first half- and three conversions to equal his own Scottish record of 21 points set against England in the championship. Uotil the end of the first half Gingles were a spent force. the huge boot of the new

The Scottish back row of Romanian stand-off, Ignat, had Jeffrey, Calder and Beattie ram- scott Romania in contention but

MERIT TABLE B

paged through the depleted Rumanian ranks. All three Scottish tries involved at least one member of their breakaway trio. Jeffrey broke through three tackles to reach for the lipe but the other two tries were highly opportunistic efforts

Calder caught a kick from the centre after some inept Romanian handling and put Scott Hastings through fur his second international try. The final try followed a giant up-and-under by Rutherford The Romanian Referee: R Quimonton (England).

16-group win England's 16-group school side, in their only international of the season, beat Italy 20-14 in Verese, near Milan, on Saturday (david Hands writes). Harwood, the Edgware wing, had a particu-larly profitable tour, scoring a try, two penalties and a conver-sion to go with the three tries, a penalty and conversion in the 25-7 midweek win against an Italian regional team.

Academicals make it safe

Edinburgh Academicals, by recording a 32-3 win over the already relegated Kilmarnock, assured themselves of first division rugby next scason (lan McLauchlan writes).
The Academicals showed much more purpose and drive as their forwards, superbly led by Richardson, dominated the

A try by Due opened the scoring after six minutes following good work by Munro, and Academicals stretched their lead when Hartop scored a second try in the 25th minute. With the interval approaching

Stewart kicked a penalty for Kilmarnock, but in the second half it was all Academicals, with half it was all Academicals, with Dun, Munro, Hartop, McKie and Henry scoring tries.

In the second division, promotion candidates Ayr lost heavily fur the second week in succession, this time in Musaelburgh by 23-3. Musselhurgh ran in fuur tries, by Hannaford(2), McLeod and Watson.

Important win for Waterloo

By Michael Stevenson

Waterloo.

Waterloo firmly put behind them their Lancashire Cup deearn a comfortable victory over Wasps at Blundelisands on Sat-urday by a goal, three tries and a penalty to a try and two penalties.

Wasps' cause, bowever, was not furthered by injuries to Richardson, the stand-off half, and Pegler, the flanker. Both departed during the interval to be replaced by Pellow and Bonner, whn jnined the hard-pressed back row.

With the strong wind favour-ing Waterloo, Aitchisoo pumped some telling kicks deep intn Wasps' territory and one of these won an nffside from which Cotter kicked the penalty. Cotter was again prominent when he snapped up a wild pass by Cardus, and sent Molyneux scampering in for Waterloo's second try.

Waterloo held an encouraging
15-0 lead at half-time. It looked 15-0 lead at half-time. It looked far from unassailable after two penalties by Stringer and a searing burst by Cardus that should have brought a try, but Waterloo responded with the vital score. Stringer missed touch and Jenkins, collecting 20 metres out, wriggled and darted for a smeth ruy which Cotter. for a superb try, which Cotter converted. Waterloo, with their eye nn re-entry in in Merit Table A. had won an important

A, had won an important victory.

SCORERS: Waterless Tries: Hestop, Molymeux, Gallagher, Jenkina. Penelty: Cotter. Conversion: Cotter. Waspe: Try. Cardus. Penelties: Stringer (2).

WATERLOO: J Tickie: N Hestop, P Jenkins. M Cotter, M Molymeux; I Altenison. O Carfoot & Dew, & Tinaley, T Stron. S Gallagher, J Syddell (ceptein), K Outrn, & Hay, I Connor. WASPS: N Stringer: & Stringer: & Captein), K Titzonabe, M Balley; D Richardson (rep: R Pallow), S Batter; & Holtma, M Duffelin, A Istone, M Rigby, R Snith, C Pinneger, D Pegier (rep: K Bonner), M Rose.

Referee: M Edwards (Warwickshire Society).

TODAY'S FOOTBALL, RUGBY AND OTHER FIXTURES

Fourth division Burnley v Tranmere Chester v Cambridge Crawa v Port Vale Hereford v Orient (7.30) North ton v Southend (7.30) Peterboro v Colcheste Preston v Wrexham (7.30)

MULTIPART LEAGUE: Bangor City Rhyt; Gateshead v Morecambe; Goole Gainsborouch: Homeich (7.30).
SOUTHERN LEAGUE: Premier division:
SOUTHERN LEAGUE: Premier division:
Awechurch v Worcester (11.0); Chelmstord v
Crawley: Ducley v Wilenhalt at Bleton,
7.30; Fisher v Wilenhalt Servesend v
RS Southampton; King's Lyrm v Corby:
Shepshed v Bedworth,
FOOTBALL COMBINATION: Watford v ading (11.0). URNOFF IRISH LEAGUE: Crusaders v

SMIRNÖFF IRISH LEAGUE: Crusaders v Glentoran (230 SENIOR CUP FINAL: Hendon v Southall (at Enflect FC). SURREY SENIOR CUP FINAL: Chertsey Town v Sutton United (at Kingstonian FC) FESTIVAL: Liverpool Rembiers AFC. LONDON SPARTAN LEAGUE: Premier division: Beaconsfield Uid v Northwood; Danson v Rednii; Harwell Town v Waltham Abbey 111:30; Yeeding v Pennant. Senior division: Pennii Standard v Harme Sunderland Shield: North Danson v Hageras; Fairves (own v Watham Abbey 111:30); Yeeding v Pennant. Senior division: Penhill Standard v Ulysses. Harry Sunderland Shield: North Greenford v Southquite: Barldingside v Cor Cesuels; Catlord Wands and Charles v Changlord. HALLS BRIEWERY HELLENG LEAGUES Skol Premier Division Cup: Second Round: Fairford Town v Blosster Town. Premier division: Abingdon Town v Madenheed Town: Abingdon Town v Madenheed Town: Abingdon Town v Yase Town: Raymers Lane v Sharpness; Shortwood Uld v Pegastus Lins; Thamse Lidd. v Wallingford Town; Wantage Town v Supermanne (11:0), First Division (11:0): Badmirton v Hazelit; Bishops Cleeve v Kodingdon; Clanfield v Avon Bradford; Oldot Town v Preseed Steet Highworth Town v Villing Sports; Lambourn Sports v Circencester Town; Penhill v Kintbury Rangers.

SUSSEX COUNTY LEAGUE (11.0): First tilvisiers Arundel v Littlehampton Town; Eastbourne Town v Burgess Hill Town; Haisham Town v Burgess Hill Town; Haisham Town v Birges; Nachurst & Eastbourne v Steyning Town: Portfield v Chichester City: Shoreham v Lancing; Whitehawk v Peacehaven & Telscombe. COMPSHIPD COUNTIES LEAGUE (11.0): Premier division: Ash United v Farmum Town; Chobham v Westfield: Cove v Primley Green; Farleigh Rovers v Malcien Town; Harriey Winthey v Fleet Town; Horley Town v Malcien Vale; Merstham v Godafring Town; Virginia Water v Cobham. Godalming Town; Virginia Water v Cotham.
SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE: Trophy:
Final second leg: Hoddesdon Town v
Seby (7-0). Premier division: (all 11-0);
Leighton Town v Eston Bray United:
Mitton Keynes Borough v New Bradwell
St. Peter; Winslow United v Cranfield
United; Astront Coop v Langlord.
MENE GROUP UNITED COUNTIES
LEAGUE: Premier division: Baldock v
Arissey: Bourne v Stamford: Brackley v
Raunds: Oesborough v Rothwell; Northammon Spencer v Long Buddby;
Potton v Hotbeach; St neots v Eynesbury
S and L; Corby v Stotfold; Wootton v Amphill.

RUGBY UNION CLIB MATCHES: Aberavon v Neeth; Bath v Vale of Lune; Blackheath v West Hartispool; Brudowster v Liverpoot; Bristol v Glamorgan Widnig; Ebbw Vale v Tradegar; Ester v Sheffield; Pylds v Brimingham; Gloucesser v Birkanhaed Paris; Gostorth v Hahfat; Headingley v Coventy; Moseley v Liametit; Newbridge v Aberulian; New Brighton v Wasps; Nawport v London Welet: Northempton v Bedford; Nothingham v Noneston (7.15); Orrel v Otley; Penarth v Harlequins; Prymouth v Torquey; Pontypool v Leidenter; Pontypond v Bridgend: Saracens v Northern; Swansea v Barbarians; Weterloo v North of Instant; Witnestow v Walcefield. Azurians v King's Northor; Citton v Burtion; Falmouth v Walself; Kingsbridge v Herrow; Newquay Hornets v Tyloratown; Newton Abbot v Old Blues; Penryn v Hayle; Radruth v Crawley; St Ives v St Meny's Hospital; Stroud v Chetteritum; Truro v Old Dunstonlans; Weston-Super-Mare v Scher. (* denotes Ment Table match).

RUGBY LEAGUE ALALOM LAGER CHAMPIONSHIP: Castleford v Feetherstone (3.30): Dewe-bury v Hull KR (3.30): Heites: v Werringson; Hull v York; Swinson v Saford; Widnes: v St Helens, Wigan v Oldham.
SECOND DIVISION: Blackpool v: Leight
Stamley v Keighley (3,30); Doncaster v
- Zatley; Rochdsle v Runcom H;
Workington v Barrow (3,30).

HOCKEY

OTHER SPORT SWIMMING: Hewlett-Packerd/ASA ne-tional short course chemploriships (at Barnet Copitali pool, Hendon, 10.0 and

REAL TENNIS: George Wimpey amaieur singles chempionship (at Lord's). SNOOKER: Embessy world professional chempionship: Qualifying (at Preston Qualdhal).
SCHASH RACKETS: Bournemouth Easter festival (at West Hants, Meyrick Park).

3.30 EASTER SELLING HURDLE (2873: 2m) (13) 219 SP REPERAL ROSE R Cards 7-10-11 27 400P SERVLEY CREPELLA J.J. Brager 6-10-11 20 7000 SMCONTONE LADY JE Long 5-10-11 Miles C Moore (7)
20 7000 SMCONTONE LADY JE Long 5-10-10 ——
20 ENGLE MOSS A Moore J-10-10 ——
20 ENGLE MOSS A Moore J-10-10 ——
20 ENGLE MOSS A MOORE HOLD MOSS AND MOORE HOLD MOSS AND MOSS AN Will Part, 72 Stackbook, 92 Contentour Led,

2-1 Jaconzai, 9-4 Airbonne Deel, 9-1 Pette Mirage, 0-1 ender Topic, 10-1 Royal Diplomet, 14-1 Burne Lad.

3.8 ALFRISTON NOVICE CHASE (1,240: 3m) (8)

Plumpton selections

By Mandarin

130 Jacuzzi. 3.0 Ashlone. 3.30 Pass Ashore. 4:0 Miss Never Hyde. 4.30 Rainbow Lady 5.0 Leith

Second division Middlesbrough v Carliste Utd Sheffield Utd v Sunderland Stoke City v Shrewsbury Third division Bolton v Blackpool (11.0) Brentford v Gillingham (12.0) Doncester Ryrs v York City Lincoln v Chesterfield Newport v Bury HEGAL NOD IT G ATTRYCED 5-11-0 A Adeque (7)

4 KING MINISTON IN GENERO 4-10-9 A Adeque (7)

5 TOCKSPOKER MRS P Townstey 4-10-9 STOCKSPOKER MRS P Townstey 4-10-9 M Bosley (4)

LADY CATCHER J R Besley 4-10-4 M Bosley (4)

BISS GEORGIE-GIREL G Ros 4-10-4 P McDermott (7)

2. WARCHANT C W Thornson 4-10-4 Plymouth v Bristol C (11.30)
Reading v Bournemouth
Rotherham v Darlington Siivanees v Cardiff Člitv Walsall v Derby County

Stockport v Mansfield (7.30) Nottingham For v Birmingham QPR v Chelsea (11.30) Swindon v Aldershot Scottish second division West Hem v Tot'ham (11.30) Albion R v Dunfermilne (7.30) GOLA LEAGUS: Berrow v Nuneston; Chelsentam v Abrincham; Depenham v Kliddermasser; Derdord v Weymouth; Maidstone v Stafford; Northwich v Tetland; Rucom v Barnet; Scarborough v Boston; Weeldstone v Bath; Wycombe v Second division:
Semisley v Huddersfield
Brighton v Portsmouth (11.30)
Charlton v Norwich (11.30)
Futham v Mitwelt (11.30)
Leeds United v Blackburn R

VALDRALL-OPEL LEAGUE: Premier division: Bognor Regis Town v Barking; Carshatton Athlete v Billericay Town:
Epoom & Ewell v 2 Stortford: Town:
Epoom & Ewell v 2 Stortford: Town:
Epoom & Ewell v 3 Stortford: Town:
Are v Slough Town: Wokingham Town v
Hayes (7:30); Worthing v Yeovif Town:
First division: Bromley v Medienhand Und;
Grays Athletic v Awelley; Lewes v Leyton
Wingste; Oxford Caty v Walton & H (3:30);
Tilbury v Hampiton; Wembley v
Lasthgrhand. Second division angle:
Hertford Town v Ware: Heybridge Swifts v
Challont St P: Royston Town v Rainham
Town: Saffron Walden To v Berthamstad
Town. Second division south: Bractorell Town v Horshem; Dorleing v Egnam Town;
Flackwell Hearth v Eastbourni Little Newbury Town v Camberley Town: RuisIp Manor v Southwick: Whyteledie v Barstead Athletic.

Spirit of the Cup moves at Hillsborough

Sheffield Wednesday ... 0 Liverpool

"I have just told them it was a perfect dress-rehearsal for Dalglish's otherwise incomnext Saturday," Howard Wilkinson, the Sheffield Wednesday manager, remarked after his term's description of the same of th his team's dour, tight match with Liverpool had, almost Walsh lasted 60 mioutes. inevitably, ended goalless.

That sounded like an iovita-tion to stay away from this Saunday'o semi-finals. in which Wednesday play Everton and Liverpool play Southampton. However, it did not dissuade the Wednesday faithful who wound round Hillsborough to buy their cup tickets after this game had

Wilkinson had hit the nail on the head. Hillsborough, a regular semi-final venue, was full enough to be entertaining such a game, and the spectacle was more like one of those tense encounters than a League match throughout. The tension was evident in some angry exchanges, and chances were few and far

When they did come, they tended to be snatched at. As Wednesday pressed forward, Soodin, Thompson, and Chamberlain saw opportunities fleetingly come and disappear again as Liverpool's defence closed down sharply. Liverpool's opportunities were fewer but more clear-cut.

The endings were the same, hasty shots betraying Walsh and Molby before and after half-time, the latter after Liverpool's best move of the match had for once opened up Wednesday's defence.

By Vince Wright

For almost the first time this seasoo the pressure is off Peter Shreeve, the Tottenham Hotspur manager. His position has been under threat because of Tottenham's creatic perfor-mances, so he will be grateful that the north London spotlight has suddenly shifted from White Hart Lane to Highbury. Don Howe's resignation as Arsenal's manager and speculation about his successor have pushed Tottenham's problems off the

Docker's goal on Saturday as o crucial point in their season

(Paul Newman writes). Docker's equalizer four minutes from the end of the home leg of the north London side's Trophy semi-final against Altrincham secured

First division

Tottenham Hotspur

Arsenal...

erpool were content to sit back, suggesting that Wilkinson's belief that they had come to avoid defeat was correct. That analysis also offered justification for reportedly satisfied his manager before being replaced, hut the success Madden had io quelling Rush, who has been thriving since Dalglish's return to the team, suggested that the Scottish international is still the difference between his team being a good one and genuine challeogers for the League championship.

Notwithstanding the loss of Worthington, their best player until he lunged into a tackle after 40 mioutes and sprained knee ligaments which will rule him out of contention for a month. Wednesday could take marginally more satisfaction from the game. Wilkinson was particularly pleased with the discilpine that his team showed, a measure of their progress in the last two sea-

"We used to be a bit Roy of the Rovers about it. bead down and charge," he ex-plained. That may be true, but it raises the thought that 0-0 draws do not get you to Wembley - some time you actually have to score.

actually have to score.
SHEFFIELD WEDNESDAY: M
Hodge; M Sterland, C Morris, L
Madden, P Shriffit, N Worthington
(sub: M Chambertain), B Marwood,
G Megson, G Thompson, C Shutt, G
Snodin.
LIVERPOOL: B Grobbelaar: G
Gillespie. J Beglin, S Nicol, R
Whelan, A Hansen, P Walsh (sub: K Macdonald), C Johnston, I Rush, J Molby, S McMahon.
Referee: P N Willis (Co Durham).

only goal arose from a mistake, or rather two mistakes. Thirty-two manutes had elapsed when Galvin was allowed a free header into Arsenal's penalty area; Lukic's punch was weak and poorly directed and Ste-vens, who typified Tottenham's

There were no such errors

from Clemence, who showed his England pedigree with fine saves from Hayes and Nicholas mid-way through the second half.

Clemence again rescued Totten-ham near the end when Mariner, Arsenal's substitute, was Hoddle provided a memo-poised to snatch an equalizer.

fouled Reid.
Defences were firmly io control of the other tie, in which Kettering Town secured a goalless draw at Runcorn in front of a crowd of 2,300.

Harrison his a post for Kettering loose ball to score.

Spurs capitalize

on two mistakes

Friday's walk-out by Howe and John Cartwright, the club's chief coach, was the last thing that Arsenal wanted before a match of this importance. It must have been difficult for them to concentrate on the job in hand. By cootrast, Tottenham's preparation was smooth and low-key. In view of all this, Arsenal are entitled to an uns, Arsenal are cultiled to feel pleased with their contribution to Saturday's match, which they hardly deserved to lose.

In a game of few clear-cut chaoces there was fierce commitment but little floesse and it was appropriate that the

Enfield's double still possible

If Enfield achieve their ambifico this year of a Gola League and FA Trophy double, they are likely to look back oo Joho Deberger and FA Trophy are a Saturday are a fixed to be seen as a factor of the seen as a factor of th

Crystal Pai

Atkinson a study in frustration

By Simon Barnes

Birmingham City.... Manchester United

Football's a funny game, Brian. Io other games — games of the unfunny variety — you know that an infinitely superior side will almost always smack the little guys aut of sight. On the rare occasions they do not, you have a feast. But such stuff is the daily bread of football.

lo terms of form, price, and doubtless breeding and potential stud value, you would back Manchester United's 11 classic footballers to put it over any ordinary banch of also-rans. But Birmingham City, as erdinary a face of Ros Atkins bunch as you could wish for - the United management

By Nicholas Harling

The flak fairly flew at Fratton

Park on Saturday. On the pitch there was the bantamweight contest between Kennedy and Galliers and the heavyweight one involving Fashanu and Blake. And off it there was the verbal jousting between the respective managers. Oh, and there was a little football in

The only incident of note in a

The only incident of note in a first half devoid of creative football was Beasant's penalty save from O'Callaghan after Sanchez had brought down Hilaire. With the wind in the first half giving way to a second half downpour, and the slippery surface oow conducive to the sliding tackle or whatever other.

sliding tackle or whatever other challenge that came thudding in, the entertainment value im-proved, if mostly for the wrong reasons. Not the least of them was the way the rampaging Pashanu put himself about after Blake had swept Portsmouth ahead from O'Callaghan's cor-

Portsmouth.

Wimbledon.

Fashanu a law unto himself

puryers who are not even nonse-hold names in their own house-holds—left their elegant visitors staggering about and uttering thanks that they got a draw. It seems impossible that men like Hughes, with his peuchant for voileying them in from shoulder-high, Strachan with his Human Torch imperson-ation, Robson with his lanatic commitment, or even Whiteside,

But like the good law student he is, Fashanu mounted an ex-cellent defence to the accusations levelled at him afterwards by Alan Ball. The Portsmouth manager had accused him of elbowing three players and of butting Gilbert in the tunnel as the players left the field. "There seems to be a campaign to blacken my name if that is possible,", the eloquent Fashanu said." If I am leaving a trail of destruction behind me, then I am sorry. There was talk of me coming to Portsmouth. I

Within three minutes of coming on as substitute, Fashanu had sparked a Wimbledon revival which led to Smith's headed equalizer. With Portsmouth distracted by having to keep more than one eye on Fashanu, Gilbert was almost panicked ioto an own goal and Smith had another header cleared off the line by O'Callaghan. And all the while Kennedy and Galliers continued to pile into each other as though determined not to be upstaged.

Within three minutes of com-wonder if it is still on."

with the most cultivated left elbow in the game, could not serve up o feast of football. Those who were there hoping to see the triumph of pure skill left However, there was empensation to be found in the who makes Whiteside's elbow look subtle, felt it all so much more acutely. He was vibrating like a tuning fork after the match, a man filled with undischarged tensions, tapping his feet like Fred Antaire, and dramming file Ginger Baker with his tingera. He looked like a Marcel Marceau mime entitled "La Fruntration".

For it was all happening again. For Atkinson, the championship is like a bar of soap: never so insecurely held as when most tightly grasped. The great prize seems to have squirted from his hands once again. It seemed so safely clasped o few months back. Handysides's goal was a terrible popped up to score an equatizer, it was not really enough.

Atkinson is left wriggling and ingling and wondering what to do. His central defender, Higgins, broke an arm in a fall, and he can't bring Moran back in because Moran has, yes, o broken arm. Dear old Stapleton in the state of the st might play as centre-half today. United do not look like the side that carried all before them in September. A funny game, foot-ball. But I didn't notice Atkinson laughing.

Rivals hope Hearts will miss a beat

By Hugh Taylor

The most exciting finish in the 10-year history of the pre-nier division was assured when it four contenders for the cottish championship won the cottish championship with the country of the cottish championship with the country of the country o the 10-year history of the pre-mier division was assured when all four contenders for the Scottish championship won crucial matches on Saturday, Heart of Middothian, the leaders, remain favourites. Showing little sign of tension, and still playing with commendable style, they beat Rangers 3-1 at Tynecastic with goals from Robertson (2) and Clark. This win extended their unbeater sur opposite number, John asserted that Hearts "were certaioties to take the League from McClair (3).

Mchally.

As the leading contenders have to play each other before the season ends, even more excitement is promised for spectators who have relished the more football played.

ing the country's outstanding defender, scored with a superb header.
Aberdeen beat Motherwell 1-

o at Fir Park, thanks to a goal from Hewitt, but they had reserve goalkeeper Gunn deputizing for the injured Leighton - to thank for keeping them win extended their unbeaten run to 27 games, equalling the League and Cup record set by Rangers in 1976. Rangers, whose goal was scored by McCoist, failed to reveal the form so enthusiastically applauded by their supporters against Celtic the previous canabled Celtic to stay io coolention, although they are nine week.

While Alex MacDonald, the Hearts manager, felt his side thear fortunate to win, his opposite number, Jock Wallace, asserted that Hearts were certaioties to take the League

tators who have relished the most engrossing football played in Scotland since the Second United, their closest challengers, five poiots behind but with two games in hand, had a satisfying World War.

Cambridge show ≀

ROWING

their faith in steady state

Cambridge's single-mindedness and steady-state tactics were the principal factors in their ending a decade of defeats with a seven-length victory over Oxford to the 132nd Boat Race on Saturday. to enlist a faster tide but br. found the rougher water. By Chiswick Steps Cambridge's reward was o 14-second lead – double that at Hammersmith. It was all over. on Saturday.

These found their origino

perhaps months ago and were evident as Cambridge arrived on their stake boat some five minutes earlier than Oxford who, according to my watch, arrived on time, if somewhat hurriedly and to the displeasure of Mike Sweeney, the unpure.
Cambridge's ploy concentrated their minds wonderfully.
Although the weather threatened, the wind did oot realize its evil intent. The tide ran fast and furious and before a stroke was rowed things appeared to be going Oxford's way. They won the toss of the gold sovereign and without hesitation chose Surrey, the obvious station of News must have filtered down the river while Oxford warmed up of the spectacular and unexpected victory of Isis over Goldie while rowing on the middle station. Isis rowed the Cambridge reserves down.

But Oxford's fortunes stopped abruptly of that point. The umpire quickly had both crews off on their four and 6 quarter mile voyage to Mortlake and Cambridge appeared to lead from the first stroke.

from the first stroke.

Cambridge were quickly ioto a purposeful stride and underrating Oxford and by the end of the Putney boat houses had a lead of just over half a length. By the mile post Cambridge led by almost two lengths and were dictating the race.

Cambridge shol uoder Hammersmith Bridge over two lengths clear with their stroke, John Pritchard, maintaining o loping productive stride which was from the outset their hall-mark of success. Oxford were

ing their hearts out but the ld magic was oot there. Only one threat remained and that was the water along the Chiswick and Corney reaches. It was rough but no white horses

The Light Blues arrived at Mortlake 21 seconds ahead of a dispirited Oxford. Cambridge flapped their arms in a victory salute at the finish like giant seaguils. On land Pritchard revealed Cambridge's tactics. "After our initial start we built up for 20 strokes, steaded and then just grinded away. I never intended, or made, any spuris whatever Oxford intended to throw at us. Once we set off it was a solid one-pace effort. The crew rowed a blinder, all our eight cylinders finely tuned and firing away, efficiently. Our coxowain steered a magnificent course." Cambridge flapped their arms

Those simple tactics, which took months to perfect, worked a treat. Cambridge not only broke Oxford's 10-year domi-nance but also set the sixth-fastest time ever.

fastest time ever.

OUR ORD UNIVERSITY: G R Screeton (Magdalen College School and Merton).

DOW: I H N Inachonald (Morson's
Academy and Mansied; M R Dunaten (St Clave's, Orpingeon and Worcesser): G R O
Jones (Sydney University and New Collegg): 'S N Pally (Brysriston, Cambridge University and Worcester): C H Claric (California University and University): and Orroll: A M S Thomas (Winchester and Pambroks), stroke: A 9 Green (Halberdasthers' Aske's and Christ Church), cox. PSINOROUS! Aske's and Christ Church). Cox. Church Scox. C in 18 mm 45 sec.

FOR THE RECORD

David Miller, back page.

ROAD RUNNING

MOTOR CYCLING

DONNISTON PARIC SheS OB Transation race: Second lact Seven laps (17.58 office) K Schwartz (US, Buzukh), 12min 52.4e (81.56 mph); 2, F Merkel (US, Honda), 12.5/ (81.38 mph); 3, K trons (GB, Yamaha), 12.5/ (81.08 mph), Honda V Formula 500 Copt T laps (25 nalles); 1, K Dobson (Honda), 21n 40 Oct. 150 Cz. mahk. 2, M Christ Manual lapa (25 miles): 1, K Dobson (H 59.0sec (68.23 mph); 2, M On 22:12.0 (67.56 mph); 3, I You 22:24.1 (66.95 mph). CROSS-COUNTRY

TORE OLONA, tany: Marc 9.5 k 1. A Cover (tt), 30min 48 sec; (td, 31.00; 3, P Porter (US), precing: 5, T Hutchings.

MIOR K2 CLASS (Devizes to Westinh tel: 1, R Freeman and I White (Hen yak Club), 16hr 40.6eec; 2, II Andrews Bocs (Glasnow Kayak), 17:10.58;

ICE HOCKEY PURGCERDA: World championships: Pool C: Group A: Dermark 8, Span 0; Norway 5, Romana 3, Group B: Bulgerta 2, North Korea 1; Hungary 2, Chine 2.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL.

UNITED STATES: Networal Parabertholi Association (NBA): Fister: Boston 116 Collect.

Washington Bullets 97; New Jersey Nots 118.
Cheago Bulls 107; Mitreautou Bucks 116.
Philadophin 76ers 94; Detroet Pistore 116.
Houston Finches 107; Mitreautou Bucks 116.
Indiana Parcar 92; Demore Haugets 120. Unit
Jazz 120: LA Cappers 107, Phoents Sarie 96.
Saturday: Houston Flockels 114, Washington
Bullets 109: Cleveland Cavafere 123, Atlanta
Hawks 105; Chicago Bulls 106, New York Krucherbockers 96; Utah Jazz 110. San Antonio Sports 102: Bellemakes Bucks 130.
Detroit Pistors 121. LA Cappers 112. Sacramento Kings 102: Secrite Super-Sonics 88, LA
Lakers 67; Golden State Warnors 130.
Portiand Traf Blazzers 129.
BRITISH MASTERS: Third effailments from 104.
Gontina 32. Kingston win 239-234 on aggregats.

Mandikova p.s. 7-6 ; K Jordan (US) and L :

ICE HOCKEY

· · · · GOLF 138: 6 Compton, 738: C Rodriguez, M Fatcholt, 6 Smith, 140: R Charles, A Wall, H Henning, 141: R Brue, C Owens, CYCLING MIDI-PYRENEES TOUR: Finel stage (AND) to Motres, 117.4 miles): 1, F Castring (Fr), Shr 4 miles): 1, F Castring (Fr), Shr 4 miles 35;ec (10sec borus): 2, A Chapputs (Fr), and Cartaero (Switz), 50;60.5 (Mac borus): Finel eventil: 1, N Furtiment (Switz), 20th (Ikm) 38 ecc. 2, C Motres (Fr), 7sec behind: 3, C Chrosebon (Bell), same time, 7sec behind: 3, C Chrosebon (Bell), same time, 7sec (R), Same time, 7sec (R), Same time, 7sec (R), Same time, 3, M Argentin (R), same time.

CRCUIT OF IRELAND RALLY: Leading positions after 22 steges: 1, McRae, 217 53min 17sec: 2, Llowellin, 2:54:25; 3, Brookes, 257:27.

NARDOR: Setari Refly: First leg: 1, 8 Wattongaurd (Swe. 70-70ts Celeca), 38 penulses: 2, 4 Karikkanien (Fin. Psugeot 205), 42: 3, M Basson (It. Lanca Raily), 53; 4, E Weber (WG, Toyota Celca), 58; 5, B Mentas (Kanya, Paugeot 205), 61; 6, L-E Torph (Swe. Toyota Celca), 52; 7, M Kirtikan (Kanya, Satzaru), 95; 8, V Presson (Konya, Lancia Raily), 97; 9, P Bourne (MZ, Sabaru), 99; 10, K Eriksson (Swe, Volkswegon Golf), 103.

1.7

٠, 7.5

- L

7.3

8

Inough determined not to be upstaged. PORTSMOUTH:A Knight: K Swain, P Hardyman, M Tart (sub: K Dillon), N Blake, W Gibert, K O'Caleghan, M Kennedy, M Cunn, M Charnon, V Hisirs. Willel EDON: Il Beasent: K Gage, N Winterburn, S Galliers, M Idoris, M Smith, S Evans, A Cork, P Fishenden (sub: J-Feshand, L Sanchez, C Fairveather, Referee: R Groves (Weston-super-Mare). Fashanu was picking up where he had left off in midweck when playing for his previous club. Millwall, at Portsmouth. a I-I draw io front of a crowd of after four minutes but chances 1,804. Altrincham, who lost 4-1 were few and far between thereat home to Enfield io the League after.

Third division

WEEKEND FOOTBALL RESULTS AND TABLES

Aston Villa 33 4 8 12 10 37 56 30
Birmingham City 35 8 522 29 54 29
West Brontwich 35 4 822 29 76 21

FA TROPHY: Semi-final, first leg: Enfleid
1, Altrincham 1; Runcom 0, Ketterng 0.

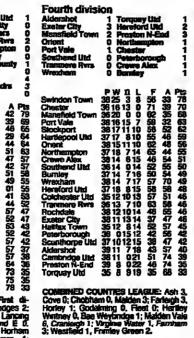

VALIDNALL-OPEL LEAGUE: Premier diValidnam 1; Runcom 0, Ketterng 0.

VALIDNALL-OPEL LEAGUE: Premier diValidnam 1; Runcom 0, Ketterng 0.

Harrow 4; Epsom and Ewell 2, Slough 1;
Fermborough 4, Bilericay 0; Hendón 0,
Hayes 0; Hitchin 0, Kingstoman 0; Sutton
Umfad 5, Windear and Eton 0; Waithramstow 0, Woldingham 0; Worthing 0, Barking 1; Yeori 3, Tooting and Mitcham
Short 1, Bendom 1; Meidenhead 1,
Boretnern Wood 2; St Albans 2, Undridge
1; Watton A, Hersham 1, Lewes 3, Warmbey 3, Grays 1, Second division
nortic Berkhamsted 2, Heybridge Swits
C, Checkmut 1, Barton 2; Harringey 0,
Stevensing 1; Herriford 2, Vauxnati Motors
1; Kingsbury 1, Henrel Hempstead 1;
Lesthworth 1, Tring 2; Reinham 1,
Cheiston St Peter 3; Royston 3, Harefeld
1; Saffron Walden 2, Wolverion 2; Wars 5,
Clapton 5, Second division south:
1; Saffron Walden 2, Wolverion 2; Wars 5,
Clapton 1, Henrel Hempstead 1;
Lesthworth 1, Tring 2; Reinham 1,
Cheiston St Peter 3; Royston 3, Harefeld
1; Saffron Walden 2, Wolverion 2; Wars 5,
Clapton 9, West 3, Royston 3, Harefeld
2, Enclowell 1, Metropolitan Polica 2,
Barsslead 2, Repowell 1, Henriford 2, Polica 2,
Barsslead 2, Repowell 1, Henriford 2, Polica 2,
Barsslead 2, Repowell 1, Henriford 3, Southal 3, Soham 0, Prize divisions south:
1, Wolting 2: Eastbourne United 0, Miolesey 0; Egisam 3, Henrefeld 2, Electwell 1, Metropolitan Polica 2, Barsslead 2, Repowell 1, Henriford 2, Southal 1, Wolting 2; Eastbourne United 0, Miolesey 0; Egisam 3, Henrefeld 2, Repowell 1, Metropolitan Polica 2, Barsslead 2, Repowell 1, Selbourn 3, Southal 3, Soham 0, Polica 2,
Bishop Auckland 3; Soham 0, Charles 3, Soham 0, Charle

SUSSEX COUNTY LEAGUE. First di-vision: Burgess Hill 1. Three Bridges 2: Eastbourne 5. Chichester City 0: Lancing 1. Littlehampton 2: Medhurst And E 0. Portfield 2. Peacehaven And T. I. Horhsm Ymea 1: Steyning 3, Ringmer 1; Whitehawk 0, Arundel 1. Ymcz I: Steyning 3, Ringmer 1; Whitehawik 0, Arundel 1
HALLS BREWERY HELLENIC LEAGUE:
Skol Premier division: Cup: Second Round: Supermarine 1, Traine 2, Premier division: Almondstury Greenway 0, Wantage 2: Bicaster 0, Alpingdon United 3;
Moreton 2, Reyners Lane 1; Morns
Motors 2, Meldenhead Town 1; Pagasus
Jumors 0, Abingdon Town 2: Sharphass 4,
Hounslow 2: Waltingtord 1, Shortwood 1;
Yate 5, Farriord 1.
NORTH WEST COUNTIES LEAGUE: First
edivision: Accrington Stanley 0, Catheroe
1; Bootle 1, Presont Catales 0: Burscough
0, Radciffe Boro 2: Congleton 2, Winsford
Und 1: Curzon Ashton 1, Irlam 0; Glossop
1, Stalybridge Cetto 2: Leek 1, Eastwood
Hantley 1: Netherfield 1, Leyland Motorá 4;
Perstin 1, Floetwood 3; St Helens 3,
Formby 1,
NENE GROUP UNITED COUNTIES
LEAGUE: Presider division: Baldock 2,
Ampituli 1; Bourne 1, Stotloid 1; Brackley
2, Wootton 1; Eynesbury 0, Arisey 0;
Long Buckby 1, Desborough 1; Newport
Pagnell 1, Hobeach 1; Rothwell 1,
Northsampton Spencer 0; St Neol 3 1, Irthingboro 4; Stamford 0, Potton 0; S And L Corby 1, Buckengham 1.

GREAT MILLS WESTERN LEAGUE: Pra-mier division: Budelord 5, Clandown 0; Clevedon 0, Torrington 1; Dawksh 3, Weston-Super-Mara 1; Exmouth 4, Chipperham 1; Listeard Ath 3, Bristol City 1; Mangotefield Util 4, Minehead 0; Pymouth Argyle 7, Frome 1; Saltash Util 7, Paulton Rovers 0.

RUGBY UNION SOUTH-WEST: Torquay 20, Exeter 4; Tounton 20, Hentey 9: Bridgester 4; Basingstoke 8: Penzance-Newtyn 10, Goverton 15; Plymouth 3, Sheffield 10: Newton Abbot 9, Burton-on-Trent 19; Truro 23, St Mary's Hospital 9; Weston-super-Mare 17, Bournsmouth 4: Camborne 15, Tylorstown 21; Penryn 6, Crawley 6; Folmouth 13, Old Dunstonians 3; Reforath 18, Westell 17; Edmouth 24, Horden Welfare 0; St Austell 17, Magor 4; Newgusy 18, Gale Star 8; Bratam 46, Bishop's Stortford 0; Cradion 6, London New Zastand 23; Yeovil 82, Lloyds Senk 0.

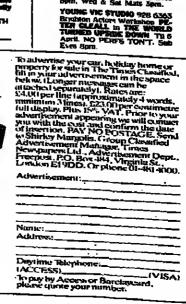

BELL FRANCE JAMES GROUT PATRICIA RAYES BRIAN BESSHITY PATRICIA ROUTLEDGE PATRY ROWLANDS FRANCELLA SCALES LIZABETH SPRINGES TIMOTRY WEST ULIZABETH SPRINGES ST MARTINGS OF 836 1443, Spe-cial CC No. 579 6433, Evgus 0. Tues 245, Sai 50 and 8.0. 346 pr of ARATHA CHRISTE'S THE MOUSETRAP WHEN WE ARE MARRIED CTORIA PALACE OI 534 1317. 98 7.30. Mats Set 2.45 MICHAEL CRAWFORD By J.B. Priestley Directed by Ronald Eyre. U WELL NOT FIRED A MORE ASSUMABLE EVENING ANY-DIE IN LONDON - OR THE WORLD 5. Express. in BARNUM STRAND E36 2660 CC 836 5190 First Call 24Fir 7 Day CC 240 7200 Mon-Pri 8, Sat 3 & 8.30. Wed mai 2.30 'A STRAR B BOBBER' Gdm LESLEY RACKIE is By Teery Wale 'GARLANDS FOR JUDY' 5 EXD 'A STRAZHOT THEATTRICAL 'A STRAZHOT THEATTRICAL WORLD" S. EXPROS. TREATRE OF COMMENT THE VETY DOUG OF BRIGHIN'S COME DANNY DESIGN AND FORTY SEE ARRESTED AT FORTY SEE ARRESTED THORTE SEE OTHER THORTE WHEN WE ARE MARKED SEE WHITEHAM TO SUMDAYS SEE WHITEHAM TO SUMDAYS SEE WHITEHAM TO SUMDAYS A SEE DUIN'S THORTE SHAFTESSUMY THEATER OF COMEDY COMPANY SEE OFFICE TOWN Box Office opens 9am-9pm, (Sun-day Tel CC Bkgs only 1 lam-7pm). WYNDHAM'S 836 3028 CC 579 6666/379 6433. Gros 836 3662. Eves Born, Set 6 & 8.20, Wed mast 3. No pert Easter Noonday. CAFE PUCCINI A mustrat play by ROSIN RAY Based on the life & mustr of GACCOMO PUCCINI "LEWIS FIANDER PLAYS PUCCINI WITH STYLE AND ELAN'SIG. "NICHOLA MCAULIFE MARYELLOUS MOMENTS OF THE ATTRICAL AND MUSICAL TRUTH" B.Tel. "Ri be a by to baser these great when turned beto accomplice chamber genet. heartifully YOUNG YIE 928 6363 Theatr Cloyd Production. ELLEN ATTRUS IN MEDIA Described Trys "Spectaments" Cdn. NO PERF TON'T, Tomor 7 50, Sub Eves Spin, Wed & Sat Mats Spin.

and the second s

JANE.

BBC 1

resourceful canine comes to the aid of a scuba divi trapped underwater. (r) 9.45 Why Don't You..?

Entertaining ideas for children with time on their hands 10.15 Jacksnory.

hands 10.15 Jackgnory.
Brian Cant with part one of Jan Mark's, Handles. (r)
10.30 Play School. (r)
10.50 Popeye Double Bill.
Two cartoons.
11.05 Film: Don't Change My World (1976) starring Roy Tatum and Edie Kramer. A wildlife photographer, worried that his favourite nature epot is being threatened by developers.

devises a scheme to scare them all away. Directed by Robert Rector. Naws After Noon with tourists and poacher

Richard Whitmore.

includes news head with subtitles 12.40

Regional news end weather, 12.45 Tha Flumps. (r) 1.00 Cartoon. My Little Buckaroo 1.10 The Galactic Garden. A adventure set in a garden flowerbed. With Andrew

Sachs and Sareh Neville.

Showman (1964) starring ohn Wayne, Claudia ardinale and Rita layworth, An American circus owner decides to take his show to Europe.

pians, but love and versatility save the day. Directed by Henry Hathaway. (Ceefax) Swimming. The Hewlett-Packard SA National Short Course Championships, Tranduced from Barnet introduced from Barnet

Copthall Pool, Handon, by

Alan Weeks and Hamilton

Bland, 4.50 Final score. 5.65 News with Richard Whitmore. Weather. 5,15

Circus, from the Big Top, Torbay, introduced by Stu

Francis. Performers from five countries display their include Bryan Ferry, Frankie Howerd, Marti Caine, Denis Quilley and George Heam, and Alan Tuchmarsh.

introduces another four electronic bingo game.

schoolteacher whose wife walked out on him.

Starring Ralph bates.

3.58 News with Richard Whitmore. Weather. 9.10 A.D. - Anno Domini. Pert spectacular tracing the birth of Christianity and the declina of the Roman afternoon's Canon League

First Division games, tghe commentators are John

Empire, (Cestax). 10.45 Match of the Day. Jimmy Hill introduces highlights

Motson and Barry Davies.

11.35 Late Night in Concert.

REO Speedwagon

recorded last year at the Kemper Arena, Kansas. 12.05 Weather.

The final

7.40 Bob's Easter Full House.

contestants to his series about a

Bob Monkhouse

Regional news.

5.20 Disney Time. Mike smith introduces a selection of acrobatic skills.

.7.00. Wogen. The guests

but an accident in Barcelona destroys his plans, but love and

7 - Day

$. . .

revised version of the

2.05 Film: The Magnificent

Today's television and radio programmes

TV-AM 6.00 Ceefax AM. 6.50 Breakfast Time with Frank 7.00 Wide Awake Club Bank Wide Awake Club Benk Holiday Special, presented by Tommy Boyd, Arabella Walker and James Beker. Prince Edward talks about his involvement in the 30 amilyersary of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award Scheme, answering questions from James Baker about the part he has played in the Awards. Bough and Debbie Greenwood. Waather at 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25 and 8.55; regional news, weather and travel at 6.57, 7.27, 7.57 and 8.27; national and international news at 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30 and 9.00; sport at 7.20 and 8.20. Plus, Lynn has played in the Awards, There is also film of the Prince pleying one of his tavourite sports, Real Tennis. Plus, pop videos, cartoons and magic. News, weather and sport at 7.00, 8.00 and 9.00. Faulds Wood's cons report; pop music news; horoscopes; Anne Robinson'e television choice; and Ken Livingstone in his office on the last day of his leadership of the GLC. 9.20 Roland Rat's Easter Extravaganza beginning with Lassie. The

ITV/LONDON

9.25 Disney at Easter, featuring Donald Duck.
9.30 Film: Gentle Glant (1967) starring Dennis Weaver. Vera Miles and Falph Meeker. Adventure story about a young boy who befriends a bear cub.Directed by James Neilson.

cub.Directed by James Neitson.

11.00 BMX Beat. Alastair Pirrie and Andy Ruffeil Introduce coverage of the Schweppes UK BMX Freestyle Television Championships.

11.30 Disney at Easter. Two cartoons - The Legand of Sleepy Hollow and Alf the Cats Join In.

12.00 Gymnastics. The Mirror USSR Display introduced by Sally McNair from Wembley Arana.

1.00 News.

1.05 Film: Journey to the Far Side of the Sun (1969) starring lan Hendry, Roy Thinnes and Patrick Wymark. Science fiction adventure about e group adventure about e group of space travellers who discover a planet with the exact orbit as Earth on the other side of the sun.

Directed by Robert

Cycling. The concluding svents of the Shell Oils Transatiantic Challenge between Britain and tha United States.

Perrish.

2.55 International Motor

4.45 News and sport. 5.05 Disney at Easter.

Cartoons. 5.20 Film: Condorman (1981)

starring Michael Crawford and Oliver Reed. Woody

Wilkins is the author of a series of adventure books for children. To lend suthenticity to his plots he always tests them himself. When he is asked to deliver some diplomatic papers he jumps at the chance, thus beginning e series of hair-raising adventures. Directed by Charles Jarrott.

What's My Line? Earnonn

Andrews presents the first of a new series of the long-running panel game. Trying to guess the odd occupations this evaning are Emie Wise, Jitly Cooper, Barry Sheene,

Barbara Kelly and George

only Susan's 21st birthday party that Ken is planning

Coronation Street, is it

Another selection of sketches, larded with

9.15 Film: An Officer and a Gentleman (1981) starring Richard Gera, Debra adolescence in the fleshpots of the Winger and Louis Gossett Jr. After spending his Philippines, Zack Mayo decides to get away from it all by enlisting in Port Rainier'a Naval Aviation Candidate School but before he can get his hands on his beloved jets

he has to endure 13 weeks intensive physical. academic and psychological tests. Directed by Taylor Hackford. (Oracle)

11.35 Pump Boys and Dinettes.
An abridged version of the musical about four garage bands and two waitresses from a nearby diner. 12.30 Night Thoughts.

(Oracle): 8.00 The Benny HRI Show.

inuendo. .

7.30

Burning (Radio 4, 8.15pm).

BBC 2

9.00 Ceefax.

12.25 Harold Lloyd* Excerpts from two of the cornectian's classic sitents - Speady, and A Jazzed Honeymoon. (r)

12.45 Windmill. Chris Series dips into the BBC'e film and video archive e selects clips from selects clips from programmes dealing with food including the Panorama April Fool's item on the spagnetti tree.

1.45 Cartoon.
1.55 For Memory. A British Film Institute production on the theme of history. With contributions from former var camemnen: the

3.45

National Trust Young People's Theatre; and Film: Henry V (1944)

historian E.P.Thompson.
The Paper Chase.
American-imported series set in a law school.

starring Laurence Olivier, Robert Newton and Rener Asherson. Magnificent version of Shakespeare's drama enhanced by William Walton's score

whitem watch s score and Laurence Olivier's depth of directorial vision.
The Natural World, A spectacular profile of the tiger. The narrator is Anthony Valentine. 7.40 Coal fan tutte. The premiere of Jonathan Miller's production of Mozart's comic opera in two acts. It tells about the wager between e cynical old bachelor and two young friends who are

that they are correct in convinced of their fiances' fidelity. To test their assumption the two men pretend to enlist in the army and then return, disguised, in order to test their ladies' resolve,

Ashley Putnam, Thomas Hampson, John Rawnsley Rosemary Ashe and Jean

Rigby head the cast, with the London Sinfonietta

and the Ambrosian Opera

Chorus, in the aight of the opera. Joan Rivers: Can We Talk?, Miss Rivers and her co-host, Peter Cook are joined by Susan George, Marvin Hemilsch, Ray

Parker Jr., Cynthia Payne

Les Patterson, the Australian Cultural Attacha to the Court of St James.

Jean Rigby (left) as Dorabella,

and Ashley Putuam as Fiordiligi in Cosi Fan Tutte

(BBC2, 7.40pm)

minute interval at approximately 9.07, Peter Conrad traces the history

THE SECRET DIARIES OF THE FILM CENSORS (Channel 4,10,00pm), an account of A, IJOOPHIJAN account or British film censorship in the 1930s.makes astonishing viewing, not least because Julian Petitler, who presents it,manages to keep a straight face and catm voice when executing around him le everything around him le tudicrously improbable. It is not so much the endless fist of prohibited themes and words that causes our disbelief in these liberal times es the shrieking ineptitude of the vertars as revealed in their correspondence and in records of their deliberations. Cinema snoopers were aghast at the outbreak of winking that broke out among members of the audience when the word "wives" was mentioned Love on the Dole was censured

CHANNEL 4

1.30 Channel 4 Racing from Kempton Perk. Brough Scott introduces coverage of three races - the Qual

Stakes (1.45); the Capitalcard Handicep

Capitalcard Handicap Stakes (2.15); and the Rosebery Stakes (2.45).
3.00 Film: Road to Singapore*
(1940) starring Bing Crosby, Bob Rope and Dorothy Lamour. This first in the 'Road' series of Street Bing and Rob

films finds Bing and Bob on the run from Irate fathers wanting them to make honest women of their daughters. The flee to an island to the south of Singepore where they find themselves vying for the affections of the exotic Mima, but there is a third suitor in the fearsome ehape of Caesar (Anthony Quinn). Directed by Victor anagrams and mental arithmetic competition, the best eight players from the last four series take part in e Championship of Champions. Today, Clive Spate, the number one seed meets Peter Evans.

selection of animated films made by children of all ages from around the world, covering a vest renge of topics from the Olympics to world peace. Written end presented by Antoinette Moses.

6.00 News summary end weather followed by Film:

Where No Vultures Fly

(1951) starring Anthony Steel and Dinah Sheridan Adventure story about a Kenyan game reserve warden and his battles water and his battes with ivery peachers. Directed by Harry Wett. 8.00 Brookside. Pat'a plans to dete Sandre are thwarted when she is given a lift home by a young doctor.

8.30 Mysteries of Peru: the Mysteries of the Canels. This second and final programme of the series examines the enigma of Peru's highly sophisticated irrigation system that was built in bout 1100 and then of eight centries ago cultivated more than 40

9.30 Kate and Allie. Comedy abandoned. The peasants percent land than do their present-day successora.

Saint james end Jene Curtin as two old friends who decide to face the problems of single arenthood together

documentary dramatizing the deliberations, opinions and prejudices of the British Board of Film

10.00 The Secret Diarles of the Censors during their troubled period in the Choice)

11.30 The Eleventh Hour: An Island Built on Coal. A Thirties. With Stratford Johns and Miriam Margolyes. Presented by Julian Pettifer. (see documentary about the change in attitude of coal managers and the workforce since the early down of potingalization in

Film Censors, A

seeded number eight. 5.00 Click, Click, A Schertzinger.

4.30 Countdown. To launch e new series of the CHOICE because it dwelt on the "tragic and sordid sida of poverty", when it was apperent to the rest of the nation that poverty did not have any other side to it. One script examiner did not know what twirp or piddling meam - so out they went. Out, too, went nappie went. Out, too, went nappies, nuts. sex appeal, harlot end pensy-faced. Yet, when Gracie Felde and her mill-worker chums ware sacked in Sing as We Go, it was regarded es fine and proper for the jobless to be singled their hearts out as they dur the mill and entered a bleak and hopeless future. el can praise only Act 1 of Jonathan Miller's studio production of COSt FAN TUTTE (BBC 2,7.40pm). That is all I had time to see. If Act 2 is as well sung as orchestrelly thrilling, as pleasingly set and as skriully grouped as Act 1, then you are in for treat ronight. If you find the TV sound not all that it should be, turn it off and go for the simultaneous stereo trensmission on Radio 3. Other highlights: Clivier's Henry V. a visual and euret treasure-house (BBC 2.4.35pm); the first of the "Road" comedies. Road to Singapore (Channel 4, 3.00pm) which is ideal holiday fare;and e new production of Christophar Fry's elegant verse play The Lady's not for Burning (Radio 4, 8.15pm;, with Nigel Hawthome and Sarah Badel turn of book publishers. With Glyn Houston and Joan Radio 4 On long wave. VHF stereo variations are given at end of Radio 7.00 4 listings.

Peter Davalle

5.55 Shipping Forecast 6.00 News
Briefing: Weather. 6.10
Farming Week, An interview with a leader of the 7.05 The Archers 7.20 On Your Farm 7.45 Science Now Peter 7.45 Science Now Peter Evans reviews discoveries and developments
3.15 The Monday Play. The Lady s Not for Burning by Christopher Fry With agriculturel industry, followed by a five-day weather forecast for farmers, 6.25 Prayar for tarmers. 8.25 Prayer for the day (s) 6.30 Today, Incl 6.30, 7.30 8.30 News 6.55, 7.55 Weather 7.00, 8.00 News 7.25, 8.25 Sport 7.45 Thought for the Day 8.35 The Week on 4 with Nigel Hawthorne and Sarah Badel. Polished comedy, set in the year 1400 (s)

9.45 Kaleidoscope. The beckground story to the staging of Michael Clark's ballot. Thursday the 13th.

10.15 A Book et Bedtime: 'A Pertect Spy written and read by John Le Care | 111 | 10.29 Weathar

10.30 The World Tonight

11.15 News; Belfast's Man of Music - Derek Bell. Helen Madden talke to Derek Bell. elessical musician and composer, about his music and life

12.00 News; Weather

12.33 Shipping Forecast VHF (available in England and S Viales only) as above except 5.55-6.03 am Weather; Travel 9.05-10.00 Cat's Whiskers (new series) tive programmes in Easter Week for children under-12, including plays, songs and courses, 4 10 Assays and the Richard Courses, 200 and courses, 4 10 Assays and the Richard Courses, 200 and courses, 200 Assays and the Richard Care and Courses. 9.45 Kaleidoscope. The

The Week on 4 with Bran Perkms

8.43 Star Smaehers of the Galaxy Rangers (new saries) Harry Herrison's book in episodes read by Kerry Shale (s) 8.57 Weather Travel

.00 News 9.00 News
9.05 Funny You Should Sing
That Paul Nicholas examines the contribution of serious music to the farfrom-serious song.
10.00 News: Money Box.
Financial advice with

Financial advice with Louise Botting

10.30 Morning Story: Goat
Ride by Pathoa Highsmith. The reader is Crawford Logan

10.45 Daily Service (New Every morning, page 34) (s)

11.00 News; Travel; Down
Your Way. Brian
Johnston visits the City of Norwich (r) (s) mctuding plays, songs and quizzes: 9.10 Asterix and the Big Fight 9.20 The fron Man 9.40 Dr Jekyll and Mr Holhris (s) 1.55-2.00 om For Schools: Listening Corner (s) 5.50-5.55 PM Norwich (r) (5) 11.48 Poetry Please! Verse requested by D J Enright. read by June Barrie and Patrick Romer.

12.00 News; Prophets, Charlatans and Little Radio 3 6.55 Weather, 7.03 News 7.05 Morning Concert:Berlioz (Rob Roy overture). Handel (Concerto Grosso No 28 in F, tor doubla Gurus, Five profiles by Rey Gosling (1) Colin Macinnes 12-27 Jarvis's Frayn A series of orchestra), Liszt (Grand unguarded observations by Michael Frayn, With galop chromatique:

Solet, prano), Rubbra (improvisations on virginal pieces by Giles Famaby), 8,00 News
8.05 Morning Concert (contd);
Rossinl (String Sonata
No 3), Chaminade
Lietermete Cn 36 No 1: March Jarvis playing all the roles (s) 12.55 Weather 1.00 The World At One: News 1.40 The Archers 1.55 Shipping Forecast
2.00 News; Woman's Hour. A special Easter Monday countryside edition and No 3), Chaminade (Intermede, Op 36 No 1; Bayer end Dagul, planos), Mendelssohn (Octat in E flat; t Musici), 9,00 News

episode four of the Easter Lilies, read by Joanna MacCullum
3,00 News; The Afternoon
Play 'A Hundred Years Old' by Serefin and JoaquinAlvarez Quintero, With Lectured West as the old Lockwood West as the old man (s) (r) 4.30 Kateidosco scope, Another chance to hear the long Interview with Spike Milligan first broadcast on Good Finday (r) 5.00 PM: News megazine 5.50 Shipping Forecast 5.55 Weether 6.00 The Six O'clock News 6.30 Teke Me to Your Reader. Tim Brooke-Taylor in t though I'd Never Stop.

9.05 This Week's Composer: Mozart, Finale of Act 1 of Don Grovanni (with Mitnes in the title role, Vienna PO, Vienna Srata Opera Chorus) . also March, K also March, K 290, Divertimento in D, K 205; Two minuets with contrectanses, in F and B flat, K 463; German Dance in

F, K500 No 21

10.00 Wolfgang Manz: plano recrtal, Schumann (Waldsnenen, Op 62), Frank Martin (Eight Preludes)

10.45 English Recorder Music: Abingdon Consort play works by Lennox Berkele (Allegro), Fricker (Suna), (Notturno), Tippett (Four inventions), Imogen Holst (Sextet) 11.15 Music from Vienna: BBC Weish SO under Robert Tear. With Isobel Buchanan Tear.With lepbel Buchanan (soprano). Mozart (overture: Deh verii non tardar; Voi che sepete. from Marnage of Figero). Haydn (Symphony No 94). Brahms (Hunganan Dance No Stworks by Lehar, and Johann Strauss Including Accelerations Dance No Jiwon No Jiyo Lehar, and Johann Strauss Including Accelerations Waltz and The Blue Danube).

لماكذا منه الأصل

1.00 News
1.05 Thomas Allen and Roger Vignolea: bartone and piano rectal. Schumann (Liederkrais. Op 24). Faure (L horizon chimenque, Op 118). Mussorgsky (Songs and Dances of Death 2.00 Music Weekly: includes interviews with Manlyn Home and the composer-conductor Lukas Foss (r)
2.45 New Records:Rimsky-Korsakov (Russian)

Korsakov (Russian Easter Festival Overture). Bortmansky (Sacred Concerto No 15: Come let us sing of the Lord's Resurrection), Tcherephin Sonaring romantique (Crown E Service), I cherephin (Sonatine romantique, Op 4: Lemer, piano), Dvorak (Trio in E minor, Damsky), Sibelius (Symphony No 1: City of Barmingham SO), 4.55 Net 5.00 Art is a Matter of Lying a Little: Documentary about the cinema preser

by Nigel Andrews.Contributors include Michael Powell, Robert Atman and Martin Scorcese 5.40 The LSO play works by Crusell (Clannet
Concerto No 2 with Thea

King, soloist), and Barber (Symphony No 1) 6.30 Music tor the Iron Voice: organ recital by Gillian Wair. Includes works by Veri : licalos works by Langlais (Dalogue sur les mixtures), Bach (Partita (Gott, du frommer Gott), Raison nand Sweelinck (Fantasia choromatica) William Huristone: Charles Tunnell (celio)and Susan Tunnell Ipand) play the Sonata in 7..35 Cosi fan tutte: Jonathan Miller's production of the Mozar: opera, sung in English in the translation by Ruth and Thomae Martin. Act one.A simultaneous broadcast with BBC 2, The London ietta/Ambrosian Opera Chorus under Peter Robinson, With soloists Rotte Johnson,

Hampson, Rawnsley, Putnam, Rigby and Rosemary Ashe. 10.40 The Breek: Denys Hawthorna reads the short story by Bernard MacLeverty 11.00 Shostakovich and David Matthews: Fitzwilliam

String Quartet play Shostakovich"s String Quartet No 13, and Matthews's String Quartet No 3 11.40 Chabner: Marcalle Meyer

(piano) plays Paysaga; Melancolie; Tourbillon: and Sous-bois (Pieces pittoresques) 11.57 News, 12.00 Closedown

Radio 2 On medium wave. See Radio 1 for VHF. for VHF.
News on the hour until 2,00 pm, then 3,00" and hourly from 6,00, Headines 5,30 am, 6,30, 7,30 and 8,30, Cricket One Day Intamational. West Indies v England. Reports from Port of Spain, Trandad at 11,02 em, 7,02 pm, 8,02, 9,02, 9,55, 11,2 4,00 am Colin Berry (s) 6,00 Ray Moore (s) 8.05 Ken Bruce (s) 10.00 Albert Hammond talks to Ray Moore about his musical Hurniford Antiques Special. Glona visits Galashiels, home of regular antiques expert Tony Curus for an Arisques Roadshow Special (s) 1.00 Ken Dodd's Easter Fayre Join Ken ei the Knotty Ash Easter Fayre, with Peter Goodwright, Rosemary Squires, The Wurzels, Syd Francis, The Minting Sisters and special quest star Frankie Howard (s) 2.00 Bank Holidsy Sports Special introduced by Renton Laidlaw. Football, [Manchaster Utd v Everton in the Canon League). Cricket Irom Tinnodd, Naws on the fourth and deciding one-day Cricket from Trinidad. Naws on the fourth and deciding one-day international. Recing from Kempton Park: 2.45 The Roseberry Stakes Worth £10.000 Recing from Fairyhouse: 3.20 The Insh Distillers Grand National Motor Cycling: The International Transatiantic Chellenge. Commentary from Donington Park on the final two races of the annual challenge between Great on the final two races of the annual challenge between Great Britain and the USA 5.00 Sports Report 6.00 Cross Greats Concert Brenda Lea. The Osmond Brothers and Rita Coolidge in concer in the 1985 SIK Cut Festival mitrodicued by Wally Whyton 8.00 Alan Delf with Datice Band Davis and et 2.20 and restival mtrodcued by Wally Whyton 8,00 Alan Delf with Dance Band Days and et 8.30 and at 8.30 Big Band Era [s] 9.00 Flash Bang Wallop! An 80th birthday inbute to David Henekar, composer and lyricist of Hall a Sixpence and a host of other musicals. A nostalgic journey through his words and music with the memories of Tommy Sleei. Dame Anna Naagle and many others. 9.55 Sports Dask 10.00 The Monday Movie Quiz. Pit your wits against Ray Moora 10.30 Star Sound. Nick Jackson clays your soundtrack requests 11.00 Brian Metthew presents Round Midnight (stereo from midnight) 1.00 am Charles Nova presents Nightride (s) 3.00-4.00 A Little Night Music [e)

Radio 1

On medium wave, VHF variations at end News on the half hour from 6.20 am until 9.30 pm and at 12.00 midright 6.00 em Adnan John 7.30 Mike Read 9.30 Simon Bates Solid gold 12.30 pm Newsbeat, with lan Parkinson 12.35 Gary Davies with Radio 1 Roadshow from the 10 plus erinual extravaganza at Caister. Great Yarmouth 2.00 Caister, Greaf Yarmouth 2.00
Bruno Brookes - Compact Disc Jockey (s) 4.30 in Concert featuring Etton John, Part 2 (s) 5.30
Newsbeat, with Jane Markham
5.35 Steve Wirght (stereo until 5.00 pm), 7.30 Janics Long 10.0012.00 John Peel Is) VHF RA0IOS 1 & 2.4.00 As Radio 2.2.00 As Radio 1 6.00 As Radio 2.10.00 As Radio 1 12.00-4.00 am As Radio 2

WORLD SERVICE

6.00 Newsgesh 6.20 Peaceful Solutions
7.00 News 7.09 Twenty-Four Hours 7.30
Sarah and Company 8.00 News 8.09
Reliections 8.15 The Heat of the Day 8.30
Anything Goes 8.00 News 9.09 Reliections 8.15 The Heat of the Day 8.30
Anything Goes 8.00 News 9.09 Relieve of the Birrish press 9.15 Good Books 9.30
Inierlude 9.40 Look Anead 9.45 Peable s
Chorce 10.00 News 10.01 Peaceful Solutions 11.00 News 10.01 Peaceful Solutions 11.00 News 10.01 Peaceful Solutions 11.00 News 11.00 Relieve 11.00 Relieve 10.00 Relieve 11.00 Relieve 10.00 Relieve 11.00 Relie of the British Press 2.15 Network U.K. 2.30 Sports International 2.00 News 3.09 News About Britain 3.15 The World Today 4.45 Through My Window 4.55 Reflec-tions 5.00 News 5.39 Twenty-Four Hours 5.30 New Books.All times GetT.

Comedy series about 8 career is) 11.00 Giona FREQUENCIES: Radio 1:1053kHz/285m;1039kHz/275m; Radio 2: 693kHz/433m; 909kH/433m; Radio 3: 1215kHz/247m; VHF -90-92.5; Radio 4: 200kHz 1500m; VHF -92-95; LBC: 1152kHz/261m; VHF 97.3; Capital: 1548kHz/194m; VHF 95.6; BBC Radio London 1458kHz/206m; VHF 94.9; World Service MF 648kHz/463m,

BBC1 WALES: 12.05em-12.10 News and Weathe SCOTLAND: 10.45pm-11.35 Score and Wry NORTHERN IRELAND: 12.05em-12.10

CHANNEL As London except: 5.00 Sons and Daugh-ters 5.30-7.00 Osney at Easter 0 Dis-ney at Easter 12.30 am Closedown. ULSTER As London except:

TVS As London except 12-30em Company, Closedown CENTRAL As London except TSW As London except. 5.05pm TSW News 5.07 Cancon 5.17-5.20 Gus Honeybun's Magic Birth-days 12.30em Postscript, Closedown.

HTV WALES No variations from programmes HTV WEST No vanasions from ITV London

REGIONAL VARIATIONS GRANADA No variations from programmes on GRAMPIAN No variations from program I'TV London

ITV London
S4C Starts 1.00pm Countdown
1.30 Racing from Kempton 3.00
Cei Cocos 3.15 Film Bowery to Broadway 5.00 Lloer-lg 5.30 Pop the Cueston 6.00 Danger Man 6.30
Gwarth Creu 7.00 Newyddion Saith 7.15
Superted 7.20 Gwyl Gain 8.10 Ong
9.10 Llun Llyfrau 8.40 Cheers 10.10 FamCatch 22 12.25em Closedown

SCOTTISH As London ex-cept. 1.05pm Scott News 1.15 Firm Island of Adventure 5.05 Fall Guy 5.00 News and Scotland Today 6.30-700 What s Your Prob-lem? 12.30am Late Call. Closecown

TYNE TEES As London ex-py Easter 12.35 Closedown YORKSHIRE No variations from program on ITV Landon

BORDER No variations from programmes on ITV

ENTERTAINMENTS

•
	ART GALLERIES	SCREEN ON ISLINGTON GREEN 226 3520. Winter 7 Octars. OUT OF AFRICA. (15), progs 1,00,4 10.7.45. Fri/Sat 11.15.	ALMERY 01 836 3678 CC 379 6666 CC 379 6433, 741 9999. Grp Sales 950 6123/836 3969. Eves 7.30. Salts 2.0 & 7.30.	AMEASSADORS West St WC2 OI 836 5111 CC 01 836 1171/741 9999 Group Sates Off 930 5125 Mon-Thurs at	### PONNAR WAREHOUSE 240 ### 230 CC 379 6565/6433. Eves 7.30. Sats 3. CHEEK BY JOWL	930 $123 First Call 24 Hr 7 Day CC 240 7200, Eves 8.0.	GREENWICH THEATRE 01-858 7755 Proviews from Wednes- day Even 7.46 mai Sai 2.30	LYMC NAMMERSBETH 01 741 2511 Press from Thur 745 Opens April 8 at 7pm Sub Eves 7 45m Wed Mats 2 30. Sat Mets
1	RAMINGAN ART GALLERY, Barry bican Centre. EC2. 01-638 3141. Until 27 April: ART & THEE, looking at time and the 4th dimension in modern art.	peri	From ternor for a very Limited Season Priple Tony Averd- Witning. HARVEY FIERSTEIN	Sprn. Fri & Sat at 6pm & 8.45. No performance Easter Monday. The Thustre of County	Laurence Orivier Award '85 Until Sat A Ridmontor Night's Droam, "The stellence was al- need hystorical, choking, gmeeting and crying with laughter "Ots." A dream of a	2nd YEAR OF THE AWARD WINNING	Iopens April 7 at 7 001 Michael Aldridge , Gwen Watterd Felicity Dean Michael Simiting in	THE BEAUX
4	Adm £1.50 mg 75p: Tue-530 10mp-6.45pm. Sub & 8 Hole, 12mp-5,45pm Classed Manday»,	1.00. 4 05, 7.40, Fri-Set, 12.16. Seats bookable. Access/Visa.	TORCH SONG TRILOGY	DOISDALE LIZA LANDEN GODDARD	gamping and crying with laughter "Obs. "A dream of a dream "Gdn.	1 SIEPPING OUT	ALAN AYCKBOURN'S RELATIVELY SPEAKING	ANGRY HOUSEWIVES
	EXCEPT MUSELUM. G: RUSSELL SL. WC: FIVE YEARS OF COL- LICETING PRINTS A DRAWMAN LINES MAY, MOD.	CONCERTS	"BRILLIAMTLY FUNNY"Obs (Richard Willis blays 'Arriold' al Saturday mattisees).	CAROL HAWKING LEATHERLAND AND RAYMOND FRANCES WIFE BEGINS AT	DONESON THEATHE TRUE HOTLINES OI 550 8845 Box Of fice 01 656 8556/9 or 01 680	"TRIUMPH ON TAP" Eve Sid Hit Comedy by Richard Harris Directed by Julia McKenzle COMEDY OF THE YEAR STANDARY OF THE YEAR STANDARY YOURSELF SILLY"	HAMPSTEAD 722 9301 Upilit Sai Eves Sprn. Sat Mai 430 ORPHANS by Lyle Resider. SOLD OUT - returns may be	LYRIC THEATRE Shafirsbury Ace W1 01 457 3066/7 01 453 1050_CC 01-454 1560 01-734
j	Set 10-6 Sun 2.30-6. Adm free Recorded Info O1 580 1788	SARRICAN MALL 628 8795/638 $891. Ton't 7.45. Royal Traffic and Crobsters.	ALDITYCH O1 836 6404/0641	FORTY A delightful cornedy. Booking	HOTTLINES OI 580 8845 Box Crifice OI 656 8358/9 or OI 680 9562/3. First Call 24H r 7 Day CC 836 2428 Crp Sales 930 5123 DAVE CARRY's TIME	T Out "Had the audience yelling for more" D Mail "Must surely take the town Go NOW" C Tel	available on the right. Trans- lerring to Apolle Theatre. Snaffesbury At April 9.	1000 CC 01-324 1580 01-734 5166/7 First Call 24 hour 7 day cc bookings 01-240 7200 EERYL REID EAN-PIERE AUROUT SAM PHILIPS
	CINEMAS CAMBON PLAZA 485 2443 1000.	Enrupe Battz cond. Vovice E Ashkenazy Plano.	CC 379 6233 First Call 24hr CC 01-240 7200 Eves 7-30. Mat Wed 2-30, Sat A-0 & 8.0. FELICITY REMOAL FETER RESIDENT EXPLANAME WINTROW &	BARRICAN OL 400 STOLIATO	THE MUSICAL CLIFF RICHARD AS THE ROCK STAR THE PORTRAYAL OF AKASH BY	FORTUNE 5 CC 836 2238, 9 741 9009. First Call 24h; 7 day CC 240 7200 Eve 8 Fri/Sai 5 & 8.40	RAYMARKET THEATRE ROYAL Box office & cc Ol 930 9832 First Call 24 hr 7 day cc bkgs 240 7200	SIAM PIELEPS GEOFFREY EURREDGE & AMANDA WARING IN LEMER & LOWE'S MUSICAL
9	Cambon Form tube) Godard's DETECTIVE (15), Film at 1.00, 3.00, 8.00, 7.00, 9.00. CHELSEA CINEMA 351, 3742	OPERA & BALLET	MADE IN BANGKOK	8891 CC (Non-Sun 1 Com-Sum). ROYAL SHAKESPEARE CORPANY BARBICAN THEATHE red.	LAURENCE OLIVIER Mon-Fri 7.30 Thu Mai 2.30 Sat S	I OI SHU UNDER	PETER OTOOLE	GIGI Directed by John Decter "Greeted with fumilious
į	Sings Road thearest tube Sintne St. Tom Huice in ECHO PARK 115) Firm at 1.00 3 00 5.00 7.00 9.00 Seats bookable	GOLISCUM 8 236 3151 CC 240 45258. Box Office closed Easter Monday. TENGLISH MATIONAL OPERA BITH 7 30 The Merry Widow. BTH 5 00 Perside.	With Christopher Fulford and David Yib "ANTHONY MINOMELLA'S BRILLIANT PLAY WITH A SU- PERS CAST IS EXQUISITELY	Price perfs ion't, lomor, wed & Fri 7.30m. Thurs 7.00pm lperfs continue 8-8 April MEPHISTO by Arland Monuchine THE MERRY	#20.PRICE PREVIEW TOMIGHT AT 7.30 GPENS WED 9 APRIL AT 7pm NO TRUTS MAI UNDI APRIL 10 LATECOMERS WILL NOT BE	By John Godber "A WONDERFUL COMEDY" S Times "SPLENDID" C Tel "One of the funniest and least pre-	BERNARD BRADEN DORA BRYAN NIGNAEL DENISON MARKIS GORING GEOFFREY NEEN	applause" Daily Express Eves 7 30 Sais 3.0 & 81 5 Wed Mais 30 On Weds & Sai Mais Mamilia is played by Diana
	CURZON MAYFAIR Curzon Street 499 3737 Corat Browns.	Bri S CO Persitel. BiyAL OPERA MODEL Covent Wanten. WC2. 01 240 2006/1911. CC S Standby trio	BLAKEMORE " 0. Tel	April.	LATECOMERS WILL NOT BE ADMITTED UNTIL A SUITABLE BREAK IN THE PERFORMANCE	lentious plays you are ever coing to see. TOTALLY HYSTERICAL" Obe " A JOY" S Exp 2nd HILARIOUS YEAR	DAVID KING MORA LISTER PAUL ROGERS DINAH SKERIDAN DAVID WALLER	Coupland Group Salet 01-930 6123 LAST 3 WEXKS
	len-Holm in Dennis Porter's DECANCISELD (PG) Firm at 2-00 Olof Son) a 10, 6-20 & 8-40 Last weeks, From Apr 11 Mangle Sreith and Detailolm	$1, 836 6903. Mon-Sat 10em- igen, 65 empiri seats avail from ingen, 65 empiri seats avail from ingen, 65 empiri seats.	ADELPHE 836 76:1 or 2#0 7913 # CC 741 9999 836 7558 579 6453 Grp Sales 930 6123 CC	Giordano Bruso PHILISTINES by Maxim Corky returns 9 April	DRURY LAME THEATRE ROYAL 01-836 BIOS. 01-240 9066, 7. First call 24-hour 7-day or bags	GARRICK, 5 01-836 4601, C.C. 379 6453 & C.C. 24 hr / 7 day 240 7200, Grp Sales 930 6123, Evrs 8	SUSANAH TORK	LYTTELTON 'S' 928 2252 CC (National Theatre's proscentum stage: Ton'! I -45 then April 25 to 28 LOVE FOR LOVE by Con-
	Mangle Smith and Deviation Elliot in A ROOM WITH A WEW OFG) CENTRON WIEST END Shaftenbury Avenue W1 439 4805. First	Son't 7 00 The Regel Opera- densetts. Tornor 7.30 Der Henerde Hollander (166)	SIVELY WITH FIRST CHILD 24C	COMMENT THEATME BOX Office 01-450 2578 First Call 24-hour T day cc blyss 01-240 7200 "Extent Cambe Playing" Fir Times 62.2500 MANTHERMS "ACRESON MANTHERMS "Puriodly Matched Steinbard	240 7200 David Merrick's	Peris as usual at Easter.	THE APPLE CART By DERNARD SMAW EVEN 7 30 Mar 641 2 30	& 10 MRS WARREN'S PRO-
	Call 24th 7 Day CC 240 7200 (Buy Feet Kurnstawa's RAM (15), Sep Paris daily at 1.00, A.30, 8.00 MB Change of perf times from next Sun to 2.15, S.18,	MOLER'S WELLS 276 8915 AMERICAN DANCE SEASON SE APRIL 10 - May 10	ME AND MY GIRL THE LAMBETH WALK MUSICAL Nightly at 7.30 Mass Wed at 2.30 & Sal 4.30 & 8.00 "THE OBLY LIVE SHUBSCAL		42ND STREET A SMOW FOR ALL THE FAMILY Whater at all the beal Musical Awards for 1994 Voted	GLOSE A37 1592: First Cell 24 hr 7 day CC 240 7200 Grp Sales 930 5123 Exes 8, Male Wed 3.	MER MAJESTY'S 930 4025 930 6505 cc Hotting 741 9999 First Call 24 hour 7 day	as prince in leafest April 310 5 last bert. THE DUCHESS OF MALP! MAYFAIR S CC 629 3036-741
/_ /-	SATE CONTRA Montrastrali Gate	the Pesadena Roof Orchesto, Resulted Newman, & Bacers, Bitl T Jones & Arabe Zhe, Ping 278 0855 for Colour	Spectator LAE EARL BRIDAED *LINE OWEA TIME MITBLET *LINE OWEA TIME OF TIME MITBLET *LINE OWEA TIME OF	ACROSS FROM THE GARDEN OF ALLAH by CHARLES WOOD DITISTED by BOON BANKS.	BEST MUSICAL SYANDARD DRAMA AWARDS VOICE BEST MUSICAL LAUNDREE OLIVIER AWARD	930 $125 Eves 8, Male Wed 3. Sait A Andrew Lloyd Webber Presents DENIS LAWSON JAM FRANCIS ROMALD HOLGATE	cr bookings 240 7200 "A Wonderful Theatricality ideal- by tallored to earthinst for adventure" D Mail DOMALD SINDEN 10	9999. First Call 24hr 7 day CC 240 7200 Mon Thu 8 Fri Sat 5.40 & 8 10
٠.	727 4043 newly renovated new knowy seating Doby size to. Knowstway RAN (15). 2.15, 6.15, 8.15 L. Night Fri & Set 11.15, Advance Booking No Membershop	THEATRES	APOLLO THEATRE, Shaftesbury A.e. 437 2665, 434 3598, First Call Ct 240 7200, Grp Sales Ct	Directed by RON DANIELS Evgs Mon-Fri 8 0 Sal 5-30 & 8-30	BEST MUSICAL	I FND MF A TENOR	THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL	RICHARD TODD ERSC LANDER ANNETTE AMORE THE BUSINESS OF MURDER
	NO MEMBERSON LECESTER SQUARE THEATRE 930 8262 (Eng./839 1769 124 hour Access/Visa Bookinusi JAGGED EDGE 1181, Sep props	ASSEROFT CROYDON 01-688 931 CC 01-680 5986 March	930 5123. From 9 April Eves 8pm. Sat Mais 3.50. ALBERT FINNEY	COTTESLOZ "9" 928 2252 CC (National Theatre's small audi- lorium Too" 7 30, then April 7 to 9 THE CHERRY ORCHARD	LONDON THEATRE CRITICS AWARD Evgs S.O Mats Wed 3.0 Set 8.0 & 8 30	LEND ME A TENOR "EDMIRHELY FUNNY" F. Times "ILLARIOLISLY OVER THE TOP GIN "THE ADDENCE COMPLANUED OF THROAT PARKS FROM LAUGHING TO SULCH-TOday	"A stunning staptation an eve- uing et Theetre magic" () Yel "Espert Coulc perfermance" F.7 "The spectacularly, tengue-	The hit inviter by Picnard Harris
	Progs Bookable in Advance.	TE PHILANTHROPIST by Christoher Hamston, star- rise HIGH FRAZER	Stepperwolf Theatre Co of Chucago's ORPHANS	by Chekhov Tomor 7 30, then April 2 & 5 & April 10 to 12 FUTURESTS.	NOW BOOKING UNTIL JAN 1987	A Cornedy by Ken Ludwig Directed by David Citrione	in-chie melokrama" Mail on Sun. Eugs 7:30 Mats Wed & Sal al 3:0 LAST 2 WEEKS MUST END APROL 12	Sensational Times "The most in- perious mysters to have appeared in a decade" D Most
:	4228. Jack Nicholson & kathleen Turnet. PRIZZPS HORDUR (15) daily 1.30. 4.00. 6.30. 6.00.	ASTRIA THEATRE BOX OFF Into. Groups 01-734 4287 C1-437 8772	Orphone S Tros. From 9 April for 12 West Season only.	CRITERION. 6 930 3216 CC 379 6865 379 6433 741 9999 Groups 836 3962. Evgs 8.00. Thu mai 2.30. Set 8.30 & 8.30. Perts as	Party Retes Avellable	GLOSE 457 LB92 Pires Calo 24 hr 7 day CC 240 7200 Grp Sales 930 6123 Evet 8 Mats Wed 3. Sal 4.	LONDON PALLADRUM 457 7578. 437 2055, CC 754 R961.	6th GREAT YEAR OVER 2,000 PERFORMANCES
	ODEON RAYMAKRET 1930 2738 MO SURREPORER 1151 940 prog Daily 2 15 6.00. 8 40 All seats bookship in	BEST MUSICAL 1985, The Tares LENNON	APOLLO VICTOMA 55 828 8665 CC 630 6262 Grp Sides 930 6123 Evas 7,45 Mais for & 5al 3.0	"BRITISH PARCE AT ITS BEST"	pliciess 836 8243/240 9648 First Call CC 240 7200 (24 hrs T dayst CC 741 9999 CC 379 6433	ROMALD HOLDATE	579 6453, 741 9999 First Catl 24 Hr 7 Day CC 240 7200 Grp Sales 930 6123	NEERMAID CC inc booting (ne) 01-236 5569 or Taj 9999/379 6453 rt (Big Fee) 24 hr.7 day
	anvence, Access and Visa see- shore bookings welcome	A Coloration of the life and music of the Lernon. PUREY COUNTY HAVE DONE IT SETT OF CYNTHA LENHOR. "A CONDESTULLY ERAVE	STARLIGHT EXPRESS "A MUSICAL THAT SURPAISES ANYTHING AROUND IN EVERY DRIENSION" D EXP	The Theatre of Comedy Company ENG SYNES TERRY SCOTT REFINAND BRESSLAW IAN HUST HELEN GEL	A MONTH OF SUNDAYS	LEND ME A TENOR "GENURIELY FUNITY" P TUDE "HILAHOUSLY OVER	THE HIT MUSICAL COMEDY BHRECT FROM BRUADWAY GEORGE HEARN & DEMS	240 7700 Crp setts 01 930 6723. Eves 80 Fri & Sal 5 D & 8.0 NT'S AWARD-WHOUNG PRODUCTION
	1930 6111). Into 930- 1280/8259. WHITE HIGHTS IPGI. Seb progs Doors open Dal- b 113, 445, 748. All progs Bootable in Advance Access	SHOW WITH THE BEST OF JOHN JOHNS - HE WOULD HAVE SYED IT" YOU OND THE HAVE SYED ITS YOU OND THE HAS BE THUNK CHEENING	STARLIGHT EXPRESS MUSIC BY ANDREW LICYD WESSER LYBICS BY DICHARD STILGOE	GARETH HUNT RUN FOR YOUR WIFE! Written and directed by RAY COONEY	WARRER AND MORE WONDERFUL PLACE" D.Mail Starting GEORGE COLE Eves 8. Wed mats 3. Seps 6.4. 8.50	THE TOP-Con "THE AUDIENCE COMPLAINED OF THROAT PARIS FROM LAUGHRIG TOO BUICH" Today "An op-marked version of the Sex Plants We're British N really is	LA CAGE AUX FOLLES	GLENGARRY GLEN ROSS directed by Bill Bridge "THE LANGUAGE IS FOULA and Vim plane bookings wel- come. Cradit Hot Line $39 1929. 24 hour Service. $2.00 seeks are make Monday 21	WITH PERFENE FLEE AT THE PIECE.	APPLY DAILY TO BOX OFFICE FOR RETURNS BOOKINGS TO SEPTEMBER	Over 1.200 side-splitting perfs. "SHOULD RUN FOR LIFE" S. Eve. Theatre droper Criterian	PERFS AS USUAL OVER EASTER NOW BOOKING THROUGH TO	"An ap-market various of No Sea Planta We're British it really to very family". S Times. A Connedy by Ken Ludwig Directed by David	ABOUT FOR A LIFE TIME Previews Irpin April 22 First Night May 7 BOOM NOW FOR THE	SMALL MASTERPIECE ALL. THE SAME" O 7el PTF Thesire Food & Drink CAR PARK next door 950
	PESTS.	THE NEW SO MAIS.	No Performance Easter Monday.	Brametie. Stalls or Circle £17.25.	SEPTEMBER 1986.	Cilmore	EVERING OF YOUR LIFE	Other NT shows are National Th

PALACE THEATRE #37 0834 OC 4X7 8327 01 379 6433 Grd Sales 930 612X THE MUSICAL SEMSATION NATIONAL THEATRE Sch Baru
NATIONAL THEATRE
COMPANY
See SEPARATE ENTRIES under OLIVIERA VYTIELTON
COTTES OF Excellent cheese LES MISERABLES "IF YOU CAN'T GET A TICKET - STEAL ONE" std
Ever 750 Mats Thu & Sal 2 30
Lateromers not admitted until the ULIVER PLATFIL TOM!
COTTESS.OE Excellent cheap seals days of perts all theatres from 10 am WESTAURANT 1928
COSSI CHEAP, EASY CAP PAR, TOURS OF THE BUILDING INC
BACKSTOP (£2) INC 635 OBSO
MT ALSO AT THE MERIMAND CATS
APPLY BAIL Y TO BOX OFFICE FOR RETURNS
CIT Bookings 01-405 1567 or 01
930 6123 Postal applications now being accepted until August 20. BEST MUSICAL OF 1985 ARE YOU LONESOME PRINCE OF WALLS 01.030
Refs 2 CC Hortine 01.930
0844 5 6 Ground Salve 01.930
0842 5 6 Ground Salve 01.930
08123 K Provise 01.741 9000
7139 Call 2d by 7 day cc beckungs
240 7200 01.379 6435. Ecc 5.7.00
Main Thur & Sal at 3 0 0.980 67
bits Great-Great Majarie of Cl Britain Award Withouse C GI Britain Award Withouse GU Salaring LULU Starting LULU
AAREEY LYSM
In the Wests National Opera production of production of
AFTER AIDA
"HIGHLY DELOYARE." WHOLLY DELIGHTFUL" DU by Howard Davies
new play by Julian Milichal
sed on tine lide & later work of Chaneppa Vardi OLIVIER 3º 928 2252 CC
INATIONAL Theatr's open stages
Ton' 1 7 15 then April 8 & 9 A CHORUS OF DISAPPROVAL by Alan Aychbourn. Tonso 7 15.
then April 2 & 3 & April 21 to 24 THE TRANSEPTIMY OPERA
April 10 to 12 lest, peris THE REAL DESPECTOR HOUND wim THE CRITIC APRIL 12 to 15 YORADAS INCL. TRE
TORREPHINY OPERA AS PRINTed IN LEMICE! TOYAL COURT S CC 730 1857 THE HORMAL HEART by Larry Kramer Eves Spm. Sai Mats 4bm. NO PERFS MARCH 31. SAYOY 801 Office 01-836 8888 00 01 579 6219 836 0479 Evgs PICCADELY THEATRE 437 4506, 734 9525 Credit Cetd Hollings 379 6543, TAL 9969 Grp Sate, 836 3962/930 6123. "A Brilliant Montest" 88C CC 01-579 5219 600 570 5219 500 748 Matines Wednesday 50 8 930 "MICHAEL FRAYIN'S AWARD WINNING FARCE NOW IN 175 DAVID ESSEX FRANK FINLAY

MUTINY STEPHANIE HLGM COLE PAGDICK MICHAEL COCHEANE COLETTE TIMOTHY GLESON CARLTON TREMENDOUS SPECTACLE Go Over 110 Similing Ovations Eves 8.0 Mets fiel 3 & Let 5. Peris as usual at Easter PRINCE EDWARD Box Office 34 9951 First Call 24 Hr 7 Day C Booking 836 3464 Grp Sak 930 6123 NOISES OFF DIE BY MICHAEL BLAKEMORE SMAPTESBURY 579 5399 CC 379 0-335-741 9999 Fran Call 24 No 7 day CC 240 7200 Grp Salm 93C 6123 ROWAN ATKINSON THE NEW REVIE MODIFIT & Sal 5 30 & 8 30. CHESS THE MUSICAL Opens 14 May at 7pm
Proce Provinces from April 30

Gooch facing the politicians again

they will be again tomorrow

when Donald Carr, secretary of the TCCB, returns to Lord's indignant on Gooch's behalf,

might align themselves behind him. In that case this week's Test match could be the last of the series. But that is something Mr Bird, as a politician, would hardly want to have held against him, not least

because it might suit Mr

In anticipating such a heavy financial loss on the tour, the secretary of the WICBC gives three chief reasons: the devaluation of the currency in Trinidad and Jamaica; the cost of the additional security required to guard against possible disruption of the matches by aoti-apartheid demonstrators and the worldwide trend towards reduced crowds at first-class games and here by England's poor performances and whatever re-sponse has been to the boycott.

England's cricketers, back Africa in 1982, and being the the WICBC have been in- Gate receipts in Barbados, in Trinidad for today's fourth and final one-day international and Thursday's fourth Test compulsory practices in the last two days — in Barbados on Saturday morning and here yesterdy morning. Their wives and children have mostly departed; Gooch broods darkly over his differences with Mr Lester Bird, his old adversary from Antigua; the West Indian open altercation with Mr Harfrom Antigua; the West Indian Cricket Board of Control (WICBC) predict a loss on the tour of something over of a statement is sufficient to £50,000; and Gatting's injured thumb is making such a disappointingly slow recovery have given to a regime which brutalizes people, deprives them of their civil rights and slaughters them in the that he is out of today's match and posssibly Thursday's as Gooch was angered by a statement made by Mr Bird wheo the team were in Antigua early last month. A squab-ble had developed, concerning the tour, between Mr Bird, the island's deputy Prime Minis-ter, and the Minister of Education, Culture and Yonth Affairs, Mr Reuben Harris, rivals within the same party. Raman Subba Row, chairman of the Test and County Crick-et Board (TCCB), saying that he will go to Antigua for the Mr Harris accused Mr Bird of "divorcing his persona from his public status" and "under-mining cricket in Antigua" by giving the tour "the green light" and then urging the some means or other, the public to boycott it.

As captain of the English side which played in South record is put straight.

That is where the matter now stands. The TCCB and Pakistan make a sound opening

COLOMBO (Reuter) - Pa-kistan, sent ioto bat by Sri runs here oo Saturday to Lanka, woo the opening one-day international for the Asia Cup here yesterday after being restricted to 197 all out in their 45 overs. Sri Lanka in response collapsed to 116 all with Ritchie and later out in 33.5 overs, only three tookthree wickets for 33. Rain batsmen reaching double-figreduced the match to 45 overs SCORES: Pakistan 197 (45 overs); Sri Lanke 116 (33.5 overs), Pakistan Sri Lanke 116 (33.5 overs), Pakistan won by 81 nms.

◆ Auckland (Reuter) -- Aus Matthews 54, G M Ritchie 53); New Zeeland 187 for 9.

invariably picked oo as personifying sportsmen who "treat with apartheid". There is no point in going over the say that in oo statement he has ever made, and in no sentence that he has ever written, has Gooch been "contemptuous ris. Mr Bird went on:"I cannot accept that a simple retraction

Not surprisingly, Gooch strongly objects to these aspersions. For weeks they have obsessed him, and be can be a stubborn old thing. He is also proud and very straight. So when Peter May flew back to England from Barbados last Wednesday he was the bearer of a note from Gooch to fifth Test match only if, by

"When we planned the when we planned the tour," says Steve Camacho, "we had no idea that the Trinidad and Tobago dollar would drop so much by the time the matches were played in Port of Spain. And there was no telling what the rate of the Jamaican dollar would be. Even with the Cable and Wireless sponsorship, which is the most we have ever had and has been a tremendous boost. we are looking at our biggest overall loss ever. square the one-day interna-tional series at 2-2. Greg Trinidad and Tobago devalued their dollar by 33 per cent last December, cutting its value from 41 to 27 American cents, while Jamaica's corrency has been going through an unstable period. In the ordinary way Trinidad accounts for approximately 40 per cent of the revenue from a tour. This time it has already cost the best part of £30,000 to screen the Que a's Park Oval.

cricketer he is, Gooch is volved in it for some weeks, as boosted by the large influx of English supporters, totalled £75,000 for the three matches played there, which was con-sidered satisfactory. Commenting on criticism of

after the Easter holiday. At the worst, the whole England team, already understandably England's decision not to make last Friday's practice compulsory, although most of the party had not been on a cricket field since the previous Sunday, Gower has said that "people have been looking at this the wrong way round." It is not the six who chose not to practice who should be faulted he said but the II who did ed, he said, but the 11 who did that should be specially com-mended. Well, you can hardly get more cynical than that in the wake of another crashing Test defeat.

It seems that it was only because Gatting felt the need for practice that anyone went at all. Now Tony Brown, the manager, has asserted his authority by instructing Gower and the assistant manager, Willis, that in future all practices shall be compulsory. In the last eight years the West Indian side has had no more than two or three optional practices, and those were for the benefit of players oewly-arrived on a long tour. England's best chance of a win in any of their last three matches comes today. There will be the incentive of a large crowd and the knowledge that victory would bring a share of the one-day series. The pitch is the same as that on which England won the second oneday international, the only notable victory of their tour, and Gooch made 129 oot out. It is recognisably West Indiao in appearance, unlike most there have been. The way to come back," said Gower yes-terday, "is to do well tomorrow". The side attempt-ing that shows two changes from the one who lost the oneday game in Bridgetown, Ellisoo and Edmonds replacing Slack and Thomas. TEAM: G A Gooch, R T Robinson, "D1Gower, A J Lamb, I'T Botham, P Wiley, †P R Downton, J E Emburey, H M Elison, P H Edmonds, N A Man on the run: Hall Kingston Rovers' Miller, the man of the match, surges through the Leeds defence.

ROWING

Matthews won the man of the match award, scoring 54 in a fifth-wicket partnership of 100 per side instead of the sched-

Veterans' domination leaves schoolboys with the blues

So dominated by older men is the event that most years it could be called the Veterans' Boat Race. This time it was won, stylishly, confidently and emphatically, by the younger of two mature crews. With 12 postgraduates out of 16 cars-men, the promising schoolboy Oxbridge entrant can no longer look towards the Boat Race with serious expectations. Oxford, who were falling behind from the first stroke, had only three mea under 25. Cambridge were, by compari-son, mere kids, with only two over 24. Pritchard, their stroke and the second oldest in the race at 28, said afterwards: "As the pressure from media coverage increases, the ability to stand back and be competi tively rational is important. But the race will see postgradnates more and more.

Cambridge looked terrific.
They had that long, swinging throb in rhythmic unison of a sea engine, and the only favour they did Oxford was to remove the weights of history from the

BADMINTON

Dangerous

Welshmen

From Richard Eatoo

Steve Sutton and Chris

Rees, the rival Anglo-Welsh-

men, may prove themselves

the most dangerous floaters in the European championships, sponsored by Pharmacia.

which started here yesterday.

Spition beat Johann

Ratheyser, of Austria, 15-1,

15-3, and Rees defeated

Jorgen van der Pot, of Switzer-

Gossip, will, meanwhile, continue whether Martin

Dew, a ringleader of the petition against Jake Downey,

the England manager, will be playing for England in the Europeans as well as the

Thomas Cup. Dew is defending two doubles titles in the have him sitting it out when

England's defence of the team

We may know today wheth-

England's men's or mixed title begins tomorrow.

play for his country.

land, 15-9, 15-10.

shoulders of the remarkable of windy weather, had steered the perfect course, leaning on is indelible; the summer of his Oxford close to legality on the career may continue, but there was no means by which he could reduce the difference in the two potentials this year.

Alan Inns, Cambridge's chief coach for three years, a Middlesex waterman all his life, was still shivering with excitement half an bour after the eclipse of a 10-year tale of woe as he summarized the Cambridge mood: "We went out to disregard anything Ox-ford did, to row as fast and hard as we could from the off. I thought it would be closer for longer, but was confident that if we didn't make many mistakes we would win. The bad spell we had during the severe weather restricted as technically but made us stronger as a unit."

Boat Race report, page 30

Carole Bartan, whose coxing experience had been questioned in the expectation first Middlesex bend to gain better water. "When Oxford were late to the stake boat, we just ignored them," she said with a smile, waiting patiently for the men to shower before she could go and collect her

Pritchard who had sorred to switch places less than two weeks ago with Broughton. from No 6 to stroke, for the benefit of the beat, had for the first time in three races been able to see the whole Oxford thereafter had the serenity of a chauffeur in n Rolls, im from stress. "I was just stir-ring the tea while others did Oxford were alongside early on, they were crashing the water but not really moving." cox, had banged the water angrily with his fists, but the gesture was hollow. There had likely to be crowned at the end Park. There is nothing new in that suggestion. Howard Kendall's side have been the favourites to retain the title for two months, ever since they overtook Manchester United, who were once threatening to have claimed it themselves by But Everton should ware that the hour and a half of domestic glory that supposedly awaits them may lie within Wembley on May 3,

FA Cup Final day, rather than in their own home 48 hours later. Their visitors on May 5 are a side that stepped omi-nously out of the shadows on Saturday afternoon. West Ham United were as dazzlingly brilliant as the reflection of the floodlights in the Stamford Bridge puddles. Chelsea, considered by some to be London's most realistic challengers, were not merely beaten 4-0: they were utterly John Hollins, Chelsea's manager, had no complaints. Even if they do not enjoy "You can't have any when many more days like that virtually from the kick-off and never eased off. They punished us for every mistake we made and, in Devonshire and Ward, they have much more than just wingers. They are also match-winners."

So are Cottee, who was voted the players' young play-er of the year a week ago, and McAvennie. Between them they claimed three of West Ham's goals, all of which were stunning. The second, a counter-attack that flowed like mercury through Pike, Parris, Devonshire, Dickens, Parris again and eventually Cottee, has surely not been surpassed this season.

"That was a bit special." John Lyall admitted. "The rain helped our traditional one-touch football, particularly in a local darby that could have been physical. In the second half, in particular, I thought our play was of a very, very high quality. On days like that, when everything goes right, we can beat anybody."

The English champions are you lose to a better side," he between now and the advent kely to be crowned at the end said. "They took the initiative of May, they could still go to of May, they could still go to Goodison Park to decide the destiny of the championship. With a dozen Canon League games left, their maximum possible total of points is 93, a figure that only Everton could

FOOTBALL: UNCROWNED KINGS OF THE SOUTH STRIDE OUT OF THE SHADOWS

By Stuart Jones, Football Correspondent

Fatigue remains an obvious danger. Five of their fixtures, for instance, are to be squeezed into the last 10 days of their heavy schedule. But on eight occasions, beginning today against Tottenham Hotspur, they will stay at

More football, Page 30 home and only once will they collide with a representative from the leading group. That happens to be Chelsea in a

If Newcastle United had achieved the draw at Goodison Park that they came so close to on Saturday, the threat to Everton from West Ham would be even greater. A goal by Richardson earned Everton their 1-0 victory, but for Newcastle Gascoigne hit the post with one shot and

Grubb fillip

Tim Grubb, a member of Britain's 1984 silver medal

winning Olympic team, won the most prestigious show jumping competition in the United States when he rode Linky to victory in the American invitational event at Tampa, Florida on Saturday.

Belgians lose

Hammers knock on the door lifted the ball over an empty net with another, and Beards ley missed his third successive > injured Southall to protect hem, they must visit Manchester United this afternoon and then, within three days, Arsenal and Watford. In between they have the substantial distraction of having to take on Sheffield Wednesday in the semi-final of the FA Cup, for which they have recruited Pat Jennings from Tottenham Hotspur as cover

maining eight matches are away from home. Without the for Mimms in goal. Similar flaws can be seen in the claims of the other main contenders. Liverpool, as well as being involved in the other semi-final against Southampton, have only three more outings at Anfield. The recent form of Manchester United, now perhaps stabilized by the return of Bryan Robson, has been far too inconsistent. Chelsea, almost devoid of genuine creativity in midfield, have the hardest run-in of all.

HORSE TRIALS

Stars in the wars

By Jenny MacArthur Despite nearly three quarters of the advanced riders withdrawing before the crosscountry because of the sodden conditions, the Daihatsu Brigstock Horse Trials went ahead yesterday with the kind of dogged determination which characterises horse trials in this country. Isin Stark and Mark Todd, two of the few Hadminton riders to go round the course, had eventful outings. Stark won advanced section three with Glenbanic and finished third in section one on Sir Road.

He had had a refusal on Sir Wattie at feace six but, as fence was taken out and his refusal discounted

Debbie Safell, the eventual winner of section one with Wills Wylde, was even luckier. She had a fall the first time round at fence six but was allowed to go again after it had been taken out.

Todd fellowed his easy win on Any Chance in section two with a fall from his Budminton entry, Michaelmas Day 2

Dramatic turnabout produces classic

Hull Kingston Rovers, 24 Yet five of Everton's re-

> The most dramatic and exciting semi-final in the history of the Challenge Cup ended in cliff-hanging suspense with the perfect result. A magnificent match of unpredictable twists and turns could not have contained more drama had it been scripted as television

Leeds-tore into a 12-2 lead Rovers had their scrum-half Harkin sent off for tripping. then astonishingly Rovers swept into a 24-14 lead only to tire as Leeds made a late rally to level at 24-24. To cap it all, Creasser missed the kick at goal from the final try which would have given Leeds victory.
Under such circumstances

it would have been an injustice had either side lost. The crowd of nearly 24,000 knew that honour was satisfied on both sides, and the teams were applanded from the

2

he Kali

$4.25 $15 $1

表表

San Care

 The unexpected draw threw rugby league administration into chaos. At first it was agreed that the replay at Elland Road would be on Wednesday, but when the police could not guarantee the amount of cover neces-sary under the Safety of Grounds Act on Wednesday, the match had to be switched to Thursday,

Hall Kingston Rovers supporters wanted the replay at Boothferry Park, Hull, since the first game had been in the heart of Leeds territory. David Oxley, the Rugby League's secretary-general had to point out that due to safety restrictions the capacity of Hull City football & 5,000, roughly half the number expected to watch Thursday's game at Elland

A further complication ensued when both teams had to conditions worsened, this fulfil league fixtures in a crowded end-of-season programme. Leeds were ordered to play Bradford Northern yesterday while Rovers must play Dewsbury today. As a result Leeds, fielding an injury-hit and tired side, were beaten 28-8 at Headingley yesterday, a bonus win for Bradford Northern YESTERDAY'S RESULTS: Sistom

Mize establishes a suitable lead

From Mitchell Platts, Ponte Vedra, Florida

final round of the Tournament Players' Championship here yesterday with a four-stroke lead. Mize, aged 27, from Georgia, established an astonishing record for the TPC by compiling a 16-underpar aggregate of 200.

Joho Mahaffey, who won the US PGA Championship in 1979, was Mize's nearest rival. Mahaffey's total of 204 left him four shots ahead of Tim Simpson and Bob Murphy, his fellow Americans.

Mahaffey has revealed that his career was almost ended by a problem with alcohol, "I individual event and it would did not have much of a be a conspicuous absence to future." he said. "I headed for the hars while others headed for the practice range. It was a case of stop or it ruining my life. I could never take just one er Downey has asked him for or two drinks - I needed another and another. Mahaffey slim, fit and sun-doubles or both (though not tanned, can joke now about singles as was incorrectly his former addiction. stated before). We may also Meanwhile Sandy Lyle's then know whether the talentprime concern during the Greater Greensboro Open, ed left-hander will refuse to Larry Mize moved into the which starts on Thursday, will be to recover his putting touch. He said: "I have struck the ball from tee to green so far this season as well as I can. But I am not scoring well and that is the result of bad putting. It really is beginning to hurt to the point where I am getting knotted up inside worrying when I am going to start holing some putts again."

Nick Faldo must win in Greensboro to obtain the last place in the US Masters. "It" would, of course, turn my whole year around if 1 did that it is asking a lot after almost two years without a victory. I know one thing, I will not be holding back. It's ail or oothing."

RESULTS: Third round leading scores (US unless stated): 200: L. Mize, 66, 68, 68, 68, 204: J. Mahaffey, 69, 70, 65, 208: T. Simpson, 72, 70, 68; B. Murphy, 69, 65, 74, 208: T. Kite, 69, 69, 72: B. Upper, 71, 65, 73, 210: D. Tewell, 68, 68, 74, 211: L. Trevino, 68, 73, 70; T. Sills, 68, 76, 70; B. Tway, 66, 73, 72; H. Sutton 71, 72, 68; G. Thorpe, 69, 68, 74. British placing: 219: K. Brown, 72, 71, 78.

SPORT IN BRIEF Budd loses in Italy Lynn Jennings, of the Unit-ed States, beat Zola Budd, of Britain, in a cross-country race in San Vittore Olona, Italy, on Saturday. Jennings, beaten twice by Budd, the world champion, last weekend, took the lead in the 2.48-mile event about 300 hundred yards from the finish.

Budd, who usually competes barefoot, had to wear running shoes to deal with the rocks on a course that ran through a forest. Jennings's winning time was 17min 27 sec, which was 5sec ahead of

Swede leads Bjorn Waldegaard, of Sweden, in a Toyota Celica, won the 800-mile first stage of the

Safari motor rally yesterday in

Becker wins Boris Becker, of West Germany, beat Jimmy Connors, of the United States, 7-6, 4-6, 6-4 in the semi-final of the Chicago tennis tournament on Saturday, Becker collected 11 aces and 14 service winners in a match that lasted two hours 43 minutes.

Budd: were shoes Third success

Joakim Nystrom, of Sweden, yesterday won the ABN tennis tournament in Rotter-dam by defeating Anders Jarryd, his compatriot, 6-0, 6-3. It was Nystrom's third tournament victory of the year, after Grand Prix wins in Toronto and La Quinta.

Hope of Snow

Julian Snow, the under-24 champion, plays in his first amateur championship final this morning at Lord's when he meets Alan Lovell, the holder. Snow defeated John Ward 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1 and Lovell beat Mick Dean 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1 on Saturday.

Royal Uccle, the Belgian champions, were defeated at Folkestone yesterday by the Festival XI rather more comprehensively than anyone ex-pected. The Festival XI won 4-2. This was the only match played during the day, bad weather having ruled out the rest of the programme. (Syd-

Britain lead

Two young American mo-tor cyclists, Kevin Schwantz and Fred Merkel, are winning most of the battles at the Shell Transatlantic Challenge at Donington Park but, with three of eight legs remaining the British team are winning the war (Michael Scott writes) Britain leads by 220 points to 110, largely by virtue of their strength among the midfield

مكنات الأصل